The compuslory military training bill, as altered, now includes only un-married men between the ages of 21 and 31. Reports from marriage license bureaus indicate that many young men are braving a trip to the altar in preference to braving a course in military training. Many people look upon this training period in terms of those of 1917 and 1918 when the country was at war. They fail to realize that it is merely training men how to fight in case of war which is of great advantage for the protection of the individual himself. The necessary hurried mobilization of twenty three years ago necesitated throwing untrained men into battle resulting in many un-necessary casualties. The present bill is not one most desired during ordinary times but at these times when the world seems to be war mad it is necessary to be ready to fight to remain at peace.

Parking in Chestertown, particularly on High and Cross Streets on Saturday nights presents a problem that is before the Business Men's Association. A parking lot has been considered but it has not been easy to secure a suitable one near the business section. Then again it is a safe bet that such a lot would not be used until all available parking space on the above mentioned streets are filled to capacity. Then again a parking lot will be expensive to rent, condition and maintain in addition to lighting and policing. The idea has not been abandoned but in the meantime if motorists will make an effort to park as correctly as possible, space can be made for many more cars. Chestertown welcomes visitors and desires to make parking space as convenient as possible. Cooperation will help solve the problem.

This community has just had an outstanding regatta and horse show which has brought hundreds of visitors to this section. Aside from the entertainment afforded locally they are activities that advertise Kent County to a class of people who probably never would have heard of this section. These affairs just don't happen and are the result of weeks of hard work and expenditure of funds. It is fortunate that there are always those who are willing to carry on with out individual gain.

Every indication points to the immediate moblizing of the National Guard for a year of intensive training. This would mean the first direct effect that has been felt in Kent County from the preparedness program other than taxation on luxuries. When, and if the local guard unit is included in the program this community should cooperate in every way possible to make life as comfortable as possible for the guardsmen and their families. In some parts of the country, business organizations are adopting a program whereby employees called into service have the assurance of their jobs when they return and also considerations while they are in service. It is true that we are not at war but recent developments have shown that a well trained army and Navy is the best assurance against war for peaceful countries. If the Western Hemisphere desires to maintain its democratic form of government it must do more than just wish for it. Whe none reads of the so-called thousands of men out of work and at the same time reads of the efforts to get men to train in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps which is social security in itself, it looks as if something might be done to get these two groups together.

Congress this week passed the four billion dollar bill for Navy enlargement. That is a lot of money but taxpayers seem willing to spend money for protection. During this emergency period when billions of dollars are apparently needed to afford national security it might do well to look to a reduction in some of the tremendous expenditures for so-called individual security. It is time that individuals started thinking a little less of how to get what they can out of the government and started to devise ways and means of helping. No nation can continue to exist unless the people are working for and not against it. A revision of some of our emergency social laws might be in order. Increased expenditures on the one hand must mean a reduction of expenditures on the other hand if our money system is to survive.

Washington College To Be Represented At Penn. Celebration

Washington College has accepted an invitation to be represented at the Bicentennial Week Celebration of the University of Pennsylvania and has appointed President Gilbert Wilcox Mead as its official delegate, it was announced here today.

With special convocations, general sessions, symposia, conferences, and scientific and cultural exhibits among its features, the program commemorating the 200th anniversary of the origin of the University of Pennsylvania will be held on the campus from September 16 to September 21, this year.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt will be the guest of honor on September 20 when he will deliver an address and wil lreceive the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

It is interesting to note that Dr. William Smith who was Provost of the University of Pennsylvania left that State and wrote the charter for Washington College and a few years later, the charter for St. Johns.

Lord Halifax on Prayer

I have no duobt that the King's broadcast last Christmas, when he spoke of putting our hand in the hand of God, went home to them (the Germans) as it did to us.

Where will God lead us? we may be sure, through easy or pleasant paths. That is not His way. He will not help us to avoid our difficulties. What He will do is to give to those, who humbly ask, the spirit that no dangers can disturb.

The Christian message to the world brings peace in war; peace where we most need it; peace of soul. . . .

Those of us who cannot serve in the armed forces must all do our best in other ways to help them. I'm sure we shall and there is one thing we can all do, soldiers, sailors, airmen, and civilians, men, women, and children all together, which may be much more powerful than we know. And this is to pray.

I heard the other day of a Yorkshire village where after all the talk about a "fifth column" the people had agreed to form a "sixth column," in which they pledged themselves to try and give a few minutes each day in God's house of prayer. We shall naturally ask God to take care of those we love and to bless the cause for which our country is at war. We can ask this with confidence because we know that we are trying to resist things that cannot be according to God's will.

But prayer is not only asking God for what we want, but rather the way to learn to trust Him, to ask that we may know His will, and do it with all our strength. If we can really do our work, whatever it is, as well as we can in God's sight it will become His work, and we can safely leave the issue in His hands.

This, then, is the spirit in which we must march together in this crusade for Christianity.

We and our great dominions overseas stand, and shall continue to stand foursquare against the forces of evil.

We shall go forward, seeing clearly both the splendor and the perils of the task but strengthened by the faith, through which by God's help, as we try to do His service, we shall prevail.—From the Associated Press report of a speech by Viscount Halifax, British Foregin Minister.
