With Armed Forces

The ingenuity of the Yankee in an emergency was demonstrated during the days of the Battle for Rome when a heavy bomb group was set down in a "mud hole between two moutains", in Central Italy.

That is the way one of the group a Wilmington man—Serget. Dudley A. Henriques, Jr., 822 North Adams Street, described the base. He was awarded a bronze star for his part in the maintenance of high morale among the men partly through an entertainment program which he originated on his own responsibility.

Norfolk, Va.,—Paging Mr. Ripley! If the creator of "Believe It or Not" is reading, here's an interesting item in which a dog turned benefactor to the convalescing veterans at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Va.

The Red Cross "Smoke Fund" at the naval hospital is $10 richer today through the generosity of "Laddie", a Coast Guard trained war dog which recently made several appearances here with nine K-9 "shipmates" in behalf of the Seventh War Loan. The dog actually signed over a check to the Red Cross to be used to buy cigarettes for overseas casualties.

Here's the story: Besides winning the affection of child and adult dog lovers alike, "Laddie", star cannie charmer of the troupe, received a visit from Tidewater Virginia's most famous Boston Terrier—"Champion Maythorne's Flash Again," beribboned beauty belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Homer F. Oranger, 163 Fayton Avenue, Norfolk, national dog exhibitors, "Flash Again" the only dog known to have his own bank account and write his own checks, signed a $10 check in "Laddie's" favor to be used as the war dog saw fit.

Inasmuch as the dog is well provided for by the government, "Laddie's" Coast Guard trainer, Specialist Earl Grant, Alexandria, Va., suggested that the money be donated to a worthy cause. So, during the war dog demonstration for veterans at the hospital the check, bearing "Flash's" paw-print signature and "Laddie's" paw-print endorsement, was turned over to Miss Betty Hadden of the American Red Cross.

Incidentally, during his visit here "Laddie" even participated in a radio interview. Unfortunately, the huge Collie, although he is afraid of no creature and bares his teeth readily at the mention of the word "Jap", suffered a case of "mike fright". No amount of urging could get him to utter his famous bark.

The primary aim of the demonstrations by the dogs, besides aiding the Seventh War Loan drive, was to call attention to the Coast Guard-Marine Corps War Dog Procurement Agency's drive for more dog recruits. There is a critical need for additional dogs to replace those which have served close to three years in the Pacific.

PROMISE

By Mrs. Clyde Robe Meredith

Out of the dark of the world's dissension
Into the light of God's kind intention
Thus doth the soul that turns away from sin
Thus finds the soul a new way to begin;

The rain and the shadows darken the might
Of the soul's depression causing the light
Of the sun to hide just a little while
When the clouds fade there shines God's loving smile:

Why linger depressed when the rain pours down;
For it ever cleanses each little town,
The hills and the valleys, the tiny streams,
Even life's innermost visions of dreams?

Observe the trees! See them shake off all fear!
Watch the leaves bathing in every rain-tear!
Take heart, dear one! Life spreads out before you!
Find in the rainbow your dreams visioned true!
