THE POODLE AND THE TOY MANCHESTER TERRIER

YOUR DOG AND MINE

By EDWARD C. LOUD, JR.

General appearance of the Poodle—That of a very active smart and intelligent looking dog, well built and carrying himself proudly.

Head of the Poodle—The head to be long, straight, and fine. The skull slightly full, and moderately peaked, and there should be a slight stop.

Muzzle of the Poodle—Long and snipy, not full in cheek. Teeth white, strong and level. Lips black.

Eyes of the Poodle—Oval shaped, very dark, and full of fire.

Neck of the Poodle—Well proportioned and strong to admit of the head being carried high and with dignity.

Shoulders of the Poodle—Strong and muscular, sloping well to the back.

Chest of the Poodle—Deep and moderately wide.

Back of the Poodle—Short, strong, and very slightly hollowed the loins broad and muscular; the ribs well sprung and bent.

Feet of the Poodle—Rather small, and of good oval shape, the toes being well arched and close; pads close and thick.

Legs of the Poodle—The forelegs set straight from shoulder with plenty of bone and muscle. Hind legs very muscular and well bent with hocks well let down.

Tail of the Poodle—Set on high, well carried, never curled over the back.

Coat of the Poodle—Four curly poodles, very profuse, of hard texture, of even length, curly or frizzy, not at all open. Or corded poodles very thick hanging in tight even cords.

Colors of the Poodle—Any solid or even color. The white, the silver, the blue, the cream or the apricot, to have dark or black eyes, lips, nose, and toe nails.

Sizes of the Poodle—Large poodles to be 15 inches or over at the shoulder. Small poodles to be under 15 inches. .

May I take this opportunity to say that the Toy Manchester Terrier, although a pure breed and recognized by the American Kennel Club, is offtimes spoken of as the 'Rat Terrier.'

Head of the Toy Manchester—Long, flat, narrow, level and wedge-shaped without showing cheek muscles; well filled up under the eyes, tapering slightly lipped jaws, level teeth.

Eyes of the Toy Manchester—Very small, sparkling and dark, set fairly close together, oblong in shape.

Nose of the Toy Manchester—Black.

Ears of the Toy Manchester—The carriage of the ears since cropping was abolished is a dependable point. In the large breed the drop ear is correct, but for Toys either erect or semi-erect carriage is most desirable.

Neck and shoulders of the Toy Manchester—The neck should be fairly long and tapering from the shoulders to the head, with sloping shoulders, the neck being free from throatness and slightly arched at the occiput.

Chest of the Toy Manchester—Narrow, but deep.

Body of the Top Manchester—Moderately short, curving upward at the loins; ribs well sprung, back slightly arched at the loin and falling again at the joining of the tail to the same height as the shoulders.

Legs of the Toy Manchester—Must be quite straight, set on well under the dog and of fair length.

Feet of th Toy Manchester—Should be more inclined to be cat than harefooted.

Tail of the Toy Manchester—Moderate length and set on where arch of back ends; thick where it joins the body, tapering to a point, and not carried higher than the back.

Coat of the Toy Manchester—Close, Smooth, short, glossy.

Color of the Toy Manchester—Jet black and rich tan distributed over the body.
