The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer

December and the first snow fall all in one week, with Christmas not three weeks off. Ponds and lakes are freezing and soon we'll see the smooth gliding figures, both young and old, crowding the frozen ice. Methinks, one could say, "Winter is here."

Both Thanksgivings are past, but we learn of some visitors who kept the second one, and so were here last week for that holiday.

Among them were: Mr. and Mrs. William V. Fiske, of Cleveland, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Munn, of Shanghai, China and Mrs. Frank P. Sweeney, of Baltimore, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Newsome, of Betterton.

Others included Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rankin, of Baltimore, and Miss Helen Bird, of Sandy Spring, Md. who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Davis, of Salisbury, were recent guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Roberts.

Miss Fay Weinston, of Philadelphia, was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gordon.

Mr. Arthur Bradley, of Baltimore, came on Monday, and will remain until after Christmas as a guest of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Allan A. Harris.

Mrs. John Kennard Aldridge has returned to Chestertown, after having lived in Baltmiore for the past three years, and is now residing in the Riverside Apartments on Front Street.

Mrs. Harrison Cooke, of Elizabeth, N. J., is staying here, during the illness of her grandmother, Mrs. A. T. Harper, who was operated on Monday night at the Easton Hospital for acute appendicitis.

Among those from the county, who attended the First Bachelors' Cotillion at the Lyric in Baltimore, on Monday evening, were Mr. and Mrs. Morris K. Barroll, Miss Josephine Dixon, Mr. Wilbur R. Hubbard, and Mr. George Debnam III.

Those who witnessed the Army-Navy game last Saturday found the day a perfect one for foot-ball. Included in those from here who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Kibler, Mr. Jack Kibler, Commander and Hugh Sease; Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Dick, Mrs. Catharine Beck Jones; Dr. Frank Hines, Mrs. Harry H. Deringer, and Miss Barbara Brittain.

Professor and Mrs. Louis C. Robinson entertained the members of the School Board at dinner last Tuesday in honor of the 79th birthday of Mrs. Chas. W. Whaland, a member of the board.

Miss Marian Rau will entertain the members of the board of the Kent County branch of the Maryland Children's Aid at tea next Thursday afternoon at her home in the Wickes Apartments, following their regular monthly meeting.

Invitations were issued this week by Dr. and Mrs. S. Holt Wright to a supper bridge to be held at their home in Quaker Neck next Saturday evening, Dec. 14.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Metcalfe were guests last week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Wlison at their home in Lansdowne, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson entertained at dinner Saturday evening in honor of their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kulley, Jr., and son, with Mr. and Mrs. W. Kinsey spent last week-end at Niagara Falls.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Dill, of Baltimore, will be guests this week-end of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hines at Brampton.

As I write, the radio continually blazes reports of Christmas Shopping. Each time, I utter a sigh, for mine has not been started.

So I lay me down my pen and peer
In purse, a coin to find
A trip to town, the shops to veer
To buy my gifts whatever kind.

As a poet?

Yours a flop,

The Wanderer

Washington College Sports

By
"Bing" Hartnett

The door opened on another Intra-Mural Basketball season at Washington College last night when the Sophomore team met the East Hallers at 6:30 P. M.

As usual, the competition is divided into three leagues; the classes, fraternities and halls. The Day Studnest quintet will be included in the fraternity league and, as in former years, shows promise of being a real threat to all opponents. The only change in the makeup of these combinations finds a new hall, Cain Hall, made up of those men living underneath the gymnasium, taking the place of the Y. M. C. A. team in the Hall League. The Y. M. C. A. will not be represented this year.

These contests are played under the Inter-Collegiate Basketball rules, the only change being the substitution of twelve minute halves in place of the regular twenty minute periods. In the play-offs at the end of the season twenty minute halves will be played. Each club must have a full roster of ten men, approved by Coach George Ekaitis, before that team can be recognized.

Intra-Mural basketball is conducted with each league member playing all members of the same league twice and each member of the other leagues once. The three teams with the best percentage will participate in a round-robin play-off at the end of the sesaon to determine the Intra-Mural champion.

Game Times Changed

These games in past years have been played on the afternoons of week-days. Due to necessity, the college varsity quintet moves into the gymnasium this season, and because of afternoon practice sessions made it impossible to hold the Intra-Mural games at that time. For some time there was much talk of completely dropping the Intra-Mural contests but after much discussion it was decided to carry on these traditional class, hall and fraternity rivalries. The result is a schedule of games, some to be played on Saturday afternoons, others to be played on week-nights and others to be played on weekday afternoons when the Varsity is "on the road."

Intra-Murals Stronger

A lot of good basketball is seen in these contests and the enthusiasm over certain "crucial" encounters rivals even the Varsity five. The rules set down by the athletic department prohibit any varsity player to enter the competition or any man who has made five minutes of a half toward his letter in any one game. Thsi keeps the games on a strictly even basis. There has been a swing in the last few seasons for men to enter the Intra-Mural Competition rather than play Junior Varsity ball and the basketball mentor is entirely in sympathy with such action. In this competition a promising, yet green, candidate will see plenty of action, playing on an average of two games a week and as a result will learn much more basketball than "sitting on the bench with the Jay Vees" all season. This year's teams as a whole promise to be much stronger than in any previous year.

Another Girl's Hockey season has passed by practically unnoticed. This year little, if any at all, enthusiasm centered around these once very popular contests played on the college campus. This year things were at such a low mark that only three teams could be formed, the Juniors and Seniors combining as one club. Only three games were played and the Sophomores emerged champions by defeating the Freshmen 2-0 on Tuesday with the game witnessed by no one. Something seems to be wrong with the girls on The Hill. At one time those that were unable to make a club went out and rooted their classmates on. Those days seem to be gone forever—We suggest a little more spirit and cooperation from the feminine touch on the campus in the future.

Varsity Preps For Teacher

The basketball squad has another week of practice under its belt, preparing for the season's opener against West Chester next Saturday night in the gymnasium. The candidates are all being given fair chances and a smooth starting quintet should be ready to meet the "Teachers" in what we hope will be a thriller played before a "jam-packed gym" for opening of the 1940-41 schedule.

Castor Plant Products

The castor plant is used in the manufacture of lubricants, medicine, flypaper, paints, soap, linoleum, printing and sulphonated castor oil.
