SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1891.

The threatening aspect of affairs in Brazil has become more pacific in consequence of the resignation of President Fonseca, and the revolt of the disaffected province may be abandoned. The people of Brazil are evidently determined that they will not submit to a dictator. Fonseca attempted to assume that role and brought the county to the verge of a dangerous and destructive revolution. His resignation relieves the situation and opens the door to a peaceful adjustment of the national troubles. All friends of republicanism will rejoice in the establishment of a stable and free "government of the people, by the people and for the people," in Brazil.

It is said that the reciprocity movement between the United States and other countries on the American continents is exceedingly distasteful to the English, whose interests are seriously threatened by the commercial treaties already made or projected by this country with governments in North, Central and South America. The hostile sentiment of English merchants to these proceedings has found manifestation in Chili, Brazil and elsewhere. It will rest with enterprising and energetic American merchants to gather the fruits of the opportunity opened by this government through these reciprocal treaties. The United States will stand by them and enforce their rights against the intrigues of English emissaries; and in the commercial contest to ensue there is no reason to doubt the successful result of American tact, skill and courage. The way has been opened by our government and our people will not hesitate to avail themselves of opportunities thus afforded.

The contest for the Speakership of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-second Congress has narrowed down, practically, to Mills, of Texas, and Crisp, of Georgia, with the chances apparently in favor of the former. Both these gentlemen are free-traders and also approve the unlimited coinage of silver, and neither can be chosen as the presiding officer of the House without demonstrating the party proclivities. The Democratic party, by the votes of its Senators and Representatives in Congress, has already expressed the prevalent sentiment of its leaders concerning the great questions referred to. The election of either Mills or Crisp will only be a repetition of that expression. The party, through its National Convention, will probably attempt to evade the responsibility and effect of its true sentiments concerning silver, and may, if the circumstances demand it, hedge on the tariff question. But evasion and prevarication will not avail to mislead and deceive the people. The tiger may don the skin of the lamb but he will be a tiger still.

Report of Secretary Proctor.

The annual report of Secretary of War Redfield Proctor, has been made in advance of the usual time, because he is about to retire from the war office and enter the United States Senate as the successor of Judge Edmunds. An exceedingly gratifying feature of the report is the announcement that "the problem of adequate coast defence has practically been settled." The defenceless condition of our long line of sea-coast has been a source of much uneasiness among those familiar with the situation. But, as Secretary Proctor points out, ample provision is being made to render it all safe against any assault. Sites for fortifications have been, or are being, acquired and proper defences, armed with the best modern ordnance, will be promptly erected. The batteries will be mounted with eight, ten and twelve-inch rifled guns, of which about two hundred have been contracted for, besides a number of rifled mortars. There is ample evidence that the work will be continued until the entire coast shall have been rendered impregnable.

The New York Legislature.

It is impossible to read the proceedings of the Boards of Canvassers in certain Senatorial and Assembly districts of New York, without concluding that a conspiracy exists, of which Governor Hill is the head, to steal the Legislature of New York. In the Fifteenth Senatorial district, where Gilbert Deane, who died since the election, had a clear majority, his Democratic competitor has been counted in by the use of tickets that were never in the ballot-box. In the Twenty-seventh Senatorial district, where Mr. Sherwood, the Republican candidate, has a majority that cannot be overcome by fraudulent counting, the Democratic State Board of Canvassers is counted upon to refuse him a certificate of election on the pretense that he is ineligible. The Constitution of New York makes the Senate the judge of the election and qualification of its own members and the Board of Canvassers has no legal authority to withhold a certificate upon the face of the returns. The consummation of the frauds in the two instances mentioned will cause a tie in the Senate and give Lieut. Governor Sheehan the casting vote.

The scheme has a national significance. It is an effort of the utterly corrupt Tammany machine to adopt such legislation as may best promote the election of a Democratic President and establish that vicious organization as the power behind the throne.

The Republicans of New York seem to be thoroughly alive to the gravity of the situation and will use all lawful means to prevent the consummation of the atrocious outrage. It is doubtful, however, whether anything can be accomplished in that direction. The conspirators may be indicted and punished, but it will be too late to undo their nefarious work.

Fortunately, however, there is an ultimate appeal to the people, and the frauds so flagrantly practiced by the minions of Hill and Tammany will meet, in all probability, a crushing rebuke by an overwhelming Republican majority at the next election.

The Republican National Committee, which met in Washington on Monday, selected Minneapolis, Minn., as the place and June 7th, 1892, as the date of the Republican National Convention to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President. Nine cities were voted for, New York standing third throughout the balloting. Seven ballots were taken, Minneapolis leading in all except the 4th, when Cincinnati showed a lead of two votes. On the 7th ballot the vote stood Minneapolis, 29; Cincinnati, 15; New York, 3.

A Canadian Opinion.

The magnificent progress of the people of the United States in wealth-producing enterprise, under the influence of protective tariff laws, is a powerful argument against free trade, and some of our Canadian neighbors are beginning to discover it. The Hamilton (Ontario) Spectator, a newspaper with free-trade proclivities, has this to say about the purchase of American printing presses in Canada: "Great Britain manufactures presses under free trade conditions. In the United States the industry has been stimulated by protective duties. Yet, strange to say, the protected article is cheaper than the free trade article. The evidence is the fact that while only thirteen printing presses and machines of that class were imported last year from Great Britain, 250 such presses and machines were imported from the United States. The value of the former was stated at $8,386; of the latter at $89,033. Wages are dearer in the United States than in Great Britain, and free traders tell us that the duty is added to the price. How is it that Canadians can buy presses for less money in the States than in England? Is there not a screw loose somewhere in the free trade argument?"

STATEMENT OF RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS,

For Public School Purposes for the Last School Year.

To the Honorable, the Board of County School Commissioners of Carroll county:

In submitting for publication in the local papers, according to the requirements of the School Law, a statement of the receipts and disbursements on account of the public schools of the county during the year which ended 31 July, 1891, I am pleased to note, as an evidence of growing popular appreciation of the system, that the enrollment during the year was 289, and the average attendance was 219, more than in the preceding year. This is the largest increase in one year the schools have ever known.

The consequent increase in expenses, and the draft of $3,500 on the year's revenues made in the previous year and noticed in the last annual statement, threatened serious embarrassment and the loss of half a term of school, which was happily averted by an extra allowance from the County Commissioners and some temporary loans. The latter could not all be paid within the year. Hence the statement shows an increase in your indebtedness of $5,000, a large part of which has been discharged since the close of the year.

The actual expenditure for books and stationery bought within the year was $4,493.78, the other $1,311.69 included in this item being an unpaid balance from the previous year. It will be seen, however, that the book-fees were insufficient to pay the cost of the books for the past year by $2,000. It is a matter of some concern that this unwelcome condition is likely to continue. On the other hand, the demand for new schoolhouses has been so nearly supplied as to render it no longer oppressive.

There are yet several to build as old ones fall, but the annual outlay required for the purpose can fall again, for many years to come, seriously embarrass the treasury. Three were built during the year at a total cost of about $1,300.

It is sincerely gratifying to note extensive improvement among the teachers of the county, both in attainments and in interest in their work. They exhibit a higher grade of scholarship, and a better knowledge of methods every year. The attendance at all meetings of their County Association is excellent, and the exercises are continually growing more interesting and profitable. In spite of severe cold weather, 147 of the 152 employed in the county were present throughout an Institute held at the close of the winter term of school which the press of the county and a concensus of public opinion pronounced "one of the most important, entertaining and successful ever held in the county." I have the honor to be,
Your obedient servant,
JAMES A. DIFFENBAUGH,
Secretary, Treasurer and Examiner.

FUN

FOR EVERYBODY

—AND—

XMAS BARGAINS

For Everybody.

S. Kann, Sons & Co.

BRING THE CHILDREN TOUS!

Christmas is essentially the season of good cheer and merriment, and to liven the dull monotony of trade and make fun for everybody, young and old, we've secured, at considerable expense and trouble, the most marvelous and mirth provoking piece of mechanism ever exhibited. It depicts an irate butcher, clinging to the tail of a greased pig, and the tussle between the two is positively the most laughable thing you've ever beheld. You'll see it in our window, and in order to enable some one of our patrons to possess it,

We will give with every $2 worth of goods a Ticket for the famous "Pig Tussle."

Children go wild with joy over it; ladies laugh themselves to tears and big men almost split their sides with laughter. Don't fail to see it; don't fail to get a ticket on it—the funnest thing in all creation! The more you look at it the more you laugh. Couldn't stop to save your life.

BEAR IN MIND

that every two dollars worth you buy entitles you to one ticket; four dollars worth to two tickets; six dollars worth to three tickets, and so on. Begin to buy right away. Here are bargains the like of which we've never been able to give you; and you've almost double the stock of a year ago to select from.

HOLIDAY GOODS,

Toys and Toydom, Dolls and Dolldom, Horses, Carriages, Carts, Bicycles, Velocipedes, Elephants, Tigers, Lions, Panthers, Leopards, Games, Ten Pins, Foot Balls, Musical Toys, Bugle and Musical Horns, everything known in Toydom. And as for Dolls, we have them in all stages of life; all sizes and conditions, from the little stuffed Doll, with chubby chamois legs, to the big alabaster Doll, with big blue eyes, golden hair and dimpled cheek, pretty little Dolls that lie down and sleep, and funny little Dolls that stand up and wink at you; Dolls in Garden of Eden costumes, and Dolls in oriental toggery, gipsy Dolls, and fifth avenue Dolls. They're all here. Never saw so many; never saw such cute ones, almost smart enough to talk and walk and play with the boys. You must buy your dolls here if you would have the prettiest and cutest. Look for our famous "Pig Tussle," and get all the tickets you can on it. Some one will get it. Might be you. You'll never get it if you don't try. It costs you nothing.

LeGore's Improved Combination of Lime is superior to all common grades of lime.

By this system and process, a full combination of the salts of lime are furnished, and as a cheap and powerful agent it beats bone, it has no equal. The choicest carbonates of lime exist here, perhaps, as no where else. We use from three different strata or deposits, burn in separate furnaces, and then mix and properly, quick, and cheap land can be improved and full crops grown. Furnished in car load lots to suit. Farmers can order their own lime. Guarantee a genuine article or no pay. Send for testimonials, prices, etc. Address
