The Defaulting Treasurer's Bond.

The question of the responsibility of the defaulting State Treasurer's bondsmen is just now a matter of considerable interest to the tax-payers. The inquiries of the investigating committee have about established the fact that the total amount of securities misappropriated will not exceed the $127,000 heretofore reported. That amount, however, must be made good, either by Mr. Archer's bondsmen, or by the tax-payers of the State. We expressed the opinion several weeks ago that the bond, if regularly and legally executed, was valid, and the bondsmen responsible, notwithstanding the negligence of the Governor and Comptroller and their failure to perform the constitutional and legal duties which might have prevented or limited the Treasurer's peculations. We still adhere to that opinion. The bondsmen guaranteed the fidelity and integrity of the Treasurer and agreed to hold the State harmless in the event of his violation of the trust reposed in him. They did so because of their confidence in his honesty and capacity to rightly perform the duties of the important office to which the Legislature had appointed him. If he failed, in either respect, and loss was entailed upon the Treasury by such failure, they covenanted to make it good. By affixing their names to his bond and becoming the sureties of his integrity and capacity they elected to take the risk and bear the burden of his failure. They were bitterly deceived in their estimate of the man and cannot escape the penalty of that deception by pleading that he might not have had an opportunity for the exercise of his dishonest propensities if other officers had been faithful in the discharge of official duties. If there be no other plea the penalties of the bonds will be enforced.

Unfortunately for the tax-payers, however, there is ground to fear serious defects in one of the bonds, or rather in the manner of its execution. The law requires all bonds approved by the Governor of the State to be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals. The second bond given by Mr. Archer purports to have been approved by the Governor on the 28th day of January, 1888. It was not transmitted to the Clerk of the Court of Appeals until November 13th, 1889, a period of nearly twenty-two months after its ostensible execution. Where was it during the interim? Before the testimony was given before the investigating committee that brought out the fact recited, it had been made public that Murray Vandiver, one of the sureties on the bond in question, only signed it about four months before the expiration of Mr. Archer's second term as Treasurer, which was twenty months after its alleged approval by the Governor. The law requires the Treasurer to give a bond in the sum of $200,000. Mr. Vandiver signed the bond for $50,000, so that up to the date when his signature was appended the instrument was incomplete and consequently not legally in force. If these facts are correctly stated the Governor must have approved an incomplete or partial bond, an act for which there is no warrant of law, which fact alone would invalidate the instrument and relieve the sureties from responsibility. In reality, if the case has been properly stated, the State held no bond for Mr. Archer's faithful performance of duty during his second term. Whether the signers of the instrument can go behind its face and prove the facts by parol evidence is another question. Proof of the time, manner and place of the signing and execution of the bond may not be admissible. That is a question for the courts, and upon its determination may rest the State's power to enforce the bond and recover the sum of the stolen securities. There is a possibility that the people of the State may be called upon to bear the loss entailed by the dishonesty of the Treasurer after all.

Death of Samuel J. Randall.

Ex-speaker Samuel J. Randall died at his Washington residence on Sunday last after a lingering illness, in the 62nd year of his age, having been born in Philadelphia, October 10th, 1828. He was a son of Josiah Randall, a man of considerable prominence in Philadelphia. He was educated for a business career, and was in trade for several years, but soon turned his attention to politics and was elected a member of the City Council and subsequently a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature as a Whig. In 1856 he supported Mr. Buchanan for the Presidency and has ever since acted with the Democratic party. He was elected to the Pennsylvania State Senate in 1859 and to Congress in 1862, since which date he was returned at every succeeding election. He was twice elected Speaker, but subsequently dropped by his party in Congress on account of his protective tariff views. He rendered some service as a three months soldier in the Union army. Several months ago he united with the Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Randall was a man of great ability and undoubted integrity. He was a natural leader of men, but was rather arbitrary in his views and intolerant of opposition. He was, taken all in all, about the ablest of the Democratic leaders; but his want of sympathy with his party on the leading issue of the tariff provoked much hostile criticism among its adherents.

The Archer investigating committee has traced, we believe, about $50,000 of the money stolen from the State Treasury. What the defaulting Treasurer did with the remainder has not yet been ascertained. The inquiries of the committee have not yet shown that any of it was used for political purposes. It was not probable, if it was used, that it went through the regular channels of the party organization, and it will, therefore, be almost impossible to discover it. Some accident might disclose it, but that is not likely to occur. The only manner in which the suspicion can be allayed that, in some shape, a portion of the money was used to promote the political interests of the Democratic ring, will be by showing that it was otherwise appropriated.

Mr. Baughman Before the Committee.

Comptroller Baughman was before the Archer investigating committee Wednesday and told what he knew about the great defalcation. When asked why there had been no examination of the sinking fund securities as required by law, he retorted by saying he presumed it had been overlooked as the distinguished lawyers in the State Senate had overlooked certain sections of the Constitution during the late session. This was a shot at Mr. Poe, who shrugged his shoulders and asked no more questions. Mr. Baughman also said that the matter could probably be explained by the entire confidence reposed in Mr. Archer and the change in the law in 1884 concerning the making of State investments.

While the subject was not pressed by the committee, it is very clear that the Comptroller's explanation was a very lame one. To his negligence is to be attributed the magnitude of the defalcation and the loss and sorrow inflicted upon innocent people, and flippant answers cannot remove from his shoulders the burden of a great responsibility. It is worthy of observation that he did not directly plead ignorance of the law as an excuse for his neglect of duty.

Governor Jackson heard the case against State Treasurer Stevenson Archer on Tuesday last, at the Executive Chamber, in the State House, and passed an order removing him from office. Mr. Edwin H. Brown, of Queen Anne's county, was appointed to succeed Mr. Archer. The office has, to a certain extent, "gone a begging." It was offered to Mr. Brattan, the President of the Senate and to Mr. Lecompte, the Secretary of State, but both declined. Mr Brown is a well known and reputable citizen, but his appointment was something of a surprise, as his name had not been mentioned publicly in connection with it. Although Dr. Shaw has made no intimation to that effect it is understood that he could have had the place if he had been willing to accept it.

Gov. Jackson has declined to approve the reassessment bill after all. If the Baltimore newspapers are to be credited he has exhibited a great amount of vacillation concerning the measure, having fully determined to give it his approbation; but finally yielding to the pressure of capital and placing it among the rejected bills. And so ends the solemn pledges and promises made by Democratic conventions and orators antecedent to the election. "Put not your trust in" Democratic bosses.

Mr. Archer, who was arrested last week and held at his own home in the custody of detectives, to answer the charge of embezzlement before the criminal court of Baltimore, has given bail in the sum of $25,000 for his appearance, and the detectives have retired from Hazel Dell. Some of Mr. Archer's bondsmen as Treasurer are among his sureties in the criminal proceeding.

The Baltimore University School of Veterinary Science has issued free scholarships, good for an entire course of three years. One of the scholarships has been sent to Mr. Frank Brown, president of the Maryland State Agricultural Association, with the following letter: "Dear Sir—We are requested by the directors and faculty to inform you that a free studentship to the full three years' course has been unanimously voted in your favor as the chief in our agricultural State interests, and it will afford us pleasure to receive and record your nomination. We inclose catalogue for your guidance, and beg to remain your faithful servants, Robert Ward, president of the veterinary Faculty; H. H. Biedler, M. D., Secretary." The university has decided to issue two scholarships every three years. The conditions attached are that the nominees shall have a good English education, be the sons of parents engaged in agricultural pursuits in this State, and must be native Marylanders. The scholarships are valued at about $250 each.

The seventeenth annual meeting of the National Conference of Charities and Correction will be held in the city of Baltimore, commencing May 14th, proximo, and will be largely attended by distinguished philanthropists and others from all parts of the country. The Conference will be opened by the Governor of Maryland and addresses will be made by Mayor Davidson and Mr. Joseph M. Cushing, chairman of the commitee of arrangements. Ex-President Hayes will be present and make a few remarks.

Mr. Cameron introduced on Monday in the United States Senate, a service pension bill, which has been approved by the Pennsylvania Service Pension Association. It provides that all persons who served in the late war shall receive a service pension of $8 a month, and in addition a per diem pension of one cent for every day's service. Widows of these persons shall be entitled to a pension of $12 a month.

These are comfortable homes, of modern design, sufficiently convenient to Baltimore by B. and O. R. R. to enable the occupants to go and return each day; the lots are in the highest state of cultivation. The Cottages were built for the purpose of developing the vicinity, and furnishing cheap homes for the many mechanics and laborers this highly-improved section demands. In order to carry out this intention they will positively be sold at a sacrifice.

Skin Diseases

SKIN AND ITS DISEASES.

The DERMATOLOGICAL AND NEUROTIC INSTITUTE was established here seven years ago for the special purpose of treating and curing Diseases of the Skin and Nervous Diseases by DR. C. W. BENSON, and his success is well known. Patients come from every county in the state, as well as city, to be cured, and they are not disappointed.

It makes no difference how bad, obstinate or long standing the case may be, if it is curable, he will cure it, having devoted eighteen years to the treatment and cure of these diseases. Skin diseases and nervous diseases are difficult and hard to diagnose and cure except by an experienced specialist, and people waste much money in advertised medicines and going to doctors who cannot, in the nature of things, know much about these special diseases, and who, as a rule, are not prepared nor have the remedies for their proper treatment. Dr. Benson at his Institute is thoroughly prepared in every particular to diagnose and treat Skin Diseases and Nervous Diseases successfully, and all sufferers from any form of these troubles, whether in adults or children, will save time, money and much suffering by placing themselves under the care and treatment of Dr. Benson, who is a graduate of medicine of the University of Maryland, and who practiced medicine in a general way for ten years; but eighteen years ago gave it up, and became a specialist in these diseases. He has a laboratory in his building, and all medicines he prescribes are prepared under his own supervision.

SKIN DISEASES

Includes the treatment of the Hair and Scalp, Loss of Hair, etc., as well as the Eczemas, Tetters and Acne or Pimples, Black-heads and all kinds of Skin troubles, from a roughness of the Skin to the worst forms of eruptions and sores.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIRS.

Dr. Benson permanently removes them from ladies' faces, lips, etc., with the electric needle, and guarantees them never to return. Also, Warts, Moles and all blemishes are permanently and perfectly removed by the Electrolysis without blood or leaving any mark whatever.

NERVES! NERVES! NERVES!

Who is it that does not at times wish they had no nerves? Nothing renders a person more wretched than to be nervous or to suffer from some form of nervous disease, and nothing leads to more trouble and disaster than neglected nervous diseases. They are the origin of insanity and suicide, of paralysis and despondency, loss of power, prostration and exhaustion, and should not be neglected. Why remain wretched and miserable and in danger of worse troubles when you can be cured? There are no classes of diseases that yield more promptly to proper treatment than nervous diseases. Since specialists have devoted their time to the study and care of nervous diseases, great strides have been made in curing them. Diseases that were a few years ago considered incurable are now cured without difficulty, and many who were hopeless sufferers, are to-day in good health and now rejoicing in perfect restoration. So much for science and specialists. Electricity has worked a reformation in the treatment of nervous diseases, and has accomplished wonders. But skill, practice and experience is required to apply it with effect. The different kinds of electricity and batteries vary as much in their effects as do the different kinds of medicine. Do not think because you have one battery for all kinds of nervous diseases that it will cure, any more than one kind of medicine for all diseases. Dr. Benson has every kind of battery, and is prepared to use electricity in any and every way; also Electric Baths.

In writing, give full particulars.
