Washington College Sports

Juniata College, led by the great "Little All American" prospect, Ed Grega will meet the Maroon and Black eleven on Kibler Field today at 2 P. M.

Grega, 160 pound triple threat tailback of the Juniata team, will have the eyes of all the spectators focused on his highly touted kicking, passing and running abilities to see if the Washington College squad can stop his one man show. Grega is a senior member of the squad, wears the jersey number 43 and if the fans want to "be in the ball game" they will watch these digits. "Little All American" is the highest honor any of the smaller college players ever hope to attain and it should be a real treat to see such a prospect perform.

The Juniata club is a veteran eleven with some excellent freshman replacements, a strong offensive led by Grega and an airtight defense. In four games to date the Pennsylvania eleven has been undefeated and unscored upon. Victims of the Juniata onslaught were Thiel, Drexel and Hastwick. Against a strong Susquehanna eleven the team played to a 0-0 tie.

Coach George Ekaitis of the local eleven believes the Shoreman's chances are fifty-fifty against the rivals. If Grega can be stopped the Shoremen's chances are good—if the offensive clicks.

Outweighed by a heavy Juniata team, both on the line and in the backfield, the Maroon eleven will have to take to an aerial offensive if they hope to cross the unmarked goal line of Juniata. The local eleven has been most effective during the season on the attack through the air and have a good passer in Yerkes, a good receiver in the freshman Don McNellis, while the running offensive has yet to prove its real effectiveness. If the passing attack is effective today "Grega and Company" will meet some opposition. At any rate the game should develop into a real aerial combat between the two elevens.

Juniata's offensive lies in their passing attack, end runs, off tackle plays and cut backs. Their defense speaks for itself.

Today marks the fourth meeting of these two schools. Juniata holds the edge over Washington in this series two victories to one. In 1937 they defeated the Shoremen 6-0, the following year on Kibler Field, Washington College was given one of the worst trouncings in its history 45-0, and last year the Shoremne traveled to Huntingdon, Pa., home of Juniata, and pulled a surprise by setting back the same eleven 13-0 in a brilliantly played contest. The local eleven has hopes of evening up the series today on the home field.

One of the unsung heroes of the Maroon and Black eleven is Charlie Smith, commonly known on the campus as "The Angel". Smith was hardly rated an outside chance to make the team earlier in the season, but as the schedule progresses, he is improving all the time and after turning in some fine performances in the role of a substitute, he has gained himself a position in the starting lineup, replacing Frank Gibe at left guard. This is no easy task since Gibe is a great player both offensively and defensively and for Smith to gain a berth over such a man is that much more to his credit.

The Athletic department is expecting a large crowd for this game. It will be the second of three games to be played on Kibler Field. Next to be played here will be Delaware on November 16, Homecoming. Today's contest points to be one of the best on the schedule with either team the victor. Washingtno College must stop Ed Grega, wearer of jersey 43, and then a victory is not too far off.

Letters To The Editor

Chestertown, Md.
Oct. 24, 1940

The Chestertown Transcript:
Gentlemen:

If what we need is a National Socialist State it won't be hard to get. Four more years of Madam Perkins, Harry Bridges, John L. Lewis, Sidney Hillman, Harry Hopkins, Harold Ickes, Prendergast, Hague, Kelly and Nash will likely do the job.

If what we need is to continue the type of government the voters of Maryland have always stood for—well thats not hard to get either.

The thing of greatest importance is for every one of us to vote as we judge is best for ourselves and children, and just like this might be the last election we will ever have.

When we need a constitutional ammendment limiting our Presidents to two terms, a lot of humbug about any one mortal being indispensable to this great country will be ended. In my opinion there have been and are a number of native Marylanders capable of ably filling the office. Only GOD is INDISPENSABLE.

The American Creed adopted by Congress in 1918 is:

"I believe in the United States of America, as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

"I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution, to boey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."

Its worth living up to.

Eggs In Mexican Style Make Grand Midnight Supper

Eggs are becoming more and more the popular dish for a midnight supper. Served with hot buttered toast and a cup of good coffee the meal is ideal. There is no reason why the eggs for this occasion shouldn't be scrambled or fried or fixed any way desired and the hostess who goes a little farther and makes a suace for her eggs will indeed be giving a great treat.

EGGS CALIENTE

1 medium sized onion, sliced
1 small green pepper, chopped
2 slices bacon, diced
½ pound mushrooms, sauted
2 cups canned tomatoes
½ teaspoon butter
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon salt
6 eggs
6 tablespoons milk
4 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon chili powder
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

To make the sauce, sautee the onion and green pepper with the bacon until the bacon is brwon and the vegetables soft. Add the mushrooms, tomatoes, ½ teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper and cook slowly for 10 minutes. In the meantime, beat the eggs and add the milk. Melt the butter in a frying pan and add the lemon juice, mustard, chili powder, salt and Worcestershire sauce. Mix well. Pour in the eggs and cook until eggs are creamy, stirring constantly. Arrange

Residents of the United States, comprising 6% of the world's population, own nearly 65% of the world's life insurance.

Boiled Ham

For boiled ham, the end of the shank bone should be sawed off. Scrub ham with a stiff brush and, if necessary, wash in a solution of ¼ teaspoon soda to 1 quart water.

Immerse ham in a kettle of boiling water or water and cider. Reduce temperature immediately and add seasonings, as bay leaf, cloves, and peppercrons, also oninos and carrots. Simmer gently for several hours, or until tender. Do not allow water to bubble.

To serve cold, let ham stand in water in which it was cooked. When cold, peel off skin, and slice.
