GEO. E. SHARRER, P. M.

Mr J. H. Baltzley, of Chambersburg, Pa., formerly of this city, paid the SENTINEL office a visit a few days ago and left an advertisment announcing that he is engaged in making portraits in crayon, pastel and oil. Mr. Baltzley was employed in the shops of the Taylor maufacturing Company until the occurence of its recent troubles. He is a worthy and reliable gentleman.

Mr. Henry Dutterer, who was widely known and had many friends in this county, died at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Wm. Maus, near Maus's mill, on Friday, 6th inst. He was the father of a large family, of whom the following are living: Messrs. John and Reuben Dutterer, Miss Elizabeth Dutterer, of Adams county, Pa.; Mrs. Mossheim Bankert, of Waynesboro, Pa.; Mrs Mary Stephan, of this city, and Mrs. Wm. Maus. His funeral took place at Silver Run Church on Sunday last and was largely attended. Rev. Jno. G. Noss conducted the services and preached the funeral sermon.

The sale of the personal property of the late Joseph A. Hoppe, at his farm, near Finksburg, by his administratrix, Mrs. Emma M. Hoppe, Hon. Charles B. Roberts, attorney and agent, on Tuesday last, was one of the most successful ever known in this county. The attendance was estimated at 1,200 to 1,500 and the bidding was very spirited, almost everything bringing full value, and many things more than first cost. The sale was well advertised by handbills and in the SENTINEL and Advocate. The result indicates very clearly that newspaper advertising pays. Mr. R. Charles Matthews was the auctioneer.

A Linwood correspondent sends us a description of the marriage, on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, of Miss Stella Steinheiser, daughter of Mr. G. F. Steinheiser, and Mr. David H. Shetrone, all of Columbia, Pa. The ceremony took place at the bride's home, No. 567, Walnut street, Columbia, and was performed by Rev. O. H. Betts, of Philadelphia, a former pastor of the Church of God at Columbia. Miss Emma Goodman, of Lancaster, Pa., was bridesmaid, and Mr. George Shetrone, of York, Pa., groomsman. The wedding march was played by Miss Zorah Koch, of Columbia. The parlor was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The presents were numerous, beautiful and valuable. A large number of persons attended the wedding, among whom was Mrs. E. B. Garner, of Linwood. The bride is well known and very popular in Linwood and vicinity.

At the annual meeting of the members of the Mutual Fire Insurance Company in Baltimore County, the Carroll county directors chosen for the year were: Messrs. F. H. Orendorff, Joseph Englar, Wm. L. Richards. Mr. John J. Reese, of this city, was chairman of the annual committee for the examination of the affairs of the company. An excellent showing was made for the year past, the actual losses only amounting to $9,563.41. The total losses paid, including such as had previously accrued, amounted to $14,580,41. Of this amount the following sums were paid on Carroll county insurances: Wm. A. Bush, $15.00; A. T. Buckingham, 1,492.50; J. J. Crapster, $10; Farmers' & Mechanics' National Bank of Westminster, $75; Furry & Hull, $275; T. H. Eckenrode, $5; Alfred B. Myers, $100; Mrs. Martha J. Prugh, $1,240. The annual committee congratulated the company on its healthful condition. Mr. Francis Shriver, of this city, is Secretary and Treasurer of the company.

Death of Edwin L. Zahn.

Mr Edwin L. Zahn, a son of the late Henry Zahn, died quite suddenly, at his home on East Main street, this city, on Thursday morning last, aged 46 years, 4 months, 19 days. Mr. Zahn had been suffering with pulmonary disease for several years, and was seldom able to follow his occupation of shoemaking, but would sometimes insist on doing so to his manifest injury. He brought on a hemorrhage last week by sitting at the bench, and others followed, the last one causing his death. He leaves a widow and two small children, one of whom is afflicted in the limbs and is unable to walk. His widow is a daughter of Mr. George Leas. Several brothers and sisters survive him. He was a member of Salem Lodge No 60, I. O. O. F., of this city. Funeral services will be held at his late residence at one o'clock, P. M., tomorrow, Sunday.

Death of Mrs. Hornberger.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hornberger, wife of Mr. John E. Hornberger, died at her home on Liberty street, this city, at 10 o'clock, P. M., on Sunday last, after an illness of upwards of two months, aged 73 years, 14 days. Mrs. Hornberger was an estimable woman and was loved and respected by all who knew her. She was a member of the Lutheran Church from her girlhood, a period of more than 58 years. Her husband, six daughters, all married, and a number of grandchildren survive her. Funeral services were held in Grace Lutheran Church on Tuesday morning, the pastor, Rev. P. H. Miller, officiating and preaching the funeral sermon, after which the remains were interred at Krider's cemetery. The floral tributes from her children and grand-children were numerous and beautiful. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. David Fowble, Henry B. Grammer, James J. Koller, George Stouch, Peter Lingenfelter, Jacob F. Elgen.

To Improve the Washington Road.

A meeting of those interested in the improvement of the Washington road and other roads connected with it, was held at the store of Mr. Elias B. Arnold, Smallwood, on Tuesday evening last. About seventy-five persons were present and the determination to inaugurate the work was very strong. The organization of a stock company to macadamize the Washington road, for several miles below Westminster, and the road leading to Deer Park and Bird Hill, as far at least as the latter place, appeared to be regarded as the best plan of operations, and subscriptions for the purpose, to the amount of $3,325, were volunteered on the spot. A meeting of the committee herefofore appointed on the subject was called at Judge Bond's office in this city, yesterday, for the purpose of arranging for the opening of subscription books and the organization of the proposed company. A charter, covering at least a part of the projected improvement, was obtained several years ago.

Mr. Samuel B. Furry, postmaster at Silver Run, has resigned, and Mr. John N. Mark is recommended as his successor.

College Notes.

This is the last week that the classes have for reviewing their studies; next is the term examinations.

The base-ball team is now receiving special instruction in the gymnasium by the Director. The boys have received a challenge from Johns Hopkins University to play, April 11th.

Prof. H. G. Watson has gone to attend the M. E. Conference which meets at his home, Centerville, Md.

Miss Lottie Owings, preceptress of the college, delivered an interesting and instructive lecture last Thursday night, to the students, on the subject of "Botany."

Mr. Judefind, leader of the Glee Club, who was at home on account of illness, is now at his post again and looking well.

Mr. Payne, a student who fell on the ice about a week ago and broke his leg, was taken to the Maryland University Hospital in Baltimore, on Tuesday, to have the member amputated.

Last Friday's Sophomore recital consisted of the following: Misses Anderson, Boulden, Dale, Dorsey, Clift, Wilson, Whaley, and Messrs. Allen, Elgen, Galt, Wilson, Freeny, Watson and Whealton. "Swinging in the Grape Vine Swing" was the subject of a chorus rendered in excellent style.

Last Saturday night the Junior class gave a banquet to the Seniors. The affair was all that money and skill could furnish. All the ladies appeared in full evening dress, and presented as fine an appearance as could be found at any banquet. The menu was superb in every respect and just suited to make kings and queens happy. The Westminster Orchestra furnished glorious strains of music for the occasion.

Three of the Y. M. C. A. of Johns Hopkins University paid the college a visit last Saturday and Sunday afternoons. They addressed the Association in the chapel. Mr. Galloway spoke of the history of the different branches of Association work. Mr. Smith spoke of the spirit of the work, which he treated under the heads of prayer, the Bible and meditation. Mr. Steiner spoke of the influence of educated men, and made reference to Moses, Paul, and Luther. He also spoke of the development of moral and religious character. Their words had force and helped to stimulate the young men of this place to greater activity in this work.

Death of Mr. Joseph Stoner.

Mr. Joseph Stoner, a well known farmer of this county, died quite suddenly at his home at Meadow Branch, about 4 o'clock Thursday morning. Mr. Stoner had been in failing health for several months, and his son, Mr. Charles B. Stoner, who was sleeping in the room with him, administered nourishment and stimulants about 1 o'clock on the morning of his death. About 4 o'clock the son again approached his father's bedside to minister to his wants, but death was before him, and Mr. Stoner had quietly passed away. The condition of the body indicated that he had only been dead a few minutes.

Mr. Stoner was about 67 years of age. He was a man of large wealth, his estate being valued at $80,000. He was a member of the German Baptist Church, and for some years a Deacon. He was a man of upright character and enjoyed the respect of the community. He leaves a widow, Mrs Elizabeth Stoner, and Mr. Charles B. Stoner is his only child. He was a brother of Elder Solomon Stoner, one of the oldest and most esteemed ministers of the Brethren's Church in this county, and also of Mr. William Stoner, an esteemed and worthy citizen. He had also two half sisters. His funeral will take place to-morrow, Sunday, morning, at Meadow Branch Church, the meeting at the house to take place at 9.30 o'clock.

A Pleasant Surprise Party.

The residence of Mr. Levi Maus, near Tyrone, was the scene of great merriment on last Tuesday evening. The glad time was occasioned by the gathering of forty young people as a surprise in honor of Misses Edith and Ella and Mr. Levi Maus, Jr. The evening was spent in social conversation, parlor games, reading of choice literary selections, and music. Not an insignificant part of the program was a time spent in the dining-room, where a large table was spread with everything tempting to the appetite. More of such social gatherings, held at proper times and properly conducted, would tend to enhance customs of charity, and a due appreciation of good society, literature and music. This social was made especially pleasant by the family, the mistress of which is a lady who has a nature from which flow deeds of patience, truth, honor and courtesy, and the head of which is an aged gentleman, whose understanding has been beautified by knowledge and whose deeds of charity are many.

Mr. Samuel G. Kennel, of Winfield, who served in the 4th Md. Regiment, has been granted a pension.

Wedding Bells.

PHILLIPS-GIST.

The residence of Mr. John W. Gist, near Finksburg, was the scene of a very pretty home wedding on Wednesday evening, 11th inst., at 7.30 o'clock. The bride was Mr. Gist's daughter, Miss Pinkie Gist, and the groom Mr. Benj. F. Phillips. Miss Carrie Phillips was brides' maid and Mr. L. G. Boring best man. The bride was attired in a handsome wedding gown of tar serge with trimmings of faille silk and jewel passamenterie; the bridesmaid wore a cream henrietta and silk dress, with point lace trimmings. The groom wore the conventional black. The bridal party entered the perlor to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, rendered by Miss Ida Jones, and were met by Rev. J. T. Lassell, of the M. P. Church, Finksburg, who performed the ceremony in an impressive and interesting manner. Subsequently a sumptuous wedding dinner was served consisting of all the luxuries of the season. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gist, the parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gist and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Jones and family, Misses Jennie, Carrie and Estella Phillips, Mrs. Wesley Bond and daughter, Mrs. Ella Martin and daughter, Miss May Martin, of Finksbrg and vicinity; Mrs. Richard Martin, Misses Delia and Alice Martin, Mr Eli Martin, of Hampstead; Mr. and Mrs. John I. Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Gwayson Downs, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Flater, Mr. Edward Crawford, of Sandyville; Mr. L. G. Boring, of Trenton. The bride and groom were the recipients of many handsome presents.

ABBOTT-BOWERSOX.

A very pleasant and interesting event occurred at the residence of Mr. E. D. Bowersox, a short distance from this city, at 7 o'clock on Thursday evening, 12th inst. The occasion was the marriage of his daughter, Miss Nora C. Bowersox, and Mr. Edgar T. Abbott, son of Mr. John J. Abbott, of the vicinity of Snydersburg. Miss Cora K. Abbott was bridesmaid, and Mr. Edward S. Mobley, of this city, groomsman. The bride wore a handsome and becoming dress of brown henrietta cloth. The bridesmaid's dress was of garnet henrietta cloth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. H. Miller, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church of this city. The wedding guests were handsomely entertained and refreshments were served in profusion and of the most tempting variety. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John J. Abbott, Miss Cora K. Abbott, Miss Angie Abbott, Master A. Clay Abbott, of the vicinity of Snydersburg; Miss Janie Yingling, of Taneytown; Mrs. B. Mikesell, of Littlestown Pa.; Mr. Pius Leppo, of Union Mills; Rev. P. H. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bowersox, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bowersox, Miss Clara Bowersox, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Shaeffer, Mr. and Mrs. Stansbury, Misses Flora and Annie Saylor, Mamie Mobley, Viola Warner, Minnie Groff, Elsie Stevenson, Messrs. Absalom Bowersox, Francis L. Shipley, J. Harry Cootes, Robert Stevenson, Frank Stevenson, David Rupert, Harry Bowersox, of this city and vicinity. The bride received many handsome presents of silver, glassware, linen, &c.

Social Party.

The hospitable residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fleagle, about one half mile south-west of Mayberry, was the scene of one of the most delightful parties of the season, on Wednesday evening of last week. The party was given in honor of their daughter, Miss Bertie, who, assisted by her parents and many friends, spared no effort to make the occasion a most pleasant one. The guests began to arrive shortly after sundown, and continued to come till a late hour. Indeed some of them had been given up, and those who were present had begun the amusement of the evening, when they were suddenly interrupted by the appearance of the "sledding excursion." This was a number of the young folks from the vicinity of Taneytown, who, in great glee, thought they would take in the last sleigh ride of the season, and they did too. After a number of wrecks and losses they succeeded in reaching the appointed place in a rather cool condition. But their adventures were not at an end yet. When they started to return they chose another route—one on which there was a creek to be forded; and what was the result? You can easily guess it. In the middle of the stream the sled stopped, and, despite the efforts of those on board the horses refused to pull them out until the sled had been relieved of the masculine part. But with all their troubles all of the party agreed that they had a splendid time participating in the numerous plays and games, conversation, vocal and instrumental music, etc., which give joy and mirth to such occasions; and also the splendid treat, which consisted of an abundance of sweets, &c., to which all surely tried to do justice. Before they were through, however, the venerable regulator sounded the midnight hour, thus warning all that the time for parting was drawing near, and after spending a little while longer in various ways, the jubilant party departed for their homes. Those present were: Misses Bertie Fleagle, Mollie Fleagle, Annie Flickinger, Mayberry; May Shivers, Uniontown; Mary and Sallie Myers, Tyrone; Nettie Mentzel, Maggie Forney, Nettie Reid, Carrie and Abbie Fogle, Maggie Haifley, Nora Ditzler, Addie Hawk, Taneytown; Messrs. Harry Fleagle, Scott Fleagle, Mayberry; Charles Marker, Jonas Myers, Edward Babylon, Tyrone; John E. Shivers, Uniontown; David Forney, Chas. Mentzel, Edward Copenhaver, Alva Reid, Percy Garner, Walter Wilt, Taneytown.

Corporation Licenses.

The question of formulating a system of city licenses has been under consideration by the Mayor and Common Council of this city for some time past, and ordinances have been passed for the purpose of putting the plan into practical operation. These ordinances cover a system of licensing which, in most of its items, will go into effect May 1st, 1891. Following is an outline of the several licenses required under the legislation:

For hawkers, peddlers and venders, other than those selling the produce of their own farms and gardens, $10 per annum, or $2.50 per single day.

For persons not permanently engaged but doing a transient business, $20 to $50.

For persons dispensing medicines or giving medical advice on the streets, $1 to $10 per day.

For each hackney carriage or other vehicle for carrying passengers, as follows: Omnibus, $10, other vehicles $5 per annum. For general livery business $25.

For a hotel or ordinary where liquors are sold in quantities less than a pint, $25 per annum. For others selling less than a pint, $50. For every person or body corporate selling not less than a pint, $25. For all dealers in malt liquors exclusively, $25.

For each express wagon, coal cart, lumber wagon or cart with one horse, $5, and $2 for each additional horse.

For each mill or warehouse wagon, with one horse, $3 and $2 for each additional horse.

For each delivery or freight wagon or cart with one horse, for hire, $2, and $1 for each additional horse.

Private carriages, buggies, or other vehicles, with one horse, $1, and $1 for each additional horse.

Against Women as Representatives.

The vote in the Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church, which held its sessions this year in Hamline Church, Washington, D. C., on the subject of women representatives was 42 for, and 146 against. Among the members now or formerly of this county, who voted in the affirmative on the proposition to admit women as representatives, were the following: Revs. Charles W. Baldwin, of Wesley Chapel, Washington; W. C. Babcock, of Mount Washington; John S. Burton, of West Falls; John Edwards, Woodberry; Jno. W. Hedges, Mt. Savage and Guilford; J. D. Still, Mount Savage; J. T. Willhide, of Reisterstown. Among those who voted in the negative were Presiding Elder, Rev. J. Edwin Amos, Revs. Osborne Belt, of Linganore and Union Bridge; W. C. Bryan, of Middleburgh; Emory Buhrman, of New Windsor; J. R. Cadden, of Washington county; Geo. W. Cooper, of Westminster; T. J. Cross, of Hancock; W. J. Dice, of Lanheim's Circuit; T. Marshall West, of Hampstead; J. W. Fleming of Hampstead Circuit; J. B. Hall, of Hampstead; G. W. Heyde, Seamen's Bethel, Baltimore; C. H. Richardson, of McKendree Church, Washington; E. E. Shipley, of Baltimore; C. D. Smith, of Grace Church, Woodberry; J. C. Starr, of Magothy; W. E. Bird, of Kingsley; D. H. Carroll, of Baltimore; W. H. Chapman, of Martinsburg, W. Va; B. F. Clarkson, of Harford Avenue, Baltimore; C. E. Dudrow, of Homestead; A. J. Gill, of Frederick; Reuben Kolb, of Paw Paw Circuit; J. A. Price, of Ryland, Washington; D. B. Winstead, of Chester street, Baltimore; George W. Cecil, of Solomon's Island. Rev. J. H. Marsh, formerly of New Windsor, was, for satisfactory reasons, excused from voting.

Woodbine Items.

Mr. Andrew Schafer has removed to the "Stonewall" farm near Catonsville, Baltimore county.

We have had twenty-two snows this winter, but they were not sleighing snows. This favored the noble steed.

The clouds have been down upon the earth for several days, while a few hundred feet heavenward the eagle and the raven were soaring in the sunshine.

Mr. Stephen Gartrell has greatly improved the section of the county road leading to Woodbine. It can be traveled now without stopping over night in the mire.

Mr. Marcus Pickett's engineer, while sawing for Mr. George W. Mullinix, kept bachelor's hall in an unoccupied house on the farm. The ladies are now afraid to cross the premises. They say that strange lights were seen there and the house is haunted by hobgoblins. This saiyr not only frightened the girls but also frightened off some pet crows that we were feeding nearby.

We were in error when we said that Mrs. James Pickett was the first lady in the community to count young chicks. Mrs. Charles Conoway counted them as early as the 8th of January. Much interest is taken in the poultry industry this season, and a large number of fowls will be rasied. Had we known this sooner we could have written the Conference at Washington for two ministers on West Falls Circuit instead of one as missed.

The spring birds have put in their appearance, and soon the notes of the sylvan songsters will announce that spring has come in all its glory to reanimate nature and fill the soul with gratitude to God.

Warfieldsburg Items.

We are still here, and I suppose it is because of the mud, and bad roads. Be that as it may, we are thankful it is no worse.

The health of our community is good, there being very few persons who are not able to take their daily rations.

We are very sorry to lose our popular school teacher, Mr. Lassell, who has accepted a clerkship in Charleston, The knowledge of his intention to leave us came quite unexpectedly. He was quite successful as a teacher and was very much liked by the patrons of the school.

Mr. W. E Williams will move to Baltimore April 1st. He is one of our most worthy citizens and will be very much missed. Mr. Jesse Myers will take charge of Mr. Willians' farm.

Messrs. Vernon and Clinton Barthologow, of Yale, Iowa, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Mary Barnes, near this place.

We hope you will excuse us for saying we are happy on account of the prospect of cheap sugar, and probably many other things, some of which we will mention at another time. We have very little to say on the subject of politics; it is too early yet. Only this, however, many of our friends are willing to serve their country if it pays.

Gamber Items.

Mr. Jacob A. Edmonson is now sawing the frame, &c., for George A Barnes' barn.

Nearly everybody went to the Hoppe sale near Finksburg, from this vicinity, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Katie E. Barnes, of Baltimore, who was on a visit to her brother, Mr. Wm. H. Lindsay, and family and other friends, returned home on Monday.

Mr. Millard Steffy has purchased a new huckster wagon, which is quite a neat affair. I suppose his customers hardly recognized him when he went his round last week in Baltimore.

Mr. B. F. Poole, of this place, has purchased a new and improved sawmill from the A. B. Farquhar Co., of York, Pa., and is now sawing timber for a party in Baltimore county on a large contract. He has also moved his shingle mill there.

The concert given by the Louisville Literary Debating Society, on the 27th of February, was a decided success, the receipts for admittance having been $16.60. The exercises consisted of vocal and instrumental music, dialogues, &c. The orchestra embraced organ, violins, cornet &c.

Miss Fannie Bennett, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. S. N. Gorsuch, left here Tuesday morning, 10th inst., for New York, where she intends stopping a short time with another sister, and will then return to her home in Middlebush, New Jersey.

An exceedingly interesting entertainment was given by the public school at Gamber, under the supervision of the efficient teacher, Mr. George Caple, on Tuesday evening last. A large and delighted audience, among whom were several persons from Westminster, were present. Mr. Caple deserves much credit for the successful issue of the affair, which indicated the careful training of the performers. The program was as follows: Introductory, music; salutatory, by four children; contata, by the school, tableu; music; speeches, by Perley Steffey and John Benson; solo, "Jennie," by Addie Gorsuch; dialogue, "Josiah's first Courting;" music; speeches, Charles Gamber and Walter Gamber; solo, Comrades; dialogue, "A Good Use for money," by six girls; speech by Earl Zentz; music; speech by Charles Benson; dialogue, "Taking the Census;" comic duet; dialogue, by Edgar and Mamie; music; negro lecture, "Apples;" dialogue, "Three Smart Girls;" speech, by Charles Benson; music; darkey solo, "They're After Me;" tableau, Faith, Hope and Charity;" Darkey Debating Society; music; dialogue, "Repartee," speeches, Beulah Benson, George Garver; dialogue, "Advertising for a servant;" solo, "Bells go a-ringing for Sairah;" speech, by Willie Paynter; music; speech, by Edith Parrish, Roscoe Knox; solo, "Poor Old Maids," by Etta Caple; music; concluding with the breaking down. The instrumental music was by Mr. Bradley T. Hering, first violin; Mr. Chas. Woods, second violin, and Miss Etta Caple, organ accompanist, and was exceedingly beautiful and attractive.

Mr. Douglass Miller, who on account of impaired health, will not be able to continue in the drug business, has offered his property for sale.

Mr. L. C. Caltrider, cigar manufacturer, has made arrangements with a large firm in Baltimore to manufacture cigars for them. To meet this demand Mr. Caltrider will be obliged to employ from twenty to thirty extra hands.

Last week Ida, the little daughter of Mr. Frederick Ochs, burnt her hand severely by falling upon the stove.

Mr. Chas. Bush has so much improved that he was enabled to return to his school duties on the 4th inst.

Master Herbert Wooden, son of Mr. Calvin C. Wooden, some time ago slipped on the ice and cut his knee. It became inflamed, continued to grow worse and for more than three weeks he has been under the doctor's care, confined to his bed and at times suffering intensely.

On Friday, 6th inst., Mr. Jetson L. Gill, a former resident of this place, died at the residence of his son-in-law, Rev. Joseph P. Wilson, pastor of Great Falls Circuit M. E. Church, in Baltimore county, aged 80 years, 10 months, 6 days. This venerable man was the father of nineteen children, of whom twelve are still living. Of his sons, four were soldiers in the Union army—Mr. John W. Gill, who belonged to Co. A, 6th Md. Vols., and lost a leg in battle; Messrs. Oliver and Robert Gill, 1st Md. Reg't. Potomac Home Brigade, and William Gill, 87th Pa. Vols. Another son, Mr. Lewis Gill, is now a soldier in the regular army. The deceased was at one time a Justice of the Peace. He was a good citizen and enjoyed the respect and esteem of this community. His remains were interred in the burying ground of the M. E. Church of this place on Monday, Revs. Joseph Little and J. B. Hall, officiating.

Sams Creek Items.

The Candlemas-day prophecy is holding good this time. During the clearing off shower, on last Monday evening, it lightened and thundered, and the ground was frozen hard on Tuesday morning. Early thunder in the spring is a never failing sign of a late cold spring. Notice it.

The sale of the personal property of the late William Long, in Newport, on last Saturday afternoon, was largely attended. Articles brought full prices.

On last Tuesday Doc Franklin sold and delivered to Mr. Isaac Stoner, at the Depot in New Windsor, two sucking calves for $18—$12 for one and $6 for the other.

On last Thursday Lee Franklin moved to his new home bought last fall of the widow Wilson and son.

Dr. Ben. Franklin will not move to his Gorsuch farm this spring as it does not suit him to do so. Mr. John Bell, his present tenant, will continue another year.

Mr. Isaac Kiler has been confined to his bed for several days quite ill with pneumonia. He is attended by Dr. Ben. Franklin.

We are glad to see that some people in our county are becoming interested in having better roads, for they are very much needed in places. If there should be any improvement made it should begin right along Sams creek. No where else needs it more, and it should have our share of the road tax.

This spring in our section there will be quite a number of changes made from one place to another. We hope it will be for the better for those who make the changes.

Harney Items.

Mr. Perry Eyler, near here, died last Monday evening, after a long illness supposed to have been cancer of the stomach. Mr. Eyler was an earnest Christian man and one of the leading members of the U. B. Church in this place ever since it was built, in 1866, and also one of its trustees from the first. In rebuilding the Church here two years ago he labored hard and gave amply of his means, and the Church stands to-day, in some respects, as a monument to his memory. He was upwards of seventy years old, but we did not learn his exact age. Funeral services were held here on Thursday morning. He leaves a widow and four grown children.

Mr. Eckenrode's new house is under roof and ready for the plasterers.

The melting snow and rain the first of the week has made the roads exceedingly bad.

Mrs. John Ridinger, who has been sick for some time, is slowly improving.

Rev. M. M. Burtner preached his first sermon here last Sabbath evening, and is well liked by the members.

The recent cold snap has sent eggs up to one cent apiece.

The peach buds have not been hurt by the cold weather up to this time, and the prospects are encouraging for a good crop.

Union Mills Items.

Mr. Harvey Tagg is pushing the work on his new store-room and will likely have it finished by the first of April.

B. F. Shriver & Co. are making some alteration in their flour mill, and the work is being done under the supervision of Mr. Jno. T. Beard.

Mr. Jacob Feeser, who, several months ago, had one leg broken and the other one crushed by being run over by a wagon, though still confined to the house is slowly improving and it is hoped will ultimately recover. Mr. Feeser is a gentleman of some years and the fractured parts unite slowly.

Our enterprising merchant, Mr. G. W. Yeiser, recently put a full glass front in his store-room and is now making preparations to again enlarge the room itself. The addition will be in the rear, the full width of the store and twenty-four feet in depth.

Both departments of our public school are looking forward to a suitable observance of Arbor Day, and the tree planting exercises will be followed by an entertainment in the school-house in the evening.

"Colonel," the well known driving horse of Mr. E. B. Garner, of Linwood, died last week at the age of 24 years.

Manchester Items.

As I intimated in my last concerning prospective weddings in this section three have already taken place. On Thursday evening last Miss Ida Shafer, of this place, and Mr. H. Bubb, of near Fiscel's Church, Pa., were united in the bonds of holy wedlock by Rev. N. J. Miller, at the parsonage, and scarcely had they arrived home ere Kunkel gave them his usual hilarious send off.

On Sunday evening Mr. Will Warehime, of Bachman's Valley, and Miss Myers, of Pa., were also married at the parsonage by the Rev. Mr. Miller.

On Thursday at the bride's home, Germantown, Miss Sue Bixler and Mr. Abbie Wentz, of Ebbvale, were married by Rev. Mr. Miller, in the presence of a large company of friends, who enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Peter Bixler and family. This happy couple left for Philadelphia for some days' stay among friends.

On Thursday evening, while the friends of the wedding party and Kunkel were enjoying themselves, we found a company of young folks, 16 couples, enjoying a hop in the I. O. O. F. Hall. It was gotten up impromptu, among this circle of friends, who enjoyed a pleasant evening. The Myers Orchestra furnished the music.

On the same evening was found a company of invited friends at the home of Mr. John C. Denner, on N. Main street, in social enjoyment, it being the occasion of the 18th birthday of Mr. Elmer Denner, which the parents remembered by a party, and an excellent set out of refreshments for their guests.

On Saturday last Mr. Elmer Bailey, teacher of the Greenmount school, was trimming a grape vine in the back yard at his home, on N. Main street, being upon a ladder that was resting on a board walk and while reaching forward for a vine the ladder slipped on the boards and he fell to the ground, striking his left wrist with such force as to cause a rupture of the joint, letting the oil run out and causing intense pain. Dr. Preston was called and applied the necessary remedies, and at this writing he is able to attend to his school duties.

On Sunday night about 12 o'clock Mrs. David Lippy and daughters, Misses Laura and Delia, were aroused from their midnight slumbers by a loud report in the mother's room. The daughters rushed in to find that the night lamp had exploded and was all ablaze. Efforts to smother it proved futile, and they, with presence of mind, threw the large bowl in which it was setting out of the window into the snow. The lamp had been in use 4 or 5 years and seemed all right in the evening, when lighted, so that no cause can be assigned for the explosion.

Miss Fannie Ross, who was attending the Notre Dame Institution, in Baltimore, taking lessons in embroidering, has returned home accomplished in that branch of needle-work and ready to receive orders.

Mr. J. Wesley Snyder, one of the executors of Samuel Snyder, deceased, of near Fridinger's Mill purchased the home farm, on which he is now residing, from the heirs, at private sale, for the sum of $4,000, about $25 dollars per acre.

Mrs. Ellen Grove sold her personal effects on Wednesday last and expects to join her husband at Hummelstown where he is engaged with a hedge fence company.

At the sale of Mr. Wolf, near Lineboro, last week, cows sold for $58 a head and horses as high as $178, and other things in proportion. The sale of Mr. Edward Sullivan, of Ebbvale, on, Wednesday last, was largely attended and stock and implements sold well. Mr. Sullivan left on Tuesday for Baltimore, where he will conduct a general provision store.

Mr. Henry Boose, of S. Main street, who was suffering from something like blood poisoning, is now convalescing.

Messrs. Morelock & Crouse threw open the doors of their store on Tuesday morning on South Main street.

The children of the infant class department of the Trinity Reformed Church are practicing to give an entertainment in the lecture room of the Church on Easter Monday evening, at which time the collection eggs will be opened and the proceeds used for the purchase of an organ for their room. The Sunday Schools of both the Reformed and Lutheran Churches are preparing for their Easter service on Easter Sunday evening. Rev. N. J. Miller will hold early service at 6, A. M., Communion at 10, A. M., and the above service in the evening of Easter day.

Jordan's Retreat Items.

Everybody in this neighborhood seems to be planting peas for Messrs. B. F. Shriver & Co., of Westminster.

The farmers are anxiously looking for good weather to put in their oats. The few bright days set them to work repairing fences.

Rev. Wm. H. Woolf preached his last sermon at St. James' M. E. Church South, on Sunday last, prior to attending Conference, which met at Roanoke, Va., on Wednesday.

Our stone masons, Messrs. Lambert and Hollinger, expect to be very busy this summer the indications being for better times.

The moving season is at hand. Mr. Ellsworth Mumford has moved to Mr. D. H. Zile's farm, and Mr. Chas. Keefer has moved in the house of Mr. Jesse Bond.

The ground-hog is as wise a prophet as any, as he is giving us to see by the rough weather we have had. We are glad his time has nearly expired, and hope he wont try to borrow a few of the pretty days we will then be entitled to.

"Jordan's Retreat" is the beautiful little home of Mrs. Margaret Jordan, mother of the well known cutlery manufacturer, of Sheffield, England, and St. Louis, Mo., who, with his daughter, often visits this charming place. It lies midway between Warfieldsburg and Dennings. Above items from the surrounding country may be acceptable to readers of the SENTINEL.

A Linwood correspondent sends us an account of the wedding of Miss Sallie L. Seilhamer daughter of Rev. G. W. Seilhamer, of Uniontown, and Mr. W. G. Heltibridle, which differs from that published last week in giving the names of the bridesmaids and maids of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Mabel Le Fever and Miss Minnie Garner, who wore cream colored dresses and carried boquets with ribbon of the same color. Misses Beckie Seilhamer, sister of the bride, and Misses Emma Garner, Eva Gilbert and Kate Slonaker were maids of honor.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Bair, of Hanover, Pa., visited relatives in this city this week.

Mr. John T. Orndorff, of this city, returned home on Wednesday evening from a trip to the South.

Mrs. Arnold Kleff, of this city, has returned home from a very pleasant visit to relatives and friends on the Eastern Shore.

Mrs. A. D. Garl Link, of Washington, D. C., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary J. Bowers, and family, East Main Street, this city.

Miss Sallie Lawyer, of Pleasant Valley, who had been visiting friends in Baltimore for several months, returned home a few days ago.

Mr. John M. Black, formerly of this city, who was for several years in the employ of the Taylor Manufacturing Company, at Chambersburg, Pa., passed through here on Wednesday, with his family, on the way to Baltimore, where he will follow his occupation of machinist.

Porter's Items.

At a meeting of the Walnut Grove Society, on March 10th, it was decided to hold an entertainment at Taylorsville on the 24th inst. Exercises will be of a musical and literary character.

Miss Effie Hess will repeat the entertainment given at Hood's Mills, a few weeks ago, on April 13th.
