ROTARY DISTRICT GOVERNOR SPOKE HERE MONDAY

Thomas Bess

Dr. Thomas Bess, of Keyser, West Virginia, who is District Governor of the 180th District of Rotary International, spoke before the Chestertown Club Monday night.

He took as his topic "The Rotary Code of Ethics" and told how the intermingling of business and professional men in all parts of the world has brought about a better understanding and friendly relations.

Whlie Rotary takes no part in politics or international relations as far as governments are concerned, it has created friendly relations between the business men of the various counties.

Rotary has been ruled out of most of the Dictator countries where men are not supposed to think except as they are told to by a centralized power.

The 5,000 Rotary clubs of more than 60 countries of the world are grouped nito 149 districts. The 180th district, of which the Rotary Club of Chestertown is a part, consists of 80 clubs located in cities fo West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland, and has a membership of approximately 4,000 Rotarians.

ON THE SCREEN AT THE NEW LYCEUM

Triple-strike song and dance threat . . . . Judy Garland, Mickey Rooney and June Preisser who run the gamut of the entertainment field in the new all-star, all-youth musical treat, "Strike Up the Band," coming on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday October 7, 8, and 9th to the New Lyceum Theatre screen. Paul Whiteman and his famous orchestra are also featured in the gay new attractions.

Streamlined song hits and ancient ditties that evoke hilarious laughter, comedy, romance of youth, and heartthrobs are all combined in "Strike Up the Band," merry musical with Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, Paul Whiteman and orchestra and clever youngsters, many of whom appeared in "Babes in Arms." It comes on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 7, 8, and 9th to the New Lyceum Theatre.

Mickey and Judy, high school pals, organize a modern swing band in the school. Paul Whiteman announces a national radio contest for school bands. They proceed to raise money to make the trip to Chicago to compete. They stage a comical travesty on old time stage melodrama, with scuh song gems as "The Curse of an Aching Heart," "Heaven Will Protect a Working Girl" and others. Mickey manages to give Paul Whiteman an idea of the band's proficiency when they "borrow" the Whiteman band instruments.

Dramatic moments include Mickey's scenes with his mother and the episode in which Mickey and Judy find one of their pals near death and use the band money to save his life. Whiteman and his orchestra in action, the big broadcast and other thrills mark the action. Modern song hits such as "Nobody" and "Our Love Affair" contrast with June Preisser's Anna Held imitation with "I Just Can't Make My Eyes Behave" and "Ta Ra Ra Boom-de-Ay."

The cast includes such clever juveniles as William Tracy of "Shop Around the Corner" fame, Larry Nunn, from the Irene Rich radio show, and Margaret Early of "Forty Little Mothers." Others prominent in the proceedings include Ann Shoemaker, Francis Pierlot, Virginia Brissac, Elliott Carpenter, George Lessey, Enid Bennett, Harlan Briggs, Sarah Edwards, Milton Kibbee and Helen Jerome Eddy.

Busby Berkeley, who directed "Babes in Arms" and "Forty Little Mothers," directed the new picture. The dramatic climax in the radio station is marked by a lavish musical finale, featuring Gershwin's "Strike Up the Band," with special ties by Judy and June Preisser, a spectacular drum solo by Mickey in the "Drummer Boy" number, and many comical embellishments.

CHESTERTOWN HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

With M. Lane, R. Butler, R. Price, B. Collisom, B. Willis, J. Hayden, R. Lingle, J. Callahan, D. Turner, M. L. Mandrell, and S. M. Leaverton played on the Centerville team.

Although this was only a practice game both teams played hard, and after the game the score read 23-6 in favor of Centreville.

The 2C home room class had a class meeting last Friday. The program committee seemed very interesting. A chorus consisting of a few 2C class pupils sang "Amercia"; then Elsworth Bowers sang one of his favorite songs. The loud applause showed that he was wanted to sing another song. After this song the class applauded twice as loud as they had the first time which only meant another song was wanted. Then Elsworth sang the well-known popular song called "I'll Never Smile Again."

In honor of Mr. Deaton who once lived in Kentucky, the class sang "My Old Kentucky Home" and dedicated it to him. This song was so much enjoyed by Mr. Deaton that he asked the class to sing "Way Down Upon De Swanee River", and "Old Black Joe", and as a special treat to sing "My Old Kentucky Home" again.

As the period was up the meeting was adjourned, but the 2C home room class looks forward to the next class meeting when they can have another half-hour of fun.

The freshmen class is going to make aprons, headbands, and pot holders to wear when they cook down in the kitchen. Before they can make their uniforms they have to learn how to sew on the sewing machine. Many of them have learned to thread a machine and wind a bobbin and the hardest of all to sew straight lines on paper and cloth. Others who have already learned these few things have cut out their aprons and basted many pieces together. If this class keep up its good work they will soon finish their uniforms and start making blouses and dresses.

In History the 2C class was studying about Egypt, and were finding out how far the Egyptians had advanced by 300B.C. and how the famous people of Egypt helped their country to advance.

Now they are studying about the Greeks. They are finding out how the people lived in olden times and how the people of Greece helped to build the beautiful Greek buildings.

Before any class can be a success the teacher and pupils have to work together. Well, this is what the A1 section and Miss Riches have planned to do this coming year. Even though this is the first time most of the freshmen have ever heard the word Civics, and none of them have ever studied it, they seem to be well enthused on the idea of studying hard.

The class as a whole wants to set a good example for the new high school students next year; so they made a few suggestions of what to do to make this possible. They planned to study hard, be present as much as possible, pay attention in class, have patience, take part in class discussions, join the clubs, cooperate with other people, and take part in athletics.
