Dear Roamer

Regattas come and regattas go and once or twice, there were none at all. But the one on Saturday, past, of only sail boats, in this year of our Lord, 1945, was about the prettiest, tho' probably one of the least exciting ever held on the Chester River. In the morning skies were gray, and we expected the falling rain at any minute. But the elements were kind, and along about noon, old Sol came peeping through, a breeze came about and the race in the afternoon became a delight to participants as well as on-lookers.

The dance in the evening was well attended and even if the rain, which did hold off in the afternoon, and culminated in a deluge about eleven o'clock, driving those from the tables outside into the club house, fun, however, crowned the day.

A large number of the younger crowd from Queen Anne's came up on Friday to take part in the races, and remained over until Sunday.

Among those noted from Baltimore who were here for the week-end were: Mr. and Mrs. Eben Perkins, Miss Eleanor Moore and Mr. Thomas Perkins.

Mr. Carter Bowie, of Baltimore, spent several days last week at the home of Mrs. Edward A. Hurd.

Mrs. George Albee of Laurel, Md., was a guest this week of Mrs. Ernest H. Strong.

Miss Carrie Schreiber is visiting in Manassas, Va., this week.

Miss Alice Deringer spent last week-end at Atlantic City, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Bramwell Geddes have returned to their home, Manor Shores, after spending several weeks at East Hampton, N. Y.

Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Mead returned this week from Capon Springs, W. Va., where they enjoyed several weeks vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Grieb left on Sunday to visit their son and daughter-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. George Erety Grieb at Penn State College, State College, Pa. From there they visited the former's sister, Mrs. Hugh Bolton at Whitinsville, Mass.

Lt. and Mrs. Jas. W. Chapman, III, of New York will be week-end guests of Mrs. Frank Simpers.

Labor Day on Monday, marking the death knell of Summer, and this year, the death knell of War, as Victory is ours. So with a new start for Fall, we leave the past, and look toward Autumn in a new light for those returning.

Yours at the threshold,

The Wanderer

Married Last Saturday

One of the largest of the late Summer weddings took place last Saturday evening, August 24, when Miss Maxine Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Clayton Johnson, of near Sassafras became the bride of Mr. Charles White, of Baltimore. The ceremony, performed by Father Edward Leinheiser, was held at the home of the bride's parents. The house was beautifully decorated with laurel, gladiolas and lighted by candles. ..The wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Ethelwyn Malloney. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace and net, with a fingertip veil. Her bouquet was of white gladiolas and baby's breath. Miss Gwendolyn Johnson, sister of the bride, was Maid of Honor and attired in pink net, carrying a bouquet of corresponding gladiolas. The bridesmaids, Miss Carroll Speck and Miss Mary Jane Rosin wore dresses of blue net and carried similar bouquets of gladiolas. Mr. Charles Mayo, of Baltimore, served as the groom's best man, while Mr. William Garten and Mr. I. Frank Huey served as ushers. Following a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. White, will reside in Baltimore.

Mrs. Jesse Downey and son, Charles and Mrs. Sims Jacquette were visitors in Wilmington on Tuesday.

Norris Walbert, a former resident here spent the week-end here with friends.

Although farmers admit that sheep are profitable, the sheep industry in Maryland has been decreasing slowly for several years. Climate, systems of raising crops, soil, topography, and markets are all favorable for profitable sheep raising in Maryland.
