SHOREMEN LOSE TO LOYOLA IN FINALS 48-32

The Shoremen gracefully dropped out of the Mason-Dixon tournament at Evergreen last Thursday Night in the first round when they were defeated by the Greyhounds of Loyola for the third time. The score was 48-32. Loyola continued through the series defeating American University and Western Maryland to win the championship.

In the first minutes of the game, the Shoremen showed the same spirit of agressiveness that they displayed when they met Loyola on the home court. They took the lead and maintained it until the closing minutes of the half when the rested Loyola first team came back to gain a 22-18 lead.

Vic and Franny Bock and Thobe proved too much for the tired Shoremen in the second half and steadily increased the lead. The locals were in a hopeless condition by the middle of the last half. The score ended 48-32.

Franny McNiff and Jim Stevens ended their basketball careers with Washington College that night. McNiff was his usual self although he was unable to get the scoring range. Jim Stevens outdid himself in his final game. Not only was he high scorer for the Dutchmen with 14 points but he was also the spark of energy throughout the game.

The Greyhounds, although the smartest team in the league found that their superior reserves were their greatest factor in the tournament.

CONSERVATION MEETING WAITING ON ICKES

Governor O'Conor Seeking Conference

Plans for a meeting between State officials of Maryland and Virginia and representatives of the Federal Government in Washington, looking to measures to conserve the supply of blue crabs in the Chesapeake Bay Area, are awaiting reply from Secretary Ickes of the Department of the Interior, Governor Herbert R. O'Conor made known today.

Following a comprehensive report on the condition of the crab supply in the Bay by the United States Wildlife Bureau, Governor O'Conor invited Governor Colgate W. Darden, of Virginia, to join with him in a meeting with Secretary Ickes in Washington to devise joint measures for the protection and propagation of this very necessary item of the State's seafood.

Governor O'Conor has announced that he will attend the meeting when it is arranged, together with representatives of the Maryland Board of Natural Resources.

Secretary of State Thomas E. Jones, Chairman of Governor O'Conor's Maryland Cooperation Commission, was informed this week by Maryland's United States Senators and Representatives that the hearings in Congress on the bill establishing the Atlantic Fisheries Compact had been completed and that the bill will be reported out at an early date.

The movement was officially ratified by Maryland last September when Governor Herbert R. O'Conor signed the compact which will establish cooperation between the States on the Eastern Seaboard. Eight states including Maryland have ratified the compact.
