DEAR ROAMER

By far, not the largest ,yet, to the nth degrees, the most picturesque of the Regatta dances was held last Saturday evening, following the All Day Sail Boat Races. The service was well represented—the Army, the Navy ,the Marines the Coast Guard, the Aviation. Men in their uniforms and pretty young things with their summer dance frocks, either dancing, or on the softly lighted lawn, lent a charm comparable to a scenic stage setting.

Yes, it was the first big party, here, where as you glanced about, almost every other man was in uniform. If you didn't know there was a war going on before, you soon found out.

The visitors mostly consisted of home-folks—although I saw a few strangers. However, listing the week-end guests, we find the following were here:

Mr. and Mrs. John Richards, of Baltimore, who visited the latter's mother, Mrs. Thos. Foley.

Miss Helen Simpers, of Washington visited Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Simpers.

Misses Miriam and Virginia Jones, of Baltimore, guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. W. Jones.

Miss Betty Thibodeau, of Baltimore, visiting Mrs. William Janney at the home of her mother, Mrs. Clarence Newcomb.

Miss Ellen Bordley, of Baltimore, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Carl N. Bordley.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fowler, of Baltimore, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fowler.

Miss Alice Smith, of Annapolis, a guest of her sister, Mrs. John E. Barnes.

Miss Carrie Schreiber and her room mate at the University of Maryland, Miss Martha Bowling, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schreiber.

But of course, this might sound as if it were a WAAC camp. Not so, for all the men who could possibly get leave were here. They are too numerous to mention.

Remaining through the week, are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Porter, of Hagerstown, Md., who, in their trailer, are guests of Dr. and Mrs. F .W. Holden. in Kingstown, across the river.

Mrs. Edward McMahon, of Sea Cliff, Long Island, is visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. McMahon at Travilla, this week. Private Edward McMahon is stationed with the U. S. forces in the Far East.

Mrs. Catharine Beck Jones returns to her home here in the Wickes Apartments to-day from a visit to Springfield, Mass., where she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin H. Beck. Mr. and Mrs. Beck and son will come to Chestertown Saturday to spend their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Brinsfield, of Arlington, Va., are spending their vacation with the latter's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frank W. Smith, at Fairlee.

Miss Harrette Welch arrived on Tuesday to spend the remainder of the summer with her aunts, Mrs. Etta Fountain and Mrs. Herbert Skipper. Miss Welch has been in Atlanta, Ga., for the past few weeks, with her sister, Mrs. Stanley Giraitis, who is convalescing from a serious operation.

Mr. Robert N. Corley, of Mountain Lakes, N. J., returned to his home, following a week's visit at the home of Mrs. John R. Speicher.

Guests for the coming week-end include Mr. and Mrs. William Anthony, of Baltimore, who will visit Dr. and Mrs. Clarke Fontaine. Mrs. Fontaine will entertain a few friends at luncheon and bridge on Saturday in Mrs. Anthony's honor.

Guests at King's Grant, the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Blackhurst have included Mr. Graham Pfeiffer, of Pullman, Washington, where he is a member of the faculty of the University fo Washington, and Mr. Frank F. Chiles, of Cleveland, Ohio, father of Mrs. Roderick Blackhurst.

Mrs. Lola Martin, of New York City is spending this week at King's Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilkinson, of Baltimore, will spend the week-end as guests of Mrs. Karl Melamet. They will be among the many out-of-town guests at the Tercentenary celebration on Saturday.

Miss Josephine Metcalfe, of Sudlersville, is entertaining a house-party of twenty young people at the Roe cottage in Rehobeth this week. Among those from here who are there include: Bliss Brice, Jane Brooks, Nancy Humphreys, and Jean Truslow; Paul Corrington, Dick Foley, Louis Harris, Carl Melamet, Tech Sease, Carey Selby and Wickes Westcott.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Skirven Startt entertained at dinner Monday evening at their home in honor of Mrs. Startt's birthday.

Mrs. Geraldine Williams and her son, Judson Williams are now occupying an apartment in the Baldwin Apartments on Queen St.

Mrs. Eben F. Perkins will move to-day to the same apartment house where she has taken an apartment.

Mrs. Herman S. Dersch and her mother, Mrs. E. Caywood, will leave on Sunday for Atlantic City, where they will remain for a week.

And so, we wind up the month of July, and welcome old Mr. August with his heavy dews and cool nights. May we hope for some cool days as well?

Yours in earnest,

The Wanderer

Fox Opens New Department Store

Fox's new store on High Street, Chestertown, was formally opened Wednesday for visitation only. Crowds swarmed to see one of the most modern mercantile establishments on the Eastern Shore.

Throughout the entire store, large baskets of flowers, which were contributed by the various business and civic organizations and friends of this community, decorated the new establishment.

The store emphasizes an elaborate display of the merchandise for sale which togehter with the effective lightning and discernment in the presentation of wares ,makes it one of Chestertown's show places.

Fresh Water for Birds

Birds need water and, if the room is 32 degrees F., or above, it is advisable to supply fresh water every few hours. Water should be tepid or at least warmer than the room in which you keep your birds. If you have ever noticed birds you will note that if the water is very cold, one sip is enough; if the chill has been taken off, they will drink more. Figuratively speaking, they need their "eight glasses" of water daily the same as we do.
