The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer

Slower and slower the pace comes to be, more the normal routine, presses to service while holiday bells grow faint as the cold days of January descend upon us. And with these cold days, lakes and ponds are freezing, hence the ice skates are being sharpened, new ones tried out, and once again one may witness any of the population from 6 to 60 gliding away on the glistening ice.

A wedding of much interest is announced this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Dana Corrington announce the marriage of their daughter, Mariette, to Mr. Fred Hood Center at Carlton Hall, Wilmington, Del., on January the third, 1941.

Mr. Center is the son of Mrs. Fred Milbury Center and the late Mr. Center, of Portland, Maine, and is connected with the Delaware Floor Products Company, of Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Center will be at home at 1108 Jefferson Street, Wilmington, after January tenth.

On Tuesday, the January meeting of Our Garden Club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. James G. Metcalfe.

The meeting will be held promptly at 2 o'clock, following which, the members are invited to go to "Trumpington" on East Neck Island, to view the lovely holly trees of note, there.

On Thursday of this week members of the Country Club are invited to a buffett supper, at the Club, after which there will be cards or informal dancing.

On the same evening, Mrs. W. W. Hubbard will entertain in honor of His Imperial Highness, Archduke Otto, of Austria.

Mrs. Hubbard will also entertain at tea on Wednesday afternoon for His Imperial Highness.

House-guests of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Metcalfe, over last week-end included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilkinson of Baltimore, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson of Lansdowne, Pa. On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Metcalfe entertained at bridge in honor of their guests.

Mrs. C. Kent Lambert and her daughter, Mrs. Walter Gould, entertained a number of friends at "open house" last Saturday afternoon at their home near Chestertown.

Among the parties this week were a luncheon-bridge given by Mrs. Jas. G. Beck and Mrs. Gilpin Brown at the Sophie Fisher Inn on Wednesday and the dinner and bridge to-night in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Nelson Carey of Baltimore, who will be house guests at the home of Mrs. John Speicher and the Misses Toulson.

Mrs. Speicher will go to Baltimore on Monday, where she will stay at the home of her brother, Dr. Houston Toulson, while he and Mrs. Toulson are in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Giraitis of New Haven, Conn., will move to Atlanta, Ga., in February where Mr. Giraitis has been transferred. Mrs. Giraitis and her young daughter, will spend a few weeks here, prior to that time, as guests of Mrs. Etta Fountain and Mrs. Herbert Skipper.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Covey will spend a few weeks with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Griffith, at Drexel Hill, Pa.

Mrs. Carl Russell, of Baltimore was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sides.

Mr. R. Hynson Rogers and Mr. Rolph Townshend are planning to leave on Tuesday, Jan. 21, for a cruise to the West Indies aboard the S. S. Emilia, a cargo vessel of the Bull Steamship Line.

Hours are fleeting, and presses are waiting. Helter skelter! Thirty!

Yours dashing,

The Wanderer

In Memoriam

Urie. In loving memory of our beloved mother, Laura J. who passed away January 4, 1939.

In the book of life there are memories,
Of the happiest moments we've known,
And recorded in love is the blessing
Of a wonderful mother, our own.

You are gone, but the treasure you left us,
Is truly a value untold,
A life filled with deeds of kindness,
And beauty of heart and soul.

Loving Children.

Resolutions Of Respect

Inasmuch as it has been the will of our Heavenly Father to take from our midst our friend, Elizabeth Wheatley Cannan, be it

RESOLVED, That the Women's Literary Club of Chestertown, Maryland, record this evpression of its deep sorrow at the loss of so beloved a member.

Her life was centered in her home, her church, and her friends. She loved her home and was never happier than, when surrounded by her loved ones, she could minister to their comfort and pleasure.

Her church duties came first among her many other activities, and her life so bespoke the Divine Presence that both young and old were drawn to a closer walk with God.

One of her great charms was the priceless quality of having an unselfish interest in people. She attracted children by her kindly manner. She understood them, loved them, and they returned that love with unbounded affection. To her older friends she was kind and loyal, sharing their joys, and extending help and sympathy to them in their troubles.

In the Literary Club she was a valuable member, diffusing inspiration by her fineness of character, aiding by her intelligence and cooperation, and giving largely of her time and talents to promote the cherished ideals of the Club.

We shall miss her. To her husband and family, we express our heart-felt sympathy and our prayer that a wise and compassionate God may grant them comfort. Be it further RESOLVER, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to her husband, a copy be published in each of our county papers, and that a copy be recorded in the minutes of the Club.

ON THE SCREEN AT THE NEW LYCEUM

A flying commander, a cadet and the commander's wife. These are roles played respectively by Walter Pidgeon, Robert Taylor and Ruth Hussey in Taylor's new starring picture, "Flight Command," spectacular drama of the U. S. Naval Air Service, which comes to the New Lyceum on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 13, 14, and 15th. Frank Borzage directed.

Spectacular thrills of the air come on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Jan. 13, 14, and 15th to the New Lyceum Theatre with Robert Taylor, Ruth Hussey and Walter Pidgeon in "Flight Command." smashing drama of naval aviation.

Friend of Wife

Taylor plays Alan Drake, Pensacola cadet, assigned to the crack "Hell Cats" squadron. Amid thrills of battle practice and intimate details of life at an air base, he seeks to comfort the wife of his commander when her brother, his best friend, "cracks up." Members of the squadron, loyal to their commander and his wife as is Drake himself, misunderstand the situation and in his anger Drake resigns. After a sensational rescue during maneuvers, the misunderstanding is cleared and the squadron, reunited in loyalty, takes to the air.

Dive-Bombing Thrills

Amid the dramatic episodes run thrills of dive-bombing, forced landings, battle practice. Taylor's close escape when his fighting plane tangles with an aerial target, and other peak moments of excitement in the air.

Frank Borzage, who directed "The Mortal Storm," and is himself an aviator, directed. The cast includes such names as Paul Kelly, Shepperd Strudwick, Nat Pendleton, Red Skelton, Dick Purcell, William Tannen, William Stelling and Stanley Smith.

Pensacola and North Island are principal locales, and replicas of important locales there were authentically constructed. Noted flyers carried cameras aloft for the major thrills.

Although W. C. Fields' unscheduled ad lib remarks, as he made the scenes for Universal's "The Bank Dick," coming to the New Lyceum on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 16, 17, 18, were excruciatingly funny, they were a distinct industrial pain in the neck to the script girl.

It is the duty of the script girl to take down, in shorthand, every word spoken by the actors in every scene so that, when the camera moves in for a close-up of the same action, the same words can be repeated. But Mr. Fields never reads the same line twice in the same way. And much to the script girl's annoyance, he has the habit of interpolating impromptu side remarks not in the script.

Extemporaneous Shock

While filming a sequence in the bank (in which Fields is a special officer), the star stopped, turned to a girl playing the role of a secretary and asked, "Did anyone ever tell you that you are a ringer for the girl who was chosen Miss Punxatawney last year at Atlantic City?" Totally unprepared for that ad lib remark, the script girl was struggling to get it on paper when Fields added, "or maybe it was Miss Passamaquoddy."

Fields also does unpremeditated bits of comedy action whenever the mood or the opportunity presents itself, which all leads to excellent and spontaneous comedy—but it puts more than a mild strain on the peace of mind of the harassed script girl.

Potato-less Dinners

If one feels the desire to serve a potatoless meal, here is a recipe that will be just the thing (whatever that is).

MACARONI PIE

¾ pound cold beef
½ onion
3 or four tomatoes
Bread crumbs
Grated cheese
Stock
Salt, pepper and nutmeg

Cut the beef into thin slices, peel the onion and slice thinly, slice the tomatoes, and boil the macaroni in slightly salted water until tender. Coll and drain the macaroni, and cut it up into small pieces. Line a buttered casserole with macaroni, and tomato slices in layers on the baking dish. Season with salt, pepper and nutmeg, pour over a little stock and cover the top with macaroni. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and a little grated cheese, and bake for about 20 minutes in a hot oven.

Slice fresh cucumbers and a bunch of small new carrots, boiled in thin strips and arrange on a bed of crisp lettuce. Serve with mayonnaise or a boiled dressing, and garnish with hard cooked eggs, put through a sieve.
