Obedience to law is the first duty of the citizen. The condition of the county debt and the school muddle are sad commentaries of the effect of a failure to appreciate this self-evident truth by Democratic officials in past years.

The Republican tax-payers of Carroll county have contributed $150,000 to $200,000 to repair the public roads during the last twenty-two years, but Chairman Crouse appears to think they should be perpetually prevented from having any voice as to the manner in which the vast sums levied for that purpose are expended.

Some time during Friday night of last week an outhouse on the premises of Mrs. Busby, East Main street, this city, occupied by herself and the family of Mr. George W. Rush, her son-in-law, was discovered to be on fire, the crackling of the flames awaking Mrs. Busby and calling her attention to it. The structure was considerably damaged, but the prompt discovery of the fire enabled the family to extinguish the flames, not, however, until the winter stock of preserves, pickles, &c., which were stored in the building, was destroyed or ruined by the bursting of jars and bottles. The loss is quite considerable. The origin of the fire is unknown.

College Notes.

Our handsome and imposing new gymnasium, the gift of Miss Anna R. Yingling, '71, was formally opened Tuesday night by an elaborate program consisting of marching, wand and Indian club exercises, and an exhibition of the uses of the various pieces of apparatus comprising the equipment. Prof. C. J. E. Schultz and Mr. Chas. S. Hayden, of the Baltimore Young Men's Christian Association, and Messrs. J. E. and Harry Miles, of the Baltimore Athletic Association, were present and gave a wonderfully skillful exhibition of what can be done with parallel bars, flying rings, vaulting horse and horizontal bars. The Miles Brothers also electrified the audience by the most extraordinary performance in "tumbling" that this institution has ever seen or ever expects to see again. They were simply immense, and every trick of the trade was applauded to the echo, and very deservedly too. The club swinging, by a mixed class of young ladies and gentlemen of the college, was highly complimented by Prof. Schultz. The marching by young ladies was also finely executed. Near the beginning of the program Dr. Lewis made appropriate remarks upon the thorough equipment of the new gymnasium and the great necessity of physical going hand in hand with mental culture. In behalf of the college authorities he gracefully and with warmth returned thanks to Miss Yingling, who was present, for her magnificent gift, and finished his remarks by calling on the students for the college yell, (Rah! rah! rah!! rah! rah! ree!! rah! rah! hullaballoo! W. M. C. rah!!!). The performance began at 7.30 and closed at about 9.

On the right hand, as you enter the new gymnasium, is a mural tablet, bearing this inscription:

THE YINGLING GYMNASIUM,
THE GIFT OF
ANNA R. YINGLING,
OF THE CLASS OF '71.

The very handsome design is the work of Miss S. O. Rinehart, teacher of the art department.

Mr. C. F. Thomas, of Buckeystown, was present at the gymnasium opening.

The second recital of the music department took place yesterday at 1, P. M.

A new student, from Washington, D. C., arrived this week, making the total two hundred and three.

Mr. P. H. Myers, of the Senior class, has been obliged to discontinue work on account of ill health.

Lawn tennis is the game.

One hundred and thirty mouths are filled thrice a day in the dining hall.

The College President invited the entire medical fraternity of Westminster up to supper Tuesday evening.

Our athletic visitors from Baltimore say the athletic associations of the big city would be glad if they all could have as finely furnished a gymnasium as we have.

A Lemon-Sqeeze.

A party, unique in its character as well as peculiar in name, was given on Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. Jno. H. Keen, by the ladies of the West End to their gentleman friends. It was entitled "a lemon-squeeze." We regret that want of space prevents a full description of the plan of this new style of entertainment. The costumes of the ladies were trimmed with lemon-colored silk and the gentlemen wore sashes and neck-ties with stripes of the same color on their pantaloons. Four prizes were given—a first to the person having a lemon with most seeds, and a booby to the individual having the least number; also a first to the person guessing nearest the whole number of seeds contained in all the lemons, and a booby to the person making the wildest guess. The first prize, for lemon having most seeds, was awarded Mr. Harry C. Albaugh, whose lemon contained 39 seeds. This prize consisted of a beautiful cut glass lemonade set, including pitcher, four glasses and waiter. The booby was drawn by Miss Lizzie Nusbaum, whose lemon was seedless. The prize was a lemon-squeezer. The first prize for guessing, a gipsy kettle, was won by Mr. Thomas Snyder, and the booby, a tin toy, by Miss May Nelson. The affair was exceedingly pleasant, the evening having been spent in games, music and the proceeding already described. Refreshments were served in great profusion and beautiful style under the supervision of Mrs. Keen. The ushers were Masters Nattie Keen and Lewis Woodward. Those present were: Misses L. Birdie Johnson, Netha Preece, of Baltimore; Miss Nellie Rowe, Mr. Frank Rowe, of Union Bridge; Misses Georgia Franklin, May Nelson, Carrie Schaeffer, Lizzie Nusbaum, Lillie Morningstar, Minnie Orndorff, Rosa Orndorff, Lilian Erb, Bertie Somerville, H. Bertie Keen, Annie Cassell, Messrs. Wm. Gray, John Miller, Wm. Everhart, Frank Cassell, Thomas Snyder, Harry Albaugh, Joseph Franklin, E. Gehr Smith, Wm. Devilbiss, Harry Keen.

Don't forget that Tuesday next is the election.

Elected Cashier.

Among the rising young men of Brunswick, Ga., is Mr. Frank E. Cunningham, son of Wm. A. Cunningham, Esq., cashier of the Farmers' and Mechanics' National Bank, of this city. Since his residence in Brunswick, now about two years, he has been a trusted officer in two of the banks of that place, and has so won the confidence of the banking community that he was, on Friday night of last week, elected, by the Directors, cashier of the Brunswick State Bank, a highly honorable and important position. His many friends here will be gratified to learn of his good fortune and to hear of the high esteem in which he is held at the home of his adoption. The following extracts in reference to his election are taken from Brunswick papers of Saturday last:

Brunswick Advertiser.

"At a meeting held last night of the directors of the Brunswick State Bank, the honor of being its cashier was placed upon Mr. Frank E. Cunningham, by an election held for that purpose.

We doubt if a better selection could have been made. Mr. Cunningham has lived in Brunswick for several years, coming from Maryland to take a position in the Oglethrope National, which position he voluntarily resigned, and immediately accepted a similar one with the First National. In both of these he has proven himself worthy and capable. His election is certainly a compliment, being a valued testimonial from the directors of their high regard for him.

The bank will open for business about the 15th prox., in the Crovatt block. We wish it a prosperous career."

Brunswick Times.

"The Board of directors of the Brunswick State Bank, had a meeting last night and elected Mr. Frank E. Cunningham as cashier.

Mr Cunningham has been in Brunswick but two years and, in that time, has held two important positions in the banks of this city, the first being that of assistant cashier of the Oglethrope, the latter being his present position—individual bookkeeper of the First National. In both of these positions he has sustained himself most creditably, winning the esteem and confidence of his employers. As a citizen, Mr. Cunningham has identified himself with the people of this, his adopted city, and is recognized and respected as a man of influence. Surely no better thing can be said than that the action of last night was the conferring of a deserved honor upon a deserving man.

Accidents.

While Mr. William Lawyer, of Pennsylvania avenue, this city, was leading his cow with a rope, on Wednesday last, the creature became unmanageable and ran against a gate, forcing Mr. Lawyer's left hand against it and lacerating it severely. The flesh was torn from the upper part of the hand, exposing the bones. Mr. Lawyer was also thrown against a wire fence, but fortunately sustained no more serious injury than that mentioned. Surgical aid was rendered and his wounds dressed by Dr. M. L. Bott.

On Monday last Mrs. S. W. Vanhorn met with an accident by which one of her ribs was fractured. Dr. M. L. Bott rendered the necessary surgical attention.

On Thursday Master Charlie Brown, aged 13 years, while herding or grazing cattle for Mr. Abraham Shaeffer, of Avondale, was thrown from his horse and injured internally. He was attended by Dr. M. L. Bott, of this city.

On Friday evening of last week Mr. Wm. A. Wampler, of this city, while leaving the shoe store of Mr. John Zahn, by the Court street entrance, made a misstep and fell from the steps to the sidewalk, breaking his arm near the shoulder. Dr. E. D. Wells was summoned and adjusted the fracture.

On the some day Willie Heilig, son of the proprietor of the Eastern Hotel, aged ten or twelve years, while running in play, fell and broke his collar bone. The fracture was adjusted by Dr. E. D. Wells.

A lad named Arthur Seipp, son of Mr. George Seipp, while attempting to climb into a four-horse wagon, on the Uniontown road, fell to the ground and was run over, the wheel passing over his abdomen inflicting internal injuries and also hurting the spine. Dr. E. D. Wells rendered the necessary medical and surgical assistance. This accident also occurred on Friday of last week.

An Interesting Relic.

Dr. John P. Sheahan, of Dennysville Maine, a former resident of our city, has just returned from a three weeks tour of the Virginia battlefields. He has been studying and photographing the fields of the cavalry battles to more fully illustrate his lectures on the war of the rebellion.

The Dr. secured, while in Virginia, an interesting and valuable relic of the war, a Confederate sword of exquisite workmanship. The handle is of pearl surmounted by a head of Minerva. The hilt is a modified cross the transverse piece ending in two globes from one of which runs a double linked chain to the head.

This cross is made of hammered brass and is covered with an intricate maze of scroll and ball work. Along either side of the handle, covering the joint between the two pieces of pearl, are two pieces of gold very beautifully chased. The scabbard is of metal finely decorated. The blade itself is of the finest steel and beautifully etched with confederate emblems, conspicuous among which are cotton bolls and the silver stars of the confederacy. It is evidently the production of European skill and was doubtless worn by some Confederate of high rank, or some staff officer.

Election Tuesday, November 5. Polls open from 8, A. M., to 6, P. M.

Fountain Valley Items.

All outdoor work has been more or less delayed by the great amount of wet weather experienced thoughout this entire year. Farmers are now busy husking and housing their corn. The crop is a good one, averaging about ten barrels per acre.

Mr. W. J. Babylon has made another improvement on his premises by the erection of an implement shed, 14x20 feet. Frick and Bemiller were the carpenters.

Mr. Emanuel Wantz is building a spring and wash-house combined 12x12 feet in dimensions. H. M. Snader is the carpenter.

Only 300 road supervisors in Carroll county! No wonder the roads are in a deplorable condition.

Wedding Bells.

SNADER—STOUFFER.

"Margaret's Fancy," the handsome residence of Elder Ephraim Stouffer, near New Windsor, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Thursday, the 31st of October. The contracting parties were Miss L. May, only child of Elder Ephraim Stouffer, and Mr. Abram P. Snader, son of Mr. Thomas Snader. As the happy pair proceeded to the spacious hall where a crowd of eager watchers awaited, they were preceded by the ushers, Messrs. H. B. Snader, brother of the groom; and E. J. Stouffer, cousin of the bride; the groomsman, Rev. W. K. Franklin, and the bridesmaid, Miss Fannie B. Roop. The bride was dressed in French Grey Henrietta cloth and wore a bouquet of Camellia Japonicas. The bridesmaid was dressed in blue grey Henrietta cloth and wore a bouquet of Pearl de Jardin roses. The gentlemen wore the conventional black with white ties and boutonieres of Niphetos roses. The ceremony was performed by Elder Wm. H. Franklin.

After receiving the hearty congratulations of those present the bridal party entered the dining hall where was found a table literally groaning under the weight of things pleasing to the eye and gratifying to the taste, to which all did ample justice. There were about 105 guests present. The presents were numerous, handsome and useful, such as silver ladle, table spread, towels, table cloths, pitchers, ice cream set, dozen glasses, celery glasses, dozen silver knives, chamber set, castors, set of silver tooth picks, lemonade set, napkins, splasher, glass dishes, lamps, pickle dishes, silver spoons, water set, preserve dishes, toilet set, silver pickle castor, pair of blankets, hassock, wall pocket, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Snader left for a trip to Virginia and the South by 6 p. m., train.

MYERLY—BITTLE.

BALTIMORE, OCTOBER 22ND, 1889.

Among the most brilliant events known to the writer, of recent occurrence in Baltimore city, was the wedding of Miss Emma Bittle to Mr. George D. Myerly, both of this city, on October 16th, 1889. Miss Bittle is well known in Carroll county by many prominent residents. She is a handsome brunette, and we congratulate Mr. Myerly in gaining the love and hand of such a lovely and refined young lady. May they live long and happily together is the sincere wish of the writer. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Evans of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Baltimore, the newly wedded couple left on a tour for Washington and other places.

Mr. Burgess Penn, who has been sick with typhoid fever for several weeks, is not improving, and fears are entertained as to the result.

The farmers are in the midst of corn shucking, but the weather is wet and cold, and many of them are contracting sickness.

There must be an enormous crop of shellbarks in the northern section of the county, for every paper we pick up has something to say on the subject. And the price is seventy-five cents per bushel.

The worthless canines are killing a number of sheep and calves in this community. The farmers have been asking our law makers the past twenty years, to give them protection against loss, by levying a sum per capita on dogs to create a fund for that purpose. But such requests have never been heeded. In fact the farmer has never been thought of at all by them, except to draw the galling yoke tighter and yet more tight, until half the land in the State is under mortgage, and the laws such that the working people must go to the wall. Then it behooves every working man who suffers in common to vote for a change of local and State government.

Harney Items.

Since my last we have had a beautiful snow. Though ephemeral it had, to follow in its tracks, a biting frost that gave the finishing touches to vegetation and flowers; and now bleak winter has had its beginning.

Farmers are busy husking corn that is giving an immense yield in this section.

Death in its doings entered the family of Mr. Noah Shaffer, north of town, last week, and claimed his son Horatio as its victim, at the age of 16 years and 7 months. This family was afflicted with diphtheria for some weeks but all seemed convalescent. The young man was able to be up and on Sunday was out on the porch. That evening a relapse occurred and by noon Monday he was a corpse. He was buried here on Wednesday, Rev. C. M. Eyster officiating.

The friends of Mr. Harry Tall were informed of his death, on Monday night, at his home in Baltimore, from heart disease. Harry was a genial good fellow, almost like a native here, as he spent some eight or nine summers in our town and had gained many friends among the young follks of the town. He was a son of Dr. Tall, of South Baltimore, and expected to attend medical lectures during this winter, but delicate health prevented him from doing so.

A large flock of wild geese were fired into about Dug Hill, last week, and very much scattered and confused.

Mr. Geo. Bixler, of Melrose, was in Mr. Wentz's store, of that place, with his loaded gun, one day last week, and it was accidentally discharged, the contents going through a case of gum boots on a shelf overhead. Mr. W. has perforated boots for sale.

Eden Items.

The Democrats had a meeting at Snydersburg, on Wednesday evening, which had a funny climax. After speeches by Dr. J. W. Hering, Michael E. Walsh and Thos. O'N. Baumgartner, Esqs., in which the Democrats were lauded as being about the only people of any account in the country and the Republican party ridiculed as chiefly made up of negroes, Mr. Walsh proposed three cheers for the Democratic ticket. Taking off his hat and swinging it as the signal for the applause he cried, "Hip, hip, hurrah!" But he had it all to himself, the audience remaining stubbornly silent. In fact you could have heard a pin drop. There was a painful pause and then Mr. Walsh essayed it again. "Can't you holler," he exclaimed: "Now then all together! Hip, hip——" but silence deep and profound prevailed. The discomfited aspirant for legislative honors hung his head and turned away wondering, no doubt, what sort of spirit possessed his Democratic audience. It was certainly a funny scene.

MARRIED.
