Washington College Sports

Riding high after two straight league victories against the Hopkins Blue Jays and Catholic University, the Shoremen will tangle with the toughest and by far the best team in the Mason-Dixon Conference tonight at Cain Gymnasium when they meet the Greyhounds of Loyola College.

The Greyhounds are standing at the top of the ladder in this league with an unblemished record in league encounters. Not one team in the league to date has come even close to spilling the Loyola quintet. The team is a group of well rounded veterans, all back from last year when they won the Maryland State title and this year have shown up far over their past performances. It is a club studded with stars in Barzak, Thobe, the Bock brothers, Cummins and on down the line. They're all good.

Hopes of a Washington College victory over this quintet seem very slight. In at least two of the three league encounters that the Shoremen have dropped they were the better ball club and a few tough breaks lost the games, but tonight they are facing what we feel a superior quintet on all comparisons. It is not through disloyalty that such a statement is made but when facts present themselves they must be admitted.

Nothing would be sweeter than a victory over the fast moving Greyhounds and it appears that if any league team is going to bowl over this quintet it must be Washington College. The others, not all, have made attempts but have not come within twenty points of doing so. Washington College remains the only team that has the slightest possibility of slipping in a win over them.

The Shoremen showed improvement in the Wednesday night game with Catholic University which was won 40-34 and Thursday night in their 39-28 victory over the Blue Jays. Floor play has improved, as has the defense. MacNiff was outstanding in both games. His floor work is unbeatable and his ability at getting rebounds showed itself in these contests. His work against Catholic U. was one of the best jobs of his collegiate career. Lou Yerkes came into the limelight against Catholic University by leading the scorers with fifteen points.

Frank Semale gets better as each game goes by. He ripped the cords for fifteen points against the Blue Jays to lead the scorers in this contest. He is a great set shot artist. There was no doubt as to the outcome of the Hopkins game since the Shoremen took the lead early in the first half. Hopkins showed spurts of power, led by Bud Tannenbaum, handled the ball well, but met a better club in the Shoremen. The Shoremen defeated the Blue Jays earlier in the season in Baltimore.

That Western Maryland game was just one of those things. With five minutes to go the Shoremen had a ten point lead and seemed to be going strong. Then after a few quick Terror baskets the club fell completely apart and came out on the short end of the score leaving the spectators stunned at what they had seen.

We're not picking the Shoremen to defeat Loyola tonight but we are picking them to give the Greyhounds the best game of the season in league encounters tonight. The Greyhounds are going to be up against a fighting Washington College Club that has come along strong in the last two games and have gained some much needed confidence through two successive victories. The Shoremen quintets in the past have always turned in their best performances against the best clubs. Last year they defeated the highly touted University of Baltimore team when no one conceded them a chance and this same thing many happen tonight.

It's hard to figure just what the Shoremen are going to do against a tough opponent and if they do pull out a win tonight, which is not impossible, they will be repeating something that has been done by them in past years—upsetting the big boys and making everyone happy.

A capacity crowd is certain to be on hand tonight to see these two teams clash. One is the class of the league with everything it takes to make a great quintet, the other is the underdog that has a fighting chance to upset them. We know anything can happen and while not looking for a victory over the Greyhounds, feel that if anyone is to stop them it must be Washington College. Let's hope for the best—may happen.

King Pin Alleys

The feature at the King Pin Alleys was a game of 155 rolled by Mrs. Francis Myers which sets a new record for the ladies at the King Pin Alleys. This game of 155 pins is only 7 short of the Men's record held by James Hadaway 162. Mrs. Myers did not have a mark until the sixth frame but from there on the pins toppled like chaff before the wind.

MIRACLE AIR PLANE ENGINE MADE BY FORD

Can Produce 1000 A Day

The following article was released this week by Mr. P. G. Wilmer, of Eliason Motors:

Detroit—Was Henry Ford talking through his hat eight months ago when he boasted that his organization could turn out 1,000 airplane engines a day? Or was the silver-haired magician of Michigan holding a card up his sleeve that would permit him to have the last satisfactory laugh at the legion of scoffers who'd been making merry at the expense of his extravagant statement these many months?

Well, the old man of River Rouge produced the ace—a nice, fat piece of trump in the shape of a new miracle airplane engine which is expceted to top the best the world has to offer today. And that goes for the Nazis' famous Junkers 211B and the Benz motors, the great Rolls Royce Merlin which powers the Hurricanes and Spitfires and our own Pratt & Whitney Wasp and Wright Cyclone power plants.

Not only will this new baby become the John Henry of the aeronautical engineering world, but it is especially designed and simplified to permit mass production. And mass production in the American industrial scheme of things means production that might be virtually unlimited except for demands made by our fighting forces.
