But It Will Not Down.

Democrats in this locality are comforting themselves over the Republican triumph in Ohio with the expectation that it will settle the silver question and prevent their party from "monkeying" with it in the National Convention of '92. Doubtless the "wish is father to the thought" in this case, but the Democratic party of the country is too thoroughly imbued with the free silver heresy to abandon it entirely. Policy may lead to the adoption, by the Democratic convention, of an ambiguous deliverance on the subject or constrain the delegates to predetermined silence concerning it, but there is no denying the fact that the Democratic party, in a large majority of the States in which it is in the ascendant, is thoroughly in favor of unlimited coinage. No Democratic State convention, held during this year of Our Lord 1891, uttered a word in condemnation of the doctrine, while most of them approved it in explicit terms. New York and Maryland were non-committal and ambiguous, but Maryland's senior Senator, whose course and votes in the Senate of the United States will be approved and endorsed by his re-election, gave the most convincing proof of his approbation of free silver by voting in his official capacity for its unlimited and unrestricted coinage.

Now, the election of McKinley and a Republican Legislature in Ohio, and the Republican triumph in Kansas, indicate that a majority of the people, when brought face to face with the issue, are with the Republican party in opposition to a deluge of debased money. It did not look that way a year ago. On the contrary it seemed doubtful whether any party could stand before the tide so rapidly rising, then, in favor of an expansion of the circulating medium by the coinage of all the silver that might be presented. But the Republican party consistently maintained its opposition to a debased currency, and stands to-day as a bulwark against it.

The attitude of the Democratic party has already been presented. It was caught by the greenback craze; it has helped to swell the tide for free coinage, and, while many of its members, especially in the commercial and manufacturing States, are sound on the question, the party, as such, is widely tainted with the silver heresy. The National convention of the party may not explicitly and in terms approve unlimited coinage, but it dare not pronounce against it. Nevertheless the subject will not down. It is too important to be dealt with in an ambiguous fashion, and unless the Democrats declare squarely for or against it they will commit the fatal blunder of "sitting down between two stools."

It is hardly necessary to suggest to the thoughtful reader that the Democrat who anticipates that the course of his party, as it will be outlined by its National Convention, will depend upon the probable influence of that course on its success in the campaign, does not pay it a very high compliment. It is the fashion of some Democrats to talk about the unchangeable principles of Jeffersonian Democracy. It may be so. But judged by that standard there is very little of that sort of Democracy in the country. Jefferson laid down well defined principles; the modern Democratic party, by implication, confesses that it is devoted to expediency.

The Mugwump admirers of Mr. Cleveland ought to be thoroughly disgusted with his conduct during the recent campaign in New York. He gave the full measure of his devotion to Tammany, the most corrupt political organization on earth; entered the arena as a speaker for the Tammany nominees, while such men as Ex-Mayor Hewitt and Herman Oelrichs declined to support them; and wound up by sending a letter of congratulation to Boss McLaughlin, of Brooklyn, on the result of the election, and his part in bringing it about. An Ex-President of the United States had better be engaged in striving for purity in politics than in lending his voice and influence in behalf of an element reeking with political and official corruption.

The English premier, Lord Salisbury, in a speech on Monday night, declared that the "cause of protection does not sink; it rises," and that "the recent elections in the United States have shown that the slight reaction against protection has spent its force." Lord Salisbury is not a protectionist, but he admits that the whole world, except Great Britain, is coming around to the principle. He expects England to remain true to free-trade against all the world, but there are evidences that the doctrine of protection has its adherents even in that country, and the sentiment is growing. Perhaps Lord Salisbury may live to find himself in error even in regard to Great Britain.

An agreement has been reached between the governments of the United States and Great Britian regarding the arbitration of the seal fisheries question. The rights and powers of the United States will be decided by arbitrators, provided the Senate confirms the agreement. On Mr. Blaine's showing the United States should be able to establish such jurisdiction in Behring's sea as to assure the protection of the seals against extermination by British subjects.

The New York Press says: "The Birmingham Age-Herald, the leading Democratic paper of Alabama, is urging capitalists to come to that city and establish tin plate works, assuring them that the industry will be profitable because of the cheapness with which sheet iron, the basis of tin plate, can be made there. The Age-Herald squarely contradicts the cry of the free trade press that tin plate cannot be manufactured in this country."

A revolution appears to be impending in Brazil. Several provinces or states have declared their independence of the central government. The President has assumed the powers of a dictator and is making energetic efforts to suppress the uprising in its incipiency.

A Democratic conspiracy to steal the Senate of New York is plainly apparent in that State. Gov. Hill seems to be the instigator of the movement. The N. Y. Press says the Republicans have also carried the Assembly, but the same tactics are being used to defraud them of their victory.

Col. L. L. Polk, president of the Farmers' Alliance of the United States, is quoted as saying that Mr. Cleveland, as a candidate for President, "would not be successful in carrying over three Southern States." Col. Polk is mistaken. There are no substantial signs that the Farmers' Alliance can break the solid South.

United States Senator George F. Hoar, of Massachusetts, speaking of the election of Governor Russell, says the success of the remainder of the Republican ticket indicates that Massachusetts is a Republican State. The defeat of Mr. Allen, the Republican candidate for Governor, he attributes to his record on the labor question and the fact that Mr. Crapo was the choice of a majority of the Republican party for the head of the ticket.

Calvert county is Democratic only by throwing out the vote of a district. The officer charged with providing the official ballots for the district, required under the Australian ballot law, either failed in that duty, or they were intercepted, and a bundle of pamphlets sent in their stead. As the district was Republican the two Democratic judges refused to act, but the Republican judge filled the vacancies, as authorized by law, procured ballots from a neighboring district and held the election. Only a few Democrats voted, the majority of them having been persuaded that the proceeding was illegal. They may find themselves mistaken.

Dr. John J. Jennings, the venerable founder of the Masonic Home, at Grand Rapids, Mich., died Tuesday of last week at that institution. He was a thirty-third degree Mason and had held high offices in the order. He was, until a few years ago, a wealthy and prosperous merchant of Grand Rapids, and during his prime he advocated building the Masonic Home for indigent members of the fraternity, little realizing that he would soon be a dependent himself. He was the first one to die.

Three life convicts made their escape from the State penitentiary at Wampum, Wis., Wednesday, through a tunnel dug under the buildings and into the street that must have taken years to dig, as it passed through several walls of stone. The men are Robert N. West, John Stagg and Fred. S. Knaack. West had been in the prison twenty-two years, Stagg six years and Knaack two years. The men began the tunnel in a well. They were recaptured.

Dr. Chancellor, secretary, has made his quarterly report to the State Board of Health. It urges cleanliness, the advoidance of the spread of several contagious diseases, and the purification of drinking water. He gives directions to disinfect wells, urges that food adulteration be repressed. The chief adulteration of milk in cities, he says, is water. The report urges the necessity of vaccination, a large part of the state outside of the city being unprotected.

News has been received at Deadwood, S. D., that John Triber, a member of the Deadwood city council and a wholesale liquor dealer, who left six weeks ago with his family to visit old scenes in Europe, has been arrested as a deserter from the German army, and is now in prison at Mains. Triber left Germany in 1874, about ten years old. He is a full naturalized citizen of the United States, and his friends will invoke the aid of the State Department to secure his release.

Samuel Chapman, who celebrated his one hundred and first birthday on October 18, died on Tuesday morning, at his residence, in Cornwallis, Kings county, Nova Scotia. He is believed to have been the oldest Free Mason in the world having taken the Master's degree in the Virgin Lodge of Halifax in 1813. He represented Kings county in the Nova Scotia Legislature for many years, and at one time was a member of the government.

The board of directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company has passed resolutions declaring a stock dividend of twenty per cent. on the common stock, and an additional issue of common stock amounting to $5,096,600 to enable the company to continue its system of betterments. The stock dividend will be paid on December 31. The announcement has not affected the price of the stock on the Exchange.

It is announced that the postal card now in use will soon be superseded by two cards of different size and design. The smaller one of the two cards will be on white card board 2 1-5 by 4 5-8 inches in size. A vignette of General Grant as he appeared in his younger days is printed on the card in a shade of blue. The large card will be three-fourths of an inch longer than the present card.

The large barn on the McGill-Belt farm, near Adamstown, Frederick county, was destroyed by fire of unknown origin Tuesday night, together with its contents, two horses and a colt, 700 bushels of wheat, 40 tons of hay, vehicles, a threshing-machine and a lot of farming implements. The loss is $3,500, and the insurance $3,000.

A number of physicians were present at an autopsy at Bridgeport, Conn., Tuesday afternoon on the body of Charles Balaam, a Koch's lymph patient, who died at the almshouse of consumption. They report that no traces of any healing or other effects from the Koch lymph could be found.

Bishop Merrill, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who was taken to Wesley Hospital, Chicago, on Monday, seriously ill, is suffering from an abscess or tumor in the abdominal region. A difficult surgical operation will be necessary to save his life.

Senator Stanford, of California, has a two-yearling colt named Arion, that has trotted a mile in 2.10¾. The feat is regarded as the greatest on record in the history of trotting horses.

Commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., Gen. Palmer, has issued an order saying that any G. A. R. man who marches under the Confederate flag violates his obligation to the order.

A LETTER.

I find that many people are of the erroneous opinion that the office of STATE'S ATTORNEY will prevent me from attending to any other legal business than that pertaining to said office. I therefore adopt this method of informing my clients and friends that, EXCEPT IN CRIMINAL CASES, I am as free as any other attorney to attend to any legal business that may be entrusted to me.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.
ILLUSTRATED.

The Magazine will celebrate the fourth Centenary of the Discovery of America by its re-discovery, through articles giving a more thorough exposition than has hitherto been made of the recent Unprecedented Development of our Country, and especially in the great West. Particular attention will also be given to Dramatic Episodes of American History.

The field of the next European War will be described in a series of Papers on the Danube "From the Black Forest to the Black Sea," by Poultney Bigelow and F. D. Millet, illustrated by Mr. Millet and Alfred Parsons. Articles also will be given on the German, Austrian, and Italian Armies, illustrated by T. de Thulstrup.

Mr. W. D. Howells will contribute a new novel, "A World of Chance," characteristically American. Especial prominence will be given to the short stories, which will be contributed by T. B. Aldrich, R. H. Davis, A. Conan Doyle, Margaret Deland, Miss Wooison, and other popular writers.

Among the literary features will be Personal Reminiscences of Nathanial Hawthorne, by his college class-mate and life-long friend, Horatio Bridge, and a Personal Memoir of the Brownings, by Anne Thackeray Ritchie.

"THE BEST OF CHILDREN'S MAGAZINES."

THE publishers of ST. NICHOLAS, that famous young folks' magazine, are offering to send a sample copy, free of charge, to any father or mother who would like to consider the question of taking a children's magazine during the year to come.

Certainly if that question is up for discussion in any household ST. NICHOLAS will be the magazine selected. From its first number, in 1873, the pens of the greatest writers of the English world, and the pencils of the most famous illustrators, have been at its service. Tennyson, Longfellow, Bryant, Thos. Hughes, Whittier, Bret Harte, Bayard Taylor, Mrs. Burnett, Miss Alcott, Donald G. Mitchell, George Macdonald, Mrs. Oliphant, Professor Proctor are a few of the many great names which have been upon its list of contributors. Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge is the editor. Everything in it is illustrated.

there are to be serial stories by Brander Matthews, Lieutenant Robert H. Fletcher (the author of that charming book, "Marjorie and Her Papa"), Laura E. Richards, William O. Stoddard, Charles E. Carryl (the author of "Davy and the Goblin"), and Frances Courtenay Baylor. There will be short stories by Thomas Nelson Page, Mary E. Wilkins, Mary Hallock Foote, Richard Malcolm Johnston, Octave Thanet, General O. O. Howard, and many others, with papers of travel and adventure by J. T. Trowbridge and Lieutenant Schwatka, and useful articles on "How Columbus Reckoned," "William the Conqueror," "Volcanoes and Earthquakes," "Straight lines and Circles," etc. In "Strange Corners of Our Country" the Great American Desert, the Cliff-Dwellings of Arizona, and other interesting places, will be described, and in "Honors to the Flag" and "Boys and the National Guard" the patriotism of the young readers will be aroused and stimulated. Julian Ralph is to describe "The Making of a Great Newspaper," and the arc and incandescent electric lights are to be clearly explained.

APPLIED CHRISTIANITY

is what ST. NICHOLAS teaches;—unselfishness, faithfulness, courage, truthfulness—these things are taught in a hundred ways by stories, poems, and pictures. Do you need such an assistant in your work with your boys and girls? If so, and if you are not already familiar with ST. NICHOLAS, send a postal card to The Century Co., Union Square, New York, N. Y., and ask to see a sample copy. A year's subscription to ST. NICHOLAS makes a splendid Christmas present, for it brings Christmas twelve times a year.

A GREAT MAGAZINE.

The Century's Programme in 1892—A New "Life of Columbus"—Articles for Farmers, etc.

THAT great American periodical, THE CENTURY, is going to outdo its own unrivaled record in its programme for 1892, and as many of its new features begin with the November number, new readers should commence with that issue.

In this number are the opening chapters of "THE NAULAHKA," a novel by Rudyard Kipling, the famous author of "Plain Tales from the Hills," written in collaboration with an American writer, Wolcott Balestier. It is the story of a young man and a young woman from a "booming" Colorado town, who go to India, he in search of a wonderful jeweled necklace, called "the Naulahka" (from which the story takes its name), and she as a physician to women. The novel describes their remarkable adventures at the court of an Indian maharajah. Besides this, THE CENTURY will print three other novels during the year, and a great number of short stories by the best American story-writers.

The well-known humorist Edgar W. Nye ("Bill Nye") is to write a series of amusing sketches which he calls his "autobiographies," the first one of which, "The Autobiography of a Justice of the Peace," is in November. This number also contains a valuable and suggestive article on "The Food-Supply of the Future," which every farmer should read, to be followed by a number of others treating especially of the relations of the Government to the farmer, what it is doing and what it should do. This series will include contributions from officers of the Department of Agriculture, and other well-known men will discuss "The Farmers Discontent," Cooperation," etc., etc. A celebrated Spanish writer is to furnish a "Life of Columbus," which will be brilliantly illustrated, and the publishers of THE CENTURY have arranged with the managers of the World's Fair to print articles on the buildings, etc.

One of the novels to appear in 1892 is

by the author of "The Anglomaniacs," and the magazine will contain a great deal about the metropolis during the year,—among other things a series of illustrated articles on "The Jews in New York." In November is an illustrated description of "The Players' Club," founded by Edwin Booth, and one of the features of the splendidly illustrated Christmas (December) number is an article on "The Bowery."

To get THE CENTURY send the yearly subscription price ($4.00) to The Century Co., Union Square, New York, N. Y.
