Dear Roamer

Cupid's dimpled face, a heart of crimson, a frill of lace; this message, Roamer mine, says, "Pray be my Valentine." An aside to the gentlemen, "to be forwarned it to be? (Next Friday is Valentine's Day.) And ladies, thank me for a helpful hint.

And now let's get down to news. Miss Margaret Ann Brice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tilden Brice, has been spending "June Week in February" at Annapolis, attending the hops, Farewell Ball, and general activities accompanying the graduation at the Naval Academy.

And this week-end, Miss Betty Beck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Scott Beck, will visit in Ithica, N. Y., where she will attend the Junior Week at Cornell University. The Junior Weew activities, for the 1000 or more girls who will attend, include the Junior Prom, an ice carnival, dinner dances, teas, sports events, entertainment by the Cornell Musical Clubs and Cornell Dramatic Club, and the traditional basket-ball game with Pennsylvania Saturday afternoon.

Miss Beck was home last week from Miss Wheelock's School in Boston, which she is attending this year, accompanied by a class mate, Miss Billy Maxey, of Manilla, Phillipine Islands.

Mrs. Rudulph Tull, of Cynwyd, Pa., who came yesterday, Friday, to remain until Wednesday as a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Dorsey Hines will be a guest of honor at many parties. Yesterday, Mrs. Harry B. Cannon was hostess at luncheon and bridge, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Dick hosts at dinner, and in the evening, Mrs. H. Clay Brown entertained at bridge. On Saturday, Mrs. Richard H. Collins, Jr., was hostess at a small luncheon-bridge and on Monday, Mrs. Tull will entertain her many friends here at a luncheon-bridge to be held at the Sophie Fisher Inn.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Scott Beck will give a luncheon-bridge, and on Wednesday, Mrs. Harry H. Deringer will entertain at luncheon. So, it looks like the next few days will be rather gay.

On Tuesday, of this week, Mrs. J. Thomas Kibler entertained at luncheon and bridge at her home on Front Street.

The February meeting of Our Garden Club will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 11, at the home of Mrs. Barclay Kilbourne, at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Nicholson entertained recently at dinner, in celebration of their 39th wedding anniversary. The occasion also marked the 64th anniversary of Mrs. Nicholson's mother, Mrs. William Vansant, who celebrated her 84th birthday on Jan. 13, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. French.

Mr. and Mrs H. Gilpin Brown will spend this week-end in Wayne, Pa., as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Decker, where they will celebrate their 5th wedding anniversary on Sunday. Mr. Brown will leave from there on Monday for a business trip to Ohio, returning to Chestertown, the latter part of next week.

Mrs. Annie H. Stam, of Washington, D. C., has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stam, during the past week. Mr. Stam is improving, following the accident to his foot last week.

Miss Fannie E. Stuart, is spending the month of February in Baltimore, as guest of Mrs. E. E. Way.

Mr. Theodore Jewell has returned from a visit to Palmyra, where he was a guest of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Eberly.

Mrs. Frank Connelly, of Thurmont, Md., is a guest of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Julian T. Power.

It has been said of people, "they never know when to stop." I never know how to stop. Of course there's a stop-watch, a stop-gap, but the simplest stop spells period.

Yours in conclusion,

The Wanderer
