THE SOCIAL WANDERER

DEAR ROAMER:

Hot July days, mid-summer and everyone attempting to find the coolest form of entertainment. Naturally, swimming parties are LA MODE, with picnics running a close second. People whose homes are on the river, where swimming is permissable, good old wharfs here and there, piers and docks, have had an unusual amount of habitation. The lovely pool on the estate of Mrs. Wm. A. Jackson has not suffered from a lack of occupancy. Everywhere, everyone these last two weeks, conceives the idea of a dip, sometime, somewhere take the engaging amusement.

However, one can't be in the water, forever, and the appetites that develop thence, promote the picnic thought.

At Fox Point, to-night, Saturday, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson there will be an out-door picnic on the bluff which overlooks the pretty little body of water known as Lankford Bay. The hosts on this occasion are Mr .and Mrs. Ernest Strong and Mr. and Mrs. Gilpin Brown who will entertain what is sometimes called the "bridge crowd" with a few additional guests, principally from out-of-town. Among these will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Decker from Wayne, Pa., who will visit Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carvel; Mr. and Mrs. William Hinkley, of Philadelphia, who will be guests with Mr. and Mrs. Brown, at the home of Mrs. H. Clay Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas, of Hartford, Conn., who wil be guests several days of Mrs. Thomas's mother, Mrs. William Beck; Miss Anne Boardman who will be a week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Collins, Jr.

Miss Elizabeth Perkins and Miss Marjorie Wills, of Baltimore are week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eben F. Perkins.

The July meeting of "Our Garden Club" consisted also of a picnic supper, following a tour of the gardens of many of the colored homes in town. The hostess on Tuesday, was Mrs. Walter Bloecher and from all reports the day was a huge success. The picnic was perfect, and Mrs. Bloecher a charming hostess.

In August, following a tour of gardens, Mrs. D. W. Ingersoll will be hostess to the ladies for a picnic supper.

Mysterious invitations were received here this week. The clue unfolded, after directions were followed, that a treasure hunt to search Kent County for Captain Kidd's hidden jewels and coins will be held next Friday evening. At this time, we are told that the "pirates" Harry Deringers and Dorsey Hines will give the guests further clues and leading lines. Thus, the originality and obscurity of the mystery remains yet to be disclosed.

But back to earth again, let's take a look at who is where, who is or has been here.

Mrs. S. Scott Beck and Mrs. James G. Metcalfe left on Thursday for a week's visit at the cottage of Mrs. H. G. Metcalfe in Rehobeth, Del.

Miss Margaret Bell is visiting Mrs. George Marriner, the former Miss Bonnie Harley, in Asbury Park.

Miss Ruth Adams, who is spending the summer at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Adams, on Mill St., is spending the week at Ocean City as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Webster, of Baltimroe. Miss Adams will return to Baltimore in the fall as a student nurse in Maryland General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Dilly, and two daughters, of Akron, Ohio, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lusby.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Smyth and Dr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Livingood, dined together at the Royal Swan in Betterton last Sunday evening, in celebration of their respective wedding anniversaries occurring the same date.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Scott, of Baltimore, were week-end guests of Mrs. Maggie McIntire. The latter returned home with them for a two weeks stay.

Mrs. Ella P. Robinson has returned from a visit of several weeks with her son, William Allan Robinson, of Pittsburgh. At the present itme, Mr. Robinson is in Jacksonville and Tallahassee, Florida, on a business trip for the Dravo Contracting Corporation with which he is connected.

Mrs. Bates Chaires and daughter, Mary Emma, of Oakland, Md., were week-end guests of relatives here.

Mr. J. W. Newton and daughter, Mrs. Mary MacMurry and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gore, of Upland, Pa., visited Mr. John Matthews last week.

Mr. Charles Hopper, of Baltimore, spent several days in town last week, visiting friends.

Miss Ella Coleman has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Amerine, of Washington, D. C., for the past two weeks. Mrs. Amerine before her marriage was Miss Ruth Pettibone, of Rock Hall, Md.

Mrs. James W. Kirby and daughter, Miss Edna Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. Denver, Benton and daughter ,Peggy, left Friday morning for a ten-day motor trip to Niagara and other points of interest including upper Toronto.

Every year when I write about these trips hither and yon, specially to the North, I get the fever to go also. So, don't be surprised if before long, I run out on you for a little hike to the hills myself.

Yours on the way,

THE WANDERER

FARM TOPICS

UPWARD TREND IN FARM LIVE STOCK

Not Until 1940 or 1941 Will Average Be Reached.

By R. C. Ashby, Chief in Live Stock Marketing, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.

Not until 1940 or 1941 will live stock numbers be back to average, based on the outlook for meat animals, according to the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The trend in all live stock numbers is expected to be upward during the next few years, with the larger production of feed in 1937 expected to result in an expansion in hog production and in cattle feeding in 1938.

If feed crop production in the next three or four years is equal to average, supplies of feed will be large in relation to number of live stock, and live stock prices will be high in relation to feed prices. Such a situation would be the reverse of that which has existed in most of the past four years.

Total supplies of meats, excluding poultry, are expected to be larger in 1938, but will continue to be less than average. The increase in total supplies of meats will likely come in the last half of the year and will be largely in pork and the better grades of beef.

It appears now that consumer demand for meats in 1938 probably will be somewhat less favorable than in 1937, the weaker demand and larger supplies probably tending toward a lower level of meat and live stock prices.

Because of the drouth of 1934 and 1936, the volume of pork produced in the past three years has been much below average. As a result the total production of meats in this period has been much below average. Production of beef and veal has been somewhat larger than average since 1933. If feed-crop production continues near the 1937 level during the next few years, the trend in pork production will be upward, but such production probably will not reach a level equal to the 1925-29 average before 1941.
