Registration.

The September registration of voters will take place on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next, September 9th, 10th and 11th. The notices of the places of the sittings of the officers of registration in the several districts of the county will be found on the first page of the SENTINEL. The officers of registration will sit from 8, A. M., till 6, P. M., on the days named, for the purpose of registering all persons qualified to vote and entitled to be registered and to revise and correct errors in the lists and to strike there from the names of disqualified persons. A full and proper registration is important and we earnestly urge the Republicans throughout the county to procure the registration of every member of the party entitled to the ballot, and to see that the lists are purged of names not properly borne upon them.

In this matter the officers of registration, being all Democrats, may be expected to use extraordinary vigilance in ascertaining what Republican names should be stricken from the lists. This is said without intending to impute improper motives and action to these officers. They will doubtless exercise such diligence as the law demands in purging, correcting and revising the lists, but, in a certain sense, they are as judges sitting in cases in which they have a direct personal interest. One of the weak phases of the Maryland election law is that it allows no minority representation in the registering boards, and thus confers vast advantage upon the majority party. The inequality thus resulting must be obviated, if at all, by extreme diligence and care on the part of the political organization occupying the place of a minority.

In view of this condition of affairs the Republicans of this county should be active and energetic in endeavoring to have the name of every Republican, possessed of the necessary qualifications, placed on the lists. Experience has shown that when the Republican vote has been registered and polled with approximate completeness in this county the margin of Democratic majority has been quite meagre. With all the advantages of the local government and the election machinery in its hands the Democratic party has shown only a slender preponderance whenever the Republicans have entered the contest with energy and zeal and have demonstrated their real strength. The first proceeding in an earnest, energetic campaign is full and proper registration of voters, and this business should not be deferred to the last opportunity. Present, continued and constant vigilance is demanded as the price of a proper and just demonstration of Republican strength. Let every Republican, therefore, who has the cause at heart, make all possible exertion to have every party friend in his neighborhood placed in a position to exercise the right of suffrage. Look up young men coming of age and get their names on the lists. Let it be borne in mind that a young man who will attain his majority at any time before election day is entitled to be registered now. Now is the time, too, to get names improperly on the lists stricken off. Will the Republicans throughout the county attend to this important matter at once?

Whistling to Keep Its Courage Up.

Democratic Advocate.

The fact is, the Democratic party is preparing for its twenty-third annual victory, and proposes to give the Republican party in Carroll the most severe drubbing it has ever had. It will have the aid, too, of a good many Republicans who are disgusted with the way Federal patronage has been dispensed, and with the rule of the Westminster clique.

The fatuous representatives of the Pennsylvania Democracy, assembled in convention at Harrisburg, on Wednesday, reaffirmed the tariff plank of the St. Louis platform upon which Mr. Cleveland was defeated.

Political Gossip.

The sheriffalty nomination is still the central point of interest among the Democrats of Carroll county. The most prominent aspirants are Messrs. S. Carr Wickert and John T. Lynch, of this city, Jonathan M. Dorsey, of Freedom and Elias N. Davis, of Woolery's. Mr. Wickert, it is asserted, is the favorite of those who usually control conventions, but the other aspirants are making a hot fight and rumors are rife that a dark horse from the Gibraltar of Democracy will carry off the prize.

The present popular and efficient County Treasurer, whose renomination has generally been conceded, has, it is alleged, an opponent in Mr. Peter Liedlich, a well-known and clever Westminster gentleman.

Numerous names are mentioned in connection with the nominations for County Commissioners, including those of the present Board, Messrs. David Stoner, George W. Miller and Washington Reaver; Messrs. Wm. Flemming and J. Oliver Wadlow, of Freedom; David Smelser, of New Windsor; Wm. Hooper, of Franklin and others.

Aspirants for legislative honors are also quite numerous, among them, it is said, being Messrs. George M. Pearce and Michael E. Walsh, of the Westminster bar, who will both probably be on the ticket, D. A. C. Webster and E. Haines, of Uniontown; Samuel Hoffacker, of Manchester; Johnzey E. Basemen, and Wm. P. Gorsuch, of Freedom; Vincent Eckenrode, of Taneytown; Jas. Koons, of Middleburg; Benjamin F. Selby, of Franklin; Daniel Ebaugh, of Hampstead; Dr. Jacob Rinehart, of Frizellburg, and others.

While it is assumed that the slate is arranged and the probable candidates known to the initiated, there is danger that a recast will be necesseary, on account of the persistence and energy displayed by some of the aspirants, so that, after all, those who look wise, and profess ample knowledge, may find their calculations at variance with the results of the primary contests to-day.

Not a Myth.

Who killed Gen. Ross? is the question that is now agitating the Baltimore newspapers. A quarter of a century or more ago Baltimore apparently settled the matter by erecting a monument in honor of two young men, named Wells and McComas, as the slayers of the British general who came against the monumental city breathing out threatenings and slaughter, and intent on eating his dinner within its limits or in a warmer place. And now, unbelieving, incredulous people are endeavoring to rob the young heroes of their posthumous fame. We once believed in the story of William Tell, the tyrant Gessler, and the apple shooting, but modern iconoclasts have ruined the beautiful narrative and declare there was no Tell, and no emulation of the archery of Locksley. The next thing they will tell us there never was a Wells, or a McComas. But we shall draw the line just there, for in all seriousness there seems to be no well grounded doubt of the authenticity of the story that these two young men really killed the British general and sacrificed their own lives in the act of doing so. A brother of young Wells, Mr. Richard Wells, of Annapolis, was well known to us thirty years ago, and we shall at least maintain that one of the young men honored with a monument by Baltimore city was not a mythical personage.

Another Railroad Story.

The Frederick correspondent of the Baltimore American who wrote to that paper, several weeks ago, that an agreement had been made between the Pennsylvania Railroad and Col. J. C. Fuller, President of the Harrisburg and Gettysburg Railroad Company, by which the Washington Extension of the latter was to use the tracks of the former from Kingsdale, Pa., to Frederick, Md., in a letter published in the American on Monday says:

"Col. J. C. Fuller, of the proposed Washington Extension of the Gettysburg and Harrisburg Railroad, has notified parties here interested in the project that a second survey will at once be made, taking in the eastern portion of Frederick county, leaving the Pennsylvania Railroad at Bruceville, thence across the county to Montgomery."

The first story was exploded by a dispatch from Col. Fuller to Mr. John L. Reifsnider, and the second is probably no more reliable. Col. Fuller's message to Mr. Reifsnider would seem to leave no reasonable doubt that no arrangement has been made for the use of the Pennsylvania tracks.

Some intelligent persons seem to be under the impression that applicants for registration as voters must be of full age at the time of such registration. This is an error. Elsewhere in the columns of the SENTINEL it is explained that any young man who will attain the age of twenty-one years on or before election day is entitled to be registered at once. It might have been added that a young man whose birthday will fall on the day after the election is entitled to be registered and to vote. The law recognizes the completion of majority on the last day of the twenty-first year of a man's age. This is because in this matter fractions of days are not considered in this connection. The attention of the Republicans of Carroll county is directed to these facts. Let no man who is entitled to the ballot lose his vote by neglecting to register.

The time has arrived for the beginning of an active canvass on the part of the Republicans of Carroll county. The September registration is at hand. The registrars will sit on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next and every Republican entitled to vote should be registered. Now is the time for efficient work. Let every Republican see that his Republican neighbor has his name on the lists.

The Maryland Republican (Democratic), referring to the business men's movement in Baltimore says:

"The 'business men' have evidently taken the 'bull by the horns' and mean business. If they succeed it will be the sleekest piece of fraud, assumption and political artifice that has been perpetrated in State politics for some time. If such a committee, representing the party elements and influences that it does, is allowed to assume the control of the Baltimore city democracy, there is small hope for the party."

Mrs. Grant has written to George W. Childs that she will not consent to the removal of General Grant's remains to Arlington.

To-day the Democrats of Anne Arundel county hold their primaries to elect convention delegates who have been already appointed by a committee representing Dr. George Wells on one side and Michael Bannon on the other. The Hagerstown Mail (Democratic) says of the queer proceeding:

"In Anne Arundel the farce goes on. Two politicians, Dr. Wells and Michael Bannon, have agreed to divide the county between themselves and have appointed delegates to suit themselves—each one half—in all the districts of the county and have notified the people to assemble and elect these delegates. Why they desire to have them elected after they are already appointed, or what will be done if the people refuse to elect them, has not been announced."

Church Burning.

The wanton burning of a church belonging to the colored people, at Gouldsboro, a suburb of New Orleans, has provoked the Times-Democrat, of that city, to some severe strictures on the act of worse than vandalism. A riot had occurred in which, as usual, the colored people got the worse of it and the burning of their church followed as a consequence. The Times-Democrat says:

"The subsequent act of vandalism of burning the negro church close to the scene of the disturbance was a wanton atrocity, in keeping with the similar crime of incendiarism which occurred in the Gretna riot of a few months ago. Whatever may be said of the indiscriminate firing near the Texas Pacific railroad, not a word can be uttered in palliation or justification of this last grave offense. It was a wanton, deliberate, detestable crime, and the men who committed it are a disgrace to their state and their race.

"This whole affair should be submitted to the most rigid investigation by the local and state authorities, and those who can be pointed out and found responsible for it should be punished to the very extremity of the law.

"We had hoped that the difficulties in the suburbs of this city on the other side of the river had been permanently settled. They have been begun afresh, apparently by the same hoodlum element that undertook to clean out Gretna by the indiscriminate use of the shotgun and the torch. It is time now for the state authorities to look into these troubles and to see that the public peace is preserved and that the rioters of both races are properly punished."

The correction of this species of outrage will not be easily accomplished. It is the natural result of a spirit of lawlessness and oppression fostered and cultivated by a more reputable and higher element than that of the perpetrators, and the responsibility does not attach alone to the hoodlums who provoked it in this instance.

Union Bridge Prohibition Club.

UNION BRIDGE, AUGUST 30TH, 1889.

At the call of the President the Prohibition Club met in the Town Hall and was called to order at 8 o'clock, P. M. After opening the exercises with prayer county vice-president J. W. Angell, of Middleburg, addressed the meeting, showing that the suppression of the rum traffic can be secured only through the medium of a third party, and referring to the necessity of organizing and putting a ticket in the field. Joseph L. Snavely, D. C. Derr and John S. Repp, also made addresses urging prompt action in this direction. A motion by D. C. Derr that vice-president Angell communicate with other districts in the county and declare this district in favor of nominating a ticket, hoping that the county will, as heretofore, take an active part in support of this measure, and to report to this club as early as convenient, was unanimously carried. On vice-president Angell asking to be relieved from the position to which the State convention at Glyndon appointed him, a vote on the approbation of his appointment was taken by the club and unanimously carried. It was decided that this club meet at least once each month during the campaign and at the next meeting, on Monday, September 16th, an election for officers be held as required by the Constitution. Resolved that a copy of these minutes be sent to each of the county papers and to the Carroll News for publication. Adjourned to meet September 16th, at 7½ P. M., in Town Hall.

Electric Signals at Railroad Crossings.

The Baltimore Sun of Tuesday last says: "The Western Maryland Railroad Company is placing at the principal crossings along its route a magneto-electric alarm signal, which gives notice of the approach of a train by the vigorous ringing of a gong. The patent is owned by the Pennsylvania Steel Company, which has recently established works at Sparrows Point, and is the best now in use. Experiments are now being made by some of the Western Maryland men looking towards an improvement on it. By the use of this apparatus all trains automatically announce their approach twenty or thirty seconds previous to their passage across the highway. The gong continues its warning strokes until a train has passed. The action of the gongs is effected by electricity generated by a compact and substantial electric machine of the magneto type fitted in strong iron cases which are placed alongside the tracks at the required distance from the crossing. These generators have a train of gearing, with fly wheel, actuated through a powerful spring mechanicism by a lever which stands slightly above the surface of the rail, so as to be depressed by every passing wheel, which has a "tread" wider than the rail. It is very simple, and no materials are required to maintain it except oil for lubrication. It generates its own electricity as it is required, and only by the movement of the train or locomotive. It is an improvement on the flagman, inasmuch as it never goes to sleep, and is equally as effective for crossings in small towns and in the country as safety gates."

A fire in the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton grain elevator, Cincinnati, O., on Tuesday, caused a loss of $50,000. About 70,000 bushels of wheat, oats, rye and barley were badly damaged by water.

Wm. Young, the oldest male resident of Hanover, Pa., died on Friday morning of last week on the site on which he was born in 1803.

Members of Phil Sheridan Post, G. A. R., turned Gen. W. T. Sherman and his brother, Major Hoyt Sherman, out of a chartered railroad car at Milwaukee, Wis.

A Grand Affair.

The Maryland State Exposition to be held at Pimlico from the 9th to the 14th of this month is now an assured success far beyond the fondest anticipations of any of its promoters. The entries of exhibits represent every industry in the state and in every county. The management has succeeded in perfecting every detail, amusement and entertainment promised by them at the start. They have established a fine and suitable depot near the centres of trade and transportation, where the farmers, stock breeders, the dairymen, the poultry fanciers and many others engaged in agricultural pursuits have responded nobly and in large numbers with handsome exhibits and every citizen of the Commonwealth may well feel proud of his State's products at Pimlico.

An additional and attractive feature, especially to our young men in the counties and through them the young ladies of course, is the tournament to be held under the electric lights on the evening of Tuesday, the 10th inst. Robert Crain, Esq., will deliver the charge to the Knights and Capt. J. Frank Supplee the coronation address. A number have already entered and it is hoped that every county in the state will have at least one Knight to uphold her chivalry. The prizes offered to the successful Knights are valuable and handsome silver tea sets of six pieces. The ladies who are crowned Queens of Love and Beauty and Maids of Honor will receive gold medals as mementos of the great event.

The ball to be given by the citizens of Maryland to the President of the United States and his Cabinet has attracted considerable attention in the counties and will be an important feature. In addition to these distinguished gentlemen the Governors of New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia and Maryland are expected to be present on this occasion—the 75th anniversary of the Battle of North Point and of the christening of the Star Spangled Banner.

While the amusements, the civic parade and military manœuvres are entertaining and to be commended, the greatest and grandest feature, the one that appeals most successfully to the progressive and patrtotic people of our dear Old Maryland, is the agricultural exhibit. Let every one who can possibly do so attend the exposition, see for themselves what we have done and can do and learn from the experience and success of others what energy, pluck, determination and intelligence can accomplish.

"Maryland, My Maryland," will be the song of every man, woman and child at Pimlico.

Mr. Robert Ray Hamilton, the husband of the woman who stabbed her child's nurse at Atlantic City, has been the victim of an arrant fraud. He married the woman upon her representation that he was the father of her child. It now transpires that the child exhibited as her own, was procured by purchase, $10 having been the sum paid for it. Mrs. Hamilton is a thoroughly depraved and dissolute woman. Mr. Hamilton was deceived by a conspiracy between his wife, a woman named Swinton and a man named Mann, who was either her husband or paramour. The object was to get a wife's claim on Mr. Hamilton's property. The conspirators are in prison. The nurse who was stabbed by Mrs. Hamilton is recovering.

A man named Bonnett and Miss Carrie Ernest, of Baltimore, were killed on the P. W. & B. Railroad, near Perryman's, Harford county, shortly before 10 o'clock, Thursday night. They were walking on the track from Perryman's to Mr. G. A. Baker's packing-house, where they were employed. They stepped from one track to the other to avoid a freight-train and were struck by the Washington limited express.

The civil war between rival political factions in Hayti is now at an end. Portau-Prince is in the hands of the Northern forces, while Legitime and many of his followers are at Santiago de Cuba, refugees from their native land. A temporary government has been set up under the provisional presidency of Hippolyte, and affairs seem to be drifting into a condition of peace and stability.

It is now stated with a great degree of positiveness that the Fifty-first Congress will be commanded to assemble on Monday, the 21st of October. Next week it may be as positively asserted to the contrary. Those who feel an interest in the matter can have no certain knowledge concerning it until an official announcement shall have been made by the President.

Melvin C. Garlitz, who murdered his wife at Cumberland, was hanged at that place on Friday of last week. He displayed the utmost indifference to his fate, slept soundly the night before his execution and went to his death as coolly as if starting on an unimportant journey. Whether his manner was an exhibition of mere bravado, or the callousness of a hardened reprobate, it is difficult to say.

Hezekiah Bailey, a former resident of Frederick county, aged 73 years, was instantly killed on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Marriottsville, Tuesday morning. He stepped from the west-bound to the east-bound track to avoid a west-bound train, when he was struck by an east-bound freight. His arms and legs were cut off and his head was crushed.

Advices from Yokohama state that disastrous storms have recently occurred in Wakayama. Ten thousand persons perished in the floods following the storms and 20,000 were rendered homeless. The loss of property was enormous.

Charles E. Saylor, of Johnsville, Frederick county, entered upon the discharge of his duties as a deputy collector of internal revenue, in the office of Collector Hill, at Baltimore, on Monday last.

Mrs. W. F. Christian, nee Julia Jackson, the only child of Stonewall Jackson, died at Charlotte, N. C., on August 30th, after two weeks' illness of typhoid fever.

Our mother now has gone to rest
Beneath the tree of life;
She leans upon the Saviour's breast—
No free from pain and strife.

Our mother's troubles now are past,
Her pain disturbs no more,
But Jesus in His arms at last
Bore her to the heavenly shore.

Mother, how can we give you up?
It seems to us unjust
To lay you in that cold, damp grave,
To moulder into dust.
