The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer

As Winter limps away and Spring sits ready to bounce over the horizon, we play along, marking time, indoors. There are dinners for this, and banquets for that, all worthy causes, so you're challenged to a bit of work whether you like it or not. Then there's the President's Birthday Ball on Thursday at which the committee is expecting a large crowd.

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Julian D. Corrington entertained at tea in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hood Center whose wedding took place on January 3rd. Mrs. Center was before her marriage Miss Mariette Corrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Woolcott Robinson and their little daughter, Gail, who have been living at the country place formerly known as Jackstead, in Fairlee, will leave this community, next week, returning to Philadelphia to make their residence there.

Twin sisters, Misses Joan and Lalande McCreary, of Greenwich, Conn., were guests this week of Miss Josephine Dixon at the home of her mother, Mrs. William T. Dixon, Green Point Farm. The Misses McCreary were school mates of Miss Dixon at Garrison Forest School, in Baltimore, and made their debut at the Bachelors' Cotillion, in that city the following year.

This week-end, Mrs. Claude E. Truslow, accompanied by her three daughters, Betty, Peggy and Nellie and Frances Metcalfe will go to New York where they will be registered at the Bristol Hotel and while there will witness the performance of Sonja Henie, "It Happened On Ice."

Miss Virginia Jones, of Baltimore will be a week-end guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Wm. Jones.

Mr. Frank Hines, Jr., who will enter the Maryland National Guard in Feb. is a guest of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hines, at Brampton, having a year's leave of absence from his position with the Du Pont Co., in Richmond.

Here I go-waving a farewell to Janus, for when I greet you again, the month of Valentines, and birthdays of note will be on hand. Why soon, we'll have "A Summer Day by the Sea."

Yours with a bound,

The Wanderer
