WITH THE HORSES

—BY—

Paul P. Steel

This month's copy of "The Maryland Horse" has several items of interest to horsemen and those others who love horses. The first is "Racing and the War." The points brought out are namely, that racing affords the hard working men and women of our defense industries an outlet to loosen up their nerves by getting out in the open for an afternoon and possibly the thrill of having a winner. Secondly the amount of money invested in the thorobred industry has a right for survival and lastly the resultant effect on your pocketbeek dear taxpayer of Maryland. The State received not less than $1,550,000,000 last year.

One paragraph in particular, we believe, shows the way: "It behooves those in authority to consider the other side of the picture. Little England had a cessation of racing in 1940 for some months but those with the direction of the country's welfare in hand soon found that the relaxation from tension, and the recreational facilities afforded both the fighting forces and those whose duties held them under close restraint, by being able to go racing was of great benefit to one and all, including those whose livings came from the sport and from breeding."

The Maryland Horse also gives us the official rating of horses and riders in the Association of "Maryland Horse Shows."

"Parson' 'owned by Miss Pat Patrick and trained and ridden by "Linky" Smith was far and away the best with 202 points. Second place went to Kentucky Stables "Rose of Sharon" while C. E. Lang's "Posa Meridian" was just two little points behind. Mrs. Wade Levering who showed at the Middle Kent Show in 1940 was fourth with "Laurille."

Mr. H. O. Firor sent his grandson out on "Chit Chat" to clinch the pony honors with 282 points and "Limerick Lace II" owned by C. C. Freeland was second.

The "Gittings Horsemanship" award went to Bobby Rasche of McDonough School and the reserve to Miss Eileen Smith.

The feature event of the year was to hear that for the first time a woman had won the Open Jumper Stake at the National in Madison Square Garden. The honor fell to Miss Margaret Cotter on her big son of "Half Rock" who is known to all as "Rocksie." Miss Cotter is also famous for the real honest to goodness "rebel yell" she uses to urge "Rocksie" over the jumps. The higher the jump the louder the yell. Miss Cotter and "Rocksie" were not satisfied with the Jumper Stake but also took the Knock Down and Out Championship. Miss Cotter was last seen in these parts several years ago at the Centreville Show where she was showing not only "Rocksie" but U. S. Randall's horses as well.

WE LOOK BACK OVER 1941

The mythical championship of the Eastern Shore goes to "King James" owned and ridden by Vaughn Richardson of Salisbury. The reserve also goes to Salisbury where Miss Helne Phillips keeps her good Chestnut gleding "Star News."

Moving into Kent County, we feel that Miss Marion Grieb has by far the best record of the year with "Miss Penn." This mare showed better this year than we ever saw her do before. Kent County's reserve would go to Mr. Hurd's "High Ball" with Mr. Hubbard's "Royal Prince" coming very close.

The best saddle horse in Kent would be Mr. Stavely's "Frank."

Betty Bonwill takes precedence over all comers on the shore among the younger riders. Betty has shown marked improvements in the past year and she was an excellent performer before that. She also has the best pony in Kent County.

Our greatest thrill of the year was on Sunday, October 5 when "Billy B" went over the modified olympic course at the M. K. H. Show with over 180 pounds up and never a fault. ..It was not a case of the rider falling off after the last jump either, but he was just hugging the grand old fellow and didn't want to people to see tears in his eyes.)

The feature of the hunter trials was the jumping, without fault, of the entire course by the small pony "King Cole."

BILLY B SEZ:

Missy sure fixed the Boss up with a grand Christmas present. She ups and gives him a book. It was "Riding" by Benjamin Lewis with an introduction by Col. J. K. Brown former Chief Instructor of the U. S. Cavalry Scholo at Fort Riley. If the Boss will just read and take it to heart we horses will all have a very

and the same to you.

THIS WEEK IN DEFENSE WORK

CIVILIAN DEFENSE

OCD announced Youth Auxiliary Committees will be put on operation about January 1 for participation in the work of local and state defense councils. OCD Director LaGuardia said he may ask Congress to approve funds for 50,000,000 gas masks for civilians in the three coastal areas. He reported some manufacturers were selling World War I masks no longer approved by the Army. The FBI announced civilian defense courses will be conducted for police on the West Coast and later will be expanded to include 26$ cities and 30,000 regular law inforcement officers in rural and metropolitan areas.

LABOR

The President's industry-labor conference to plan uninterrupted war production agreed: (1) There shall be no strikes or lockouts; (2) all disputes shall be settled by peaceful means; (3) thte President shall set up a proper War Labor Board to handle these disputes. The President accepted the plan without reservations and said he would act at once.

The U. S. Conciliation Service reported settlement of 28 labor disputes. Labor Secretary Perkins announced that during the past year hourly earnings of factory wage earners increased 14.7 percent; average hours rose 4.8 percent; and average weekly earnings of both full and part time employment rose 20.6 percent.

MAN POWER FOR INDUSTRY

The OPM Division said the U. S. has the manpower to meet 1942's need of at least 3,000,000 additional persons for war industries, but there is a shortage of industrial plant supervisors and skilled workers in some war crafts and occupations. The Division said war industries now employing 4,500,000 will need 9,000,000 by June, 1943. These additional workers can be raised without serious economic disruption by utilizing all existing sources—women, Negroes, foreign born, older workers, and those displaced from civilian jobs, he said.

AGRICULTURE

The Agriculture Department announced a favorable economic outlook for agriculture in 1942 despite entry of the U. S. into war, due to the expanding war effort and prospective accompanying rise in industrial activity, employment and wages Agriculture Secretary Wickard said 1942 production goals call for more milk, eggs, pork, beef, canned vegetables, peanuts and soybeans, and a cut in production of wheat, cotton and tobacco. Mr. Wickard also said the millionth ton of American food shipped to Great Britain under the lend-lease system has arrived safely.

As creamed dishes are a little heavy, it is well, if one is used as a main course, to begin the meal with a clear soup and end with a light dessert—preferable fruit.

TAX DELINQUENTS

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 511, Section 156D, Acts of 1941, the Treasurer of Kent County, Maryland, hereby publishes a list of all delinquents by districts, alphabetically, showing the amount for which each tax payer is in arrears as of January 1, 1942.

To the following amounts, interest to date and the sum of One Dollar ($1.00) for delinquent fee and costs of advertising are to be added.
