NOW AND THEN

A VAGABOND SONG

There is something in the Autumn that is native to my blood
Touch of manner, hint of mood:
And my heart is like a rhyme,
With the yellow, and the purple keeping time.

The scarlet of the maples can shake me like a cry
Of bugles going by;
And my lonely spirits thrills
To see the frosty asters like a smoke upon the hills.

There is something in October sets
the gypsy astir;
We must rise and follow her,
When from every hill of flame
She calls and calls each vagabond by name.

BLISS CARMEN.

There is something about the autumn that makes one love the open country; something that makes one love to wander, and watch the trees change their colors as Autumn with her paleete in hands paints them with bright colors, something too, which makes one long to gather the ripened fruit from the trees, and go through the forests, with its rustling leaves underfoot.

Boake Carter, who has offended the people of the Eastern Shore, by calling them a bunch of ignorant fishermen, has been spending his week ends in a yacht on the Sassafras river. Having met many polished and delightful people of the Eastern Shore, during his sojourn he has apologized for his statement concerning this locality, over the radio; but will the same people who heard his last statement, turn on to hear his apologies? An autograph copy of his book, 'Black Shirt Black Skin' has just been loaned us. He has evidently found the hostesses here very charming and hospitable, judging from what he says on the fly leaf of the book.

Which do you prefer for your summer vacation, the mountains or the sea?

Some prefer the mountains, for they say the mountains stay 'put' while the sea means unceasing change.

These two little poems are very appealing, this ode by Dr. Groves of Charleton, S. C.

Ode to the Mountains

I need their height to lure my thoughts
afar;
I need their strength to meet the
strain of life;
I need their calm to give me time to think;
Their face, to face the littleness and strife.

And this one was found in a seaside bedroom.

'Come here and rest awhile,
Enjoy the beauty of the sea and sky
and land;
And in it hear the voice.
Of Him who, mid the raging storm said 'Peace be still.'

We have often heard of the busy hum of the cities. Now the noise is no longer a hum, but a shreik. What with the grinding noise of the breaks of trucks, the shrill voice of the radio cars, advertising as they go along, the constant traffic, there is little chance of remedying it unless something drastic is done. They called a meeting in New York recently for that purpose.

Those, who attended tiptoed to their seats and everything was as quiet as possible.

A late comer was checked by so many 'shoos' that he sank down in the first seat he could find, feeling very guilty. All over the country the slogan is, Less noise, please.

WHAT EVERY WORK SHOE WEARER SHOULD KNOW
Read the amazing facts listed just below and you will have no trouble at all understanding why millions have found supreme foot comfort — money saving, longer wear in. . .
Wolverine Shell Horsehides

1 — Leather in Wolverine Shoes is Shell Horsehide, just that part taken from over a horse's hips and is tanned in the Wolverine Tanneries.
2 — Shell Horsehide is considered by authorities to be the longest wearing leather known. Wolverines often give from ⅓ to ⅝ longer wear than ordinary shoes.
3 — The shell section of a horse's hide is approximately 1/6 of the entire hide — enough to make only 1 6/10 pairs of Wolverine Shoes.
4 — Wolverine Shell Horsehide is tanned and re-tanned three times, so no matter how wet Wolverines get, they dry soft and stay soft, and are also as near barnyard and acid proof as leather can be made.
5 — The peculiar structure of Shell Horsehide makes Wolverine Shoes actually scuff-proof so they not only wear longer, but also keep their good looks longer.
6 — Wolverine shoes are the only Work Shoes with both soles and uppers made entirely of Shell Horsehide.

SEE THAT SHELL!

When tanned the secret WOLVERINE way, this tough reinforcing center layer found only in Shell horsehide accounts for the remarkable extra wear and greater comfort of WOLVERINE SHOES.
