OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

LOCAL BARLEY NOT FIT FOR BREWING

RECOMMENDED FOR FEED PURPOSES

County Agent McVean announces that he is receiving inquiries concerning the production of barley suitable for brewing purposes. The Maryland Experiment Station does not recommend this attempt under Maryland conditions; the difficulty being that under cur climatic conditions it is practically impossible to produce barley grain free from weather stains. Only barley free of stain can be used for brewing purposes. A soft barley produced in one section of the United States is used by the brewers. Kent farmers therefore should consider barley as a feed crop rather than a crop for sale for brewing purposes.

The Experiment Station recommends that seed of the Tennessee Winter Variety be used. Spring barley is not a success in Maryland except in the Western Maryland mountain area. Barley is subject to smut and should be treated for the control of smut. High quality seed true to variety should be used. Mercury dusts or Pyrethrum products are effective. Barley is considered by many a replacement crop for corn. Over a ten year period barley out yields wheat two to one. Bearded barley is the type to grow as it is much less subject to disease than the beardless varieties. Barley makes a splendid feed practically as good as corn. Those who look to barley to replace corn acreage feel, in view of recent poor corn crops due to drought, storms, winds, etc. that barley is a more economical crop and one that frequently fits into the cropping system with less confusion than goes with the cutting and husking of the corn crop.

The program is as follows:

DEMOCRATIC POLITICS

Although the definite approval of the ticket, representing a compromise of the two so-called Democratic factions, has not been officially approved, it is now definitely understood that the names, which appeared in this paper last week as the probable candidates, will form the ticket with one exception.

The division as agreed upon gives the Organization faction the State representatives including the Senator and the two members of the House of Delegates, and on the county ticket the States' Attorney, Register of Wills two members of the Orphans' Court, the State Central Committee and half of the Delegates to the State Convention. The Anti-Organization faction will name three County Commissioners, the Treasurer, Clerk of the Court, one member of the Orphans' Court and half of the Delegates to the State Convention.

The personal of the ticket is definitely understood to include:

For Senate, Mr. Arthur H. Brice of the Third District. Mr. Brice is a graduate of Washington College, has served eight years as a member of the House of Delegates, has served as President of the commissioners of Kent County. He is a farmer prior to being elected to the House of Delegates, and lives near Betterton.

For Legislaturemen, Mr. Ray Strong and Mr. Wilbur R. Hubbard. Mr. Strong is from the Fifth District where he is held in the highest esteem. He is a farmer. Mr. Hubbard is from the Fourth District, is a graduate of Yale University and Georgetown University served in the Army during the World War in the capacity of a Lieutenant, has traveled extensively and is now engaged in the practice of Law in Chestertown.

For States' Attorney, Mr. Stephen R. Collins of the Fourth District. He is a graduate of Washington College and the University of Maryand. Has served eight years as States' Attorney and is a prominent lawyer of this county. He served in the Army during the world war.

Clerk of the Court Mr. Leonard Wilson, of the First District. Mr. Wilson is now chairman of the Board of County Commissioners in which office he has made an enviable record during the past four years. He is a merchant in Millington and a farmer.

For Treasurer, Mr. Walter Morris, of the Third District. Mr. Morris is a graduate of Washington College, a farmer, has been one of the leaders in the 4-H Club work in this county and is prominent in all farm organizations in the county.

For Register of Wills, Mr. Ringgold Jones, of the Fifth District. Mr. Jones served four years as President of the Board of County Commissioners, has been prominent in Democratic politics in the county for a number of years and is a farmer.

For County Commissioners, Messrs. Samuel C. Loller, Ellsworth C. Leary and Andrew W. Wilson. Mr. Loller is from the Third District, is now a member of the Board of County Commissioners on which he has served with credit and is a prominent farmer of the county. Mr. Ellsworth C. Leary is from the Fifth District, is President of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce, is President of the Maryland Waterman's Protective Association, is Mayor of Rock Halil and interested in all civic enterprises in the County. He is engaged in the lumber business at Rock Hall. Mr. Andrew W. Wilson is from the First District. He is a waterman, and a farmer and is well versed in the problems and needs of these two industries. He is also an authority on duck shooting which is receivng considerable State and Federal attention at this time.

Judges of the Orphans' Court, Dr. E. A. Scott, Mr. George R. Rasin and Mr. Harry Stavely. Dr. Scott is a physician from the First District, has served as Chief Judge of the Orphans' Court over a long period of years and his knowledge of the duties of that office makes the Orphans' Court of Kent County outstanding in the State.. Mr. George R. Rasin is from the Second District and a member of the Orphans' Court through recent appointment to succeed Judge Groves, deceased. He is a retired farmer and is employed by the Kent County Farm Bureau. Mr. Harry Stavely is from the Sixth District is a farmer and prominent in Democratic politics in the county. .

Due to the large number of candidates for Sheriff, the compromise ticket will not pick a candidate for that office and the seven candidates will run at large.

The State Central Committee and the Delegates to the State Convention will be selected within a few days.

The fact that there will be a local Democratic primary in Kent County in September was evidence by the announcement this week by Dr. H. P. Copeland, local physician, that he will be a candidate for the Senate, subject to the September primary. While a primary is necessary due to the State ticket and the election of a Chief Judge for the Second Judicial Circuit, Dr. Copeland's annoucement was the first indication that the primary would include local aspirants for office. Up to the time of going to press, Dr. Copeland is the only candidate in opposition to the combination factional ticket. Local political activity has overshadowed the Judgeship fight which held the limelight in the early part of the campaign, although Judge Keating as been assured of the backing of the political leaders of Kent County.

As to the Governorship, there have been numerous prophesis that Mayor Jackson will drop out of the fight, although up to the time of going to press the Mayor emphatically denies the rumor. It is very evident that Governor Ritchie will receive the backing of local poltical leaders although a Conley for Governor Club has been started in the First District.

The Democratic primaries will be held Wednesday, September 12th and the last day on wihch candidates may file is twenty days before the primary, August 23rd. Up to the time of going to press, Mr. James Evans, of Elkton, cadidate for Chief Judge, is the only name filed with the Kent County Supervisors of Election.

The Curbtone Diplomat

WILLIAM S. COLLINS

Somewhere else in the sheet will be found a letter to the editor about the tree situation in town. There seems to be others that feel we should give our trees that are diseased some attention, and also that new trees should be planted.

DON'T KILL THE GOOSE THAT LAYS THE GOLDEN EGG

One of the suggestions made by the Farm Bureau for the reduction of farm taxes is doubling the tax on Pori-Mutual betting at the race tracks. Maryland race tracks are now a big source of revenue to the state. So much, so that other states have passed laws or repealed laws so that race tracks can operate pari mutual machines and add to the revenue of their states. Maryland now has more competition in the race track business tha they did only a few years ago. By doubling the tax from one per cent to two per cent on the pari-mutuals might result in killing one of the State's large sources of revenue.

EDUCATION IN THE MARYLAND FREE STATE

Just an idea of what is going on in the two leading universities of our State. This is the association that the students have.

At Johns Hopkins quite a leading figure is Broadus Mitchell. Broadus is well reknown for jumping at conclusions. He has disgraced himself and the University by becomig a candidate on the Socialist ticket. I understand that Johns Hopkins is already for a hand out from the State legislature and Broadurs is accepts the salary.

Now Goucher steps into the line light. Naomi Riches inspired by the fact that the socialists stands for no discrimination as to race or creed will run for congress. The Maryland leader.

Dr. Riches said:

'I am proud to be the candidate of the Socialist Party for Congresswoman in the fourth district. The Socialist Party stands for the workers without distinction based on race or creed. The Socialist Party is the only party that offers the great majority of people, the workers, any real hope.

'To face the immediate situation, the Socialist Party pledges itself to an adequate relief program, un-employment insurance, old age pensions, and minimum wage laws to insure a decent standard of living. It does not advocate these reforms merely before elections, but has worked consistently for them year after year.

'But most important of all, the Socialist Party, in advocating production for use and not for profit, has the only solution for our outworn capitalist system. The last two years have shown that the efforts to patch up our present economic order are useless. Unemployment, low wages, and the consequent paralysis of our industrial life are still with us. Not until the voters have the courage to authorize the major change—production for use—can we expect a solution of our economic ills.'

So you see what our two leading universities are teaching.

FARMERS PICNIC NEXT TUESDAY

ANNUAL AFFAIR TO BE AT TOLCHESTER

The undersigned will offer at Public ed by the Kent County Farm Bureau, will be held at Tolchester next Tuesday, August 7th.

Among the speakers will be Dr. T. B. Simons, Charles E. Wise, Jr. of Maryland; and Murray D. Lincoln, of the Ohio Farm Bureau.

OUR BROADCAST

—Mr. Walter G. Clatenoff manager of the Standard Auto Supply, returned this week from th drought stricken area of the West where he spent his vacation. The coolest way to ride in the day time out there is to put all the windows up as all the breezes are hot. The nights however are cool.

Junnie Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Strong, has made a small model of a battleship from blue prints and is now making a model of the airplane carrier, Saratoga. Next year he says he will build something big enough to use.

—Lightning followed the electric wires into the home of Mrs. Frances Young near Chestertown, blowing the electric fuses. The fire company was called but a recall announcing the fire was out before the fireman left the house.

—Queen Anne's Cunty authorities are baffled as to how to trace thieves who stole the entire crop of wheat from the farm near Pondtown owned by Mr. H. D. Orem, of Chestertown. The wheat crop of 250 bushels had been stored in a house on the farm and on Wednesday night of last week thieves stole the whole crop.

—Governor Ritchie has issued a proclamation declaring next Saturday a Legal Holiday in celebration of the Maryland Tercentenary in Baltimore. All banks and State offices will be closed that day.

—Duck hunters from all parts of Maryland are protesting against the newly proposed Federal ducking law of thirty shooting days, three consecutive days a week for ten weeks.

—Wheat reached a new high mark on Wednesday of this week when local buyers were offering 81 1-2 cents a bushel. The price dropped one cent on Thursday. It is understood that approximately 75 per cent of Kent's wheat crop has been sold.

—It was annunced yesterday that the tenth annual Kent County horse show will be held on the farm of Mr. Julian Jones on the Chestertown-Kennedyville road. The date, as announced last week, is Wednesday, August 22nd. A detailed program will be published next week.

—Mr. B. Fox, with the assistance of twelve clerks, is preparing for what he describes as a phenomenal sale of sales. he sale which starts today, is under the management of Mr. Samuel Saks and will be store wide.

—Mr. J. E. Newton has installed modern dry-cleaning equipment and is now equipped to handle all kinds of French cleaning in connection with his tailoring business.

DR. COPELAND ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR SENATE

Dr. H. P. Copeland, local physician has, this week, announced his candidacy for the State Senate, subject to the Democratic primaries in September.

Dr. Copeland's announcement followed the announcemet last week of a compromise ticket between the two recognized Democratic factions whereby every indication pointed to the selection of Mr. Arthur Brice as the compromise ticket.

In announcing his candidacy, Dr. Copeland wrote the following letter to the Transcript:

"Owing to the solicitation of many farmers, watermen, and others to be a candidate, I hereby announce my candidacy for State Senator subject to the Democratic Primaries.

DR. H. P. COPELAND"

LOCAL REGATTA CREATES INTEREST

INDICATION POINTS TO A RECORD AFFAIR

From entries and inquiries received by the Regatta Committee of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club, indications point to a large number of entries in the Chester River Regatta to be held at Chestertown August 17th and 18th.

The list of events ad races makes the regatta this year interesting to practically every type of sail and power boat, from the small bateaus to the large power cruisers.

The Chesapeake Bay Log Canoe race which is one of the features of Chesapeake Bay regattas, will be held and according to information received this week there is a likelihood that seven canoes will compete. Among the canoes expected here are the Island Bird. Lockwoch, Mary Rider, Magic, Pigwitch, Flying Cloud and the Mayflower. The canoe race will be a free for all and a handicap. The Flying Cloud has been changed from a square stern to a log canoe type. The owners of log canoes on the bay have formed an association which fixes the rules of the race and system of handicapping, which has overcome much of the contention in past years.

At a meeting of outboard drivers held in Chestertown last Saturday night, an association was formulated and the assurance was given that at least twelve of these speedy little craft will compete in the races to be held Saturday, August 18th.

Increased interest in the various types of sail and power boats on Chester River promises entries in all of the various events.

For the first time in several years there will be no aquatic activity in this section of the bay to conflict with the regatta here and a record-breaking affair is expected.

Meanwhile preparations for the regatta are going forward at a rapid pace. More than 400 invitations have been sent to owners of outboard racing crafts and the associations representing this type of speedster. It is estimated that nearly a half hundred of these little racing boats will be roaring up and down the Chester when the events carded for that class are underway.

Additional trophies are being sought by a committee in charge of such affairs. More trophies are needed because more events have been listed on the two-day program this year than have been held during past regattas.

Down at the club's property on the Quaker Neck road preparations have been started for the events. A fence has been erected across th front of the club's wharf property and will be used to keep autos other than those on official business away from the hustle and bustle of activities at the foot of the pier.

Arrangements are being made for committee boats, parties are being planned by club members and Philip G. Wilmer, chairman of the entertainment committee, has announced two dances, one on each night of the regatta.

The present program calls for sailing events on Friday afternoon, August 17, and again on the morning of Saturday, August 18, with the afternoon of the latter day given over entirely to motorboat events.

UNION SERVICE HELD IN CHURCH

NCLEMENT WEATHER PREVENTS OPEN AIR SERVICE

The Union Service last Sunday evening was held in the Episcopal Church on account of inclement weather. People came, however, in spite of the rain thus manifesting the interest felt in these services.

Rev. W. H. Litsinger, pastor of Christ Methodist Protestant Church, had charge and preached. His subject was "The Law of God" on which he made to observations: first, The law given by God to Moses was a revelation of life principles. It did not create conditions; what it states is not so because God said it by He said it because it is so, made by Him thus at the beginning and revealed by what he said. People speak about changing low. We hear, for example, much about repealing the Sabbath law, just as well talk of repealing creation. Men do not break these laws; they may be broken by them. It is therefore the part of wisdom to attend to what God has said and to apply His laws to our life.

The second observation made was that it is of God's grace that this revelation is given. Some laws we would not know if He did not reveal them. This God does fully. Even the terms which accompanied the giving of law expressed His kindness, for thereby He would impress upon men their importance. Considering which we should be grateful for God's grace in all this and should gladly come to Him in renewed love and devotion.

Rev. Frank White pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be the preacher next Sunday evening when the service will be held out of doors uness the weather should necessitate holding it again in the Episcopal Church hich is kindly at the disposal of the service under such conditions.
