A very sad event occurred in New Windsor on Thursday, 2nd inst., in the death of Isaac Cookson Baile, the little son of Mr. Nathan H. and Mrs. Mary S. Baile, of that place. He was 4 years, 3 months and 23 days old, and was a very promising and interesting child. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents. His death was caused by peritonetis. His remains were interred in Westminster Cemetery, on Saturday afternoon, Rev. A. M. Jelly, of New Windsor, conducting the funeral services. The funeral was attended by many persons from New Windsor and this city.

McLinn, of Union Bridge, as treasurer. The Conference adjourned on Wednesday evening, to meet at Point of Rocks in November.

The county Commissioners were in session on Monday and Tuesday last. Among the business transacted was the granting of the following special pensions: Daniel Stuller, Margaret A. Spencer and Amanda Black, of district No. 7, each $5; Elizabeth Lightenberger, of district No. 8, $5; David Powell, of district No. 2, $10. It having been reported to the Commissioners that a certain party in district No. 6 was encroaching on the public road with his fencing, the clerk was directed to notify him that it must be removed or the matter would be called to the attention of the grand jury for investigation.

Several citizens of this community parted with five dollar notes and received five cent cakes of soap in return during the exibition of Givens' circus here on Thursday. The soap vender appeared to place a ten dollar note in the wrapper with the article, in which he did a thriving business. When the dupes opened their purchases the tenners had mysteriously disappeared. It is a little curious that this patent trick can be successfully repeated to the confusion of intelligent people. Yet the transactions at the circus were not a new thing here as some of our citizens who were fleeced in the same manner, a year or two ago, can testify.

Givens' circus which exhibited here on Thursday afternoon and evening was well patronized on both occasions. The attendance at night was very large. The performance is reported to have been fair. In connection with the exhibition, a very pretty balloon ascension was made about 6 o'clock in the afternoon. The great sphere rose majestically and floated slowly over the city at an altitude of probably fifteen hundred feet, the aeronaut quietly sitting on a trapeze. The ascension was made from the grounds of Col. John K. Longwell, in the rear of Smith, Yingling & Co's. canning factory, and the descent was accomplished near the Baltimore turnpike a short distance from the city limits.

The new Lutheran Church at Harney, in this county, the corner-stone of which was laid on Sunday afternoon last, will be a neat and comfortable structure. Baugher, D. D., of Gettysburg, Pa., and the stone was placed in position by the pastor, Rev. H. M. Heilman. In the cavity of the stone were placed a copy of the Holy Scriptures, the Augsburg Confession, the church devotional books, catalogue of Pennsylvania College, a list of the charter members and officers of the church and other articles.

The annual lovefeast of Pipe Creek congregation of German Baptists was held Sunday last at their meeting-house, between Linwood and Uniontown. This was the largest meeting ever held there. Proceedings of the School Board.

At the meeting of the School Board on Monday President Grimes, Mr. Slingluff, Mr. Prugh and Dr. Reindollar were present. The death of Mr. Warner was announced, and the following, offered by President Grimes, was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our late colleague, Francis Warner,

Resolved, That while we cannot but recognize the beneficence of the dispensation which released him from suffering, we shall feel most keenly the loss of his clear vision, ripe judgment and wise counsel in the deliberations of this Board.

Resolved, That we commend to the school children of the county, as worthy of their imitation, the sterling integrity, fidelity to duty and patient industry, which made his life one calm current of active goodness.

Resolved, That this tribute to his memory be spread upon the minutes, and published as part of our proceedings; and that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased as an evidence of our sympathy with them in their great bereavement.

In all other places, except Shaw's in the first district, Freedom in the fifth, Mexico in the seventh, and Leister's in the eighth, which were left in charge of their commissioner, respectively, and a few which were held open for further inquiry, the old Boards were reappointed. The changes were due, for the most part, to resignations and removals from the districts.

The Colored schools at Taneytown, Winfield and Charles Street in Westminster, were left in charge of their Commissioner, respectively.

The Examiner reported that 18 ladies and 30 gentlemen had attended the recent public examination as applicants for teachers' certificates, and 5 ladies and 2 gentlemen as applicants for scholarships at the State Normal School. Of the applicants for scholarships only one, Miss Anna Miller, had made the required average of 5½, and she had made 8. Of the applicants for certificates 11 ladies any 20 gentlemen had passed with the required average of 5½, viz: Annie Barnes, Ida Essich, Elsie Firoved, Carrie Lamotte, Lulu Norris, Effie Palmer, Jennie Patterson, Eliza Rakestraw, Emma L. Reaver, Ida Shane, Annie K. Spalding, Wm. O. Abbott, George H. Caple, John W. Croft, Harvey Dern, Edward D. Ditch, Emory C. Ebaugh, Edward S. Harner, Joseph H. Harner, William D. Haugh, Glenn W. Horner, Wiley Jenkins, John C. Koons, Kenneth G. Murray, Jno. E. Rhodes, John E. Shivers, H. H. Stansbury, John S. Stuller, Wm. R. Unger and Chas. R. Woods.

Of the certificates issued to them, 5 will be of the first grade and 25 of the second grade.

John C. Koons and Charles R. Woods each made an average of nine and one-sixth, leading the class with a tie. The second place was also taken with a tie, William O. Abbott and Kenneth G. Murray each making an average of eight and one-third.

The lowest averages throughout were made in history. The questions in this study gave the most trouble and were most severely censured. They were the following:

1. Give an account of recent events at and concerning Samoa, locating and describing the place, and showing its importance in a commercial or international way.
2. Give an account of the movement for Home Rule, the Parnell Commission, and the attitude of parties and party leaders towards them.
3. Explain briefly the principal methods now under discussion for Tariff and Revenue Reform, Ballot Reform and Civil Service Reform.
4. Trace briefly the history of Maryland troops in the Revolutionary, the Mexican and the Civil war.
5. Give an account of the Legislative, Executive and Judicial departments of our State Government, and show how each is chosen, and for how long.

These questions cover, 1st, events which involved the three leading powers of the world, and threatened international strife; 2d, a struggle for local control of local affairs in which the just powers of Government and the inalienable rights of Man are the issue; 3d, the great reforms on which the perpetuity of our civil institutions is thought to depend; 4th and 5th, the military history and governmental structure of our own State.

It cannot be unreasonable to require that persons especially charged with the instruction of the future citizens of the republic should know something of these matters, particularly when knowledge of them is within the reach of everybody.

The next meeting will be on the first Monday in June.

Death of Dr. Wm. N. Martin.

Following swiftly the death of Judge Smith came that of Dr. Wm. N. Martin, Clerk of the Circuit Court, which occurred at noon on Tuesday last, 6th inst., at his home in this city. Dr. Martin had long been in failing health, having suffered several attacks of paralysis, from each of which, previous to the last, he rallied, but never fully recovered. The last attack occurred several weeks ago and a complication of diseases, involving the heart and kidneys, ensued, making a fatal termination extremely probable. Death came, at last, in an unexpected moment, and, though partially anticipated, was a severe shock to his devoted family. Dr. Martin was a native of Baltimore and a son of Wm. N. Martin, who died when he was a babe. Almost all his life was spent in Carroll county. He was about 60 years of age. He graduated at the Maryland University, School of Medicine, in 1850 and soon afterwards began the practice of his profession at Middleburg, where he remained until 1860. He then removed to Uniontown, where he continued practicing until 1885. During part of that time Dr. Frank T. Shaw was associated with him as a partner.

In all the thirty-five years, in which he pursued his arduous profession with marked success, it is said of him that he never neglected a patient, however humble. He gave to rich and poor alike the closest attention and most devoted professional services. He never spared himself, but day and night, in sunshine or storm, answered all calls upon his time and skill. This unremitting labor probably superinduced the disease which finally resulted in his death.

In 1885 Dr. Martin was elected Clerk of the Circuit Court for Carroll county, and retired from the active duties of his profession, taking up his home in this city, where he has since resided. He was a member of the Catholic Church, and in politics an ardent Democrat. The only office ever held by him was that of Clerk of the Court. His wife was Miss Pamela Mehring, daughter and only child of the late George Mehring, a prominent citizen of this county. He leaves five children, two daughters and three sons, Mrs. Harry H. Weaver, of Uniontown; Dr. George M. Martin, Mr. John R. Martin and Miss Jennie Martin, of this city; and Mr. Wm. N. Martin, of the firm of Campbell & Martin, dry goods merchants, of Frederick. Funeral services were held in St. John's Catholic Church, this city, on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after which the remains were interred in the Church Cemetery. The members of the bar and officers of the Court attended in a body. The pall-bearers were: Hon. Chas. B. Roberts, Dr. J. W. Hering, Dr. J. Howell Billingslea, Messrs. Samuel Cover, B. Frank Crouse, Geo. A. Miller, George M. Parke and Evan Haines.

A Big Fire in Uniontown.

On Thursday last, May 6th, about 1 o'clock, p. m., fire broke out in the dwelling of Mr. Johnson Hollenberry. They were burning out their kitchen chimney. The supposition is that some defects in the chimney allowed the fire to communicate to the roof. Soon the whole roof was in a blaze, which spread to the adjoining house, owned by Mrs. H. H. Harbaugh, of your city, and from there to another belonging to Mr. E. Stouffer. The last two named are of brick and the former a wooden structure. A wooden building attached to Mr. Stouffer's house and used by Mr. George Lambert as a shoemaker's shop, was torn down to stop the fire from spreading west. At the east end of the block, a store house occupied by Mr. Wm. Anders, as a merchant tailoring and notions store, was removed to prevent the flames from extending further east. All the household effects and also the store goods and the goods in the shoe shop were removed and saved, but in such a condition as might be expected at a big fire, when handled by an excited crowd of men and women, with rain falling and lots of mud to contend with. In a short time a large crowd gathered from town and country and all worked manfully and deserve a great deal of praise.

Mr. Hollenberry has an insurance in the Baltimore County Company for $1,000; Mr. Stouffer in the Carroll County Company for $500. It is not known to a certainty whether there was any insurance on Mrs. Harbaugh's house.

Uniontown is quite an old village and has been most fortunate in regard to losses by fire; but seems now to be taking her turn as within the last few weeks 7 houses have been destroyed. Fortunately for the families that have been burned out, they have promptly found other houses in which to commence house-keeping anew.

[Mrs. Harbaugh holds a policy in the Mutual Insurance Company in Baltimore county, for $600.—Ed.]

Death of Mrs. Archibald Stirling.

Mrs. Archibald Stirling, wife of Archibald Stirling, late United States District Attorney, died very suddenly at the family homestead, Montrose, near Glen Falls Station, Western Maryland railroad, at 9 o'clock, on the morning of the 2nd inst. Mrs. Stirling while dressing fell to the floor, the blood gushing from her nose, and in a few moments she was dead. It is supposed that the cause of her demise was gout of the heart. On Sunday, April 20th, Mrs. Stirling, while driving home from the Episcopal Church at Reisterstown, was thrown out of the carriage, the horses having run away, and her collar-bone was broken. It was feared she was hurt internally. She had not been out of the house after this accident. At the time of her death her husband was in Baltimore, having left home at 7 A. M., and her oldest daughter, Miss Jennie, was visiting in Baltimore. Early in January last Mrs. Stirling's third son, Frank, died of consumption. Mrs. Stirling leaves four sons and three daughters, all living at home. She was a sister of Ex-Gov. Henry Lloyd, of Cambridge.

Commencement of Westminster Theological Seminary.

The exercises connected with the commencement of Westminster Theological Seminary of the Methodist Protestant Church began on Sunday morning last by the delivery of the annual sermon to the graduating class and students of the Seminary generally. The services were held in the Methodist Protestant Church, of this city, and were opened by Rev. J. T. Ward, D. D., President of the Seminary, assisted by Rev. J. W. Grant, of Rowlandville, Md., and Rev. T. H. Lewis, D. D., President of Western Maryland College. The sermon was delivered by President Ward, who took as his subject "The Faithful Minister of the Gospel," basing it on part of the 5th verse, 4th chapter of 2nd Timothy: "Do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry." In the introduction to his discourse the venerable minister touchingly alluded to the fact that he is within a few months of the 70th anniversary of his birth and the 50th since he entered the ministry, and called upon his hearers to unite with him in returning thanks to God for His grace and goodness in preserving him through so many years. The sermon was a forcible and able presentation of the obligations and responsibilities connected with the sacred office of the minister of the Gospel of Christ. The work and duties of the minister as preacher and pastor were clearly outlined and fidelity to the great trust solemnly enjoined upon those about to assume this great calling. Particular emphasis was laid upon the importance of thorough conviction that the word and the work are God's, and it was forcibly asserted that no man should enter the ministry without this conviction. The sermon made a deep impression, not only upon those to whom it was especially addressed, but also upon the large audience in attendance.

On Sunday evening the annual sermon before the Missionary Alliance of the Seminary was delivered by Rev. J. W. Grant, of Rowlandville, Md., who took for his subject, "Our co-operation with God in the missionary work, in developing the physical, intellectual and moral Kingdoms," basing his remarks on 1st Cor., 3-9: "For we are laborers together with God." A large audience was in attendance and deep interest was manifested in the able discourse. During the morning and evening services the choir of the Church, under the leadership of Mr. Harry M. Gernand, sang several anthems very beautifully. Prof. Thomas F. Rinehart was organist, and solos were sung with great expression and beauty by Mrs. Chas. V. Wantz, Miss Mollie Shriver and Messrs. Harry M. Gernand and W. B. Judefind.

On Monday evening the seventh anniversary of the Stockton Society, which takes its name from the great and eloquent Methodist Protestant divine, Rev. T. H. Stockton, D. D., was celebrated in the Methodist Protestant Church. The exercises were of a very interesting character and highly creditable to the participants. The effect of training and culture was strongly manifested, and the whole service gave evidence of advancement in the important educational work of the institution with which the Society is connected. The Methodist Protestant Church has great reason to feel pride in the young, but thriving seminary that is sending into the ministry a corps of well educated men, thoroughly furnished and fitted for the great work of preaching the Gospel. The program of Monday evening's exercises was as follows: Chorus, Song of Welcome, (Giffe,) by the Society; invocation, Rev. J. L. Mills, D. D.; President's address, Rev. J. Edward Grant, of Rowlandville, Md.; quartette, solo and chorus, City of Zion, words by J. Garrett, of New York, music by W. B. Judefind, of Edesville, Md.; anniversary oration, Childhood Home, R. T. Tyson, of Bay View, Md.; solo and chorus, The Dear Old Home, (Leftwich,) soloist, W. B. Judefind; anniversary essay, Christian Decision, J. F. Valliant, of Baltimore; declamation, A Day in the Pamfili Doria, (Stowe,) E. B. Taylor, of Atlantic, Va.; solo, The Beautiful Gate, (Blake,) J. Edward Grant; declamation, Inasmuch, (W. Bruce,) R. K. Lewis, of Vienna, Md.; quartette, Morning, (Emerson,) R. K. Lewis, T. P. Ravelle, of Fairmount, Md. W. B. Judefind, H. E. Nelson, of Harrington, Del.; reading, The Gentle Hand (T. S. Arthur,) E. S. Fooks, of Salisbury Md.; chorus, duet and solo, Awake, (Kirkpatrick,) the Society; declamation, The Christian Ministry, (Stockton,) F. H. Lewis, of Caroline county, Md.; chorus, the Society; benediction, Rev. L. W. Bates, D. D. The Musical director for the occasion was W. B. Judefind; organist, Miss Anna E. Shriver; program committee, J. E. Grant, R. K. Lewis, W. F. Ohrum. The singing throughout was excellent and was highly enjoyed by the large audience.

The regular commencement exercises were held in the Methodist Protestant Church on Tuesday evening, and were of a highly interesting character. The program included singing, "From the Rising of the Sun," by the choir of the Church; prayer, by Rev. J. T. Murray, D. D., of Baltimore; singing, "I will Arise," by choir; alumni exercises; singing, "Doth not Wisdom Cry?" by choir; graduating thesis, Why I am not an Agnostic, by Rev. J. Edward Grant, of Rowlandville, Md.; singing, "Open ye the Gates," by choir; address, by Rev. J. T. Ward, D. D., President of the Seminary; presentation of diploma; doxology; benediction, by Rev. J. D. Kinzer, D. D., of Baltimore. The choir was under the leadership of Mr. Harry M. Gernand; organists, Miss Anna E. Shriver, Mr. W. B. Judefind. The alumni exercises alluded to in the program consisted of an address by Rev. W. S. Phillips, who explained to the Board of Governors of the Seminary the recent organization of the Alumni Association, its plans and purposes, to which response was made by Rev. Dr. Ward. Mr. Phillips was introduced by Rev. S. C. Ohrum, Vice-President of the Association, in the absence of the President, Rev. J. W. Kirk, A. M., B. D., who was prevented from being present by sickness.

The Alumni Association was temporarily organized during the late meeting of Conference at Chestertown, Md.; and the following officers elected: Rev. J. W. Kirk, A. M., B. D., President; Rev. S. C. Ohrum, A. M., B. D., Vice-President; Rev. Frank T. Benson, A. M., B. D., Secretary; Rev. L. R. Dyott, Treasurer. The first regular annual meeting was held in this city on Tuesday, and the Association formed a permanent organization by the election of all the gentlemen above named, to the several offices mentioned, respectively. The explanation to this effect formed part of the address of Rev. Mr. Phillips, during the alumni exercises at the commencement.

Motter, James Shildt, John H. Kemp, W. Jesse Roberts. The amendment giving the commissioners power to borrow $3,000 and to increase taxes was defeated by a vote of 43 to 62.

On Thursday morning, 8th inst., while Mrs. Emma Forsythe was getting ready to wash, her little child pulled a tub of hot water down over itself giving it some very ugly scalds. Dr. F. H. Seiss was the attending physician.

Mr. Robert S. McKinney, principal of Eagleton Institute, has bought the stock and fixtures of David Bollinger's drug store and took possession on Thursday. James B. Galt has taken charge of his school.

Bloom Items.

Springtime, arrayed in all its beauty, is again upon us, and when the radiant sun throws his bright light across the green earth and the silver streams, it makes us feel that life is worth living. Our little community is in a flourishing condition. Everything seems to be moving along nicely. The farmers are busy planting corn etc.; carpenters, stone masons, sawyers and blacksmiths are quite busy attending to their business, which seems to be improving in this section.

Mr. Francis Grimes and Edgar McQuay have each purchased a fine colt.

Mr. Benj. Wagner is talking of having his dwelling papered by S. S. Pfoutz, of Warfieldsburg, who has lately engaged in the paper hanging business and wishes to exhibit some of his fine work in this neighborhood.

A committee of arrangements, consisting of members of Pickett Post, No. 17, G. A. R., and Ayers Camp Sons of Veterans, No. 16, met in the Hall, Winfield, on Monday night last, to make proper arrangements for holding memorial services at Winfield, Taylorsville and Southern Bethany on Decoration Day, May 30th. The Sons of Veterans and also the Linganore Home Guards contemplate participating in the services. The choir, which is to sing, has several appropriate pieces selected for the occasion, and a band of music is expected to be in attendance.

We are sad to know that the notice in the columns of the Sentinel of a roaming wild beast, in Frederick county, so terror-struck a couple of our young men, on Sunday last, that they were afraid to venture across the line to visit their fair ones.

Mrs. James H. McQuay is lying very ill at her home, near here. Her ailment seems to be due to old age, she having reached four score and one years.

Frizellburg Items.

On account of the great quantity of rain and the late spring our farmers are more than usually backward in their planting of corn. But they have some compensation in the fact that their wheat and grass crops are very fine indeed.

Rev. Wm. S. Delp, of Uniontown, will hold his spring communion services at Baust Church on the coming Sunday, May 11th, at 10 a. m.

On Wednesday of last week Dr. Rinehart, of this place, went to Shippensburg, Pa., where his father in-law, Peter Grabill, Esq., has been lying ill for several months. Mrs. Rinehart has been with her father, during the last five weeks, and it was the doctor's intention to bring him to this place; but Mr. Grabill was just then too ill to bear the journey. The doctor then returned home and on Saturday sent his daughter, Miss Emily Rinehart, in company with Mr. John L. Freeman, to Shippensburg, to assist in removing Mr. Grabill, and on Monday Mrs. Rinehart, with their assistance, brought him to the doctor's home in Frizellburg. By using a rocking-chair, with an abundance of pillows, he bore the ride fairly well.

Mr. Samuel M. Freeman, of Washington, D. C., is visiting his parents and brother in this place.

Shipley Items.

Since May set in we have had plenty of rain and it is quite cool. The grain and grass here are making wonderful growth and everything looks encouraging to the farmer. The wet weather has retarded the progress of planting corn, but greatly improved the growing crops. Every one seems very busily employed and work is plentiful.

Many of our friends and neighbors have been doing their spring house cleaning and renovating their surroundings. Some have been fixing up their house yards and planting flowers.

Zion Sabbath School reorganized on May the 4th, with Elias G. Shipley, superintendent; Grove J. Shipley, assistant; Miss Mary E. Palster, treasurer; A. J. Easton, Secretary, and James Kimmey, librarian.

Demolition of an old Church.

The last services to be held in Krider's Church, near this city, before its demolition, will take place on Sunday, 11th inst. The regular service of the Reformed congregation, Rev. C. S. Slagle, pastor, will be held at 10.30, A. M., and the Lutheran congregation, Rev. J. U. Asper, pastor, will hold a service at 3 o'clock, P. M. These services possess a mournful interest to the members of the congregations who have worshipped there for so many years, and also to the community at large, to whom Krider's Church has been a prominent feature of the landscape.

The two congregations which have so long occupied the same place of worship, will now erect separate edifices near the site of the old church. The work of excavating for the foundation of the new Lutheran church was commenced several weeks ago, and on Thursday the first earth was removed for the foundation of the new Reformed Church.

The Krider's congregations date back to the early part of the last half of the eighteenth century. The Reformed congregation was organized in 1763. The date of the organization of the Lutheran congregation is not known, the records having been destroyed in the great fire in Westminster, April, 1883, but it must have been about the same time as the Reformed. These congregations erected a log church, date not known, which they held jointly and in which they worshipped alternately until it ceased to supply the necessary accommodations, when it was succeeded by the present structure, which was erected, it is supposed, upwards of eighty years ago. Some years ago it was remodeled, and later was much injured by a storm, so that its demolition has become necessary and the work of removing it will be commenced on Thursday next.

Laying A Corner-Stone.

On Sunday morning, May 4th, according to notices published and announcements made, the corner-stone of the new Lutheran Church, near Taylorsville, was laid with appropriate ceremonies. The skies were gloomy and threatened rain through the day, and though the sun made its appearance for a short time, the drifting clouds kept many away who otherwise would have been present. As it was, a goodly number congregated in the adjoining grove and the exercises began. Rain fell copiously, but all felt that we must go forward. Rev. P. H. Miller preached an able and stirring sermon from 2 Peter, 2-6. It was delivered under disadvantages as he had to be protected from the rain by an umbrella and saw his audience melting away by running to obtain shelter. But in spite of the rain the great majority remained throughout and listened intently. An effort was then made to secure funds for the further prosecution of the work, and $100 was obtained, to the surprise of all, on account of the small attendance, and the rain. After this the pastor, in company with Rev. Miller, repaired to the foundation wall, and placed in position a neatly carved corner-stone—the letters on which were cut by Mr. C. E. Little, of Union Bridge—with the ceremonies of the Lutheran Church, and St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church was declared undertaken, to be used, when completed, for the worship of the Triune God. The audience was dismissed with the doxology and benediction, and thus a successful day's service was closed.

Finksburg Items.

On Wednesday, 7th inst., Mr. Murray Shreeve, son of Mr. Daniel Shreeve, and Miss Ella Stocksdale, daughter of Mr. T. C. Stocksdale, were married at the M. P. Church by the Rev. J. T. Lassell. They left on the 5 P. M. train for a short tour. The happy couple received a large number of valuable and useful presents. They intend to reside on Mr. Shreeve's farm.

Farmers are somewhat discouraged at the continued wet weather, very few having planted corn, and, with the outrage imposed on them by the city council of Baltimore by compelling them to pay a license of twenty five dollars to sell their own produce, can it be wondered at. The people of Baltimore were promised a reduction of the tax rate during the last campaign and the promise was fulfilled to the extent of five cents on the hundred dollars, which reduction the already overtaxed farmer has to pay. What next? They have been paying for years toll on the Reisterstown turnpike from the corner of Franklin and Green streets, and since the annexation of the belt they pay toll on three miles of turnpike in the city limits. Outraged on every side can it be wondered at that they should become discouraged. Let the farmers throughout Maryland hold meetings protesting against this additional burden and petition the city council to at least exempt farmers from this odious thing of having to pay a license to sell what they raise by the "sweat of their brows."

Major Browne's Lecture.

Major R. Browne, late of the British Army, gave his inimitable lecture, "Observations in Pagan Lands," at New Windsor College Hall, on Thursday night, May 1st, to an appreciative audience. This was one of the most interesting and instructive lectures your correspondent has listened to for many a day. Major Browne is master of his subject, and held his audience with unabated interest for two hours; and at the request of Rev. Dr. Jelly repeated the lecture on Sabbath night, at the Presbyterian Church, before a good audience. He exhibited in the course of his lecture numerous objects of worship brought with him from Africa, which greatly interested his hearers. The lecturer, after explaining the numerical strength of the various systems of Paganistic belief, and the comparative antiquity of their sacred writings, takes consecutively the Mohammedans, Chinese, Japanese, Hindoos, Parsees, Thibetians, Polynesians and leading African tribes, describing briefly their modes of worship and domestic customs as they came under his personal observation during a residence of over twenty years in these various countries.

We have had some very pleasant days the past few weeks, notwithstanding the many wet ones. Last Monday was one of the pleasantest days we have ever seen. The air was filled with fragrance from the blossoming orchards.

Milton Reindollar, of Taneytown, is canvassing this neighborhood for the sale of fruit trees for a New York nursery. He is selling quite a number of trees.

A strange light has been seen in a woods near here, by different persons. Some think there is money buried there, and one night last week some persons dug after it. We have not heard whether any money was found or not. The owner of the woods says that any person who will dig in another man's woods for money will also break into a house. He thinks he knows who the parties are and if they are caught at the work they will have to take the consequences.

The corner-stone of the new Lutheran Church was laid last Sabbath. The weather was very inclement during the exercises.

The greatest curiosity in this vicinity, at present, is a man who builds bake ovens out of clay, which he tempers by driving hogs around in it.

Mr. T. J. Hess is prepared to do all kinds of repairing in the coach business.

Corn planting is progressing finely. Farmers are much encouraged with the present outlook of their crops.

Fountain Valley Items.

Indications point to another cool, wet summer.

A few changes of residence occurred here this spring, and the population has been somewhat increased.

Nearly everybody is making some improvement to property in this place. There are not many drones in our hive now. Mr. U. J. Babylon has built a dump or scoop to pump water into his milk cooler. Mr. Jacob Petry also had a similar one built for the same purpose. Both were made by our ingenious mechanic, Mr. Frederick Zahn, who has built a new bridge at the crossing near his dwelling house. Messrs. Levi J. Handley, U. J. Babylon, Emanuel Wantz, and Frederick Hauver, have had paper hanging done at their residences. The work was done by Messrs. L. Gladhill and Haller & Matthews, of Westminster. Oliver J. Handley is painting the dwelling house of Levi J. Handley, inside and out.
