THE SOCIAL WANDERER

Dear Roamer

Here I am "Broadcasting" from the Flower Pot booth at the County Fair, during those in between moments. As I told you last week, the County Fair is all we'll think and do this week and if this bit of information is marked with incoherence, you'll know the reason why.

As long as I am surrounded by flowers, plants and shrubbery, naturally the first item that comes to mind is the monthly meeting of the Garden Club. This will be held on Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. H. Clay Brown at 2 o'clock. Only active members are invited, as, at this time, the annual election of officers will be held.

The Queen Anne's Garden Club has extended a cordial invitation to all members of the local club to attend a lecture by Miss Irina Khrabroff on "Gardens of Balkan Royalties." This lecture will be given at the Queen Theatre in Queenstown, Md., on Monday, November 13th at 2.30 p. m.

This week-end, is actually brimming full, specially to-day. Aside from the Fair, there is the all the Home Coming activities up at Washington College, a foot-ball game in the afternoon, a banquet, and a dance Then too, it's Armistice Day, with an American Legion banquet on the program, so those who'll want to do all, will have a bit of quick stepping on their side.

The town is full of out-of-town visitors whom we welcome cordially.

Out at Arcadia Farm, Mr. and Mrs. Peter T. Brice, have as their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Grainger, of Wilmington, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. William Murray, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. J. H. Clendaniel and son, Mr. William Clendaniel, of Baltimore.

Guests at Worton Manor over the week-end, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Maxwell, include: Miss Ethel Mae Comb, and Mr. Howard B. Colby of White Plains, N. Y.; Mr. George Maxwell, of Tarrytown, N. Y.; Dr. Jane Leslie Kift and Miss Karen Hedenberg, of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Farrington Hall, of Baltimore.

Mrs. Edward McC. Fisher has had as her guest this week, Mrs. David Clarke, of Baltimore, for whom she entertained informally at bridge on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Louis Lowe Jenkins, of Baltimore, is a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fisher at the Sophie Fisher Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carvel, of Philadelphia, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kratzer over the week-end.

Miss Helen Simpers, has had Mrs. Gene Burgess, of New York, as her guest at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Simpers, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sears, of Philadelphia are week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Marscher at their home in nearby Queen Anne's.

The opening of the gunning season always attract visitors from far and near. Among those coming on Tuesday for the sport will be Mr. and Mrs. James L. Springer, of Baltimore, and Mr. Jessup Wilmer, of Allentown, Pa., all of whom, will be house guests of Mrs. Samuel Emory.

Mr. Horace Beck, who has been visiting in St. Louis since September returned to his home here, yesterday.

Among those taking advantage of the last of the autumnal beauty are: Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Simon Westcott who left together on Thursday, motoring to Williamsburg, via the Sky Line Drive, and other points of interest in Virginia.

Mrs. Richard H. Collins, Sr., and her son, Mr. Richard H. Collins, Jr., returned on Wednesday from Beckley, W. Va., where they had motored last week-end to visit Mr. and Mrs. John H. Collins. Enroute they experienced the 16 inch snow-fall in the Shenandoah Valley.

Friends here have learned of the marriage of the former Mrs. Frances Young, of Chestertown to Mr. C. Kent Schwear, which took place in St. Petersburg, Florida, on November 2.

Mr. Harry D. Weyl and his daughter, Miss Edith Weyl, of Wilmington, were guests last week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barnes.

Mrs. Rachael Wacker, of Baltimore, was a week-end guest of her niece, Mrs. Harvey G. Blyman, to celebrate the birthday of Charles E. Blyman.

But now it's time to wander from my station and enjoy a visit to all the booths. So till next week—

Yours signing off,

The Wanderer

India's Paint

All the rooms in the homes of the richer class in India are painted. In recent years the better class of Indian with the necessary means has been turning away from the Indian styles of decorative work and adopting western. Usually imported paints are used, as they prove much more satisfactory than the native product—a hard-bound colorwash in which can be found mixtures of whiting, earth colors, eggs, buffalo milk, sugar (which acts as a glue) and possibly a touch of disinfectant.

Why Catch Cold?

The average man has three colds a year, one in the fall, one in the spring and one somewhere in between. And the cost to industry is 90 million working days.

Norway Literary Shrines

At Grimstad in Norway the chief attractions to tourists are the country home of Knut Hamsun, the novelist, and the drugstore where Ibsen wrote his first play.
