SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1893

There is evidently danger of a financial crisis in the United States. Following the failure of the Columbian Bank, at Chicago, several weeks ago, many banks through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and other Western States have collasped. On Tuesday the National Bank of Deposit of New York closed its doors, showing that the trouble is not simply local in the States mentioned. An uneasy feeling is prevalent in financial circles, and the future presents a gloomy outlook.

A Washington despatch, under date of the 15th inst., states that a letter has been addressed to President Cleveland by officers of the National Negro Democratic League upon a question "seriously affecting the cause of negro Democracy in this country." The fact of the existence of such a body will be news to our Democratic neighbor, the Advocate. It doubtless remembers, however, that Mr. Cleveland gave the last appointment in the District of Columbia, during his first term, to a colored man.

The heads of departments at Washington seem to be giving a good deal of time to the consideration of plans for the evasion of the civil service rules. Secretary Carlisle has taken the positions of chiefs of divisions out of the classified service, and Postmaster General Bissell is endeavoring to have the order of Mr. Wanamaker against the removal of letter carriers, except for some cause affecting the service injuriously, rescinded. The subject has been considered by the Cabinet. In the meantime the work of removing Republicans to make room for hungry Democrats goes merrily on, while the great chief at the White House continues to pose as a civil service reformer. Republicans, generally, outside of the office holding class, are not finding fault with the President for preferring Democrats to Republicans as office-holders, but for making a pretence of attachment to a principle that he, by his own acts, or by those of his subordinates, is continually violating.

A Vicious Compromise Proposed.

During the campaign of 1892 Democrats in this city, of sound financial views, scouted the idea that the resolution of the Chicago platform pledging the Democratic party to the repeal of the ten per cent. tax on the issues of State banks meant anything more than a bid for the votes of inflationists. They may possibly find that in this opinion they were misled by the hope that it might be so. Lately it has been said that President Cleveland is willing to make a compromise with the free-silverites of his party, on the basis of the repeal of the Sherman law and of the State bank tax law together. It is hardly probable that the advocates of free-coinage will accept this proposition, but the fact that it is now believed that the President, whose fidelity to proper financial views has been the boast of sound money Democrats, is willing to make this concession to the inflationists of his party, strikingly illustrates the general unsoundness of the Democratic party on the subject of the currency. There seems to be no manner of doubt that a decided majority of the Democratic Senators, and a still greater proportion of the Democratic Representatives in Congress are in favor of free silver and free State banks as well; and the only hope of the defeat of efforts to put these schemes into practical operation lies in the almost unanimous hostility of the Republican members of the House of Representatives and the preponderance of sentiment in the same direction among Republican Senators. By combining with the Republicans in the two Houses the sound money Democrats may aid in defeating vicious financial legislation. If, however, the President's partisanship leads to a compromise by which, for the sake of avoiding an open rupture among the Democrats in Congress, any of the demands of the inflationists shall be conceded, the whole fabric of a sound currency will be endangered, and untold evils result. The continuance of the Sherman silver law would be a grievous evil, but it is preferable to an irruption, all over the country, of innumerable State banks of issue, with authority to throw into circulation an unlimited volume of uncurrent bank notes.

Mr. Alexander D. Buehler, of Gettysburg, Pa., for well nigh half a century a member of the board of trustees of Pennsylvania College, and for thirty-five years the treasurer of that institution, died, after a very brief illness, on Friday morning of last week, of heart disease. He was a druggist and bookseller, and was one of the best of men. He was in his eightieth year and unmarried. Few men enjoy more fully the respect of their fellows than did he throughout his long and useful life.

Prof. James A. Apple, of the Central High School, Pittsburg, Pa., has been selected by the recently appointed directors as the President of the Frederick Female Seminary. This institution, which will pass into the control of the Synod of the Reformed Church at the expiration of the present collegiate year, will probably be known thereafter as the Woman's College, of Frederick.

It is said that not less than twenty-five thousand people are in attendance at the annual meeting of the German Baptists, which commenced at Muncie, Indiana, on Saturday last. The first session was fixed for Saturday evening, but the arrivals were so numerous that it was anticipated and the meeting opened at midday, with an address by Rev. J. S. Florey, of California.

William Pinkney, one of the murderers of Mr. Francis M. Bowie, sawed the irons off his legs with a piece of glass and walked out of the Prince George's county jail, at Upper Marlboro, at 8 o'clock on Thursday morning. He made good his escape for the time being, and at the last report had not been apprehended.

Condition of the Crops.

Weekly weather crop bulletin No. 7, issued by the Maryland State Weather Bureau, Dr. C. P. Cronk, meterologist in charge, is as follows: First part of week cold, but last two days warm and of great benefit to all growing crops. Reports of frost in North and West on 19th and 20th, but without material damage resulting.

Precipitation, generally, below average for the season of the year. Warm weather, with plenty of sunshine, needed in all sections.

Western Maryland.—Farm work delayed till last of week by wet and cold weather; wheat improved and in excellent condition; grass generally good, but short in some sections; corn planting nearly finished; some corn in Garrett county reported rotting in ground; oats late. The promise of fruit, with exception of cherries and pears in some localities, very encouraging. The damage is due to the heavy rains. It is stated that the yield of peaches will be large.

Northern Central Maryland.—Farm work retarded fore port of week by wet weather; now, corn about all planted, except in Carroll county, where there is still considerable plowing to be done. Truck backward, owing to the cold, wet weather first of week. Last of week favorable. Fruit not much injured by rains or frosts, and now the prospects are good for all kinds.

Southern Maryland.—Wheat, rye, oats and grass show healthy growth, generally, but wheat, oats and grass reported poor in some localities. Corn about all planted, and some coming up. Tobacco plants abound; some flies noticed, but the prospect for planting good, and some already done. Peas and tomatoes slightly damaged by high winds and cold nights. Fruit very promising. Strawberries are ripening, and will be ready next week for market and table.

Eastern Maryland.—Wheat, oats and grass generally doing well. Some wheat heading. Grass short in some localities. Farmers have been behind hand in planting corn, but there will be a large acreage planted; some already up, and some damage from cut worms. Small yield of apples in prospect in southern sections. Strawberries are ripening slowly. Frosts have done no material damage.

John W. Costley, colored, of Frederick county, was arrested on Thursday of last week and committed to the jail of that county, to await identification by a Harrisburg, Pa., detective as the supposed murderer of a colored woman at Steelton, Pa., who was killed by a man with whom she had been living, and who called himself James Bell. When the detective arrived in Frederick, in response to a telegram informing him that the supposed murderer was in custody, he discovered that Costley wasn't the man he was after. The Banner of Liberty says Costley was arrested near Taylorsville, in this county, by Constable Stephen D. Myers by whom, with the assistance of Justice Clayton Trundle, he was taken to Frederick, a proceeding which strikes us as somewhat irregular.

Capt. E. D. Danner, the well known and popular commander of the Linganore Guards, officially registered as Company C, First Regiment, M. N. G., has resigned his commission. Increasing age and the demands of business are assigned as the reason.

It is reported that a connection between the Western Maryland and Baltimore and Ohio Railroads is in contemplation by the authorities of these corporations, by a line from Windsor Station, on the former, to the Blue bridge near Mount Winans on the latter.

Memorial Day, next Tuesday, will be celebrated by the posts of the Grand Army, of the Republic throughout the state of Maryland with more than usual ceremony.

The General Synod of the Lutheran Church met at Canton, Ohio, on Wednesday evening. Rev. Dr. C. S. Albert, of Baltimore, was elected president of the body.

Post Office Changes—Another Soldier Suspended—His Resignation.

Mr. F. T. Birely, Republican, has been superseded as postmaster at Middleburg, by Mr. S. C. Chipley, Democrat; and Mr. Geo. W. Horner, Republican, has been superseded as postmaster at Finksburg, by Mr. D. M. Hahn, Democrat. Mr. H. C. Shipley, Democrat, succeeds Mr. Thos. A. Barnes, Republican, at Eldersburg.

Mr. L. H. Dielman has been appointed postmaster at New Windsor in place of Mr. W. S. Drach, resigned, not removed as announced in Washington despatches. Mr. Drach is a maimed soldier, who left a leg on a Southern battlefield as an earnest of his loyalty to the union and the flag of his country. The fact is known to Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell, but Mr. Drach, to relieve that functionary from embarrassment, tendered his resignation. Of course it was accepted, and equally of course if it had not been tendered a vacancy would have been made. Mr. Drach was the last Union soldier postmaster in this county. It is very manifest that the present administration has no love for the brave men who endangered their lives to save the country. It prefers those who furnished substitutes, or ex-Confederates.

Following is the full text of Mr. Drach's resignation, forwarded to the Department during the latter part of March:

NEW WINDSOR, MD., MARCH 24TH, 1893.
Hon. R. A. Maxwell, 4th Asst. P. M. Gen'l.

DEAR SIR:—My commission as P. M. at this place will expire on the 13th of April prox. It is due to you, no less than to myself, that I should acquaint you with the fact that in the hour of the Nation's peril, I enlisted as a private in Co. F, of the 7th Md. Infantry, and incident to that service lost my right leg at the battle of Laurel Hill, Va., on the 8th May, 1864.

As a Republican who supported Harrison for President, I recognize to the fullest extent your right (as it will doubtless be your duty) to appoint to positions under you, only those who are in full accord and sympathy with the principles and policy of your party.

Impressed with this belief, and the justice thereof, and to relieve you from all embarrassment, in so far as I am concerned, I hereby respectfully tender to you my resignation as Post Master at this place, to take effect upon the qualification of my successor. With my best wishes for your continued good health and a successful administration of the affairs of your office,

I have the honor to be,
Very Respectfully,
Your ob't servant,
W. S. DRACH.
P. M. at New Windsor.

A Brilliant Reception at The Maples—Two Brides Grace the Festival.

To the already extensive and well known resources for entertainment of his residence, Prof. Jas. A. Diffenbaugh has just added a handsome enclosed porch twenty-four feet square, which can easily be converted into a charming ball-room. This was dedicated to social purposes last Wednesday night by a splendid reception tendered to two of the recent brides and grooms of our city, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Reese. Every circumstance contributed to the brilliancy of the spectacle and the enjoyment of the company. The night was perfect. The rooms were spacious and well lighted. The company was congenial, and for the most part in full dress. The commissariat was bountiful and of quality beyond suspicion. This agreeable, and somewhat unusual conjunction of factors made the evening one of unalloyed pleasure. Besides the brides and grooms named, the company consisted of Miss Belle Brady, of Harrisburg, and Mr. Jos. Stewart, Lancaster, Pa.; Miss Katie and Mr. Thomas Slingluff, of New Windsor; Messrs. Edgar Thompson, of Baltimore, and Tilden Davis, of Annapolis, and the following from Westminster: Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Vandeford, Misses Lizzie and Mamie Irwin, Gussie and Bettie Shriver, Grace Hering, Bessie Bennett, Janie Thomas and Nancy Roberts, and Messrs. John H. Cunningham, L. Howell Lamotte, Frank Z. Miller, Frank Shaw, Jr., Charles E. Hering, Percy H. Shriver, William D. Reese, F. Neal Parke and Arthur F. Smith. Mr. Kennesaw M. Landis, Secretary of State Gresham's private secretary, was also expected, but some matter of business in the State Department detained him in Washington. The music was furnished by Joe Mazziotte & Co.

Persons desirous of viewing the premises can call upon Emanuel Erb, Esq., residing thereon, and for further information call upon or address the attorney or agent, at Westminster.

Terms of Sale.—Cash upon the day of sale, or upon the ratification thereof by the court, (which will be in about four weeks from the day of sale); or, if desired by the purchaser, these terms will be made more moderate.

SATURDAY, JUNE 10th, A. D., 1893, at 1 o'clock, P. M., that tract or parcel of land known and called by the name of Obrian's Folly, containing

44 ACRES OF LAND, More or Less,

The improvements consist of a Dwelling House, Barn and other necessary outbuildings, an apple orchard of choice fruit in thriving condition, an excellent spring of water near the door, with running water through the farm, whilst the land is of a good quality easily improved and under fair fencing. This property adjoins lands of Jeremiah Ebaugh, Azariah Oursler, John A.
