COMMISSIONERS MEET AT ANNAPOLIS

Discuss Roads and Assessment

The Commissioners of Kent County met Friday with commissioners from the other counties of the Eastern and Western Shores for the purpose of discussing certain Legislative problems that will probably come before the Maryland Legislature.

Although the meeting had not adjourned at the time of going to press, the question of the maintenance of County roads was scheduled to be one of the principal topics of discussion and is particularly pertinent at this time because unless the present bill of road maintenance is renacted at this session it will expire September 1st of this year.

With the exception of four counties the secondary roads of the State are maintained by the State Roads Commission out of funds from the gasoline tax. While the original bill was passed for only a two year duration it has been continued at each Legislative session. The commissioners of Kent County have been in the minority in past years among those who favored the continuation of this road plan. The majority have favored a plan whereby the State would turn over to the counties their share of secondary road maintenance fund to the counties and each county would then maintain its own road system. The Commissioners of Kent have opposed the return of the roads to the counties based on the fact that all new road working equipment would have to be purchased and the present plan of road maintenance has proved most economical from the standpoint of county expenditure. The State Roads Commission maintains that it is more efficient for them to work the entire road system because it does not necessitate dual equipment and personel.

Other discussions scheduled for the meeting are new assessment and the increase of road fund appropriation to incorporated towns. A new assessment has been postponed from year to year due to the cost to the Counties of making this assessment. While the present assessment was made at a time when real estate values were high, students of government maintain that a lower assessment would mean an increased tax rate which would have practically no effect on the amount of taxes paid. The proposal to increase the appropriation to towns for maintenance of town streets is the result of activities of a newly organized group of Mayors who are advocating the plan.

Those who attended the meeting from Kent County were the three Commissionrs, Messrs. G. Ellsworth Leary, Andrew W. Wilson and George Williams. County Treasurer, Walter T. Morris also attended.

Shore To Get Share Of W. P. A. Funds

Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough has been in constant touch with the offices of Harry L. Hopkins and Secretary Ickes concerning relief problems and W. P. A. and P. W. A., projects in the State, especially with reference to the nine counties of the Eastern Shore of Maryland. Mr. Goldsborough has been assured that Maryland will receive every possible consideration and its full quota of relief aid and allotments for W. P. A. and P. W. A. projects. Mayor Jackson, of Baltimore, and Mayor Koons, of Cumberland, were in Washington last Tuesday about allotments for Baltimore and Cumberland, and were reassured that these cities would be taken care of along with the rest of the State.

HEARING SET FOR ROCK HALL HARBOR DEEPENING PLAN

Improvement Of Great Interest In Lower Part Of County

Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough has arranged for a hearing to be held before the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors on the proposed improvement of Rock Hall Harbor, Kent County, Maryland at 3:30 P. M., February 16, 1937, in Room 2848 Munitions Building, Washington, D. C.

The Rock Hall improvement plan which is under consideration includes the deepening of the channel, erection of breakwaters and the dredging for a yacht basin inside the harbor.

Roc kHall harbor has been of importance to shipping in the upper part of Chesapeake Bay since the early packet days when much of the travel between Washington and Philadelphia used the packet route from Annapolis to that Kent County town. Since that time the harbor has been gradually filling in until at the present time only skillful navigators can bring large boats to Rock Hall.

In addition to the aid to commercial shipping, the improvement would make an ideal haven for yachts which would be of untold advantage to the business interests of Rcok Hall. Located near the best hook and line fishing grounds in the upper bay and also opening direct into the broad waters of the upper bay. Rock Hall promises to be a boat haven if the harbor improvement plan goes through.

It is understood that the Army Engineers have approved the project but there is a question among the residents of Rock Hall as to the location of the basin. The basin as shown in the plans was selected by the engineers so as not to interfere with traffic in and out of the harbor and it is hoped that nothing will interfer with the project going through. A dissension at the meeting on the 16th may interfere with completion of the work.

JUDGE KNOTTS TO SPEAK AT ANNUAL FIREMEN BANQUET

Public Invited To Annual Affair Feb. 18 At Armory

Judge Owen Knotts will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company which will be held in the Chestertown Armory Thursday evening, February 18th. Although the program is not complete, Mr. W. L. Fowler will act as toastmaster and there will be a number of short addresses.

The banquet is the annual getting together of the various departments of the fire company, the Active Men, the Ladies Auxiliary, the Associate Members and the public. The affair is a social get-together and is in no way money-making. The price of the ticket is the same as that paid the organization for the supper. It is, however, the desire of the fire company to have as large a representation from the commuunity as possible and tickets to the bnaquet may be secured at the store of Mr. A. L. Sparks in Chestertown. The committee requests that tickets be secured as soon as possible so that ample provision may be made.

WIDER HIGHWAYS CONSTRUCTION

New Roads To Be 22 Feet

Two-lane roads built under the present State Roads Commission in future wil be 22 feet wide, instead of 20, according to an announcement made at the office of the Commission yesterday. An additional margin of safety was given as the principal objective in the change of specifications.

Pointing to the large number of head-on collisons, side-swipes and collisons with fixed objects off the road, the Commission's statement held that these accidents are a clear indictment of too-narrow roads. Recrods of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles show that of 13 fatal accidents in November, eight were head-on collisons, two were sideswipes and six were caused by cars striking fixed objects.

"Nationally recognized formulae call for two-lane roads where traffic volumes average 1,000 or more vehicles a day", said the announcement. "They call for more than two lanes where volumes are in excess of 4,000 cars a day on an average.

"There are few of Maryland's primary roads which carry fewer than 4,000 cars a day, yet we have only a few miles of highways of more than two lnaes. Many of our primary highways are but 18 feet wide, and there are some that are only 16 feet wide.

"It is hoped that the State may be able to widen its major traffic arteries to fit them to the traffic they carry, but meanwhile, where it is necessary to build two-lane roads, they will be 22 feet wide. Thus it is hoped that we will be able to provide an additional margin of safety and convenience."

William Smith Writes Of Flood

Mr. William T. Smith, of Louisville, in a letter to his mother, Mrs. Bell Smith, of Chestertown, pictured the flood in that city as being worse than has been previously described. He stated that the water did not reach his home nor his office, the lattr being located on the fifth floor of a down-town office building, but that business is at a standstill, and the business men of that city are devoting their time to aiding in health work, locating separated families and assisting engineers in preventing further destruction. The property destruction is beyond any estimate and the distress, particularly among the poorer people of the city is appalling. He told of children being unable to locate their parents and the separation of members of families.

KENT FARM BUREAU BANQUET TUESDAY

H. C. Byrd To Be Guest Speaker

SCOUT WEEK TO START TOMORROW

Court Of Honor For County Troops

This week we salute the Boy Scouts of Kent County who are joining with all other Scouts in the United States during the week of Feb. 7th to 14th in celebrating the 27th Anniversary of Scouting in this country. A recent report shows a total of 99 Scouts in 6 Troops in Chestertown, Betterton-Still Pond, Rock Hall, Kennedyville, Millington and Galena. This represents a growth of from two to six Troops and from 43 to 99 Scouts during 1936.

Under the guidance of their loyal and unselfish Scout Leaders these boys are enjoying the benefits of this fine program and are availing themselves of the many worth-while activities such as hiking, camping, craft work, first aid, mapping that Scouting has to offer.

In November the Kent County Scouts joined with Washington College in serving as hosts to some 700 Scouts and Leaders of the Peninsula at a College Scout Day and Court of Honor on the occasion of the Washington College-University of Delaware Football game. Four Chestertwon Scouts were awarded the highest rank in Scouting, that of Eagle Scout at this Court of Honor.

Dr. Gilbert W. Mead, President of Washington College, is chairman of a Scout Committee which promotes and supervises the Scouting activities through-out the county.

This program, an outstanding feature of National Boy Scout Week, will combine the Court of Honor with a Scouting Exposition. In addition to awards to individual troop members who have qualified for advancement, there will be demonstrations presented by the different troops of Kent County. Demonstrations, troops presenting, and scoutmasters are as follow:

Kennedyville Troop, Setting Up Exercises, James Kirby, Scoutmaster.

Galena, Stretcher Drill, Dr. J. Earl Gilfillan, Scoutmaster.

Millington Troop, An Electric Shock Rescue Artificial Respiration, John Hopkins, Scoutmaster.

Rock Hall Troop, First Aid Bandaging, Rev. T. C. Louhoff, Scoutmaster.

Still Pond Troop, Good Turn Pantomine, Ned Hepburn, Scoutmaster.

Chestertown Troop, Rope and Knot Demonstration, Harry R. Poole, Scout master.

Parents and friends of Boy Scout work are urged to attend this meet. Tickets for admission can be secured without charge from the members of the different boy scout troops of the county.

The annual Budget appeal for the Boy Scouts will be made during next week, February 8 to 15th throughout Kent County under the direction of the County Boy Scout Committee of which A. S. Turner of Chestertown is the Finance Chairman. This opportunity to support the splendid work of the Boy Scouts is presented annually and the money contributed goes to provide such service as camping at the Rodney Scout Camps during the summr, training courses for Scout Leaders and committeemen, supplies and assistance for the organization of new Scout Troops, special Scout activities such as Courts of Honor, Washington College Scout Day, etc.

The worth of the Scout organization is being amply proven during this period of disaster in which the Scouts are working valiantly, not only in the flood territory but in the other parts of the United States in helping the Red Cross in the collection of clothing and other supplies. Many Scout Troops have even made donations from their meager Troop funds to aid this work.

According to the report of Stanley M. Woodhead, Scout Field Executive for the Upper Peninsula counties of the Delmarva Scout Council, the past year has shown an increase of 130 per cent from 43 to 99 Scouts in Kent County with new Scout Troops organized in Kennedyville, Rock Hall, Millington and Galena. A gain of 40 per cent is shown in the counties under the direction of Mr. Woodhead which includes Kent and Lower New Castle counties in Delaware, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne, Caroline and Talbot counties on the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

This Annual budget appeal is being made among the friends of Scouting in all Communities with Scout Troops in the county and the local Chairman in charge are as follows: Chestertown, A. S. Turner; Rock Hall, John Harmon; Betterton, Still Pond, Baynard Harper; Galena, R. R. Pennington; Kennedyville, Robert R. Hill and Millington, C. S. Church.

Accepts Position At Annapolis

Mr. William Lewis, of Fairlee, has been made door keeper at the State House for the remainder of the Legislative session. He left this week to assume his new duties.

Tickets for the annual banquet of the Chestertown Fire Company may be secured at the store of Mr. A. L. Sparks. All planning to attend are requested to get their tickets as soon as possible.

MD. LEGISLATURE BUSY ON BUDGET

Part Of Pay Cut To Be Restored

Activities at the Maryland Legislature are practically confined to straightening out the intricacies of the Governors budget.

At the last session of the Legislature the appropriation to all of the various governmental departments were cut and a cushion fund set aside for the purpose of assisting any of thes departments in case they could not possibly operate on their curtailed budget. It appears that this cushion fund has been used, practically in its entiritly to increase salary of officials and create new officials.

The problem of finding funds to finance the various departments of the State is proving quite a problem to the finance committees of both houses. The Governor's green bag only has one important change according to information released this week, that is the appointment of Elmer F. Munshower as Commander of the Maryland State Police to succeed Enoch B. Geary. Mr. Munshower is Lieutenant-Colonel in the First Regiment of the Maryland National Guard.

According to a statement this week by Senator Arthur Brice, he is working on a plan to settle the controversey between the County Commissioners of Kent County and the State Roads Commission as to the reported $200,000 indebetedness which the State claims this County owes. He is working with Legislators from other counties who are reported to be in the red in an effort to straighten the matter out.

Indications at Annapolis are that efforts are being made to restore another twenty-five percent of the cut affecting State employees, including school teachers. This would make a total restoration of fifty per cent of the original cut.

The sentiment at Annapolis seems to be in favor of a new State-wide assessment although Legislators from Queen Anne's and Cecil Counties have requested that their counties be exempt from the new assessment.

Following the supper the Club will release one or two coons and each member will be entitled to bring a dog for the chase.

This club has released a large number of coons in the past three years and are planning to spend $200 in March for the purchase of coons to be liberated for restocking purposes. Through the aetivities of the club there has been a material increase in the number of coons in this section.

To Move County Offices

The offices of the Clerk of the Court and Register of Wills are being moved to the old postoffice building during the remodeling of the Court House. These two offices are the last to move out as they are in the front part of the building. The offices of the County Commissioners and Treasurer were moved some time ago to the Magistrate Court building.
