THE SOCIAL WANDERER

Dear Roamer

Whirl wind week, plenty, pleasing parties; gladsome, gleeful guests; dancing, delightful debs—result—joyous, jubilant July. Q. E. D.

I, your faithful, off from the sparkling chatter, in a makeshift scriptorium, am endeavoring to recollect enough to scribble the entirety in some order.

Parties, when have there been so many? Sunday being the first day of the week, I'll begin there. The crowd who went to the Tom Smith's down in Queen Anne's all returned with news of a wonderful time. The same afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fennimore entertained at a picnic on the shore of their home at Handy's Point. Mr. and Mrs. Fennimore had a number of house guests for the week-end in whose honor the party was given.

Monday—passed eventless. Tuesday was chalked off with two luncheons. One was given by Mrs. J. Thomas Kibler in honor of Mrs. Leonard De Merritt, a house guest of Mrs. H. Clay Brown and Mrs. Guy M. Stone who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Eben Perkins.

The other, by Mrs. Morris Keene Barroll in honor of Miss Lydia Hamilton, of Canada, who is a guest at By-ford Court.

On Wednesday, Mrs. H. Clay Brown entertained her card club at luncheon, and on Saturday, will be hostess at a tea in honor of Mrs. De Merritt.

Thursday, the Sophie Fisher Inn was the scene of a beautifully appointed luncheon given by Mrs. Guy M. Stone.

Friday, Mrs. S. Scott Beck entertained at luncheon in honor of Mrs. Stone and Mrs. De Merritt.

Late Friday afternoon, Mrs. Catherine Beck Jones entertained in honor of Mrs. Allan B. Harris, of Beverly Hills, Cal., at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Hines. Mrs. Harris who has been visiting here this past week, leaves Sunday, returning to the West.

Friday evening, the first of the season's Junior Dances took place, at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club and there one saw in glorious array the dancing delightful debs.

To-morrow, Sunday, the Chestertown Golf team will be hosts to the Dover team, the match being played on the local club links. Beforehand, Col. Hiram S. Brown will entertain both teams at luncheon at his home, Godlington Manor. Here's a rah-rah for the Home team!

And now we are about to enter the romping, rollicking Regatta week. The wind blows rumors of more and more goings on. But, if I tell you now, I'll have no trumps left to catch the Ace.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Catherine Beck Jones and Mrs. Rex N. Whaley the U. S. Line for England, their trip will sail on the S .S. Manhattan of having been postponed from a previous date. Bon Voyage good friends!

Miss Helen Simpers, who has resigned her position in Washington, is spending the summer wtih her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Simpers, Miss Virginia Jones, who is spending her vacation with her father, Dr. J. S. William Jones, is a guest this week-end of Miss Clara Medders in Brooklyn, N. Y. Miss Cynthia Clendaniel entertained at a large party for Miss Jones, Friday evening, at her apartment in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Giraitis of New Haven, Conn., came yesterday and will remain over the Regatta as guests of Mrs. Etta Fountain and Mrs. Herbert Skipper.

Dr. and Mrs. William S. Gardner, of Baltimore, are guests this week-end of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Usilton.

Mrs. Joseph B. McCall and little daughter, Louisa, of Philadelphia, have returned to their home after having visited at Green Point Farm, where they were guests of Mrs. William T. Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Bohn, with their two children were guests last week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Evans at Rolph's Wharf.

Mrs. Emerson R. Russell and little daughter, Nancy are spending two weeks at Rehobeth, Del.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Starkey are guests of relatives in Conshohocken, Pa., this week.

Mrs. Hyland Jewell and two children are guests of Mr. H. T. Jewell and family.

Mr. Donald Latham, will attend the World's Fair in New York this week, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Simmons, of Lansdowne, Pa.

Mr. Vincent Brandolini who has been attending summer school at Duke University will join his family here this week end.

Two weddings of interest have taken place within the last week. Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. G. William Peacock of the marriage of their daughter, Mary Evelyn to Mr. Lee Clifton Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Clark, of Massey, Md., on Friday, the 14th of July. Mrs. Clark is principal of the Massey High School. Mr. and Mrs. Clark will be at home after September 1st.

Last Saturday at 6 o'clock St. Luke's Church at Church Hill was the scene of a pretty wedding when Miss Henrietta Clash Bowen daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clash Bowen, of Church Hill, and Mr. Alexander Parks Rasin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Parks Rasin, of Chestertown, were married. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Wright Clash, D. D., of Wilmington, a cousin of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Walter C. Eastburn, rector of St. Luke's.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom left on a short wedding trip, after which they will make their home in Baltimore, where Mr. Rasin is employed in the Baltimore and Ohio office.

I can glean no more, the harvest-home.

ADVOCATES SALT WATER AS HEALTH AID ON HOT DAYS

State Health Department Gives Advice For Hot Weather

Try A Pinch Of Salt

Here is a bit of hot weather advice from Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health:

"On these hot muggy days," he said, "when you perspire a lot and begin to feel exhausted, drop a pinch of table salt into a glass of cool water—cool, not ice-cold—and drink it slowly. You can repeat this as often as you please. It is a reliable pick-up against heat exhaustion.

"There is good scientific basis for the use of salt—ordinary table salt—both as a corrective and a preventive of heat exhaustion. When we perspire profusely—as we usually do in intense heat—the system loses a great deal of salt. The salt solution helps to replace it.

"Physiologists have always known that excessive perspiration drains the system of some of the salt that is so necessary to comfort and well-being. The dizziness, prostration, muscular cramps, and other systemic disturbances associated with heat exhaustion, frequently suffered by workers employed in industries under conditions of intense heat, have long been matters of concern to employers and health authorities. The brilliant idea occurred to somebody to try the salt-solution as a first aid measure in some of these cases of heat prostration. It worked. And the next step was to put it into regular use as a preventive.

"For the convenience of persons who object to the taste of the salted drinking water, it is now possible to obtain the salt in the form of tablets—usually five to seven grain tablets, combined with a small amount of dextrose. Automatic dispensing machines similar to those used for candy, have been installed close to the drinking fountains in many industries. You press a button and a tablet drops out. The tablet is easy to swallow, and any left-over taste disappears after taking a drink of water.

"Industries in which the salt is supplied, and used as a matter of routine, report a marked decrease in the cases of heat prostration among their employees. The remedy is so simple that it can be readily used in any threatened case of heat exhaustion. The amount of salt in the tablets would just about cover the tip of a spoon—literally just a pinch. Try it, the next time we strike a heat wave."

ORIGINAL—BUT NOT MATCHLESS

Matches got a man a job. Recently an unemployed man borrowed $20 from his father. He had seen book matches printed with appeals for charity; why not book matches printed with appeals for a job!

He had 1,000 printed and dropped them wherever he thought they might be useful. Within a few days all New York was talking about the young fellow. He had done something original; he got his job.
