LOCAL ITEMS.

The sale of the house and lot of Wm. Warner, on Union street, this city, has been withdrawn.

A large part of the damage caused to buildings in this city by the cyclone of the 19th ult. has been repaired.

Mr. Milton Schaeffer, of this city, is suffering severely and is confined to his house from the effects of a large boil.

Many of the Democrats of this city and county, with probably a few Republicans, will attend the inaugural ceremonies at Washington to-day.

The Benevolent and Aid Society of St. Paul's Reformed Church will meet on Tuesday evening next, at the residence of Mr. Oscar D. Gilbert.

At the meeting of the Westminster Fire Department on Wednesday evening a resolution was passed requiring the members to procure new uniforms.

Thirty deeds, 13 mortgages and 13 bills of sale were received for record, and 19 marriage licenses were issued by County Clerk Crouse during the month of February.

The sale of the personal property of Mrs. Edith A. Penn, near Sykesville, advertised to take place on Wednesday, the 22nd inst., has been postponed until Thursday, the 23rd inst.

Messrs. T. Herbert Shriver and Martin J. Lahey, of this city, attended the Western Canners' convention, held at St. Louis, Mo., last week. They arrived home from their trip on Tuesday.

The Western Md. Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Washington, Edgemont, and main line stations east for regular trains, March 2d and 3d, and morning trains March 4th, 1893, at 2c. per mile, round trip. Route via Baltimore and Pennsylvania Railroad; change cars at Union Station. Tickets good to return until March 7, 1893.

A son of Mr. Charles Fuhrman, residing on the Littlestown turnpike, near this city, was thrown from his sled, while coasting, a few days ago, and was badly cut about the face.

A little two-year-old child of Mr. Hicks Tagg, of this city, fell from a chair, at its home on John street, on Thursday morning, and broke one of its arms. The fracture was adjusted by Dr. J. H. Billingslea.

Mr. Alfred Yingling while feeding a fodder cutter, near Stonersville, had his right hand caught in the Machine and severely injured. Parts of three of his fingers had to be amputated. He is attended by Dr. Joseph T. Hering, of this city.

James Welty was before Justice G. W. Crapster on Thursday, on the charge of committing a felonious assault on Nettie B. Fox, near Keysville school-house, in July last. The girl claims that she is but thirteen years old. Welty was released on $500 bail.

The business of the J. P. Hull Horse, Cattle and Poultry Powder Company of this city has been increasing so rapidly that another addition of machinery has been necessary. The value of the remedy is widely recognized and orders are abundant.

Mr. Samuel V. Bankert, a well known house and sign painter, of this city, died at his residence on Pennsylvania avenue, on Friday morning, after a short illness. He leaves a widow, one son and one daughter, both of whom are nearly grown.

Mr. Fred. Yingling, of Pleasant Valley, while wrestling with some parties at the sale of Mr. John Shade, near Stonersville, on Wednesday, had his elbow joint dislocated. He was taken to his home and Dr. Bott, of this city, summoned, who reduced the dislocation.

Persons desiring to purchase farm stock and machinery should consult the sale register of the SENTINEL, which will give them valuable information concerning many of the public auctions of such property to take place in this county during the month of March.

The Waynesboro, Pa., Record, of Thursday last, says: "Mr. Samuel Beck, of Linwood, Md., who had spent some time among friends here recently, purchased of Mr. Edward Lynch a property near Mr. J. R. Funk's, on the Hagerstown road and will make this his future home."

Mr. Richard Oursler, a native of Westminster, is now visiting his sister, Mrs. Maggie Kendall, 230 N. Greene st., Baltimore. Mr. Oursler left Maryland thirty years ago for Marysville, Ohio. He will be in Westminster the first of next week. He will also visit Manchester, New Windsor and Front Royal, Va., before returning to his home.

The members of the Westminster Band have received their new uniforms, which they will wear to-day for the first time, on their trip to Washington, where they will appear in the inaugural procession at the head of the Iroquois Club of Baltimore. The suit consists of a white coat elaborately trimmed with gold braid, and dark blue pantaloons, and is very neat and handsome.

A special meeting of the Maryland Classis, Reformed Church, will be held on Tuesday next, at Bachman's Church for the purpose of determining the relation of that congregation, under the action taken some time ago by which it was transferred from the Manchester charge to the new Carroll charge. The congregation, with great unanimity, prefers to be restored to its former status.

March came in as quietly as a summer morning, but the sun shone upon as beautiful a winter scene as has ever been witnessed in this locality. The face of nature was encased in ice and every twig and shrub and all other stationary objects in the open air sparkled and scintillated in the rays of the orb of day. It was wierd and witching and lasted most of the day and even into the light of the full moon.

Our Uniontown correspondent related, several weeks ago, the case of two venerable brothers, whose combined ages aggregate 177, and who had been sleeping together during a visit of one of them to the other. The fact of so many years of humanity, in two persons, occupying the same bed, was considered as very remarkable. We are informed that it is more than matched, however, by Col. and Mrs. James W. Hook, residing near this city, whose combined ages are said to add up 180 years.

Mr. John T. Connor, who, when a youth, resided here with his father, Mr. John M. Connor, a well known tailor who afterwards removed to Philadelphia with his family, died at his father's home, in that city, on the 21st ult., aged about 23 years. Young Connor was very popular and had many friends, and his funeral was attended by a large number of people. A private letter from Philadelphia states that the floral tributes were so numerous that three hacks were required to transport them.

Deputy State's Attorney Campbell and Dr. Keene, of Baltimore, representing the Maryland State Council of the Catholic Benevolent Legion, visited this city on Tuesday evening and lectured on the character and objects of the legion, at St. John's parochial schoolhouse. A council of the legion will be organized in St. John's parish as soon as a charter can be obtained from the Supreme Council, at Brooklyn, N. Y. The council will be instituted with about twenty-five charter members. The legion is an insurance organization based on the assessment plan.

Mr. Hanson C. Stultz, of Decatur, Ills., who spent several months this winter visiting friends and relatives in this city and county, returned home last week, reaching Decatur at 9 o'clock, Saturday night. He writes that he was on the way forty-five hours and stopped over in Chicago six hours, where he visited the grounds of the World's Fair. The buildings, he says, are very fine. He found ice and snow everywhere until he reached Decatur, where the ground was bare and the weather springlike. He enjoyed his visit to old Maryland very much but says "there is no place like Illinois."

Proceedings of Circuit Court.

Since close of last report last week the following cases have been tried by the court and disposed of:

Elizabeth O. Steele and others, caveators, vs. Clara A. Haines, caveatee. Issues from the Orphans' Court in respect of the will of Francis Haines, deceased; previously on trial before a jury; verdict for the caveatee under instructions of the court. Clabaugh & Roberts and Henning, for caveators, Reifsnider & Reifsnider and Bond for caveatee.

Benjamin Poentner vs. Samuel Mehring. Action on the case for damages. Tried before a jury; verdict for plaintiff and damages assessed at one cent. Damages in this case were claimed for injuries sustained by the plaintiff by the bite of a dog owned by the defendant. Henning for plaintiff, Clabaugh & Roberts for defendant.

Mary Virginia Coleman, by her husband and next friend, Henry Coleman, Elizabeth Williams. Assumpsit. Tried before a jury; juror withdrawn and case non prossed. Stocksdale and Clabaugh & Roberts for plaintiff, Bond for defendant.

Celia Harner, by her mother and next friend, Amelia Harney, vs. Harver Shorb. Action for breach of promise. Damages laid at $5,000; tried before a jury; verdict for the defendant. Bond and Henning for plaintiff, Clabaugh & Roberts for defendant. Court adjourned until Monday.

Death of Mr. Joseph Young.

Mr. Joseph Young, a well known farmer and most worthy citizen of this county, died at his home, in Uniontown district, on Sunday last, after a brief illness, of pneumonia, at the age of 71 years, 1 month, 19 days. He was attacked by the disease that terminated his life, on the previous Tuesday, which rapidly developed into a fatal ailment. Mr. Young was a man of high character and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the community around him to the fullest extent. He was a sincere and devout christian and an honored elder of St. Benjamin's Lutheran Church. He was unassuming in demeanor, but firm and conscientious in his convictions and faithful in the performance of public and private duties. Though in no sense a politician he was an earnest Republican and never failed to cast his ballot for men of his choice. A good man has gone to his rest and will be missed and mourned by his friends and neighbors and by the church of which he was a devoted officer and member. His remains were interred at Benjamin's Cemetery, near this city, on Tuesday afternoon, after funeral services, conducted by Rev. S. A. Diehl, in the presence of a large concourse of people, although the day was unusually inclement. He leaves a widow, two sons and four daughters, Messrs. Daniel Young, Alfred Young, Mrs. Wm. Wantz, Mrs. David Petry Mrs. Cummings, and Miss Jane Young, all married except the latter and Mr. Alfred Young.

Devilbiss-Orndorff.

Rain, snow, sleet and slush combined to make Tuesday last a typically disagreeable day, but in spite of it all Grace Lutheran Church of this city was the scene of a very pretty wedding at a quarter before 1 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, and quite a large number of persons gathered to witness the interesting event. The parties to the happy affair were Miss Rosa M. Orndorff, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Woodrow, of this city, and Mr. William C. Devilbiss, also of this city, and a son of Mr. John S. Devilbiss, formerly of Uniontown, but now an officer of internal revenue in Baltimore. The altar of the church was very prettily and tastefully decorated with ferns, lilies and palms for the occasion. The ushers were Messrs. Bernard Devilbiss and Walter Devilbiss, brothers of the groom, of Baltimore, and Messrs. George E. Matthews and William R. Anders, of this city. The bride was very tastefully arrayed in a traveling dress of light serpent-green broadcloth, with hat and gloves to match, and carried La France roses. As the bridal party approached the altar a wedding march was rendered in admirable style by Mrs. Dr. Wm. H. White, the accomplished organist of the church. Rev. P. H. Miller, the pastor, met the bride and groom at the altar rail and performed, in an impressive manner, the ceremony which made them man and wife. As they retired the organ again, in rich and resonant tones, breathed forth the music of an appropriate wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Devilbiss left by an early train for a bridal trip to Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Zimmerman, of Elgin, Ills.; Mrs. Caroline Zimmerman, of Hampstead; Mrs. Emma Hoppe, Miss Grace Orndorff, Messrs. George C. Orndorff, George H. Orndorff, of Hanover, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Pfeffer, of Reisterstown; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Devilbiss, Mrs. Philip Lemon, Miss Cora Lucas, Messrs. Bernard Devilbiss, Walter Devilbiss, Henry King, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Fuss, of Union Bridge.

Taneytown Items.

Mr. Chas. Buffington, of Baltimore, spent a few days at this place, the first of the week.

There is some talk of a change being made on the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company among ticket agents, and it is rumored that Mr. Geo. W. Fox, of this place, is to be assigned to Littlestown, Pa.

The seven year old child of Mr. John Dayhoff was buried at the Catholic Cemetery, February 28th.

Sales are very numerous in this locality this spring, there being one for every day of March. Our energetic auctioneer, Mr. Jas. N. O. Smith, will be kept very busy.

Spring Mills Items.

Mr. George B. Myerly, of Elwood, Indiana, is visiting his friends and relatives here. This is Mr. Myerly's first visit for twenty-one years.

Misses Bertie Little and Wivie Stitely visited friends at Frizellburg, last week.

Miss Minnie Buffington, of Baltimore, visited Miss Mary Stevenson, this week.

Mr. India Logue, who has been suffering from an attack of pneumonia, is improving.

Mr. Wm. Babylon, whilst coasting down a steep hill ran into a fence, skining his nose, knocking out two teeth and cutting a gash in his cheek.

The roads are said to be in a sloppy condition.

Pastors' salaries, $21,524; church expenses, $30,399; total money for the year, $70,310.10; value of church property, $336,000. Children in Sabbath-schools, 13,407. The president and elders were appointed a committee to select a place for the meeting a year hence.

Cranberry Valley Items.

The weather has been quite fitful during the past week. An abundance of snow—in the roads at least—with rain and sleet sometimes and again fair skies and sunshine, with hints of approaching springtime. Traveling over many of the roads is impossible, but efforts are being made to open them again and soon they will be full of mud instead of snow drifts.

Some young gentlemen who were visiting in this valley on Sunday got into snow drifts from which they only got out by hard struggling. They were completely enveloped by the fleecy mass, and found breathing difficult.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hively's little daughter Blanche, aged nearly two years, died February 17th. Funeral services were held at Meadow Branch Church, after which her remains were interred in the adjoining burial ground. The pall-bearers were: Adam Martin, Clinton Thomas, Christian Hunt, Jr., Joseph Yingling.

Mr. Jacob R. Shamer, of No. 413 Twenty-third street, Baltimore, is spending several weeks visiting in Cranberry Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Snider, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt, Miss Annie Shaffer, of Cranberry, were recent visitors at Mr. Andrew Shaffer's, Shiloh. Mr. John Fleischman visited Mr. Wm. R. Gross on Sunday last. Misses Minerva and Martha Hosfeld recently visited Miss Virgie Yingling, in this valley. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Yingling, of Westminster, recently visited at Mr. Andrew Hosfeld's.

Mr. John Hunt, of Cranberry, has moved into his father's tenant house, and Mr. Edward Bosley will move from Cranberry, on Tuesday, to the farm of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Shaffer, near Manchester.

The infant child of Mr. Edward Mencher, aged about one year, is very ill with chronic croup.

Mr. Charles Hunt, Jr., recently shot a chicken hawk that measured four feet between the tips of its outstretched wings.

Harney Items.

All the roads running north and south were blockaded with snow last week and had to be opened in many places.

Mr. W. E. Myers has his new rollers in operation, in his mill, and is making three grades of flour. Those who have tried it are well pleased.

Mr. A. DeGroft, of this place, will move to Hanover this spring.

Mr. Geo. Haverstock, of this place, left last week to seek his fortune in the West. He will be followed in a few weeks by Birnie Slagle.

Miss Carrie Mourer, of Westminster, spent last Sunday and Monday at "Wood Home," near here, with Mr. Clousher's family.

There are many sales this spring. Cows and hogs sell well, while horses and farming implements sell very low.

We understand that the railroad from Harrisburg to Gettysburg has appointed receivers and will, no doubt, change hands. If the change takes place there is a good prospect that the road will be extended on to Washington through this place on the route surveyed several years ago.

[We presume the Harrisburg and Gettysburg Railroad is involved in the Reading system, for which receivers were recently appointed, and that its status will probably not be changed on account of that proceeding.—ED.]

Bird Hill Items.

Mrs. Helen Baker, wife of Mr. John Baker, of E., died at her home near Bird Hill, on Thursday evening of last week, of paralysis, after an illness of a few hours. She was 79 years, 8 months and 11 days old, and she and her aged husband had been married upwards of fifty-one years. She was a member of the Methodist Protestant Church for more than sixty years, and her remains were interred on Saturday, in the burial ground of Deer Park Chapel, after funeral services conducted by Rev. Wm. H. Lane. The husband of the deceased and two sons, Messrs. Wm. P. Baker, and Geo. Washington Baker, survive her

A PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT.

On Monday night, February 27th, the "Epworth League" of the M. E. Church here, gave an entertainment and courteously invited the Society of Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian Church to join them. At an early hour the church was comfortably filled. Under the management of Mr. G. P. B. Englar, Vice-President of the League, the exercises began at 7.30 o'clock, with singing, "What is the Theme," all joining, with Miss Cora Buhrman, organist, and Messrs. E. Devilbiss cornetist and Grant Hiltabridle violinist. Then followed prayer, by Rev. E. Buhrman, pastor of the church. Singing by the League, "Happy Day of Joy Returning;" address of welcome, by Rev. J. T. Ensor, President of the League; singing, "The Motto of the League: Look-up, Lift-up;" duet, "When the Pearly Gates Unfold," by Mrs. J. T. Smelser and Mrs. G. Hiltabridle; recitation, "The Orthodox Team," by Miss Fannie Ecker; quartette, "The Lord is in His Temple," by Misses Amelia C. Engel, Nettie Hyde, Ida Devilbiss and Mr. J. T. Ensor; recitation, "The Bishop and the Cow," by Miss Etta Buhrman; solo; "A Pillow for the Wanderer," by Mr. Grant H. Hiltabridle; recitation, "Angels of Buena Vista," by Miss Maggie Engel; duet, "Hark to Whispering Angels," by Misses Nettie Hyde and Allie Frounfelter; recitation, "The Eye," by Mr. Edgar Nusbaum; singing, by the League, "Man the Life-Boat;" recitation, "Lost in Sight of Home," by Mr. Geo. P. B. Englar; solo, the song, "Lost in the Sight of Home," which was sung very impressively by Miss Amelia C. Engel; address by the pastor, "The Topic of the League, and its Advancement;" sacred medley—"Mother's Song;" closing song, "March In;" after which the benediction was pronounced by the pastor, and a regular good hand shaking closed the exercises and all returned to their homes well pleased. The floral decoration was a pyramid of potted plants, consisting of calla lilies, geraniums and ferns. Messrs. Howard Mullen and Edgar Nusbaum were ushers.

Miss Mary Martin, of Graceham, Frederick county, is visiting friends in New Windsor and is the guest of Miss Elsie Smelser.

Interesting Mortality Statistics.

Last week Rev. S. A. Diehl, pastor of Salem charge, Lutheran Church, handed us a memorandum containing some interesting mortuary statistics gleaned from a pocket record kept during his ministry, but its publication was deferred on account of the late hour of its reception and the press of news matter. It is now appended. An interesting fact in connection with the record, we are informed, is that the greatest average longevity recorded was attained among residents of the Cumberland Valley, Pa. Mr. Diehl states that of the 356 deaths recorded, 5 died between 90 and 100 years of age. Mrs. Elizabeth Koons, nee Snook, Middleburg, Carroll county, Md., was almost a centenarian. Her age was 99 years, 9 months and 3 days. Enumerating in decades from 90 downward we have the following table: Of the 356, 31 died in the 9th decade of their lives, that is they were between 80 and 90 years of age; 66 died in the 8th decade, 37 in the 7th, 26 in the 6th, 22 in the 5th, 21 in the 4th, 22 in the 3rd, 25 in the 2nd, 37 between the age of 1 and 10 years, and 52 were less than a year old, or 89 in the 1st decade of their lives. The first obvious fact is that exactly one-fourth of the whole number died under 10 years of age. And 2nd, the greatest mortality is in the 1st and 8th decades. Another remarkable fact is that one more died in the 8th decade of their lives than in the 3rd, 4th and 5th combined, and only 2 less than in the 7th and 9th combined. The lowest mortality is in the 4th and 10th decades or between the ages of 30 and 40 and 90 and 100. Again, whilst the mortality of the 1st 10 years may seem large it is not more than half as large as it is in the cities. The above deaths occurred in the country or in country villages.

The oyster supper held by the Ladies' Aid Society of Frizellburg, last week was quite a success, considering the unfavorable state of the weather. The net receipts were about twenty-five dollars. The monthly meeting of the society will be held on Tuesday evening, 7th inst., at 7.30 o'clock.

On last Saturday evening, 25th inst., the sociable, which was to have taken place on the 22nd, was held by the C. E. Society of the Methodist Protestant Church, at the parsonage. A little after seven o'clock the members of the society and the invited guests began to arrive, and were received at the door by members of the social committee of the society. The evening's entertainment began by singing the doxology, and prayer was offered by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Charlton. Misses Emma Erb and Nellie Charlton played an instrumental duet on the piano, and Mr. W. R. Zollickoffer sang a solo. Next on the program was a potato race. Six potatoes were placed in one end of room, and a basket in the other end. With the back of a spoon different persons were given the opportunity of taking these potatoes up without touching them with either hand, and placing them in the basket. Mr. Guy Segafoose succeeded in performing the feat in one minute and 25 seconds. Miss Emma Erb was second, in 1 minute, 30 seconds. None of the others were able to carry them in the two minutes allotted. Other games were played and at 9.30 refreshments were served, consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee. After this all retired to the parlor, where games were indulged in until 11.30, when all retired for the evening after bidding the pastor and family good night. The affair was pronounced a decided success by all present and all seemed to enjoy it and made themselves at home, and everybody was happy. Nearly 40 persons were in attendance.

On March 1st Eliza Jane Smith, colored, was buried at the Mt. Joy Cemetery, near town. She had been a servant in the family of the late Dr. Wm. N. Martin, for about 13 years. She had been ailing for sometime and expressed a desire to be brought home to die at her nephew, Charles Smith's in this place. On Sunday she was brought up from Westminster and died on Monday. She had been very deaf for a number of years. She was a very large woman and probably weighed over 200 pounds. She is supposed to have been about 60 years of age. Funeral services were held at the church by a colored minister from Baltimore.

Tuesday was one of our most disagreeable days, with rain and sleet in abundance, the sleet lasting nearly all the following day. If the old Dutch sign is worth anything we will have an abundance of fruit the coming summer, for we have had quite a number of sleets. So mote it be.

Hick's Forecasts: Storms will end Eastward, about the 2nd, and cold will follow up to the 6th and 7th. Warmer with storms about these dates, with the regular change to cold north winds following, up to about the 10th.

Miss Jessie Matthews, of Carrollton, took charge of the primary school here on Monday last.

A pleasant surprise social party was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Eckard, (sexton at Baust Church) on Monday evening, 20th ult., in honor of their youngest son, Master Luther, it having been his 13th birthday. The guests were cordially welcomed and entertained. The evening was spent in amusing parlor games and conversation. After the presentation of the gifts by Geo. C. Harman, in behalf of the guests, they were invited to the dining room where a sumptuous repast was in waiting which was fully discussed. After more games and social intercourse among the guests, all were admonished by the lateness of the hour that the time had arrived to take their departure, when bidding good by to the host and hostess, the guests took their departure, feeling gratified at the evening's entertainment. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Eckard, Mr. Robert Baust and wife, M. Fritz and wife, Geo. C. Harman and wife, Mrs. Jos. Formwalt, Mrs. W. U. Marker, Jno. Haifley, Chas. Marker, C. W. The band festival that we mentioned in our last as opening with such inauspicious surroundings ended quite successfully on Saturday night. Quite a crowd was present and the boys and ladies were kept busy devising ways and means to get rid of the large quantity of wares yet on hand. By tact and perseverance it was accomplished and they came out with about $85 net profit. A center stand of rope was attractive and became the property of Mrs. George Maurath on ticket No. 5. A barrel of flour was won by E. H. Oursler with No. 126. A fine lemonade set went to Mrs. Keller on No. 19, and a large fruit stand to Miss Millie Lippy on No 17. Christena, the guess doll of several weeks ago, was received by donation and in the drawing became the property of Jacob E. Musselman. A spinning jenny was the center af attraction and did a flourishing business, while the dining room was well patronized all evening. The proceeds will give quite an impetus to the new organization, which seems to have the good wishes of our citizens.

The special meeting of the Maryland Classis in Trinity Reformed Church of this place on Thursday, 23rd ult., was called to order by Rev. Zinkhan, president, with stated clerk Deatrick and Rev. S. Thomas Apple, of Washington, D. C.; Stewart, of Baltimore, and Slagle, of Westminster, present. Also Elders Geiman and Hull. After religious services the 1st item of business, the restoration of the Bachman congregation to the Manchester charge, was, on motion, considered and debated, but for want of attendance of the Bachman people final action was deferred, Mr. Geo.
