An Old Jewish Custom.

At the home of a well known Jewish citizen was recently seen a tiny flame burning in a handsome goblet. Examination showed the goblet to be half filled with water, on the top of which floated about an inch of pure olive oil. A miniature float of corks, fastened on either side of a metallic ring, rested upon the oil. On the ring was placed a wax taper, hardly thicker than a thread, passing through a small circle of thin wood, so that the lower end of the thread dipped the ring into the olive oil. The upper end of the taper was lighted as above mentioned. The oil drawn up through the wax covered taper served [redacted] never goes out. We light the taper when our relative dies and let it burn a year, the last one being allowed to burn out. We attend to these lights with great care, thus keeping alive the memory of our loved one. It is an old custom of ours, and one seldom now observed. Some burn it only for a week, while others burn it for a month. Our family adheres to the custom in all its purity, always keeping the flame alive for a year."

The draining of the Everglades of Florida by capitalists is one of the greatest agricultural triumphs of recent times. These Everglades were an apparently hopeless morass, only a little above sea-level, and yet enough above it so that the land can be effectually drained. There are two parts to the Everglades, one considerably higher than the other, but both can be made good land. The work began in 1881, when a large amount of these submerged lands were given to the Florida Improvement Company. At a cost of fifty cents per acre the richest and best land in Florida has been reclaimed. Bananas grow here in the greatest luxuriance, and the sugar cane grows seven years from one setting, as it does in Cuba, instead of having to be planted every year or two as is the case with Louisiana. The reclamation of the Everglades is evidence of the profitableness of draining on a scale too large for individuals to attempt. The entire state of Florida will be enormously benefitted by this improvement, and it can probably well afford the profit it gives to the Northern capital that made it possible. Reclaimed swamp lands are always the most fertile, and those reclaimed in Florida are now held at $25 per acre and originally worth nothing.

Among the results of Prof. Angelo Hellprin's study of the geology and paleontology of the cretaceous deposits of Mexico, made during his expedition to that country in the spring of 1890, are the conclusions that the deposits, covering or scattered over a large part of the country, are continuous with the cretaceous area of the interior basin of the United States; that they are a part of the middle or upper cretaceous series; that no true lower cretaceous beds have been so far identified in Texas or Arkansas; and that no marine deposits of unequivocal lower cretaceous age have thus far been determined in the United States east of the Rocky Mountains.

Tongue loaf is a good dish to serve hot at luncheon or tea. Mix a quart of finely chopped boiled tongue with a cupful of bread crumbs, add half a teaspoonful of dried mustard, a little chopped parsley and pepper and salt to taste. Moisten the whole with half a teacupful of beef stock or milk and two well-beaten eggs. Pack the meat solidly in a buttered baking dish and bake about three-quarters of an hour in a moderate oven. When cooked and nicely browned, turn it from the dish on a pretty platter and garnish with parsley.

The use of nitrogen as an anæsthetic was recently successfully tried in England. Nine patients took the gas, and in every case the result was the production of complete anæsthesia. The pulse was first full and throbbing, then feeble. In the advance stage the respiration was deep and rapid and there was lividity of the surface, the pupils were dilated, and there was more or less jactitation of the limbs.

If you wish to improve upon the usual method of smothering beefsteak with onions, try this: Cut one quart of onions in very small bits, not over an inch long, and as thin as a sharp knife will cut them. Let them lie in cold water with a good sprinkling of salt in it for half an hour. Drain them well and fry them in a deep frying-pan, with a good deal of hot lard in it. They will cook immediately and be crisp and most excellent.

Considering the tendency of ticket-sellers and door-keepers to show the effects of a little brief authority, what an arrogant old chap St. Peter must inevitably be!

Man may want but little here below, but he usually keeps up a fearful kicking unless he gets it.

A Great American Magazine.

THE SUCCESS OF "THE CENTURY" AND ITS PLANS FOR 1891.

The Century Magazine is now so well-known that to tell of its past success seems almost an old story. The N. Y. Tribune has said that it and its companion, St. Nicholas for Young Folks, issued by the same house, "are read by every one person in thirty of the country's population,"—and large editions of both are sent beyond the seas. It is an interesting fact that a few years ago it was found that seven thousand copies of The Century went to Scotland—quite a respectable edition in itself. The question in England is no longer "Who reads an American book?" but "Who does not see the American magazines?

A few years ago The Century about doubled its circulation with the famous War Papers, by Gen. Grant and others, adding many more readers later with the Lincoln History and Kennan's thrilling articles on the Siberian Exile System. One great feature of 1891 is to be describing that remarkable movement to the gold fields in '49, in a series of richly illustrated articles written by survivors, including the narratives of men who went to California by the different routes, accounts of the gold discoveries, life in the mines, the work of vigilance committees (by the chairman of the committee) etc., etc. General Fremont's last writing was done for this series. In November appears the opening article, "The First Emigrant Train to California"—crossing the Rockies in '41—by Gen. Bidwell, a pioneer of pioneers. Thousands of American families who had some relative or friend among "the Argonauts of '49" will be interested in these papers.

"THE GOLD HUNTERS OF CALIFORNIA,"

MANY OTHER GOOD THINGS ARE COMING,—

the narrative of an American's travels through that unknown land Tibet (for 700 miles over ground never before trod by a white man); the experiences of escaping War-Prisoners; American Newspapers described by well-known journalists; accounts of the great Indians Fighters, Custer and others; personal anecdotes of Lincoln, by his private secretaries; "The Faith Doctor," a novel by Edward Eggleston, with a wonderfully rich program of novelettes and stories by most of the leading writers, etc., etc.

It is also announced that The Century has purchased the right to print, before its appearance in France or any other country, extracts from advance sheets of the famous Talleyrand Memoirs, which have been secretly preserved for a century—to be first given to the world through the pages of an American magazine. All Europe is eagerly awaiting the publication of this personal history of Talleyrand—greatest of intriguers and diplomats.

The November Century begins the volume, and new subscribers should commence with that issue. The subscription price ($4.00) may be remitted directly to the publishers, The Century Co., 33 East 17th St., New York, or single copies may be purchased of any newsdealer. The publishers offer to send a free sample copy—a recent back number—to any one desiring it.

NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

The Tariff and the Farmer.

The Tribune will devote much space during 1891 to the Tariff as it affects the Farmer and the Mechanic.

Hon. Roswell G. Horr, of Michigan, has been added to the Tribune's staff of Tariff writers for this purpose. He will, through the columns of The Tribune, devote himself to this topic, and will invite and answer questions upon points which perplex the American Farmer and Mechanic. He will also, so far as other duties will allow, attend Farmers' Institutes and agricultural gatherings the coming winter and spring, and expound the principles of the Tariff.

Those who desire the presence of Mr. Horr at Farmers' Institutes, etc., are invited to communicate promptly with The Tribune.

Young Men Who Wish to Succeed.

Many a man feels the lack of early direction of his energies and early inculcation of the maxims which promote the formation of character and success in after life. Every such man would gladly see the young men of to-day better guided in youth than he was. The Tribune has planned the following series of valuable articles, which will appear in this paper only:

"What shall I Do?" By S. S. Packard, President of Packard's Business College.

"Suggestions for the Boys on the Farm who are Ambitious." By the Hon. J. H. Brigham, of Delta, Ohio, Master of the National Grange.

"Education without the Help of a College." By President C. K. Adams, of Cornell University.

A Continuation of "How to Win Fortune." By Andrew Carnegie, whose remarkable article of last Spring was so full of encouragement to poor men.

"Multiplicity of Paying Occupations in the United States." By the Hon. Carroll D. Wright, Commissioner of the Department of Labor.

"A Talk with American Boys." By P. T. Barnum, of Bridgeport, Conn., the great American showman, temperance lecturer, traveler and writer.

"Examples in the History of our own Country. By Gen. A. S. Webb, the gallant soldier of Gettysburg and Spottsylvania and College president.

"Importance of Good Manners." The views of Ward McAllister.

"A College Education good for all; what is best for those who cannot get it." By President William Pepper, University of Pennsylvania.

The Tribune will print from week to week, well-considered answers to any questions which young men or women, in any part of the country, may ask.

Vital Topics of the Day.

"Present Needs and Future Scope of American Agriculture." By the Hon. Jeremiah Rusk.

"Proper Function of the Minority in Legislation." By the Hon. Julius C. Burrows, Kalamazoo.

"Village Improvement Associations, their practicability in Rural Districts, with the story of certain Model Villages." By the Hon. B. G. Northrop, of Clinton, Conn.

"Principle in Politics and the Virtue of Courage." By the Hon. James S. Clarkson, of Iowa.

"Influences of the Labor Movement upon Human Progress." By Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor.

"America's Suburban and Rural Homes." By George Palisser, of New York.

"Glaciers of the United States." By Professor Israel C. Russell, of the United States Geological Survey and explorer of Alaska.

Other Features.

During 1891 The Tribune will print a valuable series of articles, written by its own traveling correspondent, on the agriculture of the United States, with explanation of a large number of model farms.

A special correspondent, a practical farmer, is now in France, visiting the farms and farm-buildings of that thriftiest of the agricultural nations of the world. He will report upon the dairy, grain, stock and other branches of French farming in illustrated articles.

Mrs. Annie Wittenmeyer, President of the Woman's Relief Corps, will contribute a column of notes and news to The Tribune's G. A. R. page, every week.

Admirable letters of travel in the Southern States, illustrated with pictures, will be printed, describing the South as it exists to-day.

All the regular features will be continued.

The Home Circle columns will be varied by frequent illustrated articles on home decoration, fashions and other objects of intense interest to women. Written principally for people with little money.

Mrs. Bayard Taylor, the widow of Bayard Taylor, will write articles on Cookery. She is a remarkable housekeeper, with a scientific as well as practical knowledge of her subject.

Steinitz, the great chess champion of the world, will supply a column a week on the greatest and purest of all the games of the home.

Foreign letters, good stories, the news of the day, the best of market reports, book reviews and literary news, witty jokes, etc., etc.

The Tribune is printed in large type and broad columns, and is the easiest paper to read in the country.
