A particularly noticeable and gratifying feature of the occasion was the presence of a large number of young men, who listened with interest to the graphic descriptions of rum's ravages given by the gifted lecturer. Mr. Carswell was evidently not at his best and explained that he was wearied and feeble, but those who heard his address were well repaid for coming out in the inclement weather.

Society Meeting and Entertainment.

The regular monthly meeting of the Benevolent and Aid Society of St. Paul's Reformed Church of this city was held, on Monday evening last, at the residence of Mrs. Mary Bowers, East Main street, and, notwithstanding the inclement weather, was largely attended. After a vocal solo by Miss A. M. Mikesell, a reading by Rev. C. S. Slagle, and the transaction of the business of the society, those present were requested to repair to Bowers' Hall, where they were highly entertained with a unique and interesting exhibition. When the curtains of the stage were drawn aside a scene, entitled "A night on de ole Plantation," was exhibited, the characters in which were admirably represented by a double quartette of ladies and gentlemen, who rendered the play, interspersed with attractive negro songs and melodies, in a very satisfactory manner. Then followed a series of beautiful tableaux, including "The Guardian Angel," "Death of Cleopatra," "Grandma's Advice," and "The Church Aid Society when it grows old," all of which were presented in an admirable manner, to the manifest delight of the audience.

Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Gorsuch, of this city, gave their daughter, Miss Helen, a delightful party, on the occasion of her birthday, on Friday evening of last week, at their residence, West Main street. The commodious and handsome dwelling was beautifully decorated with plants and flowers and brilliant in every part with incandescent electric lights. Just such refreshments as pleased the taste and gratified the palates of the young misses and masters who made up the party, were served in admirable style and in lavish abundance and were heartily enjoyed by the company. A more agreeable and interesting gathering of this character is rarely seen. At a reasonable hour the happy participants retired to their homes thoroughly pleased with the kindness and generous hospitality of their entertainers. Those present were Misses Maggie Reese, Katie Thomas, Georgia Buckingham, Florence Miller, Mary Light, Clara Lewis, Jewell Simpson, Cora Schaeffer, Irene Woodward, Edna Schaeffer, May Bruce Smith, Carrie Brown, Julia Wells, Myrle Royer, Eva Herr, Janie Woodward, Ossie Stitely, Norma Gilbert, Nettie Shreeve, Clara Bankert, Myrle Malehorn, Testie Buckingham, Cora Miller, Maud Miller, Helen Crouse, Florence Butler, Abbie Whitmore, Florence Light, Carrie Gehr, Agnes Gorsuch, Helen Gorsuch, May Weaver, Masters Paul Reese, Arnold Kleff, Jr., Frank Thomas, Claude Smith, Frank Butler, Harry Gorsuch, Jesse Stephan, Tom Anders, Herbert Trumbo, Irwin Miller, Lewis Woodward, Frank Diffendall, Denton Gehr, Emory Buckingham, Charles Mitten, J. The Taylor Manufacturing Company Fails.

The Taylor Manufacturing Company of Chambersburg, Pa., has repeated its Westminster experience by a disastrous failure. It is reported that the entire stock of $250,000 will be entirely wiped out. Including a mortgage of $100,000, placed on the plant a year ago to secure the floating debt, the company is said to owe $650,000. Some of the directors who made themselves individually liable by endorsing the paper of the company will, it is believed, suffer serious losses, although they may have been shrewd enough to protect themselves. The amount of these endorsements, it is said, will reach $75,000. Judgments to the amount of $17,000 have been obtained against one of them, and execution issued. The concern owes about $20,000 to its employes, who are taking steps to secure the sums due them. The ill-fated enterprise seems doomed to disaster wherever located. Its Westminster history is too well known to need repetition. Those who projected its removal to Chambersburg believed they were able to prevent a similar occurrence there, but the reports concerning the failure seem to indicate that they were sadly and wofully mistaken. As numbers of those in the employ of the company were former citizens of Westminster and still, in a measure, regard this as their home, having relatives and strong family and social ties here, much interest and anxiety is felt in this community concerning the collapse of the company.

The appointment of a receiver and the reorganization and continuance of the company is predicted from local sources, but it is impossible, as yet, to make safe or certain calculations as to the ultimate outcome. It is certainly to be most earnestly desired that these predictions shall be verified, and that the employes will neither sustain loss of wages or of employment.

Death of Mrs. Eleanora Haines.

Mrs. Eleanora Haines, consort of the late John Haines, died at Riverton, New Jersey, on the 3rd inst., after a lingering illness, aged 83 years. Mrs. Haines was the daughter of the late Capt. Wm. P. Farquhar, and was born at Union Bridge, January 25th, 1808, and was married at the Friends' Meeting House, Pipe Creek, after which her husband took her West and they settled at Richmond, Indiana, where she resided until 23 years ago, when she went to New Jersey and made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Lippincott. She was a devoted wife and mother, and though she passed through deep sorrow in the loss of her husband and children, she bore her bereavement with Christian fortitude. She combined such force of character with gentle tenderness of heart that she was dearly loved by all. She leaves a daughter and two sons, and several grand children, nieces and nephews, among whom is Mr. Jos. L. Haines, of the vicinity of Linwood, this county. She was buried at the Friends' Meeting House Westfield, New Jersey.

Owing to the severity of the weather and the return of many teachers to their homes, immediately after the adjournment of the Institute on Friday night, President Hess call for a meeting of the Carroll County Teachers' Association, on Saturday morning, was answered by twenty teachers only. The by-laws of the Association requiring a quorum for the transaction of business of not less than twenty-five members, an informal meeting was held and views on the teaching of mathematics exchanged by those present. After an hour's pleasant conversation the meeting closed.

Birthday Party.

The home of Mr. David Miller, near Unionville, was the scene of one of the most pleasant events of the season on Thursday night, February 5th. It was a birthday party given in honor of Mr. Miller's son Grant, who has just passed the twenty-first milestone on life's pathway and who is now a full fledged voter of Uncle Sam. In the early evening the guests began to arrive and soon the house was filled with the youth and beauty of the country for miles around. The evening was delightfully spent in music, conversation and social games. The hours flew rapidly and soon we were invited to the dining room, where a table was spread with all the danties of the season. Mrs. Miller and daughters are noted for their hospitality, but this surpassed all former efforts and their kindness was appreciated by every one present, judging by the way the viands disappeared. The time soon arrived for parting and the memory of this pleasant evening will last for years perhaps in the minds of those present. Mr. Grant Miller received many handsome presents, both useful and ornamental, on the occasion. Among those present were Messrs. Roland B. Hanna, Charles Dugan, Miss Alice Hanna, Hedgesville, W. Hampstead Items.

Last Sunday week, at the Mt. Tabor appointment M. E. Church, the pastor, Rev. T. Marshall West, had a most agreeable surprise. While earnestly engaged in conversing with several of the brethren in reference to matters pertaining to the interests of the Church, he was approached by Mr. G. M. Fultz, who, on behalf of the congregation, presented to the reverend gentleman a beautiful pair of gold eye-glasses. It is said that Mr. Fultz, though a brave ex-union soldier, was not a little nervous during the presentation speech, and that the flow of words was cut short by his heart usurping the place of his tongue. This is not strange. As is often said, "The brave are tender." Mr. West bears the reputation of being a ready speaker and well able to meet the demands of almost any emergency, but on the occasion referred to it took him several moments to recover from his surprise and regain his self possession so as to acknowledge, in fitting words, this expression of his people's regard. We congratulate the pastor, and say to the people: "Well and handsomely done."

A successful revival has been in progress in the Lutheran Church at Trenton, Baltimore county, for the last five weeks. The services have been conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. J. Derr. The indications are that a number of our young people are tired of the life of single blessedness and will put on the hymeneal yoke in the near future.

One of our young men has captured a quadruped of the species procyon lotor, otherwise a raccoon, which he is domesticating. It is not the black carnivorous coon of Texas. It feeds on corn bread of which it is very fond, i. e. when it is well sugared. When a youth the captor of this animal was fond of hunting game, but now he has other attractions, and will hie away for miles to rest his vision upon a charming pair of down cast eyes.

Great Revival in Uniontown.

The Church of God in Uniontown, under the pastoral care of Rev. G. W. Seilhamer, is enjoying a very soul-refreshing season of the presence of the Lord. In November a revival service was held which resulted in the conversion of 12 souls. On the evening of February 1st, at the regular service, after a very impressive sermon the pastor gave the invitation to any who desired to seek the Lord. Five young men came forward and presented themselves for prayer. The meeting has increased in interest ever since. For many years there has not been such an awakening among the young people. Many of the converts are very promising young men. To this date 25 have been converted. The Lord is truly at work among his people and we yet look for a greater outpouring of His Spirit. The entire Church are very much interested in the work. Notwithstanding the bad roads the meetings have all been well attended. A. CITIZEN.

Mrs. Samuel Repp died quite unexpectedly, on Sunday evening last, at her home in this place, at an advanced age. Her death was the result of a rather singular cause. She had suffered for some years from a corn on her great toe, which produced blood poisoning. She was a member of the German Baptist Church and her remains were interred at Beaverdam burying ground on Tuesday, Elder Ephraim W. Stoner officiating. The funeral was largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased. Her husband and a large family of grown children survive her.

A lively time occurred here on Tuesday last, the occasion having been a fox chase and wheeling match gotten up by Mr. John Six. A number of hunters from this vicinity and Frederick county participated in the chase.

Rev. D. A. Souders, of the Reformed Church, of this city, has accepted a call to a church at Irwin, Westmoreland county, Pa., and will enter upon his new field of labor about the 1st of April.

On February 6th the Farmers' Club was called to order by the President. After the usual business was transacted an election of officers took place with the following result: E. T. Snader, President; Charles H. Roop, Vice-President; S. P. Engler, Secretary; C. E. Carlisle, Assistant Secretary; A. P. Snader, Treasurer; J. H. Roop, Purchasing Agent. On motion adjourned to meet Friday, March 6th, 1891.

On the same evening there was a select pound party at the residence of Mr. Marshall Nusbaum, near Oak Orchard. Despite the muddy roads and the dark, misty night but few of the invited were absent. Those who were courageous enough to brave the elements were amply repaid by the kindness and hospitality with which they were received. The evening was spent in social conversation, the light fantastic toe, party plays, parlor games, vocal and instrumental music. At an appropriate hour the guests were invited to the dining room, where a table was spread laden with everything tempting to the appetite, of which every one partook with hearty good will. The guests reluctantly departed to their respective homes, having spent an evening to be long remembered. The following ladies and gentlemen were present: Misses Anna Cover, Eva Englar, Mollie Lindsay, Effie Devilbiss, Florence Nusbaum, May Devilbiss, Ida Snader, Florence Englar, Ollie Snader, Meade Richardson, Carrie Smith, Emma Engler, Messrs. Grant Devilbiss, Howard Ensor, Jesse Myers, Edwin Barnes, Leslie Smelser, Walter Getty, Nimrod Bennett, Samuel Engler, John Norris, Mack Buhrman, Lewis Stouffer, Earl Carlisle, Marshall Devilbiss, Robert Robinson, Charles Nelson, Walter Barnes, Carville Nicodemus.

The first marriage performed in Greenwood's Union Church, about one mile from this place, was solemnized before a crowded house, on last Wednesday evening at 7.30. The contracting parties were Mr. John W. Bixler, of Cranberry, and Miss Grace Crawmer, of near New Windsor. The bridal procession was lead by the ushers, Mr. Charles Crawmer, brother of the bride; and Mr. Philip Crawmer, cousin of the bride; followed by the bridesmaid and groomsman, Miss Madgie Beach and Mr. Denton Witter, of Cranberry, to the hymneal altar, to the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march, rendered by the trio of the New Windsor Glee Club, Mr. Howard Ensor, fife; Mr. Earl Carlisle, cornet, and Mr. John Norris, organist, where they were met by Rev. M. K. Cross, of New Windsor, who solemnized the ceremony in a very impressive manner.

The auction that has been going on during the winter months in Keysville of general merchandise kept by Mr. M. O. Myers, has come to a close for want of more goods. Prices realized were good. It was a matter much talked about by the citizens of Keysville as to who would succeed Mr. Myers in the store; but conjecture was ended at the last auction sale, when Mr. George P. Ritter bought most of the store fixtures. Mr. Ritter is a son of Mr. Peter L. Ritter, and will no doubt make a good merchant. We wish him success in his undertaking.

Messrs. L. F. Miller & Sons purchased the Frick traction engine (15 horse power) that was sold last week by E. A. C. Buckey, as mortgagee of David Snyder, near Johnsville, Frederick county. The price paid was $230.00, certainly below value. They will use it to drive their hay press at this place.

Mr. Wm. H. Fox, who has been in the merchandizing business at Rocky Ridge, will sell off his stock of goods at public auction during the month of March, and having purchased the Josiah Dotterer farm, near there, will move on it April 1st. The farm contains 125 acres and was bought for $2500.00.

Wednesday afternoon, while Mr. Samuel Weybright, Sr., was helping his hand to unload a load of hay, he lost his balance and fell to the ground landing on his head and left shoulder, receiving a severe shock to his system, and bruising his head and shoulder. Those who saw him fall were sure he would break his neck.

The farm one mile from Keysville, owned by Mr. Samuel B. Fox, was sold on Wednesday last and was purchased by the mortgagee; 73 acres for $2215.67.

Death of Mr. Aaron Miller.

Mr. Aaron Miller, a worthy citizen of this county, died at his home at Miller's Station, on the 5th inst., aged 60 years, 5 months, 25 days. For some years Mr. Miller pursued the occupation of farming and also kept a store and conducted a huckster route. When the B. & H. R. R. was built he erected buildings at the station, which received his name, and became the railroad agent at that place and also followed merchandising, until a few years ago, when he was partially paralyzed. He was widely known and esteemed and had many friends. He was a member of the Odd Fellows' and Knights of Pythias Lodges of Manchester, and the burial services of these orders were performed at his funeral. He was a member of the United Brethren Church, the pastor of which, Rev. J. P. Anthony, officiated at his funeral, and delivered a sermon from Acts, xi 24: "He was a good man." The services were largely attended. Mr. Miller leaves a widow and six children, three sons and three daughters, Messrs. Isaiah, Theodore and Henry Miller, Mrs. Hare, Mrs. Reinaman and Mrs. Miller.
