The Social Wanderer

DEAR ROAMER

A propos of June, and the proverbial June brides, we have news today of an approaching wedding which will take place in Emmanuel P. E. Church at 7.30 o'clock in the evening, Saturday, June 3rd.

At this time, Miss Carlia Thelma Crew, daughter of Mrs. Harold G. Crew and the late Mr. Crew, will become the bride of Mr. John Irvin Cole,, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Cole, of Worton, Md., with the Rev. Dr. Charles L. Atwater performing the ceremony.

The bride, who will be given away by her great uncle, Mr. John H. Dwyer, will wear a dress of powder blue, with dark blue accessories and carry an old fashioned bouquet.

A sister of the groom, Mrs. Arthur Anthony, the Matron of Honor, and only attendant of the bride, will be attired in dark blue and will also carry an old fashioned bouquet.

Mr. Arthur Anthony will serve as the groom's best man, while Mr. Edwin Cole and Mr. Edgar Lane will act as ushers.

Miss Crew graduated from the Chestertown High School, and then becoming a graduate receptionist, is now with the C & P Telephone Co. in Chestertown.

Mr. Cole, a graduate of the Church Hill High School, is engaged in farming at Worton, Md.

A small reception for the bridal party and immediate families will be held, following the ceremony, at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B Ford, on Kent St.

The bride and groom will reside in Chestertown, where they have taken an apartment on Washington Avenue.

Continuing in the line of matrimony, we have an engagement of much interest also. Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Wilson, of Lansdowne, Pa., and "Fox Point," their summer home in Kent County, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Patricia Downs Wilson to Mr. Evans Taylor, son of Mrs. Robert Downing Taylor of Lansdowne. Miss Wilson, has been one of the most popular of the younger girls in Chestertown, where she has spent summers here with her family at Fox Point.

Still another announcement comes from Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Snyder, of Pageton, W. Virginia, announcing the marriage of their daughter, Billie, to Mr. Clarence H. Sutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Sutton, of Chestertown. The ceremony was performed quietly on Thursday, May 25, at the Methodist Parsonage, in Elkton On their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Sutton will reside in Elkton.

Following close in its wake, was still another wedding on Saturday, May 27 at 3 p. m. when, at the Rock Hall home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Francis, Miss Jane Louise Francis, became the bride of Mr. Carl Clifford Stenger, of Philadelphia, Pa., in a double ring ceremony, performed by Rev. William O. Hackett, of Wyoming, Del.

The bride was attired in powder blue with matching accessories and wore a corsage of American Beauty Roses. She carried a prayer book.

Her aunt, Mrs. Herbert M. Hutchins, of Baltimore, wearing grey and a corsage of yellow roses, acted as Matron of Honor.

Mr. Emerson D. Stenger, of Philadelphia, served as the groom's best man.

A reception at the home, followed the ceremony with relatives from Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia attending.

After a wedding trip to Atlantic City Mr. and Mrs. Stenger will reside in Rock Hall, where the groom is engaged in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilpin Brown and Mrs. James G. Beck entertained at the third in a series of picnic suppers on Tuesday evening, which they held in the yard of their home on Queen St.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor will be hosts at a dinner party, which they will give at the Royal Swann Hotel, in Betterton.

Next Thursday, June 8, Mrs. Brewster Phillips, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tilden Brice at Arcadia Farm, (apologies for last week) will be the guest of honor at a dessert-bridge to be given by Mrs. Paul E. Comegys.

Lieut. Edward A. Hurd, Jr., U. S A. A. F., who has completed his missions, having been overseas since September, arrived in this country on Monday. He has joined his mother, wife and daughter at The Reward Farm. Mrs. Hurd's second son, Russell Hurd, a member of the British Army, has recently been made a member of the Cold Stream Guards Regiment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Alan McGregor have received word that their daughter, Sub. Lieut. Ann Cameron of the Royal Canadian Navy, stationed at St. John's Newfoundland, in the hospital unit, will arrive within a few days to spend the month of June with them, at their home near Worton. Mrs. William A. McGregor, of Silver Springs will also come on Wednesday for a visit of six weeks with her parents-in-law.

Mrs. John Richards will leave on Monday for Boise, Idaho, to visit near the army camp of her husband, Lieut. Richards, Army Air Force.

Mrs. William E. Miller, who has been attending the graduation exercises at Duke University, will visit friends in Lexington, N. C., before returning home.

Mrs. Randolph Waddell is spending this week with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Waddell at Salisbury, Md.

Mrs. Warren Miles, of Cynwyd, Pa., is a guest this week of Mrs. Rudulph Tull. Mr. Miles will accompany Mr. Tull here for the week-end and remain until Monday.

Mrs. Martin Ramsay, of Washington, D. C., has been a guest this week of her daughter, Mrs. Hugh S. Sease, at her home in Quaker Neck.

Girls from boarding school are drifting in one by one and soon, all will be returned for a gay summer. Miss Anne Wilmer, a student at St. Katherine's School, Richmond, Va., returned Wednesday and will leave Monday to visit a classmate, Miss Louise Moore, in Charlotte, N. C.

Miss Jane Brooks returned Tuesday, from Southern Seminary, at Buena Vista, Va., and is now with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Medford Brooks.

Mrs. Charles Dudley, and her young daughter, Suzanne, have been spending this week with the former's mother, Mrs. J. Kennard Aldridge.

Mrs. Robert W. Farr is a guest this week of her mother, Mrs. Carl Ebsworth, in Baltimore.

So with June, moonlight and roses, we bring to a close the week's chronicle. To all the graduates, congratulations and much success to all the brides, much happiness, and to my readers may I be—

Yours to interest.

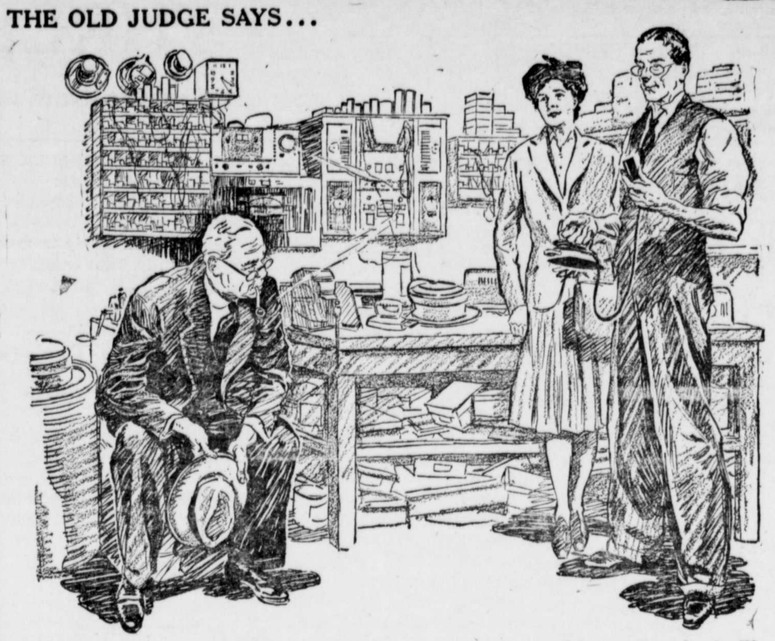
THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...



"We can't argue with the Judge on that point, can we Mabel? It's not fair to penalize the many for the actions of the few."

"That, folks, is exactly what we would be doing in this country if we ever voted for prohibition again. Authorities who have made a careful study of the problem, report that only about 5% of those who drink abuse the privilege occasionally... 95% drink sensibly. Probably doesn't compare with the number of folks who overeat and do other things to excess. Prohibition certainly isn't the answer. It's not that simple. We had nearly 14 years proof of that, didn't we?

"The real answer is education and better control. In fact, the responsible members of the distilling industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want anybody to abuse the use of their product any more than the three of us do."

"If everybody would take that sensible attitude, Judge, and cooperate as more and more are now doing, we'd be a lot better off a lot quicker."

The hat still fits!

They say there are two sides to a question. And when it's proved that you're on the right side it's only human nature to want to say "I told you so." And maybe get a little puffed up about how wise you are.

It happened to us . . . but our hat still fits.

Our hunch was on how to make beer when all that rationing started. We could have done one of two things: (1) Been tempted to stretch our malt and hops to meet the terrific demand for beer. (2) Or continue to make a good beer and hope that you'd get your share of it.

We bet on the fact you wanted to still get a little less . . . but keep it good.

You backed us in our judgment. And the reason our hat still fits is that nobody fools the American people long . . . and we knew it.

We promise that Arrow will continue to be a mighty good bottle of beer. It will continue to have that distinctively different flavor as long as we make Arrow.

No wonder
