LOCAL ITEMS.

A daughter of Mr. Wesley Haines, of New Windsor, aged eleven years, died on Wednesday, of pneumonia following an attack of measles.

Up to Wednesday last the number of cases on the dockets of the Circuit Court for the February term was: Trials, 210; appeals, 33, and originals, 25.

Forty-seven deeds, 19 mortgages and 13 bills of sale were received for record, and 21 marriage licenses were issued by County Clerk Crouse during the month of January.

The remains of Mrs. Susie Stultz, a very aged lady, who died at Bark Hill, were interred on Wednesday in the burial ground of the Pipe Creek German Baptist Church.

The infant son of Mr. Henry Arbaugh, of Harrisburg, Pa., died on Sunday last, and his remains were brought to this city and interred in Westminster Cemetery on Tuesday.

Mr. Wm. Rickle has sold his dwelling house and premises on Liberty street, this city, to Mr. John D. Biehl, for $1,025. Mr. Rickle expects to remove, with his family, to Baltimore, in the spring, and make his home in that city.

On Friday evening, 10th inst., the Union Street Debating Society of this city will discuss the question: "Which does the most to produce happiness and promote the civilization of the human race, the male or female mind?" Hanson Frisby will maintain the affirmative and Reuben Walker the negative. Five cents admission, for the benefit of Union Street Church, will be charged.

Burns Post No. 13, G. A. R., of this city, will meet at Carroll Hall, at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, 11th inst.

Mrs. M. Kate Fowble, wife, of Mr. O. P. Fowble and daughter of Mr. E. Lewis Fowble and the late Celia Fowble, died at her home at Fowblesburg, on Tuesday last.

Mr. William Y. Griffith, a government clerk at Washington, D. C., died at the residence of Mr. Ezra L. Shriner, near Linwood, on Tuesday night, of consumption. He was Mr. Shriner's son-in-law.

The ladies of the Methodist Protestant Church, this city, will hold a festival and oyster supper in the room adjoining the store of Messrs. Babylon & Gilbert, near the railroad, commencing on Wednesday evening next and continuing every night till the close of the week.

The members of Charity Lodge No. 58, Knights of Pythias, of this city, will attend divine service in a body, at Grace Lutheran Church, at 10:30 on Sunday morning, 5th inst., at which time a sermon appropriate to the occasion will be delivered by the pastor, Rev. P. H. Miller.

Miss Minnie I. Wagoner, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Wagoner, of this city, and Mr. William B. Bankard, will be married at Grace Lutheran Church, at half-past four o'clock, Tuesday, 14th inst. Invitations to the wedding will be issued in a day or two.

Miss Bessie Zacharias, daughter of Mr. James M. Zacharias, formerly of this county but now residing in Baltimore, has passed an examination in her school studies and in sewing so creditable in character that her papers are considered worthy of exhibition at the Columbian World's Fair.

The necessity for crossings on Main and other streets, of this city, has been strongly apparent during the last ten days or more. The city authorities should take some steps to make the streets passable to pedestrians who may be compelled to cross them. To ladies, particularly, their condition has been simply intolerable.

"We would scarcely know how to keep house now without the SENTINEL," writes a subscriber in Ohio, in forwarding a money order to pay his subscription in advance till September, 1894. It is gratifying to know that the weekly visits of the old journal confer so much pleasure in this case, as we are assured they do in many others.

Mr. Fred. D. Miller, of this city, has purchased of Mr. B. W. Buckingham, of Baltimore, the double dwelling house adjoining the property of the Westminster Savings Institution, on West Main street, for the sum of $1,800. Mr. Miller will remodel and enlarge the building and convert it into a handsome and convenient residence.

Miss Charlotte Bowzer, who had long been an inmate of the Alms House of this county, died at that institution on Sunday last, at the age of 81 years. She had an income, but was feeble in mind, and was kept as a ward of the county on that account, partially, or possibly wholly, reimbursing the outlay necessary for her support. Her remains were interred in Westminster Cemetery on Monday.

Rev. Dr. Thos. H. Lewis, President of Western Maryland College, will deliver a lecture, in the regular course, in the college auditorium, on Thursday evening next. His subject will be the city of Honolulu, and recent events will give added interest to the lecture which, under ordinary circumstances, would be of an attractive character. Admission to the lecture will be free.

After the adjournment of the School Board, on Monday last, President E. O. Grimes entertained the other members, Messrs. Prugh, Slingluff, Reindollar, Blocher and Anderson; the Examiner, Prof. James A. Diffenbaugh; the Assistant Secretary, Mr. Orlando Reese; the Counsel to the Board, Wm. H. Thomas, Esq., and Dr. J. W. Hering at dinner, at his residence, West Main street, this city.

Mr. Samuel Lookingbill, a well known citizen of Myers' district, died at the residence of his son, Mr. Leander Lookingbill, near Union Mills, on Sunday last, in the 87th year of his age. Another son, Mr. Samuel Lookingbill, Jr., resides at Poplar Bluff, Mo. His only daughter, who died many years ago, was the wife of Mr. Jacob F. Elgen, of this city. His remains were interred in the burial ground of St. John's Catholic Church, this city, on Tuesday.

An unknown correspondent sends us an account of a surprise party near Middleburg, on Tuesday evening. It is probably genuine, but the writer's name should have been appended, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. It was signed "A Participant." The copy will be preserved and the communication published next week if the writer's identity shall be revealed in the meantime. Otherwise it must go into the waste basket.

Those who put faith in the wisdom of the ground-hog will anticipate moderate and pleasant winter weather during the next six weeks. Thursday was the day upon which the little animal, according to popular superstition, forsook his winter lair and made his appearance in the open air. On that day no ray of sunshine pierced the clouds to cause a shadow of evil portent and drive him back to his quarters. But winter is not over yet.

The regular monthly meeting of the Benevolent and Aid Society of St. Paul's Reformed Church was held on Tuesday evening last, at Mr. John T. Brown's on West Main street. The attendance was large, the first floor of the commodious house having been filled by many members of the congregation, old and young, and other members of the society who had gathered. After the transaction of the regular business, the evening was spent in the enjoyment of music and conversation.

An account of the sudden death of Mr. Hiram Englar, of New Windsor, contributed by a citizen of that place, will be found in another column. Mr. Englar was for many years a subscriber to the SENTINEL. He was in this city the day before his decease and called at this office and renewed his subscription for a year in advance. He appeared in robust health and the subsequent news of his sudden death could scarcely be credited. During his visit the editor enjoyed a pleasant conversation with him and cannot refrain from adding a word of respect to his memory. He was a good man, thoroughly upright in character and deserved the esteem and regard in which he was held by all who knew him.

The President and Directors of the Farmers and Mechanics' National Bank of Westminster have declared a semi-annual dividend of two and a-half per cent., clear of National, State and county taxes, and payable on and after the 10th inst. The substantial character of this well known banking institution, and the prudent and efficient manner in which its affairs are conducted are exemplified in the regularity with which these announcements are made, which are, in themselves, the best testimonials to the skill and fidelity of its officers.

An exceedingly pleasant surprise party was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Bush, of Sandyville, in their honor, on Thursday evening. The evening was spent in the enjoyment of games, plays, social conversation and music. Elegant refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Bush and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miller, Mr. Frank M. Miller and family, Miss Cordelia Miller, of Sandyville; Mr. George A. Miller and family, of Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Bush, of Gamber; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis A. Smith, of Wakefield.

The Baltimore Morning Herald of Tuesday says that Mr. Robert Shower, of Manchester, son of Mr. George A. Shower, arrived at Union Station, Baltimore, on Wednesday evening and was immediately "approached by a 'panhandler,' who solicited the price of a night's lodging. Being refused, the man followed young Shower, who was on his way to 408 North Paca street, to the corner of Charles street and Strange alley, where the man struck young Shower, it is supposed, with a blunt instrument, knocking him down. He then went through his pockets, taking $12 in cash. The case was reported at the Central Station, and Shower went to the City Hospital, where the slight wound on his head was dressed." Mr. Shower is about 20 years old.

Considerable apprehension was created among housekeepers in this city, for a short time on Monday morning last, by the failure of the water supply. It was noticed during the previous evening that the flow from the pipes was very much diminished, and the organs in the churches were mute in the closing services because the amount of water was insufficiant to operate the motors. The impression was prevalent that the frost had reached the main at some point and frozen the water. Fortunately the apprehension was groundless, as the difficulty was at the reservoir, where the ice on the surface had collapsed as the water was drawn from beneath it and settling to the bottom obstructed the flow into the main pipe. It was promptly removed and the supply restored, but of a quality not serviceable for several days for drinking and culinary purposes and not yet entirely free from sediment. A more thorough flushing of the main might have given better results.

Miss Daisy L. Uhler, daughter of Mr. Nicholas Uhler, resident superintendent of the Brighton Land and Improvement Company, near Mt. Hope on the Western Maryland Railroad, died on Tuesday morning from the effects of a quantity of Rough on Rats, taken on Monday night with suicidal intent. She was nearly twenty-one years old and her rash act was the result of a broken marriage engagement with Wm. T. Childs, a young carpenter residing in the same vicinity. The engagement was annulled by Childs, who, it is said, had received a number of anonymous letters reflecting upon the young lady. She told her mother in her last moments that "somebody had been lying" about her. Miss Uhler is said to have been very pretty and attractive and her death, under the circumstances, is peculiarly sad. The despicable writer of the anonymous epistles that led to the tradegy ought to feel the guilt of a murderer in the matter. The victim of this atrocious meanness is a granddaughter of Mr. William Uhler, near Patapsco, this county.

A New Industry.

Mr. Wm. B. Thomas, State Senator Pinkney J. Bennett, and Messrs. George M. Parke, J. P. Hull and Charles E. Goodwin, of this city, have organized a company for the manufacture of "J. P. Hull's Horse, Cattle and Poultry Powders," an article that has gained a high reputation in this county and adjoining counties of this state and Pennsylvania, for the purposes indicated. Mr. Hull has been manufacturing these powders in Myers' district, for a number of years, and thorough tests have proved them of great value to stock and poultry. They will now be produced in large quantities and ought to have ready sale. For the present a temporary factory will be occupied on the lot at the north corner of Green and Liberty streets, but the reliable character of the product should soon insure sales that will render a large and well equipped establishment for the manufacture a necessity. Mr. Wm. B. Thomas is president, and Mr. Charles E. Goodwin secretary and treasurer of the company.

Proceedings of the School Board.

At the meeting of the School Board on Tuesday, Mr. Anderson reported that in obedience to former instructions, he had secured a lot for a new schoolhouse at Mount Airy, and made a payment on it to bind the bargain. The secretary was instructed to have plans and specifications for the house, with an estimate of its cost, ready for consideration at the next meeting.

Several requests for the use of schoolhouses for public entertainments and other purposes, were refused.

The teachers' reports for the winter term were examined, and the pay-roll made thereon, amounting to over $12,000, was approved. It appearing from some of the reports that trustees who are in good financial condition are in the habit of exempting their own children from the payment of book-fees, the secretary was instructed to inform them that the Board does not approve of this action.

Complaints were made of teachers who are in the habit of drinking intoxicants to excess. The secretary was directed to admonish them of the fault, and assure them that unless it were corrected they would not be employed by the Board.

Trustees were appointed as follows: John R. Bennett and James Buckingham at Pleasant Gap vice James H. Shipley and Peyton Buckingham, resigned; John Brenning at Lewisville vice Charles Braining, declined; James Cullison at Johnsville, colored, vice William Tolbert, resigned.

The Board adjourned to the first Monday in March next.

Reported for the SENTINEL.

Teachers' Institute.

The Carroll County Teachers' Institute, held by order of the Board of School Commissioners, under the direction and supervision of Prof. James A. Diffenbaugh, County Examiner, began its sessions at Central Hall School House at 9:30, Thursday morning, and was opened by singing the doxology, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," in which the entire audience joined. The singing was led by a select choir, composed of Misses Ida Diffenbaugh, Grace Hockensmith, A. M. Mikesell, Hilda Crass, Maggie Lockard, Messrs. S. P. Weaver, W. D. Reese, B. F. Crouse, George W. Caples, Austin H. Geiselman; Miss Ida Lockard, pianist; George F. Morelock, cornetist; Arthur Stonesifer, clarionetist. Prayer was offered by Rev. J. T. Ward, D. D., President of Westminster Theological Seminary. Prof. Diffenbaugh presided and introduced the speakers. An address of welcome was delivered by Dr. J. W. Hering, in which he warmly eulogized the work of the institute, commended the teachers for their devotion to the cause of education and the improvement everywhere perceptible in the schools, incidentally exalting the profession as second only to that of the ministerial office. He also complimented the Board of School Commissioners and the County Examiner on the economical and effective manner in which the public school funds have been employed in this county.

An admirable response to Dr. Hering's address was made by Mr. C. W. Otto, on behalf of the teachers. Both addresses were warmly applauded.

Hon. Henry Houck, Deputy State Superintendent of Education of Pennsylvania, who is so favorably known and greatly admired in this community, made a characteristic and interesting address. The proceedings of the session were interspersed with music, including a clarionet solo by Mr. George F. Morelock, and a vocal duet, "Bird of the Wilderness," by Misses Diffenbaugh and Crass.

At the afternoon session Prof. Wm. C. A. Hamell, of the State Normal School, delivered an interesting and instructive lecture on Home-Made Apparatus, with illustrations on the blackboard and experiments, with apparatus, in water, air, heat and electricity. Prof. Herbert E. Austin, of the Normal School, lectured on Science in the Public Schools, illustrating his theme with many beautiful experiments, especially with oxygen gas. Col. John A. M. Passmore, of Philadelphia, read an interesting paper on "The Duties of Teachers." Prof. Houck entertained the audience with humorous remarks. Misses Diffenbaugh and Mikesell sang solos.

The evening session was held in Odd Fellows' Hall and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. Prof. Diffenbaugh introduced the exercises by making some terse, but admirable remarks, in the pleasing style for which he is justly celebrated.

Miss Helen M. Cole delivered a beautiful and admirable lecture on "The Province of Education," and read "Phaeton," a mythological tale, translated from Ovid, in the latter of which she illustrated the most refined order of the elecutionary art. Her lecture was not only charming, but very instructive.

Prof. George E. Little, of Washington, D. C., gave a most capital chalk-talk, with rapid drawings on blackboard and paper. The facility with which he used the crayons and the wonderful transitions wrought in the sketches by a line or two, here and there, kept the audience on the qui vive and in great good humor.

A brief talk by Prof. Houck, literally demanded by the audience, closed the session, which was interspersed with singing by the choir, and solos and duets by Misses Diffenbaugh, Mikesell, and Hockensmith, and Mr. E. Gehr Smith. Miss Georgia Franklin accompanied Mr. Smith's solo on the organ. Further report of the proceedings of the institute are deferred until next week.

Manchester Railroad Enterprise.

Progress in the enterprise of constructing a railroad, from Manchester to Maple Grove Station, has been arrested by the discovery that the law under which the people of the town voted to incur a debt of fifteen thousand dollars, to aid the project, is defective. Bonds cannot be issued as contemplated, and, if the road is to be built, recourse must be had to some other means to raise the necessary funds. The enterprise is of great importance to Manchester, and many of the citizens feel that it should not be allowed to fail. The experience of other places, similarly situated, affords strong ground for the opinion that the road would be of great value to the town and largely enhance its prosperity. Citizens of Stewartstown, Pa., by pluck and energy, accomplished the construction of a railroad from New Freedom, on the Northern Central Railway, to that town, giving it a fresh business impetus, increasing the value of property and developing general prosperity, while the road itself is more than self-sustaining, and pays dividends to the stockholders. The Gunpowder Railroad, running from the Baltimore and Harrisburg to Hoffman's Paper Mills, which is practically only a freight road, is, we are informed, more than paying expenses. Manchester has advantages superior to either of the places named for maintaining a branch railroad, and, it can hardly be doubted, would be vastly benefitted by the possession of such means of transit.

Citizens of the town, feeling the force of these facts, have suggested a plan to raise the necessary means to construct the road, by the mutual agreement of tax-payers to contribute to the project upon the basis of the assessment of their property. It is said that the payment of sixty-four cents on the one hundred dollars of the assessed value of the property of the town will produce ample funds to grade the roadbed and lay the rails, and leave a margin to go to the purchase of rolling stock. To the latter object a sum amounting to about $2,000 has already been subscribed by the citizens of the town and, it is said, will be considerably increased, whenever the construction of the road shall become assured, by subscriptions from citizens of the surrounding country. Under these circumstances the enterprise of the people of Manchester should prompt to an energetic effort to make the building of the road a certainty.

Elder Peter Lookingbill, of Mayberry, whose serious illness is mentioned in Uniontown items, died on Thursday morning. He was about fifty-seven years of age.

Death of Mr. Hiram Englar.

Mr. Hiram Englar, a well known citizen of New Windsor district, died at his home, adjacent to the town of New Windsor, very suddenly, about 8:30 o'clock, Friday night, 27th ult., in the 70th year of his age. Mr. and Mrs. Englar had retired for the night and had been conversing on some topic connected with the preservation of health. After a short silence Mrs. Englar observed that her husband was breathing stertorously and she supposed had fallen asleep. She spoke to him and attempted to arouse him, but received no response. She rose and obtained a light and approaching the bed found that death had taken place in the brief period related. Mr. Englar was a retired farmer of large means and was held in high esteem in the community. He was a man of sterling worth and upright character. He leaves a widow, three sons, Messrs. David, Alfred and Joseph L. Englar, and four daughters, Mrs. John C. Buckey, Mrs. Ezra Nicodemus and Miss Florence Englar, of this county, and Mrs. Sherrick, of Centre View, Mo.

On Monday, at 12, M., a large number of relatives and many friends and neighbors of the deceased assembled at the residence, and at 1, P. M., the remains were conveyed to the Pipe Creek German Baptist Church, where funeral services were held and a solemn and impressive funeral discourse delivered by Elder William H. Franklin, of Sams Creek, from the 44th verse of the 24th chapter of Matthew: "Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of man cometh." The services were concluded in the church burial ground, where the remains were interred in the presence of a large concourse of people. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. L. P. Slingluff, Abdon Carlisle, Isaiah Nusbaum, Henry W. Geatty, Charles T. Repp, and Joshua Smith. Mr. Charles P. Balle was the undertaker.

Lindsay-Young.

On January 26th, 1893, promptly at 5 o'clock, P. M., Mr. Albert S. Lindsay, son of Mr. Levi Lindsay, of Frederick county, and Miss Irene Young, daughter of Mrs. John T. Young, of Carroll county, were quietly married at the residence of Elder Wm. H. Franklin, who in a solemn and impressive manner performed the ceremony. After the ceremony the happy couple returned to the hospitable home of the bride, near Taylorsville, where an elegant and palatable wedding supper awaited them, to which all did ample justice. The bride, who is a brunette, wore to much advantage a costume of silver gray cloth, trimmed in cut-steel and silk, with hat and gloves to match. The groom looked his best in a full suit of black. The bride and groom received many handsome and useful presents. Among those present were: Mrs. John T. Young, mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stuller, the latter a sister of the groom; Misses Rosa Young, sister of the bride; Lillie Franklin, Lollie Farver, Fannie Franklin, Irene Buckingham, May Farver, Maggie Franklin, Estella Farver, Emma Franklin, Messrs. James Hooper, Thomas Smith, Thomas Franklin, Irwin Buckingham, Charles L. Frizzell, Edward Franklin, Maurice Buckingham, J. T. Frizzell, Raymond Stuller, William, Charles, John, Washington and Theodore Young, brothers of the bride, and others. During the evening the calithumpians serenaded the happy couple and were handsomely entertained. Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay have our best wishes for a happy and prosperous life.

Medford Items.

Mrs. Harvey S. Witter, who, with several others, had been visiting her parents and relatives in King William county, Va., a month, returned the latter part of last week accompanied by her sister, Miss J. C. Royer, and also by her husband, who met them in Baltimore, and spent several days among friends. She reports more snow in Virginia than Maryland can boast, and grand sleighing, which, being a rare pleasure there, was greatly indulged in, many purchasing new sleighs.

The roads are now getting in a bad condition, and it depends on ground hog day whether we are to have solid roads for some time.

Mrs. Jane Raitt, who had been visiting in Baltimore, five or six weeks, has returned to her son-in-law, Mr. Thos. I. Hann's.

Mrs. Joseph Woods, who has been confined to her room for some time past, we are glad to say is improving.

Our school teacher, Miss Anna M. Barnes, who has been so dangerously ill the past several weeks, we are glad to say is improving. Her school has been conducted this week by her brother.

Several families in the vicinity have measles and bad colds, but nothing serious is anticipated.

Union Mills Items.

Mr. Samuel Lookingbill, the oldest, and one of the most respected residents of this locality, died at the home of his son, Mr. Leander Lookingbill, last Sunday afternoon, in the 89th year of his age. His remains were interred in St. John's Catholic cemetery, Westminster, the following Tuesday morning.

Mr. Wm. H. Bankard, who has suffered severely with catarrh of the hand since the holidays, is, we are glad to state, in a much improved condition.

Mr. Wm. G. Byers, a prominent resident of our village, is seriously ill with typhoid pneumonia.

Our gun club was organized several evenings ago by the election of the following officers: John Warehime, president; Rinehart Hesson, vice president; Geo. W. Yeiser, secretary and treasurer. The club, having received its trap and barrel of clay pigeons, had its first practice match on Wednesday last. "Shorty" Groft led the score, breaking eight pigeons out of ten shots. He never before shot at a clay pigeon. The club will again meet for practice on the afternoon of the 18th inst.

Spring Mills Items.

Mrs. Close, widow of the late George Close, while walking on the ice slipped and fell and broke one of her ribs and bruised herself severely otherwise, but is doing well under the care of Dr. Jos. T. Hering.

Miss Annie Barnes is ill with measles and pneumonia. Miss Annie Roop is also on the sick list. Mr. Harry Buckingham is improving slowly.

Miss Ella Babylon visited friends near Meadow Branch last week.

A very pleasant surprise and pound party was tendered Mrs. Bankert, commonly known as "Grandma," in Tyrone, on Saturday afternoon, 28th ult. The invited guests met at the residence of Mr. W. U. Marker, and at 2 o'clock formed in line, and marched to the residence of Mrs. Bankert, each one laden with a package. The surprise was a complete success, for which much credit is due to Mrs. Wm. Haines, Mrs. W. U. Marker and Miss Sarah Formwalt, who comprised the committee. After social conversation and the presentation of the gifts, all were invited to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was in waiting, which was fully discussed. Then a season of pleasant intercourse and conversation ensued, until all were admonished by the lateness of the hour that the time had arrived to take their departure, when, bidding "Grandma" good-bye and expressing a hope that she may live to see many returns of such happy meetings the guests retired to their homes. Mrs. Bankert was the daughter of Jacob Myers, Sr., and the oldest of 11. She first saw the light of day on the farm now owned by Mr. Michael Frock, 81 years ago, where she lived the first 25 years of her life. Afterward she was married to Jacob Bankert, and since then has resided in this locality. She was the mother of eleven children, 6 of whom are living. She has stood at the graves of a husband, father and mother, 5 children and ten sisters and brothers. At her advanced age she is hearty and hale and bids fair to live many years, and, as she expresses it, can yet do more work than many of the younger of her sex. Those present at the event here chronicled were: Mrs. Bankert, and Susie Bankert, of Tyrone; Mr. Jos. Fuhrman and wife, Howard Fuhrman, Newton Staley and Mrs. Kate Hamilton, of Harney; Mr. Wm. Haines and wife, Messrs. Thomas and Francis Haines and Harry Bankert, of Elizabethtown; Mr. W. U. Marker and wife, Mr. Geo. C. Harman and wife, Mr. Samuel Wantz and wife, Mr. Thomas Eckard and wife, Mr. E. Bollinger and wife, Mrs. Joseph Formwalt, Mrs. Wm. Formwalt, Miss Sarah Formwalt, Mrs. G. E. Marker, Misses Sallie Shuey, May Harman, Maude L. Marker and Virgie Marker, Mrs. Henry Sell, Masters Luther Eckard and Charles Bollinger, of Tyrone and vicinity; Mrs. Wm. Devilbiss, Miss E Bankert and Mrs. Sue Buffington, of Pleasant Valley.

On Friday night of last week quite a number of the members and friends of the M. P. Church gave their pastor, Rev. J. W. Charlton, at the parsonage, a nice donation. Mr. John A. Brown made the presentation speech, to which Mr. Charlton responded feelingly and closed with prayer. Then the company, the greater part of whom were ladies, had a general social talk with each other and with the pastor's family. It looked as tho' each one was happy and felt glad that they were present. The daughter, Miss Nelly, entertained the company with some choice music on the piano. Incidentally it became known as the company were entering the parsonage that it was the 61st birthday of the pastor.

Houses here are generally taken up and possibly there are not quite enough to go around; something unusual here. So you see our town is booming. One thing we have to regret: many of the wells have nearly dried up, another unusual thing for our town. We have great cause to be thankful for the health of the citizens. There is no serious illness, nor has there been any death for a long while. Our undertaker has been kept busy some distance away, having buried five persons recently.

On Monday last the wife of Mr. Upton L. Hahn, tinner, near town, was buried at Littlestown, Pa., having died after a long illness. She leaves a husband and two children.

Mr. Frank Smith's school, at Dunkard meeting house, gave quite an enjoyable entertainment on Saturday afternoon and night of last week.

If the weather should continue for several days more as it has been for the last week, Mr. Daniel D. Haysee and A Purveyor, of New Windsor, ought to make a round trip on the road from Wakefield Station to Mr. David Roop's mill, and say yes or no to the question, "Should our roads be improved?" and never mind telling us what they know about Rome, Demosthenes and Cicero.

Potatoes are scarce and and many are somewhat frost bitten.
