TODAY WILL be the annual observance of Old Chestertown Day under the direction of the Woman's Literary Club and the business men of the town are requested to assist by dressing up their store fronts. This occasion serves a two-fold purpose, it brings to Chestertown a large number of visitors to view the old homes and also means revenue for the sponsoring organization. These ladies make the Chestertown Public Library possible and their strenuous efforts toward this community project should receive the whole-hearted support of the entire population of the town. It is the one time in the year when the town's wealth in colonial background is drawn to the attention of the public. This asset is in no way spoiled by commercialization as are other sections which makes it all the more attractive. The fact that the old homes are privately owned and used for residences, today affords an opportunity for residences of the town and county to see them and the interesting exhibits in these places of historic interest. Weather permitting, today should be a gala event for Chestertown.

THE HARD-FOUGHT Democratic primary in Maryland and judging from the returns both in convention and popular votes the large mapority of voters in the State favored the candidacy of Mr. Radcliffe for United States Senate. The nomination was decided by Baltimore City, which went solidly for Mr. Radcliffe, becauses the counties were divided. Kent gave a majority to both Mr. Bruce and Mr. Roe. As to the Congressional race Mr. Roe carried six of the nine counties but was defeated by Mr. Ward who carried only his own county but the majority in that one county was so large it overcame losses in other sections. In other words the ins remained in practically every part of the State. As to the Republican nomination, there was apparently little interest in Kent County with practically all leaders for the same Senatorial and Congressional candidates, Mr. Nice and Mr. Duer who went in with large majorities. The contest next November will be between Mr. Radcliffe and Mr. Nice and between Mr. Ward and Mr. Duer. In the meantime all political interest will be centered on the national conventions of the two major parties which will probably be the most interesting conventions to be held in recent years.

MORE EFFICIENT fire fighing service is offered by the fire companies of Kent County as a result of the completion of an intensive training course by 28 members of three companies. This course of training not only affords better fire protection but also more efficient fire fighting with the least amount of loss of life and property.

Canal Park

The old Ohio canal, at Cleveland on which barges and canal boats once moved, will be preserved as a public park, if present plans materialize. The waterway would be used for recreation—boating and fishing—and the surrounding lands beautified.

Dust Important

Some of the dust particles in the air are very important as they form nuclei on which water vapor condenses when air is cooled sufficiently and without which there could be no clouds or rain.

Pictured above is the staff of the Washington ELM, student weekly at Washington College, which won first class rating for the first time in the paper's history in a critical survey conducted by Associated Collegiate Press. The first class rating put the ELM near the top of the college weekly papers of the country.

Embarrassing

When Acid Indigestion, Gas on Stomach or Heartburn make you feel uncomfortable or embarrass you, try Alka-Seltzer, which contains alkalizing buffers and so helps counteract the associated Excess Stomach Acidity.

But the relief of these minor stomach upsets is only a small part of what you can expect Alka-Seltzer to do for you. You will find it effective for Pain Relief in Headache, Neuralgia, Colds and Muscular Aches and Pains. It contains an analgesic, (sodium acetyl salicylate), made more prompt and effective in its pain-relieving action by alkaline buffer salts.

When hard work or strenuous exercise make you feel tired and dragged out, enjoy the refreshing effect of a glass of sparkling, tangy Alka-Seltzer.

At Drug Stores in packages and at drug store soda fountains by the glass.
