American Sentinel.

WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND.

W. L. W. Seabrook, - Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

SATURDAY, JANUARY, 4. 1890.

A New Volume.

With the present issue the SENTINEL enters upon its fifty-eighth volume, being, in fact, several years older than Carroll county. That it has kept pace with the progress and improvement manifested everywhere in country journalism is best evidenced by the steady support and patronage it has received from the people of the county, to whom sincere and hearty thanks are returned for their unvarying and appreciative kindness. It has been the object of those having charge of the SENTINEL to make it a thoroughly reliable local journal, devoted to the interests of the county, and at the same time a fair, firm and decided exponent and supporter of the principles of the Republican party. Great care has been taken to exclude from its columns of literary and miscellaneous reading everything that might render it unfit to be placed in the hands of the children of the many households to which it goes in the county, and many expressions of approval of its cleanness have been reported to us.

We shall not indulge in promises of great things for the future, but will endeavor to keep the SENTINEL up to the high standard of journalism it has heretofore attained.

The new year and the new volume of the SENTINEL commence synonymously, and we take the occasion to extend New Year's greetings to its readers, and to wish them one and all prosperity and happiness not only throughout 1890, but to the end of life.

To Violate Pledges as Usual.

One of the most solemn pledges of of the Democratic Business Men's Association of Baltimore, endorsed by the City Convention and tacitly approved by the Democratic party of the State, was the enactment of an Election Law by the Maryland Legislature at the session of 1890, combining the Australian system and such features of the Tilden Law as might make it applicable to the needs of this State. The pledge was specific, but the SENTINEL pointed out at the time that it was only designed to serve as a quieting draught to allay the clamor and satisfy the demands of the honest Democrats who have been disgusted for years with Democratic election methods. It served its purpose and now Mr. Gorman gives notice that it will not meet the requirements of the Democratic party. The editors to whom he addressed his remarks against the Australian system, are reported to be in harmony with his views on the subject, but this may not be fully true, as only a portion of them openly expressed their assent. But the party may be fully trusted to follow the leadership of Mr. Gorman.

And so the history of the Democratic party repeats itself in Maryland. Year after year pledges of reform in election methods, and the enactment of laws to prevent fraudulent practices have been made by the bosses, only to be broken or worse than broken by the adoption of some measure utterly inadequate to the needs and demands of the people. The State is to be treated to the usual spectacle of a Legislature subservient to the orders of the chief party dictator, and the representatives of the people are to enact only such laws as may be approved by His High Mightiness, and as will give continued opportunities for the perpetration of Democratic frauds.

The Murder of Prisoners.

The murder of eight unarmed and helpless prisoners by an armed mob in South Carolina was a horrible atrocity, but not surprising in face of the fact that the victims were negroes. While the public sentiment of the community in which the outrage occurred expresses mild dissent and opposition to the deed, its palliation is sought by the publication of a vivid description of the murders for which they were indicted. It is pretty safe to predict that no one engaged in the tragedy will ever be brought to justice, but this species of lawlessness will eventually bring terrible consequences in its train, and South Carolina will pay dearly for permitting it to go unwhipt of justice. The victims of the lynchers may have been guilty of the murders of which they were accused, but they were no more guilty of a crime against the State and society, than are the men who were too impatient to wait the slow process of the law, and so became murderers themselves, to facilitate justice.

There is no pretence that the recent election in Boston, held under the Australian system, was not strictly fair and honest, but the result has thoroughly disgusted the Democratic party with the new law.

The Maryland Legislature met on Wednesday, at Annapolis. The Senate organized by the election of Senator Robert F. Brattan, of Somerset county, as President, and the House by the election of Mr. John Hubner, of Baltimore county, as speaker. The Democratic caucus nominees for the various offices of the two houses were elected. Among them are Mr. Thomas Mering, of Carroll county, as one of the door-keepers of the Senate, and Mr. George M. Pearce, of this city, as sergeant-at-arms of the House of Delegates. Little business, beyond the reception and reading of the Governor's message, was transacted. Both houses adjourned to meet at 8, P. M., on Tuesday next. During the interim the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House will select the Standing Committees.

The Governor's message to the Legislature of Maryland is a document of considerable length and treats of matters pertaining to the affairs of the State. It discusses the finances of the State, advises the passage of a new assessment act; that a tax of two and a half per cent. be imposed on the gross receipts of all railroads in the State, and that the State require the payment of some bonus for the granting of corporate franchises; recommends certain amendments to the constitution; calls special attention to the condition of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, and considers other matters of interest to the people of the State. The Governor also takes decided ground in favor of a high and strict liquor license law.

Under the Australian election system Boston, heretofore a Democratic city, went Republican by 5,000 or 6,000 Republican majority. That settles the matter of the adoption of the system in this State. The great Democratic boss cannot permit the passage of a law to introduce a method so pernicious into Maryland elections. Why, under it, even this State would probably be Republican by a handsome majority.

Senator Gorman says the bill to engraft the Australian system on the laws of Maryland had better be labled "a bill to throw the Democratic party in the rear." Well, if the Democratic party can only succeed by practicing frauds on the ballot, shouldn't it be thrown to the rear?

Senator Gorman don't like the Australian election system. Of course not. It does not offer sufficient opportunities for the practice of the peculiar methods pursued for years, in Maryland, with the Senator's full approval and possibly at his instigation.

Does Mr. Gorman mean to intimate that the election methods used to suppress the colored vote in the South, are to be introduced in the black counties of Maryland? His speech to the Democratic editors seems to indicate such a purpose.

The new word coined to express killing by electricity is "electrocution." Rather clumsy, isn't it?

By the spreading of the rails on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, near White Sulphur Springs, West Va., last Saturday morning, a fast express train was derailed and six cars were telescoped, killing eleven persons and injuring a large number, some of them seriously. Fortunately the cars did not take fire, as they were heated with steam. Why such an accident was not avoided by careful examination of the rails, it is difficult to understand. Surely signs of weakness would have been apparent, upon such an examination, long enough before the catastrophe to have enabled the company to guard against it by properly strengthening the track. Too many risks are taken in railroading, and somebody ought to be held to a rigid accountability for such accidents as that on the Chesapeake and Ohio.

In 1860 the wool crop of the United States was 60,000,000 pounds; in 1888, 322,000,000 pounds. The average imports of wools annually, from 1867 to 1876 ten years, were 22,400,000 pounds, and for the seven years from 1882 to 1887 22,140,000 pounds. Wool manufactures increased from $65,000,000, in 1860 to $325,000,000, in 1888; or from $2.10 per capita of the population in 1860, to $5.40 in 1888. During the same period imports of woolens decreased from $1.35 to 70 cents. The enormous advantage of the protective system to home products is very forcibly illustrated by these figures.

An old farmer named John Clarke was boiled to death in a bath tub at Kokomo, Ind., Friday night of last week. He was a paralytic and was in the habit of taking hot baths in an establishment kept by an eccentric character named George Tykle. Tykle put the old man in the tub with the gas burning under it, and apparently forgot all about it, as he went to bed and slept all night. Clarke was helpless and could not escape. He was found dead in the morning with the skin boiled off of his body.

The dwelling house of Theodore Gross, at Huronville, Mich., was destroyed by fire at five o'clock last Sunday morning, and eleven persons were burned to death. They were: Theodore Gross, aged 57 years; his wife, aged 47 years; eight of their children, ranging in age from 2 to 22 years, and a young lady named Lena Erbst, who was visiting them. Two sons, Theodore, jr, and Nicholas, escaped by jumping through windows, but were severely cut by the glass.

The citizens' warehouse at Yazoo, Miss., containing six thousand bales of cotton, was destroyed by fire on Saturday. Seven freight cars were also consumed. Estimated loss $326,500.

Opposed to the Australian Law.

At the invitation of Hon. Stevenson Archer, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, about twenty-five Democratic editors, from the counties of the State, met at the Hotel Rennert, Baltimore, on Monday evening to discuss Legislative matters. Senator Gorman was present and made a speech defining his views concerning the Australian election system. He said, among other things:

"There can be no question that a serious condition of affairs confronts us. The tide of immigration, the influences of men who are coming hither are all adverse to our views. Our majorities from natural causes are growing less, and a want of thorough co-operation among our people has also cut down our majorities.

"The elective franchise has been abused. Money has been poured out by corrupt hands to capture elections fraudulently. You have seen in your day two Presidents elected by the money power. Against this abuse of the elective franchise all good Democrats have turned their faces, ready to do anything to put down forever this corrupt power. Two years ago, election laws were passed to meet the ideas of the sentimentalists. The so-called reformers have been given too much. The result is that in an entire section of the state an element is dominant which should never control white faces. We must have thorough co-operation to treat new-fangled ideas from a Democratic standpoint and defeat them.

"As for the Australian system, you had better label it a bill to throw the Democratic party in the rear. This system has had two trials in this country. One was in Boston, the other in Montana. The former, for years a Democratic stronghold, went Republican at the last election under the Australian system by between 5,000 and 6,000 majority for the first time since 1864. Governor Houser writes me from Montana that we should have carried the state instead of having it hanging in the balance. The system that removes the voter from the influences of men of intelligence to a box leaves him to the danger of the money power. You pay a voter, if you pay him at all, in secret. By the system he is exposed to the corrupt influences of bribery more than ever.

"In this city nearly all the press have taken up this system. There are troubles and complaints here, but they are exaggerated. You have reached a point in the state when the county editors and Delegates will have to step forward and save the city from itself. You will have to examine into this matter of an election law, and in advocating a bill let it be a Democratic bill and the result of a Democratic caucus. Come with me to Washington; you'll find the Republican party in control of all the election machinery so far as Congressmen are concerned. If you will cater to a sentiment born of centralization, they're bound to overthrow us.

Says the New York Tribune: "Those good friends of the negro, the rabid Southern editors, must feel mortified over the denunciation by reputable colored men of the doings at Jessup, in Georgia, on Christmas Day. The offer of the negro commander of a colored regiment to assist in quelling the riots and bringing the offenders to justice shows that all the morality is not among the whites. But the whole colored race is pretty sure to be blamed for this escapade of a few drunken ruffians notwithstanding."

The generation of gas caused a mould which was prepared to cast a large piece of machinery, in the foundry of the Mosher Machine Company, Dallas, Texas, to explode, Saturday, sending a thousand pounds of molten metal among a gang of workmen, nine of whom were horribly burned, some fatally.

Eight colored men who were under indictment for murder, were taken from the jail at Blackville, Barnwell county, South Carolina, by a mob, at midnight Friday of last week, and carried to a grove half a mile distant, where they were tied to trees and deliberately shot to death.

The January term of the Maryland Court of Appeals will commence on the 13th inst.
