The many notices against trespasing upon farms in this county, by gunning, fishing, or otherwise, to be found in the Sentinel, indicate that sportsmen will find it difficult to enjoy the pleasures of gunning, especially, without committing violations of these warnings.

Two foreign looking specimens of the genus homo exhibited a dancing bear on the streets of this city, on Wednesday, to the great delight of the children. The animal was of large proportions, fat, sleek and well-kept, and withal kindly in aspect, and went through the limited program of his evolutions with apparent zest.

A number of presents were received.

The plant of the Hess Manufacturing Company was removed to Hagerstown this week and Westminster loses that growing industry. It had been quite successful here and had orders always ahead. A larger field of operations was offered at Hagerstown, but the success of the enterprise here was safe and certain. Its removal is matter of sincere regret. We cordially wish Mr. Hess and his corps of clever workmen the fullest success in their new field.

Rev. M. E. McLinn, pastor of the Union Bridge charge of the Ev. Lutheran Church, has accepted a call to a charge in Virginia, to which he will remove sometime in November. Under Mr. McLinn's pastorate several new churches were added to the Union Bridge charge, and recently it has been divided and a new charge created, which will embrace the Churches in the Southern portion of the county. Mr. McLinn has made many friends in this county who will heartily regret his removal.

It was announced among the religious notices in last week's Sentinel that two ministers of the River Brethren Church would preach in the Bethel in Uniontown last Sabbath, morning and evening, and at Greenwood's at 2.30, P. M. This intention, however, was frustrated in the case of one of the ministers in question, who, while breakfasting at Mr. Samuel Beck's, near Uniontown, was stricken with paralysis. The attack was only slight, and the condition of the disabled man of God was so much improved on Tuesday that he was enabled to return to his home in Virginia. We were unable to learn his name.

Mr. Milton Chew, of Carrollton, raised during the past season, in his garden, on a plat of ground 75 feet square, 4450 pounds of pumpkins. The weight of the largest one was 94 pounds. Mr. Chew says these pumpkins are of the Republican variety, and are, in fact, "some pumpkins." They make excellent pies without the use of eggs, the component parts of the latter being contained in the vegetable itself. In addition to the pumpkins a lot of potatoes was raised on the same ground, and they were not "small potatoes" either, as the yield was about thirty bushels.

Westminster now has most admirable postal facilities, Postmaster Sharrer having received permission from the Department to transmit a locked pouch to Baltimore by the 4.24, P. M., train. The fast mail going east, which should leave here at 5.16, P. M., has been so uniformly, and frequently several hours, late, that there has been practically no certain afternoon mail to the city. This is now remedied and mails are transmitted to the city at 7.11, 9.43, A. M., 4.24 P. m., and by the fast mail, and received from the city at 5.20, 11.41 A. M., and 5.44, P. M. This apparently leaves nothing to be desired in the mail communication between Westminster and Baltimore, and affords much better facilities than were ever enjoyed previously.

A gang of six young men has recently been perpetrating a series of highway robberies along the line of the B. & O. R. R. They robbed men, not the company, taking clothes, money, watches, &c. Their victims seem to have been, usually, persons employed on freight trains which were boarded and the men compelled to accede to the demands of the gang at the point of a revolver. One of these was perpetrated on two men at Gaither's Siding, in this county. The young desperadoes have been captured and are now in custody at Ellicott city. Their ages range from 17 to 22 years. Their names are Lee Mullin, Harry Stuckey, William Southcomb, alias Chatain, Frank Mooney, Rube Richardson, alias "The Kid," and George, alias Pug Anderson.

Masonic Excursion.

The price of tickets for the Masonic excursion to Baltimore, which is to take place on Thursday next, has been placed at $1.00 from all stations from Mechanicstown to Westminster, inclusive, and east of this city one fare for the round trip. The excursion train will start at Mechanicstown and stop at all stations between that point and Glen Falls, passing Westminster at 8.55, A. M. Tickets will be sold at the same rates for the train, going east on that day, which passes Westminster at 4.24, P. M. These rates do not include admission to the great Masonic Fair now being held in the Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore; but the excursion offers an admirable opportunity to visit that wonderful exhibition, by day and night, as the train returning will not leave until late in the evening. Tickets will only be good on the excursion train returning. Particulars and time at each station will be made known by posters.

Children's Day Services.

A very beautiful and interesting Children's Day Missionary service was held by the Sunday School of the Methodist Protestant Church of this city, in the main auditorium of the church edifice, on Sunday evening last. The altar and pulpit platform were handsomely decorated for the occasion with flowers, ferns and autumn leaves, and the title of the service, "All the World for Jesus," was emblazoned in autumn leaves on the wall in the pulpit recess. The exercises, which were under the supervision of Dr. J. W. Hering, the efficient superintendent, were opened with an organ voluntary, and an introductory address by Master Pearre Wantz. The school then sang the Children's Greeting Song, and a responsive service followed led by the superintendent, at the close of which all united in the Lord's prayer, with the pastor of the Church, Rev. J. L. Mills, D. D. The remainder of the program was as follows: Singing, Gloria Patri; recitation, The Last Command, by Bibb Mills; singing, The Light Bearer's Hymn; the A. B. College Notes.

The leaves on the trees in the campus are beginning to turn russet, and some are falling at the north wind's blast.

The Freshman class is the largest one ever formed at this college. There are 57 in the class of which 38 are young ladies.

Friday, the 17th inst., the Junior class makes its first appearance in Smith Hall to read their themes. The class will be represented by seven of their number.

The Sophomore class is now a plump reality. Some time ago they met and elected the following officers: Pres., Litzinger; Sec., Gilbert; treas., Smith, Historian, Revelle; Prophetess, Miss Tagg. The following members declaimed in the chapel last Friday: Messrs. Galt, Hudson, Harding, Grow, Freeny, Gilbert, Misses Anderson, Boulden, Dorsey, Clift, and Elliott. There is a bright future for this class, especially that it will be the largest ever graduated from this college if it all hangs together.

Last Saturday the young Greecians again contested for the prize in a game of base-ball. The New Windsor club and our college nine crossed bats and played a spirited game. McKeever, of the home club, made a giant hit which enabled him to make a home run and also brought home two others. On account of darkness, the game was called when the score stood 10 to 7 in favor of home team, but all had to be referred back to the eighth inning which stood 7 to 7. And the end is not yet. Next Saturday, 18th inst., our boys are going up to New Windsor to see if they can not punch them out at the little end of the horn. We hope victory will perch upon their banner as proudly as a bee upon a clover blossom.

Manchester Items.

Saturday last was a day of surprise to Mrs. Julia M. Motter, being the anniversary of her birthday. Being busy in her millinery store she thought but little about the day as marking an anniversary in her life's journey, but near noon Mrs. Dr. Paine, son and two daughters, of Black Horse, Harford county, suddenly walked in upon her. They were greeted with the usual cheerful welcome, their visit exciting no suspicion as nothing unusual seemed to be taking place in the domestic department under the supervision of Miss Fanny. During the afternoon private despatches were sent to many of her friends—by Mrs. Wm. H. Shower, who was engineering the surprise, to call during the evening. By the arrival of the evening train, when two more daughters and her son Joe stepped in upon them, suspicion was aroused that something was being done. By 8.30 the brilliantly lighted parlor was filled with relatives and friends extending the good lady their best wishes. Misses Grace Ganter, Katie and Josie Wareheim and Bessie Otto added much to the entertainment by their fine vocal and instrumental music. At 9.50, P. M., the guests were invited to the dining room, where the table was groaning under its burden of cake, pyramids of fruit, &c., and beautifully embellished with flowers, Mrs. M. being the last toenter and all unconscious of the feast. Her suspicion culminated when Mr. Ross Paine stepped forward and in a neat and appropriate speech presented a handsome silver cake basket, bearing the familiar legend, "Ma." It goes without saying that ample justice was done to the good things provided for the occasion. At a late hour the company dispersed, having spent a most pleasant evening. Among those present were Mrs. Dr. Paine, son and two daughters, of Harford county; Mrs. John Barnes, Mrs. McAllister and daughter, Miss Bessie Otto and sister, Mr. Joe Motter, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Shower, son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Miller, Mrs. G. A. Shower and daughter, Mrs. C. J. H. Ganter, Miss Grace Ganter, Misses Josie and Katie Wareheim, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. J. Everhart, Mrs. L. M. Morelock, Miss Maggie Crouse, Mr. George Motter, Miss Fannie Ross, of Manchester.

On Saturday last Mr. George Hunt traded for a pair of young mules. On Monday he noticed one was ailing and took it to his father, Mr. Christian Hunt's, when while he was in the act of administering a dose of medicine it fell over dead.

The executors of Mr. Samuel Snyder offered the home farm at public sale on Thursday last, but witheld it at a bid of $21 50 per acre. They will now sell it at private sale.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Mamie Everhart, daughter of E. S. Everhart, of Woodberry, to Rev. E. R. Deatrick, on the 22d inst.

Rev. N. J. Miller is attending the Potomac Synod at Hanover this week.

Messrs. G. A. Shower and L. M. Morelock are invoicing the stock in the Crumrine store this week.

Mr. John Burns lost a valuable work horse on Saturday last from lockjaw. Nine days before the horse was shod in Baltimore, became lame and grew steadily worse all the time, until death. An examination of the foot showed that one of the nails had been driven full length into it even to the bone, causing the whole trouble.

On Thursday last Mr. Wm. E. Fuhrman bought from Silas Robenstine, at private sale, his farm of 80 acres adjoining the village of Melrose, for $2,850.

About 5.15 on Tuesday evening the word flew from lip to lip "Mrs. Burns is dead," which was quite a surprise to all. Some weeks ago, when we mentioned her illness, death was expected almost at any moment, but her condition changed and she slowly recovered so that she was able to be about the house and even attended to light domestic duties. But several days ago she was again taken with a return of her heart trouble and at the above hour, while in conversation with her sister and several neighbors, she peacefully passed away at the age of 72 years and 6 months. She was the youngest of the Everhart family, consisting of two sisters, Mrs. John Krantz, of Baltimore, and Mrs. George Shower and an only brother, Mr. John Everhart, of this place, whose combined ages are 252 years. The deceased was buried on Thursday afternoon from her late home on N. Main street.

It is the old story of rain, rain, rain, to such an extent that it is impossible for the farmers to get along with their fall work, and all of them are backward with seeding. A few days of good weather, however, would enable them to catch up.

Your correspondent had the pleasure to-day of talking with Mr. W. S. Markel, who has just returned from a voyage to England and the Mediterranean.

Mr. Louis Frizzell, of Ohio, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Sebastian Bowers, near this place.

Well, Mr. Editor, can you or any one else tell us what this world is coming to, when deacons and Sunday School superintendents keep race horses and attend horse races? I think man cannot serve two masters; he must love one or the other, and it is time the Church were taking some means to stop its members from indulging in that kind of worldly sport. Horse racing may do for the people of the world, but not for members of the Church. This is my opinion, whatever others may think about it.

On last Monday night Mr. Chas. H. Roop lost a good work horse. It was found dead in the stable on Tuesday morning.

Mr. N. E., or Dock, Franklin a few days ago dug from one-eighth of an acre of ground 40 bushels of sweet potatoes, of very excellent quality and size.

Not long since Mr. David E. Stem, our worthy Postmaster and merchant, bought of Mr. Walter Engel a half acre of land adjoining his store property, for which he paid the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars. On this beautiful situation Mr. Stem will in the near future erect a fine dwelling house. It will be an L shaped building. The front of main building will be 32 feet, and 22 feet wide. The back building will be 24 feet, by 19 feet. Mr. Martin Devilbiss will be the carpenter.

Mr. Jesse L. Devilbiss has got his mill in operation again, and no doubt the many patrons of Mr. Bowers will get good flour.

The early sown grain in our section never did look any more rank at this time in October.

Miss Myrta J. Garfield Pickett died of diphtheria, on the 11th inst., in the 8th year of her age. Myrta was a sweet Sabbath School girl, and a devotee of books and the cause of goodness. Prior to her decease she became speechless and made her last wishes known in writing to sorrowing friends. She seemed to have a premonition of her departure to a fairer land than this, for taking leave of her friends she raised her eyes and uplifted hands in recognition of the shining retinue commissioned from the skies to bear her happy soul to the paradise of God. After a touching discourse from Rev. J. S. Burton the remains were interred in Morgan Chapel cemetery.

Mrs. Bloom also has in her flower garden an extraordinary dahlia stalk, which is nine and a half feet tall and contains nineteen flowers besides a large number of buds.

The masons and carpenters have been at work on the new Reformed Church at Silver Run, during the past couple of weeks, and now have the foundation walls nearly completed and part of the joists for the main floor in position. Syllogism and Question.

Mr. Editor.—Please publish the following syllogism and question from the most popular of physics.

Minor—1st Premise:—Heat consists of ceaseless vibrations of the molecules of matter, or results from such motions; or molecular vibrations constitute heat.

Major—2nd Premise:—Whatever raises the temperature of a body increases the energy with which the molecules of that body swing to and fro. Fire in a stove raises the temperature of the matter composing the stove.

Conclusion:—The stove in which the fuel is burned creates heat (because of the molecular vibrations of the stove), as well as transmits it to the surrounding atmosphere.

Question:—Does the stove generate heat, or is the definition of heat incorrect?

Let the advocates of the popular physics reply and explain.

Music.—They had been to the opera and heard the finest music by the leading talent. They went home to hear the baby's wild solo until it was quieted with a dose of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup, which at once removed the flatulence.

Every Babe should have a bottle of Dr. Fahrney's Teething Syrup. Druggists sell it. Price 25 cents. may-10-6-mo

The native-born Elephant bids fair to rival the great imported Jumbo in size and weight; but it is pretty generally known that nothing rivals the great remedy, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Dearest wife thou hast left us,
We thy loss most deeply feel;
But 'tis God who has bereft us;
He can all our sorrows heal.

Tears from our eyes are streaming,
And sorrow shades our brow:
Oh blame us not for weeping;
We have no mother now.

A loving one from us has gone,
A voice we loved so well;
A place is vacant in our homes
Which never can be filled.

Home is sad, Oh God how dreary,
Lonesome, lonely every spot;
You find work her hands have done in every place,
But the Lord has made a promise that he'll all our sorrows heal.

Death has robbed us of our mother,
Whom we loved and cherished dear,
It was mother, yes dear mother,
Can we help but shed a tear.

Yes we miss her, Oh, we miss her,
When we see her vacant chair,
And how sad the room is without her,
For dear mother is gone.

How we loved her, yes we loved her,
Ah, no eathly tongue can tell,
But the angels they have called her,
Up to Heaven with them to dwell.

She is waiting, yes, she's waiting,
Just across the Silvery plain.
She is waiting o'er the river,
Where we know we'll meet again.
