VOLUNTEERS ASKED TO HELP PRESERVE FOOD

Dr. F. G. Livingood, Kent County Chairman of Community Mobilization called a meeting which was held last Monday at the U. S. E. S. office on Court Street.

The purpose of the meeting was to get volunteers to work in the county canneries this summer should they be needed. All that do this work will be paid the regular cannery wages.

The world is going to be faced with a terrible food shortage; a lot more so than it is now. It is important that no food be allowed to waste. The canneries must have enough help to preserve the food.

In Kent County there are three food packing plants located at Kennedyville, Chestertown, and Rock Hall. It is possible that the canneries can get sufficient help themselves but the committee plans to get volunteers for one day a week or longer, in case there should be a shortage. Help here will be needed from July 25th to September 10th. In some counties they have organized block committees that house to house canvas their sections for workers. In Kent it is planned to do the work through existing organizations.

Present at the meeting were representatives of the following organization.

Clauson Jones, Post War Planning Committee; Mrs. Lloyd Kennedy, Homemakers Club; Raymond Hill, F. O. Mitchell Bros. Cannery; Mrs. Charles Eshman, Kent County Garden Club; David B. Ford, Labor-Management Committee; Owen Selby American Legion; Judge Collins, legal group; Louis C. Robinson, Supt. of Schools; Mrs. Emma Biddle, Labor-Management Committee; P. G. Wilmer, Labor-Management Committee and Mayor of Chestertown; Paul Adams, Christ Methodist Church; Henry Demain, Vita Food Corp. and Labor-Management; Earl Cooper, Lions Club; Robert Nicholson, Business Men's Association; W. L. Churchman, Rotary Club; Richard Schauber, Roman Catholic Church, Marvin Williams, First Methodist Church; Rev. W. P. Roberts, Christ Methodist Church. The three newspapers of the County. Dr. Livingood Chairman and Nell C. Westcott, secretary.

Quaker Neck Residents To Form Red Cross Surgical Dressings Unit

A Red Cross Surgical Dressings Unit for residents of Quaker Neck is being formed, to meet weekly in the Sunday School room of Bond Chapel Methodist Church, Pomona, according to Rev. L. E. Loder, pastor of the church. Every woman and girl who can give at least two hours weekly for folding surgical dressings is asked by him to be at the first meeting to organize the group. This will be on Monday afternoon, June 26th, at 4.00 P. M. at Bond Chapel Chapel Church.

Rev. Loder stated, "This is a Community undertaking, started at the request of the Kent County Red Cross, and every person who realizes the urgency of need for these dressings, and can give her time once each week, should respond to the call to this work of mercy. Perhaps work schedules in the home will have to be rearranged. If an emergency such as a flood, fire, or explosion should confront us here at home, we would find time for such work amongst our neighbors. Because the emergency is many miles removed from us, it is nonetheless real and urgent."

Mrs. Perry Metcalfe, representing the Kent County Red Cross, will be present at this first meeting to explain just what is required and to answer questions. Time for meeting after this first meeting will be decided upon by those who attend on Monday. If further information is desired, telephone Rev. L. E. Loder at Pomona—Chestertown 813F5.
