Mr. Lewis H. Greenwood, tenant on the farm of Mr. Horatio Zile, near Taylorsville, was instantly killed by falling from a wagon on Tuesday afternoon. He had been to New Windsor for a load of fertilizer and arriving at home was sitting or standing on the rear end of the wagon when the horses suddenly started, and, losing his balance, he fell to the ground and broke his neck. Mr. Greenwood was about fifty-five years old and unmarried. His remains were interred at Greenwood's burial ground on Thursday.

Miss Margaret Stout, a venerable maiden lady, died at the residence of Mr. Nicholas Henry, on Liberty street, this city, on Tuesday, after a complicated illness of nearly a year's duration, aged 84 years, 7 months and 4 days. The annual reunion of the Sixth Regiment Maryland Veteran Association was held at Neidhart's Hall, No. 323 West Pratt street, Baltimore, on Thursday, and was attended by a number of the members of the Regiment from this county. An invitation from the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Pennsylvania Regiment to celebrate a joint reunion in Philadelphia on September 19, 1894, was accepted—the two regiments having been in the same brigade for nearly two years. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Ebenezer Harman; vice-president, A. Seidenstricker; corresponding secretary, W. B. Reed; recording secretary, Dr. H. A. Maughlin; treasurer, R. A. Esmer.

Rev. J. T. Ward, D. D., F. S. Sc., President of Westminster Theological Seminary, was invited to preach a semi-centennial sermon at Central Methodist Protestant Church, between Liberty and New Market, Frederick county, on the 22nd proximo, but on account of ill health was obliged to decline. Dr. Ward is the oldest surviving ex-pastor of the church referred to and assisted in its dedication, October 22nd, 1843. The condition of his health also made it necessary to decline a similar invitation from the Friendship M. P. Church, Little Georgetown, Berkeley county, West Va., on the first Sunday of August last. He was pastor and preached at its dedication in August, 1843. While physical infirmity prevents Dr. Ward from being as active in the ministry as formerly, he is doing a good work in training others for success and usefulness in the sacred calling.

The Western Maryland Railroad will sell excursion tickets to York, Pa., during the great Agricultural Fair at that place, from Monday till Friday of next week, at one fare for the round trip and 25 cents added for admission to the fair. Tickets will be good to return until Saturday, October 7th. This will not only afford an opportunity to witness an excellent agricultural exhibition, with attendant attractions, but will enable excursionists to view the Western Maryland's new road to York, at a minimum cost. The route is via Emory Grove and the B. and H. Division to Porter's and thence on the new line to York.

The Pleasant Valley Ice Cream Company has an admirable idea of the fitness of things—a remark that is called forth by an incident of Monday last. The day was summer-like and sultry, just such an one, in fact, as makes ice cream a luxury. And lo! without previous suggestion or intimation, a generous can of the frozen sweetness was delivered at the SENTINEL office for the delectation of the employees. That they enjoyed it thoroughly goes without saying, and they would be ungrateful if acknowledgement of the courtesy were withheld. The Pleasant Valley Company manufactures a superior article of cream and did a large business during the past summer supplying festivals, pic nics, celebrations and private individuals with the product of its factory.

A Pretty Wedding.

SNADER–ENGLAR.

The home of Mrs. Margaret E. Englar, at New Windsor, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon last. The contracting parties were Mr. R. Smith Snader, son of Mr. Philip Snader, a prominent farmer in this community, and Miss Emma L. Englar, daughter of Mrs. Margaret E. Englar, of New Windsor. It was a few minutes after two o'clock when Mrs. John Smelser, of New Windsor, first struck the familiar chords of Mendelsson's march, and only a few strains were necessary to put expectation in the faces of the many friends who had assembled to witness the ceremony. Within the folding doors, between the spacious parlors, which were handsomely decorated with the choicest of autumn's flowers, stood the nuptial company, while Elder Wm. H. Franklin, of the German Baptist Church, performed the marriage ceremony. Just over them hung a very large wreath, in which was a beautiful monogram of roses. The bride was richly appareled in white china silk, trimmed neatly in oriental and feathered edged lace; she carried Marechal Neil and tube roses. The groom looked his very best in a full suit of deep conventional black. Miss Carrie E. Smith was bridesmaid and Mr. Walter Englar best man—both of New Windsor. Mr. Joseph Englar, brother of the bride, and Mr. Elmer D. Buckey, of Middleburg, gracefully acted as ushers. The ceremony being over congratulations were in order, and their many friends eagerly accepted the opportunity to wish them a long and happy life. The hospitality of the home was then extended in a collation long to be remembered. To a table richly laden with all that tempts the appetite, was their every guest invited. Very many valuable presents were received. At 4.45 Mr. and Mrs. Snader left for an extended trip to the World's Fair and [redacted]er noted points of interest in the rth and East. Western Maryland College.

The North and South meets in the new music faculty of Western Maryland College. Miss M. Eugenia Lewis, the head of the department, came from New York, while her efficient assistant, Miss Gladys Westlake, hails from the sunny state of Florida. Miss Lewis teaches vocal music and piano, Miss Westlake piano alone. Last Friday evening they appeared for the first time together in Smith Hall auditorium. Miss Westlake, being introduced first, gracefully took her position at the Decker Grand and played, in excellent style, Liszt's transcription of the the Spinning Wheel song from Wagner's Flying Dutchman, more familiarly known as "Whirl and Twirl." That Miss Westlake was a skillful technician was apparent at once, for Liszt never wrote anything that did not make heavy demands on technical ability. Her initial performance was generously applauded. The aria "Nobles Seigneurs", from Meyerbeer, was the selection with which Miss Lewis chose to make her first appearance, and her singing of this operatic selection won for her a hearty encore, to which she responded with a song from DeKoven. Another Liszt transcription was played by Miss Westlake—an air from Rossini's Stabat Mater—a beautiful piece of instrumentation. Next came a double number, Dudley Buck's "The Merry Brown Thrush" and Faure's "Bonjour Suzon," by Miss Lewis. Miss Westlake followed with a triple number, playing Schumann's Romance in Bb, Chopin's Waltz 3, and an Octave Etude by Lorr, based upon the Russian National Air. Miss Lewis closed the vocal part of the program with "One Morning O! So Early," from Thomas and Pinsuti's Bedouin Love Song. As a closing number the ladies gave a duo, Mozart's Fantasie, with an accompaniment for second piano, by Grieg. Miss Lewis took the first piano and Miss Westlake the second, and the exactness with which they kept together was as noticeable as the excellence with which they played their respective parts. Miss Westlake proved herself an artist at the piano, and her numbers, played entirely from memory, were delightful. Miss Lewis has a beautiful contralto voice which she knows full well how to command, and her singing was praised by her listeners without exception.

Cranberry Valley Items.

[The SENTINEL last week contained a notice of the marriage, at the parsonage of Salem Lutheran Charge, this city, by the pastor, Rev. S. A. Diehl, on Sunday, 17th inst., of Miss Cora R. Manchester Items.

The anticipations and pleasures looked forward to for some weeks by Mr. and Mrs. George Shower and their descendants were fully realized on Saturday last when they had gathered in the family circle all their children and grandchildren (except three grand-sons) who had come to extend their congratulations to the aged mother, who celebrated her 90th birthday on that day, and to make glad the hearts of this aged couple, who have trodden the pathway of life together 66 years, and have been spared to a ripe old age in the enjoyment of good health of body and mind. Mrs. Shower is the only surviving member of the Everhart family, of nine brothers and sisters, and Mr. Shower, and his brother, Mr. Adam Shower, are the only survivors of the Shower family. During the latter days of the week one by one the absent ones began to arrive, and when the call to supper was announced there gathered around the festal board: Mr. and Mrs. George Shower, Mr. George A. Shower and wife; Mrs. Celia Frick and daughter Emma, of Shelby, N. C.; Mrs. Dr. T. H. Beltz and son Harry, of York, Pa.; Mrs. Rachel Decker, of Woodberry, and daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Sechrist, of Chicago; Mrs. Dr. J. R. Bardwell, of Woodberry; Miss Emma V. Shower, Robert Shower, Misses Celia and Marie Shower. Emma Frick and Mrs. Sechrist, granddaughters, served the overjoyed parents and their happy guests. The aged mother was kindly remembered by her daughters, who presented her with a fine easy chair, while all the rest present contributed their mementoes of affection. Truly this was a joyous occasion and a happy family reunion. Mrs. Frick has been absent from the home for eight years, since her removal to Shelby, where her husband, Mr. Geo. Frick, is a successful lawyer. At this writing the partings have taken place and all but Mrs. Frick and daughter have returned to their homes, with the remembrance of the happy event indelibly impressed upon their minds. We extend our congratulations to the aged couple hoping they yet may be spared to enjoy many more anniversary days.

On Saturday last Mrs. Denlinger sold the personal effects of the late Prof. D. Denlinger, at Irving Institute. The sale was largely attended and fair prices realized.

Some of our farmers are busy seeding, some have finished, while others have but fairly commenced. Corn cutting too is being done and the yield is reported to be fairly good. In fact some farmers have extraordinary crops.

The members of Daniel and Jacob Lodge No. 23, I. O. O. F., are arranging to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the organization of the order. Rev. J. B. Hall, of Hampstead, will deliver the address, and other appropriate exercises will make up the evening's entertainment, to be given in the hall on Tuesday, October 17th.

The first report was to the effect that a gentleman of 35 had married a widow of 84, which, if not really so, is soon to be. The groom of 35 will become a resident of this town at the pleasant home of the bride elect. Fast following this report comes the news that Miss Fannie Crumrine, formerly of this place, has married a wealthy farmer of Washington county.

Benjamin's Reformed Church.

The Benevolent and Aid Society of the above congregation held its regular monthly meeting at the parsonage, in this city, on last Tuesday evening. An interesting program, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, readings and recitations, had been prepared in which several of the members took part. Prof. Royer and Miss Birtie Keene, of this city, and Mr. Depfur, of Western Maryland College, had kindly consented to assist, and the society is greatly indebted to them for the selections which they contributed towards the entertainment of the large company present. The report of the Secretary was read, showing the society to be in a prosperous condition, with a membership of eighty-eight.

The program was concluded with an address by Rev. C. S. Slagle, the former pastor, who, with several of the members of St. Paul's congregation, was present, and who gave an interesting account of the organization of the society and congratulated the members on its prosperity and growth.

After the benediction had been pronounced, the balance of the evening was passed in social conversation, and in games by the young folks, which continued until a late hour. The society holds its meetings monthly, alternately at the church and at the residences of the members, the character of the program being regulated by the place of meeting.

Cutting off corn and sowing grain seems to be the order now. Apple butter making wasn't so general this year on account of the scarcity of apples, but many made cider and wine, by the barrel. The early sown grain is making its appearance in quite an encouraging manner. The corn crop can't be more than two-thirds of an average, though many seem to think it is quite good. The recent rains have made big improvement in the late potatoes and garden vegetables. The most of our farmers have finished their threshing of wheat, and on rainy days the sound of the flail can be heard. The buckwheat crop this season certainly won't be much, if anything, in most instances here.

The health of our community is fair at present.

On Saturday afternoon last Mr. John Senft left his horse and buggy standing in the road, near Mr. Wm. H. Wantz's, while he was shutting a gate through which he had just passed. The horse became frightened and started to run. Mr. Senft sprang upon the rear of the buggy but could not reach the lines and jumped off again. Finally the horse ran against and demolished another gate and then fell in a rivulet. Little damage was done and neither Mr. Senft nor the horse was injured.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Harvey Wantz's horse ran away with his buggy, starting under similar circumstances. In turning a corner the buggy came in contact with a fence and was broken considerably. The horse was finally caught, and was unhurt.

Edward Bok receives one of the largest personal mails in the country, a year's mail consisting of over 20,000 letters. Three-fourths of these letters are from women. No part of this huge mail reaches Mr. Bok directly: it is opened by a private secretary and distributed to assistants for answer. Every letter, however, receives a reply. One of Mr. Bok's editors on The Ladies' Home Journal, Ruth Ashmore, who writes to girls, receives over 5000 letters during a year.

AUTUMN FASHIONS FOR LADIES.

The latest news from the fashionable centers indicate that jackets with full skirts and very large sleeves will be extensively worn during the fall season, and also that the princess gown—the newest models of which are very elegant—will be very popular. As for skirts, the double skirts will be one of the features of the coming styles. For either jackets or waists the pretty "godets" drapery and the picturesque directoire revers will be universally adopted. The McDowell Magazines, which are the leading fashion publications, both in Paris and this country, contain many designs of all the newest styles. More over they give lessons on practical dressmaking which are of great assistance to professional, as well as to amateur dressmakers. And what is still more advantageous, Messrs. A. McDowell & Co. reproduce any of their illustrations (or indeed, for that matter, any design clipped from any othe rfashion journal) in the form of made up paper models—with flat patterns besides—exactly representing every detail of the original. This simplifies dressmaking in a remarkable degree, and is especially valuable to those who wish to appear well dressed on the most economical plan. "La Mode de Paris," "Paris Album of fashion," "The French Dressmaker," and "La Mode" are the most popular of these magazines. The former two cost only $3.50 each a year, or 35 cents a copy. "The French Dressmaker" is $3.00 per annum, while "La Mode" costs only $1.50 a year, or 15 cents a copy. If you are unable to procure any of these publications at your newsdealer's, do not accept any substitute but apply directly to Messrs. A. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th Street, New York.

St. Nicholas for Young Folks.

JOHN G. WHITTIER long ago wrote of St. Nicholas, "It is little to say of this magazine that it is the best children's periodical in the world." Edward Eggleston, the author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," says of it, "There is not one of the numbers that does not stir the curiosity, inform the memory, stimulate thought, and enlarge the range of the imagination." Founded in 1873, and from the first number edited by Mary Mapes Dodge, St. Nicholas is now entering upon its twentieth year. The most famous writers have contributed to its pages in the past, but never has its editor been able to offer a better program or a more distinguished list of contributors than for 1893.

There is to be a series of illustrated papers on "The Leading Cities of the United States,"—the story of each city told by a prominent resident. Edward Clarence Stedman will write of New York; Thomas W Higginson, of Boston; New Orleans will be described by George W. Cable, and Baltimore by President Gilman, of the Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Lyman Abbott will tell the story of Brooklyn, and other cities will be treated by other famous men. There will be articles on the World's Fair, and a number of pages of funny pictures and humorous verses.

Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggin, the well-known author of "The Birds' Christmas Carol," etc., will contribute the leading serial for St. Nicholas during the coming year. The November number opens with a three-page poem by John G. Whittier, which has in it some of the most beautiful lines the good Quaker poet has ever written, describing the visit of a party of young girls to his home.

The School Journal says, "Place St. Nicholas in your household, and you need have no fears for the lessons taught your children." The magazine is the greatest aid that the teacher and the conscientious parent can possibly have. It entertains, and at the same time educates and instructs. The subscription price is $3 a year. Remittances may be made directly to the publishers. The Century Co., 33 East 17th St. New York
