Scout Troop 170, which is under the leadership of J. Arthur Cooper, Scoutmaster and Bayard Coulter and James Anthony, assistants, was organized in 1937 and is sponsored by the Young Men's Club of Christ Methodist Church. Meetings are held each Wednesday night at the Chestertown elementary school.

The principal objective now before the troop is the construction of a cabin at their outdoor headquarters in the Anthony woods west of the Country Club. The boys have cleared this camp site and have been doing a lot of nature study in that area. They have saved up $50.00 toward the cabin which is estimated to cost $150.00. They have also salvaged some scrap lumber which was donated by the telephone company. Chestertown Troop 170 is a one of Kent County's up and coming troops.

THE SILVER BEAVER AWARD
An award of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America to volunteer Scouters for distinguished service to the boyhood of their community.

SHO'MEN PORTS

With

EDDIE OHLER

Washington College faces the firing line of Loyola College in Baltimore tonight in a game that well may decide the winner of this year's state college title.

One thing seems to be pretty definite; the Sho'men are going to have to play a lot better ball than they did last Saturday if they want a win. Tuesday night Loyola beat the Mounts by a 35-24 score.

Vic Bock, of the Greyhounds, will bear watching Saturday night. Tuesday he scored five field goals and three out of five fouls to lead his teammates to victory. All season the cry has been, "The Greyhounds are the team to beat."

If "Yank" Neubert and Mike Kardash can get their eye again, the locals should win tonight by a close margin.

Both teams tonight are undefeated in league competition. With Mt. St. Mary's defeated twice already, the Greyhounds and Maroons look like the league leaders this season. However, Western Maryland is to be reckoned with. Reports from upstate have it that the Green Terrors have a formidable aggregation this year. And to back up the statement, Terror fans point out the victory over Hopkins last week. So it's still anybody's league but the above mentioned teams are favored.

George Ekaitis is giving his trackmen daily indoor workouts in preparation for the coming meet in the Fifth Regiment Armory in Baltimore in March. Since "Gibby" Young, "Tut" Tully and Ed McMahon have graduated from college, Ekaitis has not had what one might call a wealth of material. However George seems to put out will balanced teams that are a credit to any small college.

Governor O'Connor, an alumnus of Loyola, tossed out the first ball at the Mount-Greyhound game in Baltimore Tuesday night. And from then on it was Loyola all the way. At half time the Baltimore boys were leading 19-6. With only three minutes to play, the score was 35-17, but the Mounts put on a belated rally and came up within eleven points of the Greyhounds.

Three of the Mount boys just recovered from flu in time for the game Tuesday night. They were: Harkins, Celeste and Grodvent.

Washington College ran over Mt. St. Mary's 46-28 last Saturday night at the armory. In what proved to be a poorly played game for both sides, the Sho'men made, the Mounts weaken by the loss of several players through sickness, look plenty bad. With Wilson Scheurholz leading the attack, the locals forged ahead early in the contest.

Karpinski starred for the Mounts i nthe opening half. Score at half stood at 22-11.

The Emmitsburg boys opened the second half with a field goal, closely followed by field goals by Neubert and Scheurholz. The local boys soon ran up the points and had possession of the ball most of the time during the closing stanza.

Neubert led the locals with 17 points, followed by Scheurholz with 11.

Jack Menton confirmed our suspicious Saturday night when he called plenty of bad ones. Ever since last year's Maryland game local fans have called him, "The Worst Referee in the State." And the Mount game confirmed our suspicions that the fans were correct.

In the most thrilling "prelim" of the last few years, the Baltimore Y M .C. A. defeated the Washington Jay-vees 29-27 in an overtime period Saturday night. At half time the "Y" lead 17-11. At the end of the game the Jay-vees and "Y" were all tied up at 24-24. In a five minute overtime period the Baltimore boys forged ahead, 29-27.

In the initial Jay-vee game of the year one thing was definitely evident. First, Jim Bush is a potential varsity man. And, Little Harry Lore is a real fighter and shows lots of promise as a junior varsity man. Lew Gallulo also showed lots of potentialities. His aggressiveness and clever ball handling was a delight to the fans.
