In the midst of a tremendous national defense program designed to equip our armed forces with modern war machines and trained men, it is the duty of every man, woman and child to do his bit. This is true in view of the fact that it is not something that is being forced upon the people but rather is being demanded by the entire nation as a defense measure rather than as an aggressive war machine. With billions of dollars to be spent by the people, it should be dispersed to the best advantage and by those who are most familar with defense problems. A recent news dispatch stated that the Governors of five States in the northwest are protesting because their States are not getting their share of the money expneded. This is an example of how the program might fail, particularly as a national election is only a few weeks off. The records show that more money has been spent in the small State of Delaware than in Maryland but we encourage this rather than protest if that is a vulnerable section in case of invasion. We have seen, in past years the grab by States, cities and hamlets and individuals for funds from WPA, PWA and the various other government agencies, but in the present emergency when our country and form of government is at stake, it is no time to think of individual gain. Shortly, thousands of young men will be called into service for training, This training is for the common good of the nation. Is it not then encumbent upon industry, labor and every individual to give their first thought to what they can do rather than what they can get?

—o—

The Aeronautics Authority has advocated the expenditure of $109,000 for the establishing of an air field at Chestertown. When one considers that this county is just across the bay from the industrial center of Baltimore, particularly the large Glenn Martin airplane factory, it may be an ideal location for a defensive air field. We have no knowledeg of any effort on the part of the people of this county to have the air field located here which leads to the belief that the suggestion comes from authorities on the subject which is as it should be.

—o—

There has been much writing and talking as to who would and who would not be called in the draft for military training. In order to avoid confusion we emphasize the fact that all men within the ages of 21 to 35 years inclusive must register on Oct. 16th, regardless of physical defects, dependants or occupation. This registration is compulsory and those within the age limits who do not register on that day are subject to rigid penalties. Following this registration, the question of who shall and who shall not train will be determined by a Draft Board.

The registration on October 16th is for the purpose of recording mostly the name, age and address. More exacting information will be required at a later date by the Draft Board. It is estimated that 1500 men from Kent County will be required to register.
