ODDS AND ENDS FROM C. H. S.

(By Anna R. Logan)

Here we are back again with more news from C. H. S.

The intramural contest was ended last Thursday for the second round. The winner of the second round was 3A. There will be a victory party for the winning team. We will start again; the boys playing soft ball and the girls volley ball. Here's success to every home room and keep the good work up.

There was a teachers' meeting last Friday in Baltimore. A great many of the teachers attended. From all reports it sounded as though they had a good meeting.

The officers were elected for the Junior Dramatic club. They were as follows:

President, Rollison Baxter.
Vice-Pres., Mary Lu Lumpkin.
Secretary, Mary Carroll.
Faculty Adviser, Miss Byran.

The purpose mainly of this club is to learn and study dramatics. The Freshman-Sophomore Etiquette Club seems to be progressing.

Have you heard about the way 3A is studying English? It is a very interesting plan. They chose as their topic, radio. The students are asked to bring as much information about radio as possible. Last Thursday they brought a microphone to school and broadcasted a volley ball game. The announcer of the game was John A. Deringer and the advertising announcer was Eldridge Van Petten. The 3A girls and boys played against each other in volley ball. The line up for the girls was: A. Harper, E. Newton, R. Fogwell, N. Fogwell, M. Groves, S. Leaverton, E. Wright, M. Thornton, and T. Crew. The boys that played were: E. Lusby, G. Pennington, J. Sutton, J. Walters, J. Coleman, D. Gardner, W. Robinson C. Silcox, R. Baxter.

The time keeper was F. Deringer, scorer was R. Allinson and referee A. Logan. The game ended 13 to 17 in favor of the boys. This way of studying English gives all of the information that we would get if we studied it the usual way. If you want to fin dout more about it ask any 3A student.

There was a meeting of the home rooms Wednesday; also a Junior Class meeting. The following officers for the class were elected:

President, Jack Nelson.
Vice-Pres., Rollinson Baxter.
Secretary, Audrey Harper.
Program Committee, J. Sutton, B. Miller, J. Deringer, Thornton, M. Lancaster.

The Junior Band is being organized at the school. It is for the people who would like to play but can't. Mr. Fleetwood will instruct these students. There was a meeting of the band after school Wednesday. And a speaker was there to tell us about the instruments. The students of this high school should thank Mr. Fleetwood for his cooperation. Help to support the band. The all star fieldball and soccer game was played here Friday.

In the brewing of fine beer there is no substitute for quality.

Quality costs money.

It stands out plain in every bottle of National Bohemian—the most expensive ten cent bottle of beer your dealer can buy.

He pays more for it than for any other dime beer for the quality-minded man who knows what to expect in a good bottle of beer.
