Potato late blight has been found in Garrett County by Dr. R. A. Jehle, State Plant Pathologist. At present It is confined to the portions of potato fields which are shaded by trees. He advises spraying all potato fields in that county thoroughly with Bordeaux mixture often enough to keep the vines covered. Unless rains and fogs become less frequent, he says, te disease will spread rapidly to all fields and unsprayed and poorly sprayed vines will soon be killed. Killing of the vines is likely to be followed by rottng of the tubers..
