Mrs. George H. Mitten, of Union Bridge, who has been ill with typhoid fever, is improving and her recovery is assured. Mrs. Mitten's illness was probably aggravated by an injury received during her bridal trip, about a month ago. She tripped on an imperfect wire mat, at the head of a stairway in a hotel at Washington, D. C., and fell to the bottom, striking her side against the newel post, sustaining a severe shock, besides having been seriously bruised and otherwise injured.

Genuine winter weather has prevailed during the past week. A light snow fell on Monday, followed by clearing weather Monday night, and Tuesday morning the temperature fell to about 12°. Wednesday was slightly warmer, with freezing mist and rain, but the temperature fell again during the night and on Thursday morning a cold, high wind prevailed. A number of children were slightly injured while coasting on Wednesday evening, and several horses fell and injured themselves to a greater or less degree, on the icy streets, on Thursday morning.

The citizens of Westminster to whom the SENTINEL may come on the afternoon of the day before the date of its publication are informed that Bishop Paret, of the Diocese of Maryland, will preach in Ascension P. E. Church, at 7.30, P. M., of that day, Friday, December 5th, and administer the rite of confirmation to a class of twenty-two candidates. This will be the largest number ever confirmed at one time in Ascension Church.

The weights of some of the fat porkers slaughtered during the past week or two, in Carroll county, have been furnished the SENTINEL for publication. The weapon was loaded with an explosive shell which entered his right foot and burst, inflicting severe injuries. Drs. Billingslea and Joseph T. Hering were summoned and rendered the necessary treatment and the wounded lad, who is not quite ten years old, is improving.

The new Mt. Joy Lutheran Church, five miles from Gettysburg, Pa., was dedicated on Sunday last, in the presence of a large congregation. It takes the place of the building destroyed by fire some time ago. Rev. M. Valentine, D. D., President of the Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, preached the sermon, and Rev. H. L. Baugher, D. D., of Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, assisted the pastor, Rev. H. M. Heilman, in the services. The Mt. Joy charge, of which the new church forms a part, includes the church at Harney, in this county.

William Pinkney, the little son of Mr. David W. and Mrs. Mary Franklin and grandson of Elder Wm. H. Franklin, died at his home, near Sams Creek P. O., on the 2nd inst., aged 6 years, 1 month and 29 days, after a few days illness, of that dreaded and fatal disease, among children, membranous crop. He was an unusually bright and intelligent child and was greatly beloved by his parents and friends. His remains were interred in the Dunkard burying ground at the Sams Creek Church. The funeral services were conducted by Elder Solomon Stoner, assisted by Elder Joel Roop and E. Stouffer.

The admirable sermon delivered by Rev. Calvin S. Slagle, pastor of St. Paul's Reformed Church of this city, in Grace Lutheran Church, on Thanksgiving day, is published on the first page of the SENTINEL by request of persons who were among the audience on that occasion. It is full of thought, well expressed, and will well repay perusal. It was put in type from manuscript in which there were numerous abbreviations, and the meaning of the sentence, "Most of the evils that affect us as a people lose their origin," &c., is well nigh destroyed by the use of the italicised word instead of the word "have," which was employed by the speaker.

The revival services at Pleasant Grove M. E. Church, near Carrollton, closed last week, after a season of remarkable success. Sixty-nine persons professed conversion during the meetings. A grand Thanksgiving service was held on the 27th ult. The pastors hands, throughout the protracted services, were sustained by the members of the Church and the new converts, old and young, who worked together with the common purpose of winning souls. Such a revival, we are informed, has never been known before, in the history of Pleasant Grove Church. The earnest and energetic young pastor, Rev. J. Tolly Marsh, has inaugurated protracted services at the Patapsco Church, and already a number of persons have professed conversion.

Woodbine Items.

Elder Joel Roop, of New Windsor, preached at Morgan Chapel on Sunday last. The Misses E. Jeanne Hobbs and Vivia C. Day, of Montgomery county, were present, and rendered excellent vocal and insrumental music. The Messrs. J. A. Boyer and Samuel Browning were the ladies' escorts.

Miss Pearl Mercier, who has been visiting friends for several months at Chicago and other points in the west, has returned home, and will doubtless have many pleasant incidents to relate after a most enjoyable trip.

Miss Ida Carthorn has an assistant teacher, in the person of Miss Hewitt, at Day public school. This is as it should be, for there are nearly one hundred pupils in the old pine box, to be taught filling it with humanity as full as sixty pounds of wheat fill a bushel measure.

Thanksgiving day passed off quietly. The young folks are thankful that they came into the world to fall in love, and the old people are thankful that they are going out of the world to rest from their labors in a sunnier clime than this.

A very pleasant wedding took place at 3 o'clock, P. M., on Wednesday, November 26th, 1890, at the M. E. Parsonage, near Watersville, this county. The contracting parties were Miss Cora Ella Ways, youngest daughter of Mrs. Harriet A. Ways and the late John T. Ways, of Woodbine, and Mr. Elmer E. Hood, a well known young carpenter, of Franklin district. Mr. Harry Pickett, cousin of the bride, acted as best man, and Miss Bessie Mullinix was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Lizzie Pickett and Miss Bertie Colson, both cousins of the bride. The ushers were Messrs. Wm. C. and C. A. Mullinix, friends of the groom. The bride was attired in electric blue cloth with hat to match, while the groom wore the conventional black. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward Smith. Subsequently the bridal party returned to the home of the bride where a quiet but very pleasant reception was given. Those present were: Mr. U. G. McCleary, of Philadelphia; Mrs. H. A. Ways, mother of the bride; Mrs. M. V. Jenkins, sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Baker, Messrs. Alva S. Baker, Howard N. L. Jenkins, Clarence P. Baker, Misses Laurie Hood Baker, Ida V. F. Jenkins, Amelia C. Baker, Florence Ways Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Hood, Miss Lottie Grove, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Conoway, Mr. R. N. Evans and mother; also Mrs. Jane Buckingham, of Woodbine, and Miss Maggie McQuay, of near Winfield. The presents were numerous and useful.

Wedding Bells.

WILHIDE—HARNER.

The beautiful home of Mr. Jonas S. Harner, in Taneytown district, was the scene of a brilliant and interesting wedding at 11 o'clock, A. M., on Thursday, 27th ult., the contracting parties to which were Mr. Harner's eldest daughter, Miss Flora Harner, and Mr. Reuben Wilhide. The bride was becomingly attired in brown silk, while the groom wore the conventional black. Miss Minnie Harner was bridesmaid, and Mr. Joseph Kelley, best man. Miss Emma Slaugenhaupt played a march entitled "Waves of the Ocean," as the bridal party entered the parlor, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. H. Ditzler, of the Reformed Church, Taneytown, after which, when hearty congratulations had been extended to the happy pair, the invitation was given to pass into the dining room, where tables were profusely laden with many of the good things of this life. The bridal presents were numerous, handsome and useful. Among the guests present were some from Lancaster, Baltimore, Littlestown, Bruceville, Harney, Taneytown, and other places. At 3 o'clock, a table of confectioneries and fruit was spread before the guests. After spending a short time in social conversation the guests began to disperse. All felt that the wedding feast was appreciated and that the day was spent in true social pleasure.

TROY—STULTZ.

A letter from Decatur, Illinois, gives the following account of the marriage of the daughter of former residents of the vicinity of this city:

Married, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stultz, 1,111 N. Clinton street, Decatur, Ills., on Wednesday evening, November 26th, 1890, their daughter, Miss Emma, to Ernest L. Troy. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. E. Scrimger of Stapp's Chapel M. E. Church. The wedding was a quiet one, only relatives and a few intimate friends of the family being present. The bride wore a neat walking suit of seal-brown henrietta cloth, with gloves and hat to match. The groom wore the customary black. When all had extended their hearty congratulations and best wishes a wedding supper was served which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy go to house-keeping at once in a neatly furnished house at 1027 N. Clinton street. The bride is an estimable young lady, much admired by her many friends. The groom is a popular young fireman on the Wabash R. R. His home, until a few years since, was at Haverhill, Mass., where his parents now reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Stultz, it will be remembered by many, lived near Westminster before they removed to their Illinois home, where they have now lived many years.

Ruby Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marsh, of the Marsh House, this city, celebrated their ruby wedding—the fortieth anniversary of their marriage—on Wednesday evening, in very handsome style. At 9 o'clock the numerous guests were invited to the dining room, where an elegant and sumptuous repast was spread, on tables beautifully decorated with flowers and most attractive in appearance. The feast was heartily enjoyed by all and at its close each guest was given a generous slice of a large and delicious bride's cake. The celebrants received many presents as tokens of the good will of their friends, among which was a beautiful ruby and diamond watch charm to Mr. Marsh from his fourteen grand children, and a ruby ring to Mrs. Marsh by her husband. The anniversary was made a general family reunion followed by the banquet at night. Many letters of congratulation were received from friends who were unable to be present. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. Pierce Marsh, John J. Marsh, A. Pierce Marsh, Jr., Miss M. Maggie Marsh, of Hanover, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Laughton, Miss Fannie L. Laughton, Harry R. Laughton, Edward Forrest Laughton, Jr., Sparrow's Point; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Seabrook and daughter Ethel, Baltimore; J. W. Marsh, Geo. Lewis Brown, Westminster; Mrs. Samuel Pearl, Miss Eva Pearl, Howard Pearl, Mrs. Amanda Hayes, Miss Blanche Hardesty, Baltimore; Mr. Charles W. Merryman, Misses Ida Merryman, Minerva Merryman, Tannery; Rev. and Mrs. Calvin S. Slagle, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mitten, Mrs. Frank F. Shipley, Miss Mamie Shipley, Mrs. Lovelace G. Gorsuch, Miss Minnie Gorsuch, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Harstone, Mrs. Maggie McGirr, Miss Annie M. Mikesell, Annie L. Diehl, Miss Grace Diehl, Miss Estella Wampler, Messrs. A. H. Huber, Wm. H. Vanderford, D. H. Hollinger, Capt. Charles N. Kuhn, Dr. Frank Bankard and others.

Porter's Items.

The meeting of the Walnut Grove Musical and Literary Society, which was to have been held on Thanksgiving evening, was postponed out of respect to the memory of Mr. Leonard A. Wilson, whose death has thrown a gloom over the whole community, as well as over the society, of which he was a member. A large concourse of the members and friends of the family attended the last sad rites. The services were held at Messiah Lutheran Church, Rev. J. C. McGaughey officiating. Mr. Wilson was possessed of many amiable qualities and will be regretted by a large circle of friends.

The Sunday School of the Messiah Lutheran Church, is preparing an interesting program for its usual Christmas entertainment, which will be held on the evening of Christmas day, at the church.

Harney Items.

Mr. John Myers, who has been employed in his father's mill, near here, for a number of years, moved to a mill near Oxford, Pa., last Tuesday.

We have had real winter weather the past few days; the ground is covered with snow since last Monday. We notice some farmers plowing the snow under.

Milton D. Hawn raised a turnip this season which measures twenty-four inches in circumference.

The new bridge over Rock creek, near here, is ready for the roof and weatherboarding, but owing to the snow last Monday the work has been hindered.

The revival here in the U. B. Church continues with unabated interest, under the labors of Rev. J. B. Jones. There are nine penitents at present and there have been several conversions.

The new Lutheran Church known as Mt. Joy, near here, was dedicated last Sabbath.

Thanksgiving Day at New Windsor College.

It has been customary for some years past for the President, Faculty and Students to dine with the Social Committee of the Presbyterian Church at New Windsor, in their Lecture and Sunday School room.

This year it was deemed improper to hold such festivities in view of afflictive Providences in the congregation, and the absence of some of the active members.

This annual reunion will be held later, as the occasion has always been one of great pleasure, both to the community and the college.

The day was celebrated, however, in a becoming manner at the college. A most bountiful Thanksgiving Dinner was served in the dining hall, to over sixty persons, who remained at the college on the occasion.

The menu was the most elaborate ever served at the college, including the conventional turkey, oysters, cranberries, celery, chicken salad, ice cream, confectionery and coffee.

The old familiar bell announced "all ready" at 2 o'clock, and the company rose at five minutes after four, but not until Prof. E. H. Norman, the presiding officer of the day, called out the happiest post-prandials from Rev. Dr. Wm. M. Arnolt, of John's Hopkins University, who is Professor of Languages here this year, who began without announcing any subject, but entertained and amused the happy company all the same; Mr. Hugh H. Owen, of Granite, Md., on "Thanksgiving Day;" Mr. Wm. T. Stuchell, of Washington City on "The Classes of '90 and '91; Mr. Wm. B. Smith, of Monongahela City, Pa., on "Mason and Dixon's Line;" Mr. Jno. A. Brown, of Muscatine, Iowa, on "Temporal Blessings;" Mr. Thos. T. Brown, of Baltimore county, on "The College;" Mr. W. W. Gearhart, of Pennsylvania, on "Practical Charity," Mr. B. Brice Blackfoot, of Washington City, on "College Association and Fellowship;" Mr. Chas. G. Morgan, of Washington City, on "Home;" Mr. E. D. Getzendanner, of Baltimore, on the "Value of Time;" Mr. Jno. Howard, of Baltimore, on the "Pulpit;" Prof. E. H. Norman, the master of ceremonies, on "The Ladies."

Each speach, by arrangement, was very short and was greatly enjoyed. It is only justice to say that each gentleman surpassed himself.

The ladies clapped their hands vigorously after each speech.

The remainder of the day was spent in athletic sports, and at night the parlors and halls were thrown open and the evening, until ten o'clock, was enjoyed with music, conversation and refined and amusing plays; but no dancing, as it is "forbidden fruit" in this Presbyterian College. The College is very full this year, with a class of students above the average.

It was greatly regretted by all that President Jelly was unexpectedly called away in the morning and was not permitted to enjoy the day with his Professors and Students.

Thanksgiving Hop.

The young gentlemen of Westminster gave a very enjoyable hop, in honor of the Thanksgiving season, at the City Hotel, Friday night of last week. The affair was in charge of a committee, consisting of Messrs. Will E. Everhart, N. H. Baumgartner and Percy M. Shriver. The music was furnished by a Baltimore orchestra. Among those present were Miss Annie E. Sioussat, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Brady, Harrisburg, Pa.; Miss C. Nelson, Messrs. T. H. Sheff, William Pappe, William Pope, Archibald Anderson, Edward Hammond, Baltimore; Mrs. Charles E. Stewart, Graceland; Miss Bessie Shriver, Mr. Lewis Shriver, Union Mills; Mr. Percy M. Shriver, Avondale; Mr. Edward Clagett, Waynesboro', Pa.; Mr. Charles Nelson, Philadelphia, Pa.; Mr. J. Frank Harper, Centreville, Md.; Mr. Robert Weaver, L. E. Robinson, W. E. Getzendanner, New Windsor; Mrs. George M. Parke, Misses Anna E. Shriver, Mollie L. Shriver, Lottie Moore, Maggie Baumgartner, Pauline Trumbo, Mary Thayer, Mamie Irwin, Julia S. McKellip, Maggie Huber, Lizzie Irwin, Miss Joe Mathias, Messrs. N. H. Baumgartner, Will E. Everhart, John F. Miller, Frank Z. Miller, Charles E. Hering, George Brown, George F. Parke, John M. Roberts, Charles V. Dugan, William D. Reese, Westminster.

Personal.

Mrs. Shepherd Wood, of the vicinity of Union Bridge, visited friends in this city on Monday last.

Messrs. George W. Stoner, Jr., and Richard Gephart, of Baltimore, spent Saturday and Sunday last in this city and vicinity, and attended the consecration services at Krider's Reformed Church.

Mrs. Dr. M. L. Bott, of this city, returned from her Southern trip on Tuesday and realized a striking change in climate and temperature. She enjoyed her visit very greatly and speaks with enthusiasm of the hospitality of the Southern people, which is unbounded and unsurpassed.

Major James P. Lowell, general agent of the Waynesboro', Pa., Land Improvement Company, was in this city on Wednesday and visited a number of his old friends, calling at the SENTINEL office during the day. Major Lowell was, prior to the war, a citizen of Westminster. He was orderly sergeant of the Carroll Guards, a volunteer military organization, and enlisted the first 16 men who entered the Union service from this city, as members of Col. Wm. P. Maulsby's regiment.

Bird Hill Items.

Some fair sized porkers have been slaughtered in this neighborhood. Mr. A. T. Buckingham killed five that weighed upwards of 1,200, and Mr. Wm. P. Baker four, the weight of which was about 1,000.

Mr. A. T. Buckingham has raised a very large barrack on his Pool farm. Mr. Levi Grizzell is the contractor and will soon have it completed. Mr. Wm. Miller also raised a barrack, 24 by 44 feet, on his farm, last Tuesday. Reed Barnes is the builder.

Mr. Elias Ogg, our worthy blacksmith, did a little hunting on Thanksgiving day and with seven shots bagged three pheasants and four rabbits.

The Deer Park Chapel Sunday School is preparing for its Christmas entertainment to be given during Christmas week.

The corn crop in this locality is about all housed, but there is still a good deal of fodder in the fields, with every indication of winter weather at hand.

Church Dedication.

A most interesting event to many persons was the consecration, on Sunday last, of the new Benjamin's or Krider's Reformed Church, near this city. The services were held at 10 o'clock, A. M., and were largely attended, it being estimated that about a thousand persons were present, of whom several hundred were unable to gain an entrance to the auditorium, and stood without while the exercises were in progress. The SENTINEL has heretofore given an outline of the history of the Krider Church, which for a century and a quarter, was the joint property and place of worship of congregations of the Reformed and Lutheran Churches, and the summary need not be repeated here. The joint place of worship having been damaged by a storm to such an extent that a new edifice became necessary, the congregations determined to dissolve their union and each build a Church. That of the Reformed congregation was first completed and its consecration, as stated, occurred on Sun[illegible] day last. The consecr[illegible] delivered by Rev. Isaac N. Motter, of Waynesboro, Pa., who selected as its basis the account of the dedication of King Solomon's Temple, as recorded in the First Book of Kings, 8th chapter. The consecration service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Calvin S. Slagle. Other ministers present and participating in the exercises were: Rev. John G. Noss, paster of the Reformed Church of Silver Run; Rev. N. J. Miller, pastor of the Reformed Church of Manchester; Rev. J. U. Asper, pastor of the Krider Lutheran Church, and Rev. J. T. Ward, D. D., President of Westminster Theological Seminary. The singing was led by the choir of St. Paul's Reformed Church, of this city, under the direction of Prof. Bailey Morelock; Prof. John Royer, organist; Mr. Philip Fowler, cornetist; Miss A. Maria Mikesell, leading soprano. The ushers were: Messrs. Jesse Sullivan, James Stoner, Jacob Shafer, Abram Shafer, and the collection committee, Messrs. Lewis Wantz, Josiah Crowl, Jesse Sullivan, Abram Shafer, Elmer Hoppe, Jacob Shafer, Josephus Bankard. The subscriptions and collection on the occasion amounted to upwards of $700, leaving a small debt yet unprovided for. The building is 55 by 35 feet, with a recess 12 by 6 feet, and a steeple 70 feet in height. It was designed by the pastor, Rev. C. S. Slagle, and the builder, Mr. Joshua Ditman. Its style is Gothic, and it is, altogether, a very handsome structure. It is built of brick, with Indiana limestone trimmings, slate roof, and yellow pine ceiling. The furniture in the chancel—altar, pulpit, reading desk, and baptismal font—is of walnut, and the pews birch, with walnut trimmings. The Apostles' Creed and Lord's Prayer are on panels to the right and left of the recess. Over the recess are the words: "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, to-day and forever;" within the recess the words: "The word was made flesh and dwelt among us." On the windows, which are memorial, are the commandments, and the following names: Lewis and Mrs. Elizabeth Shafer, Joseph and Mrs. Isadore Hoppe, Rev. Calvin S. Slagle, Josiah and Mrs. Susanna Crowl, John W. and Mrs. Barbara Lucabaugh, Laura M. Shade, Lizzie K. Wantz, Mrs. Clara B. Baile, Jesse and Mrs. Amelia Sullivan, George W. and Mrs. Margaret Hull. The Bible, Order of Worship and Hymn Book were presented by the Benevolent and Aid Society of St. Paul's Reformed Church, of this city. The bricks for the structure were furnished by Messrs. Eberhart Brothers, of the vicinity of this city, and the painting was done by Mr. Samuel V. Bankert, the inside in oil, from designs made by himself. The corner-stone was laid June 8th, 1890, and the structure has been completed at a total cost of $4080.72, including furniture and fixtures. The building committee, Messrs. Josiah Crowl, Jacob Shafer and Abram Shafer, are to be congratulated on the highly successful termination of the work; and pastor and people on the possession of this attractive and comfortable place of worship.

Funeral of Mr. John R. Cox.

The funeral of Mr. John R. Cox, whose death occurred at his residence, 1221 Madison avenue, Baltimore, on Wednesday, 26th ult., took place on Saturday last, and was conducted according to the custom of the society of Friends. Mrs. Emily Canby and Mrs. Sarah J. Dare made addresses. The pall-bearers were Percy Russell, Milton G. Urner, Edwin Hewes, F. Emerson Lamb, E. Thomas Reinhart and Thompson P. Perine. The remains were buried in the Friend's Cemetery, Harford road. Mr. Cox was born October 17th, 1817, at Union Bridge, where, throughout his life, spent chiefly in Baltimore, he was a frequent visitor. He married a Miss Lamb, of Baltimore, who survives him. He was prominent in business affairs in the city of his adoption, for a period of nearly half a century. He was deeply interested in the welfare of his fellow-men, and contributed both privately and in connection with public organizations, with which he was associated, to the mitigation of the sorrows and distresses of the afflicted. He was an ardent union man and, though not a politician, was called by the Republican party to honorable positions as a candidate, at one time having been nominated, without solicitation, for a seat in Congress.

Hampstead Items.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, November 27th, 28th and 29th, the members of the I. O. R. M. Lodge, of this place, held their annual and oyster supper, realizing about $40.

Last week a large bald eagle made its appearance on the farm of Mr. Conrad Nagle, of Hampstead. Its wing had been injured, which enabled Mr. Nagle's son to secure it, but in doing so he had his hand badly lacerated by the bird's talons. The eagle is still alive, and in possession of Mr. Ephraim Baker, of near Manchester. This is the second bird of this kind that has been seen in these parts, one having been shot by Mr. Watson Tracy, of Union Chapel.

Thanksgiving services were duly observed in the M. E. Church, of this place, a larger congregation attending than in previous years. This day is evidently growing in favor as a religious festival.

Hampstead circuit voted against the admission of women to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The vote taken, however, was small, the greater porton of the membership refraining from taking part in the election.

Reported for the SENTINEL.

Dedication Day.

The Reformed Church at Taneytown will be dedicated on Sunday, December 7th. Among the ministers who are expected to be present are Rev. C. V. Heilman, of Alexandria, Pa., and Rev. D. N. Dittmar, of Littlestown, Pa. Rev. Mr. Heilman will preach the dedicatory sermon.

This event will be an epoch in the history of this congregation. It will be a pleasure for this people, when they look back over the last year, which has been one of hard and earnest labor, to know that their work is completed and that they have a building that is an expression of their love for the Church of Christ, and can set it apart as a house of God, feeling that they were not the least but the greatest efforts they made in this direction.

The congregation will ever look with gratitude to the great head [illegible] the Church for [illegible] blessings during th[illegible] year. The wo[illegible] progressed with as little inter[illegible]tion as could be expected. The members and friends of the congregation labored together in harmony and extreme earnestness. Among the first and the best donation to the Church is the ponderous bell that will, for the first time on Sunday morning, call the worshipers together into their new building. This bell sends forth its deep notes on the 27th birthday of the donor. May it, as it swings in that beautiful tower, ring out not only happy birthdays but many days of comfort and blessedness for him. And when his earthly labors shall close may he enter into the world on high, leaving a record of his earthly life full of good and noble deeds. Longer than his years will be, may that bell ring out the praises of his work. This donor is Mr. W. Jesse Roberts. He is a young man, but his deeds of charity have been many, and he has the good wishes of his many friends. The congregation to whom he donated this bell is very proud of it and feel that he has given them a far better one than they could have otherwise provided. Resolutions of thanks will be read on Sunday for this gift and also for others of which the congregation was made the grateful recipient.

Greenville Items.

We had a little snow on Monday. It began about dinner and continued until night.

The roads, which until this week were in splendid condition, have become a little rough.

Mr. Worthington Fringer's little daughter, about six years old, fell, last Thursday, and fractured her arm. Dr. C. Birnie attended and adjusted the fracture. She is a bright little girl and don't like to miss her attendance at school, of which she is very fond.

Mr. Joseph Reaver's little two-year-old son was badly scalded by some one spilling hot coffee over him.

The neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Forsythe gave them a wonderful surprise party last week. About twenty-seven persons were in the party and they carried with them upwards of sixty presents, among which were clothing, groceries, flour, bread, rolls, meat and everything that could be thought of for the confort of the astonished pair. The recipients expressed their grateful acknowledgement of the kindness shown them. Mrs. Forsythe is quite delicate and Mr. Forsythe had a severe spell of sickness last winter.

Many persons in this community are suffering with colds.

Taneytown Items.

Mr. J. P. Gardner has opened a green grocery and provision store in the basement of the Eckenrode building.

Mr. James Buffington has lost a valuable cow from bloating.

Union Thanksgiving services were held in the lecture room of the Reformed Church. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Geo. W. McSherry, of the Lutheran Church.

Last Thursday, 27th ult., Mrs. S. Fink died very suddenly from the bursting of a blood vessel. Her remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery on Saturday morning, at 10 o'clock.

The oyster supper held by the P. O. S. of A., last week, was well patronized. The net receipts were $145.29. On Thursday at 1 o'clock the street parade took place, headed by the Harney Cornet Band. A delegation from camp 386, Littlestown, Pa., the Taneytown Band, and the Taneytown camp participated in the demonstration. They paraded through all the streets and returned to the hall, where an address of welcome was delivered by P. B. Englar, which was responded to by Mr. C. Rebbert, of Littlestown, Pa. All then united in singing America. The members all feel happy over the grand success of the occasion. The camp was instituted on the 23d day of last July, with 27 members, and now has a membership of 47, a hall furnished and a good sound treasury. It bids fair to reach a membership of over one hundred before it shall have been a year in existence. May the patriotic spirit that has been planted in this order continue to grow until every true American in and around Taneytown has enrolled his name as a member of the order.
