EXPECT NEW WHEAT BONUS NEXT MONTH

NEW 1934 AND BALANCE OF 1933 MAY BE PAID IN AUGUST

With the survey of Kent's wheat acreage completed it is expected that checks for the balance of the 1933 bonus will be received by Kent farmers about August 1st. This balance, which is expected to be approximately 8 cents a bushel on last year's crop, will amount to approximately $25,000 in this county. In addition to this 8 cent a bushel balance there is a possibility that the 1934 bonus money will be received at the same time. The amount of the 1934 bonus will be determined July 1st by a comparison between the price of wheat and the price of the commodities which the wheat growers buys which an estimate at the present time puts it at 34 cents a bushel. This is only an estimate and it has not been definitely decided whether this bonus will be paid in one sum.

If both bonuses are paid in full at the same time it will amount to approximately $125,000 to Kent wheat growers. The wheat contracts were signed for three years and a cancellation of the contract at this time would mean a refund of the bonus money already paid.

The original agreements on the corn-and hog contracts have been completed in Washington and will be returned to the office of County Agent McVean today. They will then be made into formal contracts in that office and returned, and it is understood that the bonus money will be available about August 1st. There is some discrepancy between the number of hogs shown in the contract and the hog census for Maryland and an adjustment will be necessary.

A BLOW-OUT!

THIS TIRE SAVES LIVES EVERY DAY

No Extra Cost for "Golden Ply" Blow-out Protection

THIS new Goodrich Silvertown with the Golden Ply may save your life. The Golden Ply resists internal heat—the great, unseen cause of blow-outs. Silvertowns with this amazing invention lasted 3 times as long in gruelling high-speed tests. And it will certainly save you money with its months of extra miles. Extra safety! Extra mileage! Yet Silvertowns don't cost a penny more than other standard tires. Look—

NOW AND THEN

PUSSY WILLOW
By Marian Douglas

The brook is brimmed with melting snow,
The maple sap is running,
And on the highest elm a crow
His coal-black wings is sunning.
A close green bud the Mayflower lies
Upon its mossy pillow;
And sweet and low the south wind blows,
And through the brown fields calling goes,
"Come, Pussy! Pussy Willow!

Within your close brown wrapper stir;
Come out and show your silver fur!
Come, Pussy- Pussy Willow!"
Soon red will bud the maple trees,
The bluebirds will be singing,
And yellow tassels in the breeze
Be from the poplars swinging;
And rosy will the Mayflower lie
Upon its mossy pillow;
"But you must come the first of all—
Come Pussy!" is the south wind's call—
"Come, Pussy Pussy Willow!
A fairy gift to children dear,
The downy firstlings of the year—
Come Pussy! Pussy Willow!"

This is the season of the year when I can sit on the porch and go touring away to foreign lands, to snowy Alaska, to Norway, the land of the Midnight sun, to Switzerland; to Hawaii, and a dozen other places.

It is such a comfortable way to travel no rushing to make connections, no wranggling with the custom officers, nor paying exorbitant fees. All one needs are travel books and an imagination. It was Geo. William Curtis, that delightful writer of the last century, who in his book "Prue and I," would go down to the docks where the great steamships were preparing to sail and would go with them in fancy to the haven where he would be. 'Just viewing the lands through other people's eyes.' Yes this is surely a pleasant way to travel.

Some one has said, "Why be so careful about the use of the comma? But it changes the meaning of many a sentence. One child wrote, "In an invalid chair sat Aunt Eva who was paralyzed reading a magazine." The question come up 'Did reading the magazine paralyze here?' The comma alters the meaning. In an invalid chair sat Aunt Eva, who was paralyzed, reading a magazine."

Another instance:

In the course of an opinion on an election suit involving the absence of a comma, Judge O'Brien of the New York Court of Appeals wrote:—

'It is related of an eminent member of the British House of Commons that once in the heat of debate he called one of his fellow members a scoundrel. This was held unparliamentary language and the speaker, or perhaps the House, ruled that the offending member must apologize and the latter submitted to the decision and tendered the apology in these words without punctuation, "I called the honorable gentleman a scoundrel it is true and I am sorry for it."

'Thus conveying either one of two meanings, one utterly the reverse of the other, depending entirely upon the punctuation.'

How often, in seeing a fine car speed by with a man and wife one looks eagerly to see the chubby face of a child. But instead he sees the hairy face of a Chow or some other breed of dog.

Are dogs taking the place of children? It seems so.

MODERNIST

My daughter searched my garret through,
As modern antique hunters do.
She found a highboy, not quite stable,
A chest of drawers, a Windsor table,
And proudly brought the treasures down
To beautify her flat in town!
She took a whatnot, square and plain,
An old hand-woven counterpane,
The spinning wheel the butter ladle,
But didn't seem to want the cradle.

ATTRACTIONS. OF HEAVEN

Four year old Bobby was much interested in the story of David and Goliath which his mother read to him. When she was through, he asked: "Mamma, were is David now?"

'In heaven, I suppose.'

'Will I go to heaven when I die?'

'I hope so, dear.'

'Mamma,' (the little voice was very eager now) 'do you s'pose when I get there David will let me hold his slingshot a little while?'

Mexican Fashion Note

The idea of male garb for women has been a complete failure in Mexico. Girls who appear in public in the provincial cities wearing male clothes are chased home by mobs of men and women who hurl verbal insults and sticks, stones and overripe vegetables.

All Explained

Husband: "Who is that man?"
Wife: "I don't know."
"But I heard you call hm 'darling.'"
"I called hm 'darling' because I do not know his name."

Cure for Extravagance

'Are you saving any money since you started your budget system?'

'Sure. By the time we have balanced it up every evening it's too late to go anywhere."

Linguistic Confab

He: 'I understand your kisses speak the language of love.'

She: 'Yes?'

He: 'Well, let's talk things over.'

Across the Deadline

A parson with a sense of humor has just put on up a sign in his church: 'No mistakes rectified after leaving the altar.'
