YOUNG MEN FROM SHORE START IN TRAINING CLASS

Mrs. Nell C. Westcott, Manager of the Chestertown Branch of the Mary land State Employment Service, received word that the first applicants for the vocational training classes in Baltimore, who were called to report on November 11, 1940, were accpeted and are enrolled in the class starting on that date. The enrollees are:

John Dudley Pippin, Chestertown.
James Edwin Spear, Millington.
Joseph Cook Mullikin, Centreville.
Luther Benton Yates, Centreville.

On November 18, 1940 sixteen more youths from Kent and Queen Anne Counties were scheduled to report for training work in Baltimore.

Applications are still being taken at the Employment Office in Chestertown, and on Thursdays in Centreville at the Police Court, for vocational training classes that will begin at a later date. Free courses are being given in aircraft riveting, aircraft sheet metal work, aircraft woodworking, instrument making and machine shop operations. These courses extend over a period of from four ot eight weeks, the only cost to the enrollee, during that time, being his board and room.

At the successful completion of the course each person is guaranteed a job. These courses are financed out of Federal funds allocated under the National Defense Act and opportunity to enroll will be given 1,000 Eastern Shore men. High School education is not required. Each applicant must sign an agreement that he will accept work in Baltimore when he has finished his course.

Word has been received by relatives of some of the enrollees that they are very enthusiastic about their training class work and their enthusiasm is serving to recruit others of their acquaintance to apply for a course.

GAME WARDEN BOAT SUNK IN PINEY NECK

State And County Officials Invesitgating

The power log canoe, owned by Captain Maurice Edwards, Deputy Game Warden was found sunk in ten feet of water in Long Cove Sunday morning. The cabin of the boat was above water. When raised she had seven holes bored in her hull.

Captain Edwards left his boat, tied to a stake near Crouch's Wharf Saturday night and vandlas apparently took her out in deep water and sunk her.

State and local authorities are investigating.
