Government Expenses.

According to the Chicago Journal, the total amount of salaries paid to government employees foots up a hundred million dollars a year. Yet this is only a dollar and a half apiece all around, now that our population is 66,000,000. And this only makes the average salary of the 200,000 people who hold office under the government about $500 per annum each.

Something of the details of where this money goes may be of interest. The diplomatic service is not so expensive a luxury as would be supposed probable. The salary of ministers amounts to only $340,000 per annum; secretaries of legation $40,000 per annum, and consuls $500,000, while there is also an additional allowance of about $100,000 for clerks and consulates. The salaries in the offices of the secretary of the treasury amount to about a half million dollars a year, but this does not include the various divisions in which the salaries run from a few thousand up to more than a half million dollars per annum. The salaries for the office of the secretary of war amount to over $100,000 and those of the record and pension divisions of the war department foot up over $1,000,000 per annum. The pay of the officers of the line in the army is $2,800,000, and there is added to that $890,000 for pay of officers for length of service. The pay of the enlisted men of the army is $4,100,000; officers on the retired list, $1,122,000. The pay table of the navy is about half as much as that of the war department, and the total salaries of the treasury department, including over two millions in the internal revenue service alone, is about twelve millions of dollars. The interior department spends about $5,000,000 a year for salaries, the agricultural department a little over a million, and the department of justice about the same.

The post office department, however, is the one which piles up the total of salaries. Even in the post-office department in Washington the salaries amount to a million dollars a year, and when you branch out into the postal service all over the country it becomes appalling. The appropriations for the fiscal year just about to end alloted $15,250,000 for compensation to postmasters and $10,764,000 for the free-delivery service. There should be added to this $5,000,000 for carrying the mails by star routes, most of which is for salaries; mail-messenger service over a million dollars, and railway post-office clerks, $6,631,000. Even congress is a somewhat expensive luxury. The pay of senators amounts to about a half million dollars a year and that of representatives about $2,000,000 a year, to say nothing of the amounts paid for the employes, clerks, stenographers and messengers who assist them in their duties.

Nothing better and more happily illustrates the growth of this country and prosperity of the people than a comparison of the conditions at this time with those which existed eight years ago. That the country has been prosperous in those eight years is evident. Then there were 7,750 banks, now there are 10,000. Their capital stock then was $750,000,000, now it is over a billion. The people then had $2,700,000,000 laid away in the banks "for a rainy day," now they have $4,700,000,000 so deposited in the banks. Our national wealth, which then was $48,000,000, is now $69,000,000,000. The average per captia of wealth in the United States, including property and money, then was $850 for each individual, while to-day it is in round numbers $1,000.

Chicken cholera is a rare disease, though as prevalent in some sections every Summer. The fact is that many diseases that are denominated as cholera are the results of overfeeding, and also of other mistakes. Cholera kills its victims quickly. If the difficulty extends over a lapse of time the trouble is not cholera. Cholera is known by greenish droppings, prostration and great thirst. There is no sure cure for the disease, but the best remedy is a teaspoonful of liquid carbolic acid in three pints of water, allowing no other drink.

It is not the economical and intelligent fruit-grower who props the limbs of his trees when the trees are overloaded with fruit. The proper plan is to thin out the fruit, and it should be done while the fruit is small. When a tree bends with the great weight of extra fruit it is compelled to do extra duty in supplying food, while the fruit will not be as good as when but a partial crop is borne on the tree. Thinning the fruit gives more attractive fruit and better prices.

The most agreeable of all companions is a simple, frank man, without any high pretentions to an oppressive greatness; one who loves life, and understands the use of it; obliging, alike at all hours; above all, of a golden temper, and steadfast as an anchor. For such a one we gladly exchange the greatest genius, the most brilliant wit, the profoundest thinker.

A mind that seeks truth for its own sake is as rare as it is valuable.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

1893.

Greatest of Republican Newspapers.

National in its aims and devoted to the welfare of the Masses of the American People.

The New York Tribune concedes the election of Grover Cleveland, but promises to defend the Republican policy on Finance and Protection, with all the ability it can command.

It was the discontent of the farmers which caused the Democratic victories of two years' ago. The Weekly Tribune, addressing itself directly to them for the past two years, has carried on a campaign of discussion for their benefit, almost unparalelled in American journalism; and the result coupled with Whitelaw Reid's previous great service to farmers, has been seen in the fact that agricultural communities have stood faithful to the Republican party, in a campaign in which, in other localities the party went completely to pieces. This year, the Democratic leaders changed their tactics and excited discontent among workingmen. They pointed to the higher prices of farm products, and assured the workingmen of Northern cities that the British tariff system, (that is to say, lessened protection to American Farming and Industry) would lower the prices of food and manufactured products, and the profits of "monopolists" in this country, while at the same time sustaining the wages of labor, those wages being now the highest ever known in the United States. By false pretence, deception, and a pandering to the lowest passions of uninformed men in large cities, they have carried the country and elected a Democratic President and Congress.

The Tribune confidently awaits the result. Not for one moment, however, will The Tribune yield one inch of ground in the battle for American policies.

Roswell G. Horr's great articles will be among the features of The Tribune, the coming year. Men of every political faith are invited to read them. They will state the Republican view with frankness, point out the probable consequences of a change in the tariff policy of the country, and evade no issue, and conceal no fact, bearing upon the subjects discussed. Their thorough treatment of fundamental principles will aid every reader to a better understanding of profound and important issues.

A page a week will be devoted during 1893, to war stories and news of interest to Union veterans. Old soldiers, who have some experience to tell, which has not yet been printed, are asked to send the story to The Tribune for publication.

Farming has become such an enormous interest in the United States, that there is an imperative necessity for making more of a specialty of the business interests of the Farmers of the country at large. Plans have been formed which ought to make The Semi-Weekly and The Weekly Tribune absolutely indispensable to every tiller of the soil during 1893.

A large number of entertaining features of general interest will also appear. "How to succeed in Life," "Village Improvement," special articles by brilliant men and women of high reputation, Chess and Checkers, and a hundred other things which cannot be noted in a brief prospectus, will appear on the Tribune's pages during 1893. The paper will have less politics and more of the thousand and one things which refresh the mind, entertain the imagination, and guide the reader in the prosecution of his business and social life.

The Tribune asks for reports as to the operations of Village Improvement Societies, from those who are acquainted with their operations.

An illustrated catalogue of excellent premiums will be sent free on application.

The Semi-Weekly is particularly commended to the attention of general readers. It gives more of the keen, incisive editorials, book reviews, foreign letters and other valuable features of The Tribune, than there is room for in the Weekly. The large type and broad columns of the Tribune make it the easiest paper to read.

To all who subscribe during 1892 for one year, the paper will be sent free for the balance of this year. Sample copies free. Weekly, $1.00; Semi-Weekly, $2.00.

Friends of Agriculture, Industry and the Republican party, are invited to make up clubs for the paper in their localities. There are four years' of trial, of new experiment, of discussion of great national topics, and of observation of the effects of Democratic supremacy before the country. The Tribune will lead in the presentation of the Republican view. The friends of the splendid record of the Republican party, can aid in the final triumph of Republican principles by seeing that the people read the Republican side of the story.

THE TRIBUNE, New York.

St. Nicholas for Young Folks,

JOHN G. WHITTIER long ago wrote of St. Nicholas, "It is little to say of this magazine that it is the best children's periodical in the world." Edward Eggleston, the author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," says of it, "There is not one of the numbers that does not stir the curiosity, inform the memory, stimulate thought, and enlarge the range of the imagination." Founded in 1873, and from the first number edited by Mary Mapes Dodge, St. Nicholas is now entering upon its twentieth year. The most famous writers have contributed to its pages in the past, but never has its editor been able to offer a better program or a more distinguished list of contributors than for 1893.

There is to be a series of illustrated papers on "The Leading Cities of the United States," —the story of each city told by a prominent resident. Edward Clarence Stedman will write of New York; Thomas W Higginson, of Boston; New Orleans will be described by George W. Cable, and Baltimore by President Gilman, of the Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Lyman Abbott will tell the story of Brooklyn, and other cities will be treated by other famous men. There will be articles on the World's Fair, and a number of pages of funny pictures and humorous verses.

Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggin, the well-known author of "The Birds' Christmas Carol," etc., will contribute the leading serial for St. Nicholas during the coming year. The November number opens with a three-page poem by John G. Whittier, which has in it some of the most beautiful lines the good Quaker poet has ever written, describing the visit of a party of young girls to his home.

The School Journal says, "Place St. Nicholas in your household, and you need have no fears for the lessons taught your children." The magazine is the greatest aid that the teacher and the conscientious parent can possibly have. It entertains, and at the same time educates and instructs. The subscription price is $3 a year. Remittances may be made directly to the publishers, The Century Co., 33 East 17th St. New York.
