WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

SATURDAY, JULY 25, 1891.

Notice to County Central Committee.

The members of the Republican County Central Committee are requested to meet promptly at the Carrolltonian Office, Westminster, on Monday, AUGUST 3rd, 1891, at 10 o'clock, A. M. A full attendance of the members is desired as business of importance will be transacted.

WM. H. BELL, JR., Secretary.

When the duty on linseed oil was 25 cents per gallon the price quoted on that article, in New York, was 62 cents. Under the McKinley law the tariff is 32 cents per gallon and it is quoted at 47 cents per gallon.

Before the passage of the McKinley law 98 per cent. of all the cotton ties used in the United States were imported; now the mills of Chatanooga alone manufacture 20 per cent., or one-fifth, of the supply. These home manufactured ties are equal to the very best made abroad

It is announced that Senator Quay has declared his determination to resign the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee. With apparently common consent General J. S. Clarkson is suggested as his successor. His selection for that important station will be an excellent one.

The Advocate gives the following as the probable Democratic State ticket to be nominated at the convention to be held on Thursday next: For Governor. Frank Brown, of Carroll; for Comptroller, Marion DeKalb Smith, of Kent; for Attorney General, John P. Poe, of Baltimore city; for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, J. Frank Ford, of St. Mary's.

During the last twenty-five years the people of the United States have paid to Welsh manufacturers the sum of three hundred and twenty millions of dollars for tin plates. The profits to the manufacturers here have been very large, high prices having been maintained throughout the whole period, and they having been the principal beneficiaries of this extensive trade. The brawn and muscle required to produce the finished plates have been poorly compensated that the dividends might be kept up. It is time that this industry should be transplanted to the United States, where labor receives a better reward.

On Tuesday it was reported that Mr. Cleveland would make half a dozen speeches in behalf of the Democratic ticket in Ohio. On Wednesday the report was denied. After the ex-President's emphatic opposition to unlimited silver coinage he would cut a rather sorry figure as an advocate of the election of candidates pledged, by the platform upon which they were nominated, to the support of a cause that has provoked his most determined hostility; and it is not surprising that he is to refrain from participation in the Ohio campaign. He could not otherwise preserve even a semblance of consistency.

Statistics for eleven months of the fiscal year ending May 31st, 1891, show that the value of dutiable merchandise imported into the United States during that period was $454,112,253, as against $469,398,186 during the corresponding eleven months of the previous fiscal year. During the eleven months ending May 31st, 1891, the value of free imports was $327,342,749, as against $243,977,281 during the corresponding eleven months of the previous fiscal year. The value of exports for the eleven months ending May 31, 1891, was $826,891,782, and for the corresponding eleven months of the previous year $804,717,334. These facts sufficiently answer the assertions of the free traders that the McKinley law would destroy our foreign commerce.

A representative of the Shoe and Leather Record of London, Eng., who was sent to the United States to investigate the methods of manufacturing boots and shoes in this country, frankly reports that there are many factories in the United States "which turn out large quantitities of ladies' and gentlemen's boots and shoes of a quality and style which, taking them all around, put to shame the product of any factory in this country," (England.) And he not only acknowledges the better quality of American boots and shoes, but confesses that they are produced at less cost, and retail to the American public at a lower price. Yet American free-traders tell the people they are taxed sixty per cent. by the McKinley tariff on all the boots and shoes they buy.

What Will They Do?

What response will the Democrats of Maryland make to the free silver plank of the platform adopted by their Ohio brethren? They will probably, in State convention assembled, as they have done in most of their county conventions, give expression to their admiration for Maryland's only Senator, who is on record by his vote as a supporter of unlimited silver coinage. The endorsement of Senator Gorman by the Democrats is an indication that his action in the premises meets the approval of his party in the State, but it is very doubtful whether the party's representatives will have the courage to say a word on a subject of such commanding importance. To declare against unlimited coinage would be tantamount to a rebuke of the Senator whom they are eulogizing. To approve his vote on the subject and thus commit the party in Maryland to free silver, would be in opposition to the views of nine-tenths of the intelligent Democrats of the State. In this dilemma the convention will probably ignore the silver question, in direct terms, entirely, or resort to a "straddle." Its endorsement of Mr. Gorman, however, will imply that he committed no offense against the wishes of the Democracy in this State by his vote in favor of the free coinage bill, and the Democrats of Ohio and Maryland may clasp hands in loving sympathy over a seventy-five cent dollar.

The Six Amendments.

From the BALTIMORE AMERICAN.

The legislature of 1890 passed bills submitting amendments to the constitution to be voted on by the people at the election in November next. The first amendment proposes to give the Governor the power to veto separate items in an appropriation bill without vetoing the entire bill. The second aims to bring under taxation the property of corporations specially exempted by their original charters, or subsequently exempted by act of the legislature, thus creating a contract between the state and the corporations. The third amendment proposes to equalize the system of taxation now in vogue, and to introduce new methods, among which is a tax on incomes, and incidentally, it is inferred, a poll-tax, as the prohibition of this 'grievous and oppressive" device for raising money contained in article 15 of the Bill of Rights is altogether omitted from the proposed substitute.

The fourth amendment is designed to enable the lesislature to change the term or tenure of office of county commissioners from two to six years, in the discretion of that body. That is, if the amendment is passed, the legislature will have the power to make the terms of the county commissioners in Charles county six years, and those of the Baltimore county commissioners two years, or vice versa. The fifth amendment grants the power to sell the state's interest in all works of internal improvement. The sixth amendment provides for the taxation of mortages.

That the legislature passed bills submitting these amendments to the vote of the people of Maryland does not imply that the people must vote in favor of them. The legislature has very often done foolish things, and one at least of these amendments is directly designed to curb its weakness in this direction. Some of the amendments are good, some bad, and some indifferent or harmless, passed by the legislature to create the impression that a praiseworthy effort was being made by the dominant party to accomplish what the wiser heads in that body must have known was, from the nature of the case, impossible. The voters will be expected to exercise their intelligence and patriotism at the polls, and make a proper discrimination between those that are wise and those that are otherwise.

In doing this it will not be necessary to divide on party lines. Some of the things proposed by the amendments were demanded with equal emphasis by all parties, and some will be condemned with equal energy by intelligent men, no matter what may be their political sentiments.

Russians Stripping the Jews.

From the NEW YORK PRESS.

Nearly forty affidavits are in the hands of Gen. James R. O'Beirne of the Immigration Bureau of the United States, made by Jews exiled from Russia, from which it appears that these persecuted beings are literally stripped of everything they possess before being allowed to leave Russia even after they have been notified officially that they must flee the country.

The story of one young man is like the story of the others. He lived at Riga, where he worked at his trade, but lost his position through what is known as "official interference," which is the order of the Russian officials not to give work to a Jew. When he was discharged he had saved about $29, besides supporting his aged mother. He was ordered to leave Riga, and went to Dinneberg, his mother's home, where he found work again, but lost it from further "official interference." He was ordered to leave Dinneberg. He and his mother got together $31, with which he determined to come to America, but at the German frontier the Russian officials demanded of him $48 for an international passport. He had no such sum, and tried to get across the frontier without its payment when he was captured, stripped of his little store of money and all his possessions, thrown into prison and put in a chain gang. He was helped out of prison and to this country by a Hebrew relief association.

His case is an illustration of the general line of operations of the Russian officials with the Jews who were ordered out of that country. It is outrageous enough to make the whole world cry out against such injustice.

Senator Stanford, of California, has been frequently mentioned by Alliance men as a candidate for the presidency. But he is not able to subscribe to all the Alliance demands. In a letter written this month, he says: "So far, I believe the government control of railroads has not been such a success anywhere. The cheapest railroading in the world is in the United States, where, so far, railroads have substantially controlled their own rates and have been very free from any interference. Our vast system of railroads, our varied and constantly increasing productions, the long distances that freight has to be hauled, make the railroad question of more importance here than in any other country. Whatever might be the advantage of government ownership, a great many people would hesitate to favor it on account of the vast political influence that might be exerted through its means by an administration desiring to perpetuate itself in power."

The New York Press has been publishing daily, for a long time, illustrations, in words and comparative black lines, to show the beneficial effects of a protective tariff, under the title of "Tariff Pictures." Recently the New York World republished a number of these "Pictures," crediting them to the Press, but inserting words which entirely changed the meaning, and which were never said by that paper; in simple phrase, perpetrating a forgery of the most distinct character. No better evidence could be furnished of the World's want of confidence in its own free-trade theories. That cause must be weak indeed that has no better recourse than forgery to sustain it.

United States Senator John Sherman, of Ohio, gives cold comfort to the Democrats who have been anticipating a quarrel among the Republicans of that State because Ex-Governor Foraker and other prominent members of the party want to succeed him in the Senate. He says that one man has as much right as another to try for that position, and he has no quarrel with any man for doing so. He and Mr. Foraker have recently had a long and friendly interview, and Mr. Sherman says they have always been friends.

Mrs. Pattie Lochridge, wife of Mr. Thomas Lochridge, shot and killed her three children and herself with a shotgun about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon at her home, three miles south of Spring Hill, Maury county, Tenn., while her husband was at church. Mrs. Lochridge was thirty years of age, her eldest child four years old, the second three years old and the third four months old. Mrs. Lochridge had been complaining for some time past. She left a letter indicating that her mind was unbalanced.

Three men entered the Easton, N. J., National Bank on Wednesday while the cashier was at dinner, and while two of them engaged the clerks in conversation the third crept into the cashier's room and then into the counting room and vault, where he grabbed the most convenient package and made his exit. Fortunately for the bank he secured only four thousand dollars in one dollar notes, while a number of packages of larger denominations lay convenient to his hands. The robbers escaped with their plunder.

Cherokee, Iowa, which was swept by a freshet in June, when about a hundred houses were carried away, experienced another great flood, on Wednesday, when the stream which caused the previous inundation rose to within two feet of the height then attained. Two bridges were swept away and two residences, which were moved from their foundations by last month's freshet, were carried into the Sioux river and dashed to pieces. Much timber and materials saved from the former flood were carried away.

A meeting at Elkhart Lake, Wis., a few week's acquaintance and an elopement terminated in the marriage in Milwaukee, of Miss Alene Loeb, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Count H. F. Von Blucher, a son of Prince Blucher von Wahlstatt, and a great grand-son of the old Marshal Blucher who turned the tide of battle at Waterloo. The Count, who is twenty-four years of age, has been in America about a year.

The United States attorney (Renolds) at St. Louis, Mo., is in receipt of a letter from Attorney-General Miller instructing him to vigorously prosecute all trusts located in the State of Missouri, in conformity with the anti-trust law, passed by the Fifty-first Congress. Mr Renolds states that he will, of course, carry out the instructions to the letter and begin a campaign at once against the trusts.

The boiler in the planing and shingle mill of E. O. Perkins, at Lakeview, Mich., exploded Tuesday afternoon, killing E. G. Perkins, Robert Gregory and Eddie, the latter three years old, and injuring Charles Becher and three others. Portions of the boiler were thrown 700 feet, cutting telephone wires and injuring several other buildings.

It is stated that "a movement is on foot in St. Louis looking to the organization of a trust in canned tomatoes. Agents are at work all over the country trying to induce the canners to enter into an agreement not to sell for less than 85 cents a dozen at the canneries, and that they have already induced a large number of canners to sign the contract."

H. C. Brown, editor of the Suthern Alliance Farmer, was arrested at Atlanta on Wednesday by the postoffice authorities, charged with violating the postal laws in republishing an editorial from the San Francisco Examiner, which has appeared in a number of papers. It is charged that the editorial is a lottery advertisement. The case will be tried Saturday.

Democrats who grow enthusiastic over the income tax plank of the Ohio Democracy should recall the fact that so good a Democrat as Mr. Tilden refused to make a return of his income to the U. S. Assessor of Internal Revenue, and submitted to an estimate by which he saved a large sum of money.

Near LaGrange, Ky., Tuesday night, Milton Ferguson shot and killed C. Williams. Williams had been fined for being drunk, and Ferguson and other friends paid his fine. They started home together and quarrelled over a horse trade. Williams tried to shoot Ferguson, but Ferguson shot first.

Mrs. Mary McCaffrey and Mrs. Faris, of Pittsburg, Pa., each gave their infants carbolic acid in mistake for cough medicine on Tuesday. Mrs. MacCaffrey's baby died in about two hours. At the latest account the other little one was still living, but in a very critical condition.

A shadow seems to have fallen on the presidential prospects of Mr. Cleveland. A few months ago there seemed to be no other name seriously mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination in 1892; now many doubts are expressed concerning the propriety of making him the standard bearer.

Susannah H. Proctor, aged twenty-eight years, committed suicide at Asbury Park, N. J., Monday, by swallowing a dose of laudanum. Her husband left her about a year ago, since which time she has been despondent. It is said she has wealthy relatives in New York and Brooklyn.

A number of recently married people at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, are in a state of mind over the discovery that Rev. Albert Cushion, who officiated at their weddings, is not an ordained minister. This invalidates the marriages according to Ohio law. The fact came out in a divorce suit.

Great excitement exists at Ellenburg, in the State of Washington, over the discovery of gold in the Menastash canon, fifteen miles from that place. Fine nuggets and dust are found daily, and the gold is of high grade. Several good silver ledges have also been discovered in the canon.

The village of Round Head, Hardin county, Ohio, was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning. Lightning struck the large wheel factory in the village and this caused a general conflagration. The loss is estimated at $800,000.

The St. Louis Circut Court has rendered a decision that express companies receiving goods from owners are liable for them until they arrive at their destination, no matter how many companies handle them in transit.

Mr. Arthur Carter has been appointed collector of customs at Annapolis.

A Statue of Stonewall Jackson was unveiled with great ceremony at Lexington, Va., on Tuesday last. Thousands of people gathered on the occasion and the Confederate colors were seen on every side.

Cholera has broken out and is spreading among the Turkish pilgrims at Mecca. On Saturday 140 of the pilgrims died with the disease, and on Sunday 380. Egyptian pilgrims are not attacked by the disease.

Oh! father dear, can it be,
No more thy look of love I'll see?
Those eyes that now are closed in death
I'll think of till my latest breath.

Rest father thy work is done,
The cross is passed the crown is won;
Rest, from sorrow free, on Canaan's shore,
Thy pain is passed and feared no more.

Weep not for me, my children dear,
I am gone to rest, you need not fear;
My stay was long as now you see;
Therefore prepare to follow me.

BY HIS DAUGHTER, EMMA SMITH.

Our father now has gone to rest,
Beneath the tree of life
He leans upon the Saviour's breast
So free from pain and strife.

Our father's troubles now are past,
His pain disturbs no more;
But Jesus, in His arms, at last
Bore him to the heavenly shore.

Father, how can we give thee up?
It seems to us unjust
To lay thee in the cold damp ground
To moulder into dust.

BY HIS DAUGHTER, MRS. ELLA S. KOONTZ.

A Five Minutes Talk
TO FARMERS.

It may seem early to call attention to

FERTILIZER FOR FALL SEEDING,

but there are farmers who have in former years given their orders for fertilizer before consulting us. To them we especially wish to talk.

DON'T BE HUMBUGGED

by misleading statements made by those who are interested in the results of misleading farmers. Remember that our fertilizer has been sold for years—long before many of the different brands that are sold to day were thought of; and remember we will not be undersold. The general business that we have gives us a great advantage over our competitors. This advantage we are willing to share with the farmer. For years farmers who have used our fertilizer have had the most flattering results and we are more thoroughly convinced than ever that are especialy adapted to the soil of our county. This was our aim, and the results have proven our success. Another year has just passed with the best of results from our fertilizer from all over the county. Here is what one of the many say of our fertilizer:

Messrs. N. I. Gorsuch & Son: Gentlemen.—I used you dissolved raw bone fertilizer last fall, putting 167 pounds to the acre. I have just threshed 440 bushels of wheat from 11 acres, of excellent quality. I used other fertilizers, but yours was by far the best. I would have made money if I had used all of your fertilizer.

Respectfully,
DAVID J. BROWN, Cranberry.

Remember if you want cheap, but good fertilizers, see us, or our representives, who are:

Frank Brown, Silver Run.
N. D. Norris, Eldersburg.
D. W. Richards, Hampstead.
Wm. J. Brown, Arcadia.

Respectfully,
