CHURCH NOTES

RADIANT LIVING

Climbing or Soaring?

By Rev. C. M. Griffeth
Pastor Calvary M. E. Church
Sudlersville, Md.

They both came up out of the deep valley far below.

One was a man struggling up the precipitious side of the canyon. Here and there he found traces of a faint trail, but often it was a sheer upward climb from foothold to foothold. His fingers, worn to the bone, sought for another grip. With face gaunt and haggard he glanced anxiuosly to the rim yet high above him.

Suddenly from far below there sounded a cry. An eagle was rising from the depths. Like an arrow it shot past the struggling climber and soared above the topmost rim of the canyon wall and soon was lost to sight in the bright glow above.

Thus is the slow upward struggle of human reasoning surpassed by the ascending power of faith.

Following the uncertain trails left by other minds, the thinker torturously struggles upward over the jagged rocks of materialistic conceptions which block his way. But the man of faith, as with the wings of an eagle, soars past him to heights unattainable by the reasoner.

How true the words of the old Prophet Isaiah: "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint."

Let those climb who desire, but give me the wings of faith.

The wives and sweethearts of the class members were guests for the evening as were the college members of the Church School. There were about one hundred present and the evening was a delightful one for all as the class committee had planned a very interesting and helpful program. The Church School orchestra furnished the music while the group assembled for the supper, and after a very savory repast, instrumental and vocal numbers rfereshed the spirit of all followed by a very inspiring message from Dr. F. G. Livingood of Washington College. Dr. Wilbur Robinson, the class president, presided.

Spies During War

Paradoxically, the employment of spies during a war is held to be legitimate by all nations, but the spy himself is regarded as an outlaw, says Collier's Weekly.

Introduced White Willow Tree

Benjamin Franklin is believed to have introduced the first white willow tree to Pennsylvania from a sprout woven into a willow basket.

THOSE WHO REMAIN

When death visits a home, the first concern is to perform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. What ever is done must express all the reverance and affection that is felt at such a time. But in addition to this a further responsibilty rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen as far as lies with in his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain. By countless little acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to render sympathetic assistance to those who remain behind.

B. R. FELLOWS,
Funeral Director.
