The main audience room and lecture room can be thrown together by means of sliding doors. An entrance vestibule has been made and the whole neatly finished and handsomely furnished, making a very commodious and attractive place of worship. The improvements were made at a cost of $2,000, upon which an indebtedness of $950 remained until the rededication, when subscriptions to the amount of $1,050 were taken, an excess of $100 over the amount required. Rev. P. H. Miller, of this city, preached the dedicatory sermon, and the pastor, Rev. G. H. Beckley, assisted in the dedicatory ceremonies. Rev. Wm. J. My Dear Sir:—At the regular monthly meeting of the Westminster Fire Engine and Hose Company No. 1, held on Wednesday evening last, the greatest anxiety, as well as the most profound sympathy, was manifested and expressed by every member at the affliction which has befallen you and the great loss you have been called upon to sustain. Mindful as we are of how much this company is indebted to you for its prosperity and for the high degree of efficiency to which it has attained, its members cannot but be deeply interested in everything which concerns your present and future welfare, nor will our anxiety abate until it is known that you have fully recovered from the effects of the operation you have undergone.

I have been directed to communicate to you the heartfelt sympathy of this company in your sufferings, and to express the hope that you may be speedily returned therefrom to resume again the duties of your high calling, to the satisfaction of yourself and the lasting good of those to whom you shall minister. With my warmest regards and best wishes for a speedy recovery,

I am, sincerely your friend,

Public Installation.

The Freemasons of this city and many of their friends enjoyed an unusually pleasant time on Thursday night, the occasion having been the public installation of the officers of Door to Virtue Lodge No. 46, A. F. and A. M., at the lodge-room in the Wantz Buildings. Rev. James W. Reese occupied the Worshipful Master's Station and conducted the installation ceremonies, which were unique and impressive. Dr. Reese also delivered a very interesting, eloquent and appropriate address.

The program included an opening ode, prayer by Rev. P. H. Miller, a song of welcome to the ladies present, Dr. Reese's address, the erection of an altar of praise and thanksgiving, its consecration with corn, wine and oil; invocation, proclamation, and the installation of J. Milton Reifsnider, Worshipful Master; George A. Miller, Senior Warden; John H. Cunningham, Junior Warden; Thomas F. Rinehart, Secretary; James W. Reese, Treasurer; Charles E. Hering, Senior Deacon; J. W. Baldwin, Junior Deacon; Morris Schneeberger, George E. Matthews, Stewards; John H. Mitten, Tiler. Proclamation was made of the proceedings, in an impressive manner, by P. J. G. W., Wm. A Cunningham. On assuming the Worshipful Master's Station Mr. Reifsnider made a brief, but pertinent and admirable address.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies a recess was taken and the members of the Lodge and invited guests, to the number of nearly three hundred, were served with refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake. Solos were sung during the evening by Miss Ida Diffenbaugh and Mrs. Ligget. Prof. T. F. Rinehart presided at the organ.

A Burglary.

The hardware store of Messrs. M. Schaeffer & Co., of this city, was entered by burglars, sometime during Sunday night, and goods to the value of about $150 carried away. The robbers evidently understood that the most valuable goods, for their weight, were kept in the showcase, from which they took a lot of fine razors, table cutlery, spoons, pocket cutlery, revolvers, &c. They also secured postage stamps to the amount of three dollars, by forcing a drawer in the iron safe. They gained an entrance to the store by removing a large pane of glass from the window in the side opposite the warehouse of Messrs. N. I. Gorsuch & Son. They made efforts to force the doors at the rear end of the cellar and store-room, upon the frames of which the impressions of the implements used are plainly descernible, but the stout locks and bolts withstood the pressure. The tools used in these efforts were found on the premises and consisted of a heavy chisel, stolen from the gas works, and a round bar of iron, one end of which had been beaten into the shape of a "jimmy." This latter implement was seen by some youths of this city, in the hands of a pair of tramps who had built a fire at Goodwin's limestone quarries, a mile from this city, about six o'clock Sunday evening, leaving no manner of doubt that they were the parties who perpetrated the robbery.

One of the pocket-knives taken was found in a hay barrack on the premises of Mr. John Stull, near Patapsco, on Monday or Tuesday, and two were found on the road leading from Patapsco to Fowblesburg, by school boys. They were fully identified by Mr. Schaeffer as his property. A man who sold a razor in Chambersburg, Pa., was arrested on suspicion of being connected with the robbery, but a party who saw the burglars on Sunday, failed to identify him. The real culprits left here together and got breakfast on Monday or Tuesday morning at Mr. John Stull's, at whose barrack one of the knives was found.

Roberts-Gambrill.

Miss Rhuanna Staley Gambrill, daughter of James H. Gambrill, of Frederick county, and Mr. John Mathias Roberts, son of Judge Charles B. Roberts, of this city, were married at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon at "Edgewood," the handsome home of the bride's parents, near Frederick Junction. The parlor in which the ceremony took place was beautifully decorated with laurel, evergreen and holly berries. In the bay window, where the bridal party stood, was suspended a large bell, made of laure and evergreen. The large hallway and the railing of the stairway were also beautifully adorned with laurel and holly berries. The bridal party entered the parlor from the hall, the groom, accompanied by his best man, Mr. Hammond Dugan, of Baltimore, leading, followed by the groomsmen—Mr. Charles B. Roberts, Jr., of Westminster, and Mr. C. Staley Gambrill, of Frederick, and preceded by the officiating priest, the Rev. Father Coleman, pastor of St. John's Catholic Church, of Frederick. Then came the two bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Roberts, sister of the groom, of Westminster, and Miss Theresa Kunkel, of Baltimore, who wore velvet bodices and white silk skirts en train. They were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Blanche Gambrill, sister of the bride, and the bride on the arm of her father. The bride wore a dress of white corded silk en train, with bridal veil caught at the top with orange blossoms. Her maid of honor was similarly attired, and all the ladies carried bouquets of carnation pinks. The bride was met at the bay window by the groom and the priest, and, kneeling upon a white satin cushion, were married. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served, and at 4.20 o'clock, P. M., Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left, via the B. & O. from Frederick Junction, on a tour of the Eastern cities. The bride received many very elegant wedding gifts from her large circle of friends and relatives. Among those who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stewart, Miss Nancy Roberts, Mr. Charles B. Roberts, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Brooks, Mr. Harry M. Clabaugh, Mr. F. Neal Parke, Mr. Arthur F. Smith, of Westminster; Judge J. Thomas Jones and two daughters, of Elkridge, Md.; Mrs. George T. Gambrill, Miss Theresa Kunkel, Mr. Hammond Dugan, Mr. Geo. T. Gambrill, of Baltimore; Mrs. Stephen Gambrill, of Laurel, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Winebrener, Dr. Charles W. Hoffman, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. McSherry, Judge John A. Lynch, Dr. S. S. Porters Items.

There was preaching at Messiah Lutheran Church January 8th, by Rev. H. A. Letterman, after which a congregational meeting was held at which the officers of the church read their reports of the financial condition of the church for the year 1892. Services were announced for next Sabbath evening, January 15th, at half-past seven o'clock.

The Y. P. M. S., held on the afternoon of January 8th, was not so largely attended as usual, but the meeting was very interesting. The program was as follows: Order of Services No. 10 in Manual, led by Mr. John S. Bushey; reading of minutes and roll-call by corresponding secretary; hymn, "Just as I Am;" reading, "Not Unto us," Miss Julia R. Ways; hymn, "One Sweetly Solem Thought;" reading, "The Children's Treasury," Miss Lillian V. Rawlings; hymn, "In Thy Great Name O Lord We Come;" reading, "Planned," Miss Florence Clark; Scripture Lesson, led by the president; reports of secretaries and treasurer; closing with the Lord's Prayer. The society will meet again the first Sunday afternoon in February.

A new and handsome schoolhouse has been built in place of the one formerly called "Farvour's." It is now called Highland View. Mr. Geo. W. Hess is the teacher.

Mr. L. M. Bushey, who has been suffering with neuralgia, is still confined to the house.

Cold Spring Items.

The annual election of a board of seven directors of the Cold Spring Creamery Company took place on Saturday last and resulted in the choice of the following: Messrs. S. E. Stoner, E. T. Snader, S. P. Engler, Geo. W. Devilbiss, Jeremiah Greenwood, Howard Devilbiss and John H. Roop. The board elects its own officers which was deferred until the next meeting. The oyster supper was made finer than ever heretofore through the kindness of several ladies who assisted in helping Mrs. M. E. Lindsay to prepare it. They were, Mrs. Wm. Gorsuch, Mrs. J. H. Roop, Mrs. Frank Barnes and Mrs. Luke Ensor. A vote of thanks was extended these ladies for their kindness in the premises.

Sams Creek is almost frozen dry, while the ice houses are all filled. Ice cutting has not ceased with the millers, for cutting ice off the water wheels seems to be their daily occupation.

Shiloh Items.

News in this vicinity has been rather meagre for sometime past. The people are generally healthy and following their vocations. There has been an extra crop of ice secured. Some have been getting married lately, but this a common occurence amongst the young people and is likely to be continued ad infinitum.

Mr. James C. Hoffman, the proprietor of the paper mill in this vicinity, which had been idle for about seven years, has started the machinery and is again making paper.

Mr. Newton F. Bowers, the proprietor of Shiloh Mills, has been considerably annoyed for a few days past because of the vast amount of ice in the head-race. The mill is full of custom work and no water to grind. We sincerely hope the weather may moderate and give the citizens the advantage of having their grain ground and the boss returned to his accustomed hilarity.

Sleighing parties are now being enjoyed by the young people.

Suicide of Mr. David D. Bonsack.

Profound sorrow and regret were felt in this community on Saturday morning last when it was learned that Mr. David D. Bonsack, a well known citizen, had committed suicide some time during the the previous night, by hanging himself on a cherry tree on his farm and not far from his residence near this city. The ill news spread rapidly and soon the sad occurrence was the topic of general conversation and inquiry.

It appears that Mr. Bonsack left his home at eight o'clock the previous evening for the ostensible purpose of visiting a neighbor, Mr. Levi Black. He did not return at a seasonable hour and as the night wore on his family became uneasy and finally his son, Mr. Chas. D. Bonsack, with a friend, instituted a search for him. They went to the house of Mr. Black, but he had not been there. Mr. Black then joined them and the search was continued. At half-past six o'clock, Saturday morning, the lifeless body was discovered suspended from a limb of the cherry tree. He had climbed to a considerable height, fastened one end of a rope to the limb and the other around his neck and then dropped into space. When found his feet were close to the ground and life was extinct, but the body was not entirely rigid and the act had probably not been perpetrated till towards morning.

The causes which led to the tragedy are matters of public notoriety. Mr. Bonsack had been in a somewhat melancholy condition for some time past. He was formerly a prominent minister of the German Baptist Church, and had the partial charge and oversight of the congregations at Meadow Branch and in this city. Something less than a year ago his name was connected with a scandal that affected his standing in the church and community. He left his home and family and went to Florida without having previously announced his intention to do so, but was induced to return.

His conduct was investigated by the Church, and he was deposed from the ministry, and eventually from all church connection. He still retained the confidence of many citizens, and a short time after his return was re-elected president of the Westminster and Meadow Branch Turnpike Company; but the old-time cordiality and freedom of intercourse with the people was past, and a wall of reserve seemed to surround him.

He brooded over his troubles, and became gloomy and despondent. He had probably been wandering about during Friday night and until towards morning, when he finally nerved himself to the commission of the fatal act, which he had doubtless previously contemplated. Mr. Bonsack was about fifty-three years of age. He served during the war as a corporal in Company A, Sixth Maryland Regiment, and was a gallant soldier. He was a man of large frame and great physical strength, robust and rugged; but he was exceedingly sensitive, and suffered under the indifference of former friends. He was a generous and benevolent man, kind to the poor and full of sympathy for the sorrowing. Many a charitable and unselfish deed of kindness to the unfortunate is related of him.

He recently erected a fine new dwelling on a part of the farm occupied by him, and was residing in it when he committed the act which ended his life. He leaves a widow, son, two daughters and a number of step-children. His family is connected with some of the most substantial and worthy citizens of this county, and the deplorable event has occasioned great sympathy for the bereaved and sorrowing members of his household.

His funeral took place on Monday afternoon at Meadow Branch Church, and seldom, if ever, has so large a number of persons attended a service of any kind at that well known place of worship, although the weather was exceedingly inclement. The funeral sermon was delivered by Elder Thomas J. Kolb, of Double Pipe Creek, and Elders Wm. H. Franklin, of Sams Creek and Jeremiah Brown, of Wakefield, assisted in the services. Elders Ephraim W. Stoner, of Union Bridge; John Ohler, of Fountain Dale; Greenbury Ecker, of Uniontown; Joseph Price, of Black Rock; Uriah Bixler, of Westminster, and Emanuel Babylon, of Spring Mills, were present. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. John T. Diffenbaugh, Levi Black, John T. Cassell, Nelson Gilbert, John Galt, Wm. J. Morelock, Geo. W. Hull and Leander Gladhill.

The following committee of Burns Post No. 13, G. A. R., appointed by Commander Wm. A. McKellip, attended the funeral in a body: Charles Merryman, First Maryland Cavalry; James W. Hook, Upton Warner, Co. A, and Peter Little and Ephraim Haifley, Co. C, Sixth Md. Infantry.

Medford Items.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Thomas Babylon and son, Master Snider Babylon, and Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Stoner and daughter, Miss Fay Stoner, of Westminster, were the guests of Mr. George W. Snider, Sr., of this place, on Sunday last.

The high wind of Tuesday drifted the snow that had fallen the previous day to such an extent that some of the roads were almost impassable.

Mr. Geo. W. Snider, Jr., of Tiffin, Ohio, who is spending the winter with his father, Mr. George W. Snider, Sr., has been contemplating a trip to the mountain, but has postponed it until better weather.

Mr. David Nicodemus, an old and respected resident of Medford, died at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Eden Engleman, near Union Bridge, on Friday night, 6th inst. He leaves a widow, one son, Mr. Ezra Nicodemus, and two daughters, Mrs. Eden Engleman, at whose home he died, and Mrs. Joseph I. Snader, of Union Bridge. His remains were interred in the private burial ground of the Cassell family, near Reifsnider's mill, on Monday. Snow was falling and the day was very inclement. The funeral cortege had a drive of eight miles and those who accompanied it became very cold, but by the thoughtful kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Reifsnider were invited to their hospitable residence and made comfortable by well heated stoves.

Harney Items.

Sterner's mill, situated near here, was entirely consumed by fire last Sunday morning, with all its contents, machinery and about two hundred bushels of grain. The dwelling-house, situated next to the mill, was also destroyed and it was only by the earnest efforts of a few of the neighbors that the other adjacent buildings were saved from destruction. Mr David Shanabrook, the miller, who occupied the dwelling burnt, lost some of his property but was not at home at the time of the fire which had gained such headway that the roof had fallen in when first discovered. The property is owned by Mr. Joshua Sterner, of Missouri, who will not lose by the fire, as the property is covered by insurance.

Quarterly Conference was held here in the U. B. Church over last Saturday and Sunday. In the absence of the Presiding Elder, Rev. J. B. Weidler, of Waynesboro, Pa., presided.

We are passing through the coldest weather that we have experienced for many years. Notwithstanding the fact there has not been sufficient snow to make sleighing, although we are nearing the middle of January.

Edward Sentz, who was badly hurt by a falling tree last week, is rapidly recovering, under the care of Dr. G. T. Motter.

Mrs. Mary Lippy, widow of the late David Lippy, died at her home on Saturday morning last at the advanced age of 78 years and 11 months. During her widowhood of 9 years she has lived at the Lippy home on North Main street, with her daughters, Delia and Laura, and for some six years was partially disabled from paralysis. During the last year dropsy developed in her system and was the immediate cause of her death. Her remains were laid away to rest in a family lot in our Cemetery, on Tuesday, and funeral services were held in Trinity Reformed Church, of which she was a member, conducted by the Rev. E. Manges. She leaves one son, Mr. Oliver Lippy, of this place, and four daughters, the two of the home circle, and Mrs. Lewis Brockley and Mrs. Little, of Hanover, Pa.

The extreme cold weather struck us on Wednesday night in all its fury, with a driving northwest wind that soon sent the mercury down near 0, while the snow fall of 4 inches was carried at a fearful velocity in all directions and piled in solid drifts in roads and valleys, making travel difficult and unpleasant. All the time the cold was increasing and by Tuesday evening zero was reached and at the more exposed places it registered some degrees below. Travellers report that the rounding of Cape Horn south of town on Wednesday was terrible. A gale struck the express in the afternoon and blew the dashboard entirely off.

Our fox hunters had the finest chase of the season on Saturday last. Reynard was started from his hiding place in the early forenoon and ran until sundown. At one time he was within sight of town but most of the time was fleeing among the hills of Round Top and the valleys of Bottom Run, pursued by the best hounds of the district, which at times, the boys say, "made him hustle."

Mr. George Burns has arrived home at his son-in-law's, Mr. J. W. Hoffacker, from Baltimore, where he underwent the fourth operation for his facial suffering. The former operations were in the cheek near the right eye. This last one was back of the ear and though the severe nervous pain is relieved his general health seems to be failing, so that he is confined to his room and much of his time to his bed.

Mrs. Ida Wisner, whom we several times mentioned as being quite ill, died at her home one and a-half miles northeast from here after six weeks of intense suffering at the age of 27 years. Her funeral took place on Thursday, Rev. C. M. Eyster officiating. Her husband survives her, but she leaves no children.

Rev. Reoder, of Elizabethtown, Pa., met his appointment on Sunday morning last in Trinity Reformed Church and preached to a good congregation; in the afternoon he preached at the Lazarus Church to a large congregation, and in the evening again in Trinity Church which was filled with an attentive audience.

Mr. John Everhart spent his 91st birthday on Monday, 9th inst., quietly in the family circle, enjoying good health at his advanced age, with an active and retentive mind. He has been a constant reader of the SENTINEL even from its old Carrolltonian times to the present.

Our cigar manufacturers, who had a lay off for several weeks during the holidays, opened up in full blast on Monday morning.

The members of the Fire Company will hold a festival in the I. O. O. F. Hall, commencing on Saturday, 21st inst., for the benefit of their treasury.

Our readers can do no less than send a postal for a free specimen copy, or for fifty cents, in cash or 2-cent postage stamps, the paper will be sent on trial to new subscribers, three months or thirteen weeks, enabling them to judge of its merits more critically.

A magnificent premium given to yearly subscribers. Address, The Saturday Evening Post, (Lock Box), Philadelphia, Pa.
