WITH JULY THE FOURTH near at hand and the usual use of fire works, warnings have been sent out by the various health departments and other safety agencies urging safety measures. Efforts are also being made to prevent the sale of fireworks and many municipalities have laws preventing their use in the city limits. Each year the injury toll is heavy and every precaution should be used to prevent burns which so often prove serious. Even with the utmost care there is always the possibility of imperfection in the manufacture of rockets, etc., which have caused the loss of eyes and limbs. A careful supervision by adults in the use of fire works can help reduce the annual toll of injuries. This does not mean that there should be a lack of celebration or that the use of fireworks should be abandoned as this year as never before should we be proud of our country and our form of government when we compare it with the unsettled conditions in other countries. Lets make it a glorious 4th of July by using safe and sane methods.

COMMUNICATED

To the Editors of the Transcript:

Dear Sir:

In reading your editorial of June 26th as to the effect of relief upon agriculture, I would like to say your statements were true as far as they went, but would like to add a little experience of another man and myself. Last Thursday, June 24th, having a couple days in which we could not work on the W. P. A. project where we were engaged, we thought we could make a little money to help our families and also the farmers whom we heard were so short of help. My partner and myself a-rose at five o'clock, ate our breakfast at home. He put gas in his car and we started out. We got four hours work shocking wheat for which the gentleman paid us, but he was through and had no more for us to do. We spent the rest of the day going from farm to farm but every one told us they had plenty of help. After eating our lunch, we returned home. My friend actually profitted about 17 cents for the day, meanwhile boarding himself.

I would also like to know where those farmers are located who need so much help.

Respectfully yours,
W. P. A. Worker.
